TEA AND FLOWER EXHIBIT

The Flower Arrangement Tea and Plant Sale, held on Thursday, at the home of Mrs. Elisha George Pierce, Jr. was largely attended. Apparently Winchester ladies have a keen interest in all that pertains to flowers, gardens and plants.

The colorful arrangements displayed varied from primitive designs to elaborate floral displays. All were artistically planned and executed.

Mrs. Pierce's charming home proved a "Flower-Lovers' Paradise." Each room was a lovely back-drop enhanced by the many harmonizing flower arrangements that just seemed to "belong".

The judges awarded prizes as follows:

First prizes: Mrs. John Wills, Mrs. William Goodhue, Mrs. Theodore Elliott, Mrs. Albert Buffum, Mrs. Harold Nichols, Mrs. Harold Twombly and Mrs. Willard Hudson.

Second prizes: Two second prizes went to Mrs. Chadwick, hostess at the Winchester Country Club, Mrs. T. H. Miller, Mrs. William Goodhue, Mrs. A. Gordon Harrington, Mrs. Morris Hand and Mrs. Thelma Smith.

Third prizes: Mrs. Loring Nichols, Mrs Clarke Staples and the Garden Committee of the Smith College Club.

Honorable Mention: Miss Mary Alice Fitch, Mrs. Theodore Messer.

Three special awards for arrangements submitted by Winchester Conservatories, Alexander Heimlich, Cummings the Florist.

A four season arrangements was most beautiful, and those responsible for it were:

Marjorie Mills of the Herald-Traveler—Spring.

Mrs. Chester Cooke of Lexington—Autumn.

Mrs. Edward F. Bowman of Boston—Winter.

Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood of Winchester—Summer.

During the afternoon a delicious tea was served by the hostess and her committee. Presiding over the tea urns were several mothers of En Ka members: Mrs. Herbert Ross, Sr., Mrs. Charles P. Dow, Mrs. Chester Smith, Mrs. F. W. Aseltine and an old friend of En Ka, Miss Alice Joy.

The lady responsible for this interesting exhibit was Mrs. Harold H. Blanchard. Mrs. Blanchard with Mrs. Victor Wolff as co-chairman, is in charge of the Garden Shop at the En Ka Street Fair.

The Garveys and the McTighes are back in town, Leo and Evelyn having driven north from Pinehurst, N. C, with Roger and Gladys. They made the trip by way of Washington, stopping there for a sight-seeing tour, and New York where Roger picked up some more of the sport-shirts which have distinguished him among the more sartorially elect at the Winchester Country Club. According to Mr. McTighe, none of the Winchester golfers at Pinehurst did too well, their games being affected by the high winds and extreme cold, a mere 32 on one morning just before starting time. The private golfing feud of the McTighes and Garveys finished all even with no important currency changing hands.

MEMORIAL SERVICES FOR DANIEL C. DENNETT, JR.

On the afternoon of Wednesday, March 26 memorial services were held for Daniel C. Dennett, Jr. in the chapel of the American University of Beirut, Lebanon.

The services were conducted jointly by President Bayard Dodge, the Rev. James Nicol, and President Stolzfuss of the Junior College. The services were largely attended by people of all faiths, by representatives of all the Legations, the University, high ranking Moslem officials, Government and business men, State and City officials. The services were short as Mr. Dennett would have desired. They were beautiful and impressive.

President Dodge said in a letter to Dr. and Mrs. Dennett, "Your son did splendid work here and he will be missed very much by Legation officials. He was so understanding about things in this country. We feel very grateful to him for all that he did for the University when he was a teacher here from 1931 to 1934. We are also grateful to him because as Cultural Attache he helped out in all sorts of ways. He gave a number of splendid addresses, and also aided persons interested in going to America for study. It is exceedingly sad to lose him just when the Department of State has need of men of his kind."

Mrs. Dennett with her three children will return to Winchester as soon as the Government can make satisfactory arrangements for their passage. They hope to reach Winchester sometime the last of May where they will reside for the present with Doctor and Mrs. Dennett.

MRS. MARY LOUISE NICHOLS

Mrs. Mary Louise Nichols, widow of George Edwards Nichols and mother of Robert Nichols of 275 Main street, died Friday morning, March 28, at her son's home, after a long illness.

Mrs. Nichols was the daughter of James E., and Abigail (Waters) Tourtellotte. She was born July 25, 1855, in Thompson, Conn., but moved with her family as a girl to Webster and was graduated from Bradford Academy.

Most of her married life was spent in Somerville where her husband was a teacher in the Highland School. After her husband's death she lived for a time in Brookline, and for the past 11 years had been a resident of Winchester.

Besides her son in this town, she leaves two sons, Courtlandt, of Syracuse, N. Y., and James Nichols of St. Louis, Mo. A sister, Mrs. J. Birt McGowan of Worcester, also survives.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the late residence with the Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Interment was in Wyoming Cemetery, Melrose.

VETERANS' POLL TAXES

Contrary to a reasonably general belief veterans are assessed poll taxes. Provision has, however, been made to exempt veterans from paying such taxes, but application for such exemption must be made to the Assessors in writing on an approved form for such exemption.

Tax Collector Nathaniel M. Nichols, in an effort to acquaint veterans with their rights under the provisions of Chapter 106 of the Acts of 1943, has sent out printed notices with the 5000 poll tax bills given him to collect. These notices explain the provisions of the act and the necessary steps which veterans must take to be exempt from payment of their poll taxes.

WINCHESTER CRAFTSMAN'S WORK FEATURE OF BOSTON EXHIBIT

Fine pottery bowls, with hand done carvings, the work of Carol M. Nickerson of 18 Grove street, will be a feature of Filene's second New England Revelation craft exhibit which opens in the Boston store April 7.

Miss Nickerson's work will be shown as part of the 50th Anniversary Exhibition of the Society of Arts and Crafts, which coincides with the New England Revelation and is combined with it this year. Other artisans from every one of the New England states are sending their work to Boston for display; that the quality of the exhibition will be superlative is assured by the fact that each item to be shown will be passed on by the Jury of the Society of Arts and Crafts. This jury is composed of master craftsmen and connoiseurs of perfection in the design, technique and detail of workmanship.

The aisle leading to the altar was marked with candles tied with white ribbon, white gladiolas and lemon leaves.

Miss Crandall was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of traditional white satin, styled with a court train, and a long tulle veil arranged with a coronet of duchess lace caught with orange blossoms. Her flowers were stephanotis and white orchids.

Mrs. Whitman L. Goddu of New London, Conn., and Miss Eleanor Whittlesey Reed of West Newton were the bride's honor attendants. They wore deep aqua velvet off-the-shoulder period gowns with headdresses of aqua tulle caught with yellow tea roses, and their bouquets combined vari-colored gerberas with cream yellow tulips.

Mr. Browning had his father for his best man, and the usher corps comprised Courtney Allen Crandall of Winchester, brother of the bride; Dana Fernald of Cynwyd, Penn., Kenneth Robinson of San Marino, Calif., and John Rowe of Seattle, Wash. Honorary usher was Rex Thorpe Crandall, Jr., of Seattle, Wash., brother of the bride.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church parish house, the parents of both the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving with the bridal attendants. Mrs. Crandall mother of the bride, wore a melon-colored crepe gown with an orchid corsage. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Perry Long, was gowned in plum-colored velvet and wore camellias. Mrs. Browning, mother of the bridegroom wore a black and white gown with orchids. An orchestra played during the reception.

CHIEF ROGERS RETIRED FRIDAY

Retained by Selectmen Pending Appointment of Successor

Police Chief William H. Rogers was automatically retired from his position last Friday through the acceptance by the recent town meeting of the provisions of Chapter 576 of the Acts of 1946, providing, among other things, that police and firemen shall retire at 65.

In Winchester the position of chief of police is under civil service regulations and can only be filled after an examination given those eligible for promotion to this rank in the department. The alternative would be to abolish the position and appoint a commissioner who would be on tenure of office.

The Board has given no indication that it will fill the police chief's job except through the usual channels, but it will proceed slowly in order that so far as possible the best man for the important post will be secured.

FROM TOKYO AT 2:30 A. M.

Mr. Morris L. Snyder of Hillcrest Parkway, proprietor of McLaughlin's Shoe Store on Thompson street, received a pleasant surprise yesterday morning. Although he and Mrs. Snyder were called from bed at 2:30, they felt the early rising hour well worth while, for they conversed with their daughter in Tokyo, Japan, for ten minutes.

The Snyders had advance notice of the call on Wednesday morning when they received a call from San Francisco at 6:30 a. m. warning them to be ready to take the Tokyo call at midnight. The call actually came through at 2:30. Their daughter is Mrs. Herbert Perkins, wife of Capt. Perkins, U. S. A., now stationed in Japan. She was the former Frances Snyder, and is now living with her husband and small daughter in the Orient.

According to Mr. Snyder the call might as well have been made from a Winchester phone, so clearly was it received.

Miss Emily Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Hanson of Governor's avenue, and Miss Patricia Eberle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Fred Eberle of Cabot street, have been traveling with 19 other students from Colby Junior College, New London, N. H., on a week's social studies survey which began March 26 and ended on April 2. Financed jointly by the college and the students, the survey is the ninth undertaken by the Social Studies Department and is the first out-of-state trip since the war when transportation difficulties confined the surveys to New Hampshire. The girls made visits in Troy, Albany, the Poughkeepsie area and in New York City.

CORRECTION

Church World Service Knitting

An error occurred in the appeal for knitters for Church World Service in last week's Star.

The appeal was for afghan squares to be made into afghans for those in Europe suffering from cold.

Knitters are asked to knit either four inch or seven inch squares. In last week's Star it was erroneously stated the squares were to be four by seven inches.

The Star regrets the error which may have caused inconvenience to some of its readers but the writer of the copy submitted for publication refuses to accept responsibility for it. We do the best we can with sketchy copy and in this instance we think the 4x7 was a reasonably good guess. That's about all any one could make of it, for neither our linotypers or proof readers hold any certificates for knitting and wouldn't know for sure about afghan squares.

Anyhow we are sorry we inadvertantly gave the knitters the wrong steer, and will try not to let it happen again, IF we get copy we can read.

Finished squares are to be turned in to Miss Cassie Sands at Parker & Lane's Coal Office next to the Star, or left at the parish house of the Church of the Epiphany.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

540 Main Street, Room 15
Locatelli Building

Call Win. 1900 or Win. 0730

Hours: Monday through Saturday, 8:30 a.m.—5 p.m.

(calls must be in by 2 p.m. if nurse is needed that day)

Winchester will celebrate "Public Health Nurse" Week on April 25 to 26, with an exhibition and demonstration of a new resuscitator at the Winchester Public Library, home movies of the Visiting Nurse in a "typical day," posters throughout the center of town, and window exhibits. On Monday evening, April 21, at 7:45 p. m., townspeople will be invited to the Gallery of the library for the home movies, and a first-hand opportunity to see the resuscitator in action.

The week's plans are being made by the Winchester District Nursing Association, headquarters at 540 Main street, so that all those who live in the town may know of such a humanitarian organization and its availability to every person, of great or moderate means, or those in need. The Winchester visiting nurse and her services are for everyone, whether it be the bathing of a sick person, changing dressings, care of a new baby, or the giving of medicine and injections.

Also, as part of the week's activities, "comic books," thoroughly entertaining and educational and telling a story of the visiting nurses' work, will be distributed throughout the upper grade classes for the children to read and take home to parents.

The most important feature of the entire week will be the public exhibit of the resuscitator which the Winchester District Nursing Association, Mrs. William Kugler, president, is purchasing for the town, and which the Association will give to the townspeople for their protection and safety. Not many towns have the good fortune to own such a machine, and in having one given to them now, the people here are fortunate indeed, particularly where there are a number of ponds in the area, with possible accidents. Both policemen and firemen in Winchester are enthusiastic about the new resuscitator.

When the machine is on exhibit at the library during the week of April 20-26, and for the demonstration of it on April 21, townspeople will have an excellent opportunity to see "their" machine, and to know of its operation. The Public Library, through the courtesy of the trustees and Miss Corinne Mead, librarian, has generously cooperated in making the exhibit possible.

Under Mrs. Kugler and Miss Margaret Copland, chairman of publicity, the following committee is working for "Public Health Nurse Week": Mrs. Charles Greene, Mrs. Ernest Clark, Mrs. Donald Powers, Mrs. John Willis, and Mrs. George E. Connor, chairman. The committee has the cooperation of Mr. Frank Howard, Mrs. Angeline O'Leary of the Visiting Nurses, Miss Hilda Hope, public health nurse, Dr. William D. Barone, school physician.

A whist party directed by Mrs. Robert Soderholm, a mother of one of the Scouts, will be held April 8 at 8 p. m. in the Woburn Times Hall Building. The money raised will be used for the Camp and Building Fund of Troop 1, Woburn Boy Scouts of America. Tickets are 50 cents and may be obtained by calling Wob. 2487-W or 1544-M.

"GRACIOUS LADIES" WRITES OF FORMER WINCHESTER GIRL

"Gracious Ladies", a Boston Traveler feature by Natalie Gordon, devoted its column recently to a former Winchester girl, Mrs. John T. Burke of Boston, the former Virginia Paul, who lived on Wedgemere avenue for several years in Winchester with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander M. Paul. Mr. Paul is now dead, his widow, like his daughter, making her home in Boston.

Mrs. Burke's claim to fame lies in the fact that she is the only woman in these United States who owns and operates a rubber factory, the Davidson Rubber Company.

The business was formerly headed by her father, but following his death in 1929, Mrs. Burke and her mother took over, nominally. In 1936 Mrs. Burke commenced to take an active interest and since that time the business has been doing all right. Her mother is president of the company, Mrs. Burke being general manager and treasurer. And she is general manager, though she modestly gives most of her credit for her success to her co-workers and the happy labor-management relations at the plant.

A Boston girl, Mrs. Burke was educated at Ten Acre, Dana Hall and Barnard College. While living in New York she took an executive course at Macy's that ran the gamut from "supervising the floor" to making deliveries from trucks.

She and her husband live in Boston and have a 16 year old son at Exeter. During the war she was a volunteer nurse at the Massachusetts Eye and Ear Infirmary and served on the Rubber Industry Advisory Committee of the OPA.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle F. Spencer of Yale street are spending a week at their home in Kennebunkport, Me.

Mrs. Whitman Goddu and Miss Louise Brown, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. F. R. Brown of 6 Warren street are home for the Easter vacation from Connecticut College.

LEGION EDGED S. O. I. TIGERS FOR TOWN LEAGUE CROWN

The American Legion won the championship of the Town Basketball League by defeating the Sons of Italy Tigers in a stirring last period rally by a score of 36 to 34. The two teams had ended their regular season's schedule with identical records of nine victories and three defeats, thus necessitating the play-off for the league title.

A walk-in crowd of 200 saw the Tigers play excellent basketball for over three periods before finally succumbing to a spirited rally by the Legion that just would not be denied. The Tigers led at the end of the first period 12 to 10, increased their margin to 21 to 18 at the half time, and had a 28 to 23 lead entering the last period. The Tigers were controlling the ball at this point and made their lead look safe when "Hokey" Procopio scored on a lay-up shot and Frank Faicta, sank a set shot to make it 32 to 23 with five minutes remaining.

The Legion rally began with a lay-up shot by Roger Latham, making the count, 32-25. A foul conversion by Ed Meek made it 32-26, a lay-up by "Moon" Boardley, 32-28 and then a hook shot by the same Boardley brought the Legion to within a basket of the Tigers, 30-32.

Then the old veteran, Red Noble, took over, first scoring on a long set shot to tie up the game, 32-32, and then sending the Legion ahead for the first time a few seconds later with a long one-hand shot from mid-court to make it 34-32. Tony Saraco converted a foul to make it 34-33 but Boardley matched his effort with another foul conversion for a 35-33 count. With a minute and a half to go, Tony Saraco scored again from the foul line to make it 35-34.

With the crowd screaming madly, the Legion attempted to stall for time while the Tigers pressed them all over the court. With 20 seconds left, Lentine fouled Nolan and the latter made good on his free throw to make the final score read 36 to 34.

It was a fitting climax to a very success-ful season and one that promises to be even better next year. The competition was close all year with no less than four different teams leading the league at various times during the season, which finally ended in the tie between the American Legion and the S. O. I. Tigers, with the Elks and the Rotary Club just behind the two leaders, each losing four.

A great deal of credit is due to the Town Recreation Committee for reviving the former Town Basketball League and providing the facilities that were so much appreciated by participants and spectators alike. Much credit is due also to the organizations that sponsored teams in the League and were on hand to cheer their favorites. The summary:

The Winchester Postoffice bowling team went to Arlington and conquered a fighting Arlington aggregation by the score of 3 to 1. The score does not show the closeness of the match.

Jim McGarry, Arlington's anchor man put his team in the win column in the first string when he bowled 105. Arlington won this string by 6 pins.

Tom Gilgun, who held the same position in the Winchester lineup, not to be outdone clipped off a nice 107 in the second string and Winchester took this string by 11 pins.

The final string was a battle royal. At times the score would be tied, then a margin of one pin would decide. The pendulum of victory swung back and forth and it was not until the last ball was thrown was it sure that Winchester had won. Four pins was the deciding factor.

The score:

Winchester P. O.
Tofuri	86	84	86	256
Chamberland	82	85	80	247

	416	449	429	1294

The lineup for next year for the bowling league seems at the present time to consist of Woburn, Winter Hill, West Somerville, Arlington and possibly Malden. Belmont is also being considered and it is now a question whether six or eight teams would work out better. However, the groundwork has been laid and the going will be a little easier from now on. Matches once a week at the convenience of the home club seems the best solution for setting which day the match shall be played as alleys at the present time are at a premium. Other questions will be settled at a meeting of the managers of the five offices which have now been contacted.

GIRL SCOUTS

At 2:30 on Friday afternoon of March 28, a lovely spring like-day, four cars, tops bristling with skiis, drew up in front of the Wadleigh School. In the driver's seats were respectively, Mr. and Mrs. Cole Neff, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hodge, Mr. Brad Hersey and Mrs. Brad Hersey, good sports all.

The envious crowd that gathered, watching the beaming faces of the ski clad girls and boys that dashed excitedly from school, recognized Joan Bodman, Ann Farquhar, Ruth Hahn, Alice Hodge, Barbara Macauley, Norma Neff, Ann Ordway, Betty Ann Parsons, Mildred True and Martha Bailey of the "Storrow" Troop 1 and Boy Scouts Elliott Hersey, David Shiverick, Tommy Joy and Ted Trott.

Already in the cars were also Girl Scouts Althea Hersey and Allison Hersey, Brownie Scout Colenne Neff and future Brownie Scout Stephanie Hersey. Moose Mountain Lodge, snuggled in a perfect ski slope near the top of Moose Mountain in Etna, N. H., was their destination.

The lovely ride into the New Hampshire hills, was enjoyed to the tune of lively conversations, hilarious games and a munching and crunching of apples, cookies and candy. Turning off the main road outside of Lebanon onto a frozen, much rutted dirt road we were wondering what we would do if we should meet another car when suddenly, head-lights appeared ahead of us. What were we to do? But they stopped and up went shrieks, "It's Willy the Jeep and there's good old Art." Yes, it was the jeep and our good friend and instructor Art Guyer of the Hanover Inn Ski School come to direct us to the foot of the mountain where we then left our cars and in relays rode that exciting, bumpy ride in "Willy" up the rough, winding mountain road to the lodge where the moonlight cast a romantic spell over the panorama before us. Roaring fires, smiling faces and a delicious dinner awaited us and it was not long before we discovered that the lodge was to be ours alone, no strangers. What a happy family we were to be for a whole week-end.

A gently falling snow Saturday morning was putting a good powder onto a crusty base, making skiing good, and all day there was Art, teaching and guiding us.

Sunday, being so clear and cold we could see beyond the White Mountains, skiing was about as perfect as it could be and so, after a full morning of practice turns, follow the leader and picture taking and then a good turkey dinner, we followed Art in zig zag fashion down the mountain side to the waiting cars below.

It is impossible in a few words to do justice to the fun of that week-end—the jute box in the ski room, the rollicking songs, Art's hair-raising bedtime stories, the bunk rooms, the pajamas tied in knots, the card games, Art's cartoons and so on and on. But we do want to mention the birth of enthusiasm for skiing and expert instruction among even the adults accompanying us on these trips.

Said Cole Neff, "I learned more this week-end than in all my years of non-instructed skiing."

And Ed Hodge, never before on skiis but Sunday stem-turning down the slope, "Why didn't some one tell me about this before?"

BADMINTON NOMINATES

In anticipation of the annual meeting of the Winchester Badminton Club to be held in the High School gymnasium on Tuesday, April 15, at 8:30 p. m., the nominating committee appointed by President Whit Gray has already met and announced its slate. Given the renewed interest in the game evidenced by attendance during the closing season, it has been decided to name a Governing Board of seven members. The slate presented by the Committee consists of the following: Al Buros, Whit Gray, Brad Hersey, Art Hills, Lois Neff, Jim Ware, and Ed Williams. At the meeting on April 15 it will be possible to enlarge these nominations from the floor.

The seven members of the Governing Board elected by the Club will then proceed to chose from their own number one president, one treasurer, and one secretary to manage the Club's business for the 1947-48 season.

To date the following have established their 1946-47 membership through the payment of the full annual dues of $5: (those who pay in full on or before 8:30 p. m. April 15 will be added to the list) Ralph Blatchford, Harry Bean, Brad Bentley, Wallace Blanchard, Pat Buros, Al Buros, Jim Cleaves, Janet Dalrymple, George Farrar, Whit Gray, Brad Hersey, Lois Hersey, Art Hills, Dot Hills, Bill Holdich, Don Maxwell, Doris Maxwell, Henry Moffette, Trixie Moffette, Cole Neff, Lois Neff, Dana Philbrook, Bus Richardson, Steve Root, Dana Sawyer, Ray Terhune, Jim Ware, Edna Wild and Ed Williams.

HUNTERS' CLUB

The Hunters' Club, a new group at the First Congregational Church for young people beyond Forum age, met last Friday. 25 members going to the Bowladrome on the Turnpike for an evening of bowling.

Prizes for high girl and boy, offered by Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the church, were won by Barbara Nowell, a west coast girl in Winchester visiting her cousin, Nancy Nowell of Stratford road, and by Bernard Rassatt.

The Hunters' Club has held several meetings and is now discussing plans for a buffet supper to be held April 11 at the church parish house. Mary Lou Allen is serving as secretary of the club, the affairs of which are being managed by a steering committee of several members.

15TH ANNUAL VAUDEVILLE MOST SUCCESSFUL

With clocklike precision, the 15th Annual Winchester High School Vaudeville Show, featuring more than 30 acts and about 125 performers proved not only to be top- in entertainment, but an eloquent tribute to Director Ray Hayward and his capable staff. Every program feature contributed to the general excellence of the Show. Sixteen musical numbers, five specialty acts, and 11 dance routines were all enthusiastically received all within the respectable time of two and one-half hours.

Sound planning and expert supervision were apparent from the opening number to the much improved finale. Even the presentation of gifts to Mrs. Matthews and Director Hayward was accomplished pleasingly. The renting of black velvet curtains simplified the scenery problem and furnished a rich background for the changing effects. Lighting was good and accomplished without undue commotion. The employment of the public address system was in every instance a direct contribution, so that time-consuming announcements were eliminated with beneficial effect on the tempo of the show.

Music

Although heartiest applause went to the graduates billed as the DeBarco Brothers and featuring Ted and Phil O'Rourke with the original Octet, all of the musical numbers were well done. Dixieland Band opened the show and Hammond- Harmonizers came just before the finale, both featuring well trained and enthusiastic musicians.

Joe Giacalone made his sousaphone an amusing solo instrument. Marjorie Norris, Barbara Burbank, and Roger Creelman, accomplished pianists, were all good. Charles Enright and John Holdsworth appeared in their familiar role of clarinetists and played very well, as usual without accompaniment.

Three vocal duets featured Marilyn Straghan and Silly Jackson, Donald Ducharme and Jimmy Beunessey, and Wanda Whiting and Eben Caldwell, all of whom received enthusiastic support.

Dancing

Colorfully costumed and well drilled were the special dance numbers. Tip-toe Tap by Mary Rotundi was pleasingly done. Shirley Marchant and Frank Strawbridge as "The Smoothies" waltzed well. Repeaters on the program, Mary Adele Clennon and Marguerite Derro gave the most finished performance in the solo dance department. Marguerite was undoubtedly tops in the tap and Mary Adele's solo dance was the best of that type of dance seen in many a day. Ruth Bunten and Jean Craig introduced a little novelty in a tap routine with rope skipping as an added feature or bazaard. Bonnie Tutty exemplified her billing as "Nifty Number."

The pony choruses played the entire range of amazement from the rather well done Ponies to the husky brawling Beauty Chorus of the Big Shoulders recruited from the football squad and presenting such beauties as Dominica Gallello, Josephine Amico, Juanita Dattilo, et al. The Ponettes were attractive and like Top Tappers they made more of rhythm than of precise locomotion. Darktown Taps, four sophomores, gave promise for future shows while doing their stint rather well.

Specialties

Half a dozen other specialties contributed music, dexterity, agility, dramatics, and originality, some of it directly traceable to the imaginative typewriter of the Director. The Misses Capone and Doucette twirled their batons in another act of their specialty. The tumblers tumbled, twisted, tossed, and terrified in the usual muscle man part of the show contributed by gymnasium specialists. Good physiques and well timed, terrifying leaps highlighted their moments before the fillers. Miss Flexibility (Barbara Gurney) more than lived up to her title and did it all as just so much fun that the audience forgot to groan as vicarious pains overwhelmed them.

Take It Away featured a good and tuneful section of the high school orchestra, a chorus of dancers, Marie Barzotta and Marguerite Derro in song and dance. Colorful costumes made this one of the more spectacular acts.

Shades of Allen's Alley, which included the already mentioned O'Rourkes and team, was especially well done dramatically. Grant Burtnett as Allen, and Rosanne Borden as Portland Interviewed successively Senator Claghorn (Koren Kolligian), Ajax Cassidy (Henry Horn), Mrs. Nussbaum (Dorothy Clarke), and Titus Moody (Ted Covert). Although all were exceptional, with good lines, Ted Covert was easily the people's choice. Good diction, clever dialogue, interesting costumes and make-up, and a chance to compare this skit with its prototype made it a standout.

Throughout the 15th Vaudeville Show was a decorum and poise among the participants, good scenic effects, and splendid direction, with emphasis on organization and timing. The planning committee consisted of Ray Hayward, Mrs. Lyman Matthews, Henry Kenniston, Dan O'Donnell, and Ed Hicks. This committee received assistance from Mrs. John T. Phelps, Mr. Robert Keeey, Mr. Curtis Nash, Miss Violet Nardone, Mr. Otis Leary, Mr. Fred Felmet, and Miss Helen Reonson. Julia Stafflore did the program cover and other members of the art department did posters under the supervision of Miss Pauline Goodrich.

The stage crew which did such a good job was supervised by Mr. Otis Leary and besides Chairman Don Goss included Bob Elliott, Leon Fernandez, Klaus Halm, Charles Phippen, and Jack Wentworth.

A matinee performance of the Vaudeville Show, chiefly for the younger school children, included several acts from the evening performances and Bull Session (Torcador Fashion), an operation in silhouette, and a tap dance by Louise Lane. The cast of Bull Session included Jackie Fritch, Richard Joslin, Leon Fernandez, "Peter" Millett, Barbara Michelsen, Jean Brown, Betsey Morton, Mary Merrow, David Holdsworth, Bonnie Miller, Robert Murphy, and Karin Lindblad. In the silhouette operation skit were David and Connie Smith, Charles Enright, and Ruth Sheehan.

The Star has received several suggestions from persons interested in the present school controversy. One interesting one, from a taxpayer who asks that his name be withheld, is that the overcrowding at the Wyman School can be relieved, by running the school on two shifts, as an emergency measure. The person making the suggestion states that this was successfully done in the town in which he lived and went to school, there being a long single morning session running to 12.15 and an afternoon session commencing at 12.45. The children liked the plan, and although our correspondent admits that hiring additional teachers would be necessary, he also believes that the saving in building later at lower costs would make this advisable. There would by this plan be no problem of children coming from a distance having to spend their lunch time at school, and running in two shifts classes could be smaller, if this is desirable. The advocate of this plan admits it would cause some dislocation of home schedules, but he also feels that people are so eager to give their children a good education that they would co-operate if they knew that in this way the remainder of the town would be saved considerable expense.

Apropos of the Star's suggestion to mark the West Side school lot so it can be more easily found, Town Engineer Parker Holbrook has had his men place directional signs both at Arington street extension off Westland aveune and at Emerson road off High street. The lot itself has also been staked out and marked. The coming referendum has aroused much interest in everything pertaining to the proposed school and as one of the more controversial points is the site, the action of the Engineering Department in marking it should be much appreciated. In this connection it ought to be clearly understood that the present Andrews Hill School Committee had nothing to do with the selection of the site for the school. They were directed by the town to secure the necessary plans and estimates for the erection of a school on this particular lot, which was bought by the town in 1937 at a cost of $10,000. The members of the committee who selected the site included Fred C. Alexander, Geoffrey C. Neiley, William Lewis Parsons, W. Allan Wilde and Robert M. Stone, chairman. Mr. Stone was selected by Moderator George B. Hayward and the remaining members served ex officio from the School Committee, Planning Board, Park Board and Selectmen. The town meeting members apparently had confidence in the committee's judgement, for their recommendation to purchase the lot was unanimously accepted by the meeting at which it was proposed. Undoubtedly many precinct members voted for the lot strictly on the committee's say-so, and these uninformed share with the committee in any blame which citizens may feel is attached to the original choice of a site for the west side school. Nor does it seem that the School Committee of that time can escape censure for its failure to protest the choice of the site, if it really is as bad as opponents claim. We were taken rather strenuously to task last week-end by an anonymous lady for our belief that the site is not a good one, and among other things were told that a committee appointed by the Moderator had investigated the site and after securing the best professional advice possible, had decided that it is all right, their finding being unanimously accepted by the town. We could find no official record of any committee having been appointed to investigate the West Side school site, nor of any findings by such a committee being unanimously accepted by any town meeting. We repeat that the so-called "Andrews Hill School Building Committee" had nothing to do with the site, though their report in the Town Report of 1947 would lead one to suppose they were not exactly delighted with it. Both opponents and proponents of the school should be careful about loose statements. This important question should be decided as nearly on its merits as possible for one so controversial. Decrying the referendam will not help, though it is unfortunate that the matter had to go to a two-thirds vote. As we pointed out last week, however, that is the fault of those who framed the votes for town meeting. Opponents of the school should not be blamed for that strategy, nor should they be blamed for any failure of the School Committee to answer alleged misstatements about the school on the floor of the town hall. That was the place to answer them. The closeness of the sense of the meeting vote undoubtedly reflects doubts aroused by statements by opponents of the school which proponents claim are not founded on fact. It is greatly to be hoped that all voters of the town will inform themselves as fully as possible on the real question being voted upon in the coming referendum. It is not of course the financing of the school, though that is what will appear upon the ballot. The question is much more fundamental than that. It is whether we need a West Side school, whether the need is sufficiently acute to warrant building at present high prices and whether the site chosen is as good a one as can be secured for anything like a reasonable price to serve the district in which it is to be located.

WHAT SHOULD BE DONE WITH THE WEST SIDE SCHOOL PROBLEM?

Editor of the Star:

As I talk with people connected with the distribution of goods I am told that they see many trends in business that will lead to a reduction in prices, and, if the people can hold their horses for a little while, they will soon have lower prices, as the market is fast filling up with many kinds of commodities. The real shortages now are in houses, new cars and paper. It is expected that it will cost at least 25% less to build next year. Materials will cost less, more will be available, and labor will be more plentiful and efficient. The trade magazines all prophecy lower prices for construction work. Builders are taking only contracts at top prices and there is very little competition. Only absolutely necessary building should be done. The only thing that is cheap is money, but don't let that fool you because it takes twice as much to do the job as it should.

Have you seen the new school lot? The ups and downs are interesting. There is plenty of opportunity for a landscape architect to exercise his ingenuity in trying to make it a desirable lot for a schoolhouse. The view is excellent, the rock is hard, the flat spaces are scarce, but the location is in the center of the district. Water and sewer are available.

I have gathered some interesting facts in regard to school costs in Winchester and surrounding towns. I was surprised to find that Winchester was not the leader of the list as far as costs go. We are, however, doing pretty well for the children, although the Superintendent of Schools does not feel very proud of the schools, as indicated by his remarks at Town Meeting. We have turned out some pretty good citizens in past years.

The Mystic School is not crowded—it has one vacant room. The Washington School has a normal attendance. The Noonan School has two vacant rooms. The Wyman School is jammed to the roof. The Lincoln School has plenty of room. The Junior High is well up to capacity. The Senior High is carrying a good load and will soon have to be modernized.

A real school expansion program is ahead of us but don't rush in where angels fear to tread. Take a look at the large flat lot of land on High street opposite Westland avenue and the nice paved street in front of it. Its location is not far from the West Side school lot now owned by the Town on Emerson road. If you visit the Emerson road lot you want to make sure that your car springs will stand the strain as there are no paved streets in the vicinity and if a school is built on this lot there will not be adequate playground or parking space. A great deal of highway construction work will have to be done, which includes Samoset road, Emerson road, and Arlington street extension. I do not think this phase of the situation has been brought to the attention of the citizens.

The land now owned by the Town will make good sightly building lots and, if the Town should decide to make this change, it will win financially in the long run and by buying the High street lot a standard type school can be built with a level playground and parking space which is a necessity in these modern days. All of the citizens of the Town should take an interest in this matter and vote when it comes up on referendum for a Town Decision. If you vote for the article the School Building Committee will have authority to develop the present lot on Emerson road. If you vote against the article the Town will have a chance to again carefully consider the matter and see that we get the proper type of school lot and a building in an accessible place. Evidently the persons in charge of the Marycliff Academy project on High street realizing the inflation now existing in building costs suspended operation until costs have settled to a more normal level. They evidently have not been influenced as we have by the sentimental appeal used at Town Meeting to push through the project. Let's use common sense in this matter.

Over a long period of years in dealing with the Finance Committee in regard to Town matters, I have built up a great deal of respect for its opinion. This Committee's viewpoint is not limited to one subject as is the different Town Departments, but covers the over-all picture of the Town's finances. Its recommendation to the Town was to hold up building the new school this year, and its advice should have been followed.

CERTAIN FACTS CONCERNING NEW SCHOOL

Through your columns we welcome the opportunity to place before the voters of Wnichester ceatain facts in regard to both the site and the building of the West Side Hill School. There has been some misinformation circulating in regard to both these items and we hope this will help to clear up some of the confused thinking in this regard.

Some of the controversial issues that were raised at the last Town Meeting and elsewhere such as the crowded conditions at the Wyman School and whether the school should be financed by a bond issue, we have avoided as we felt that such issues were no part of our duty as a building committee. We were satisfied to leave the question of need for the school to the School Committee and the question of the method of financing to the Finance Committee. We do feel, however, hat the issues involving the site, the building and the cost of constructing the building are within our province and hence this letter.

In your last week's editorial on the subject of the school you judged the site to be a poor one. We would like to analyze this opinion from several view points. First, consider that the site was purchased by the Town in 1937 for $9,778.80, after a committee consisting of prominent citizens of the Town had carefully canvassed the area. This committee was composed of Mr. William Parsons, Mr. W. Allan Wilde, Mr. F. C. Alexander, Mr. Geoffrey C. Neiley, with Mr. Robert Stone chairman. In their report to the Town they characterized this "4 1-10 acres of excellent land, covered with underbrush but with a good stand of permanent trees and we are advised it offers no problems at all to the erection of a school building on any part of it." (End of quotation from Report of West Side Lot Committee.) They go further in another part of their lengthy report to say "this lot is well situated for easy access for the proposed district nd is in the heart of the district that the school would serve." (End of quotation from Reprt of West Side Lot Committee.)

There are, therefore, three important facts to be secured from this report:—

1. The land was purchased at approximately 5½c per foot which is a very low price compared with 1947 land values.

2. That the 1937 West Side Lot Committee felt that building a school on this land offered no major problem.

3. That no better site could have been selected from the all important standpoint of "location for the district to be served by the school"

In our report to the town, we stated that we investigated other land in this area because we felt we should balance the cost of preparing this Town owned land against the probable cost of other land in the vicinity, with particular reference to the tract of land on the Southeast side of High street. Our investigations disclosed that this or no other suitable tract was for sale and that the damages incurred by the Town in taking this land might be heavy. Please note that the Southeast side of High street is not suitably situated to serve efficiently the district involved. We would like especially to point out that none of those objecting to the site has ever suggested any satisfactory alternative.

The Engineering firm of Fay, Spofford & Thorndike, who are internationally known as very competent in these matters, sent engineers to the site and supplied the Committee with a detailed cost estimate of their findings in preparing the site according to the plot plan submitted to them which was devised by our architects, Hutchins & French. This plot plan divides the whole area into two playgrounds, which the School Committee deemed adequate. This can be divided between lower grades and upper grades in accordance with modern school practice. The two areas would be separated by a grassed slope (not a dangerous high bank as some opponents have charged). The play areas would hve a 3 per cent grade. This gradual grade is only a three foot drop in one hundred feet and hardly perceptible to the eye, and certainly no hardship to the elementary grade school boys and girls of the West Side Hill, who up to the time of the opening of the new Town Playground near Cambridge street played their baseball games on hillside sand lots that were far from level.

We would like to point out to the Town that the figure estimated by Fay, Spofford & Thorndike for this land preparation was $32,590. This figure is included in our estimate of $395,000. for the completed school. We secured a second figure from another source which substantiated the first, in fact was somewhat lower than the original estimates. These are concrete facts substantiated by written evidence in our file and we ask the voters to consider that the committee has been studying these problems for the past 8 months, and feel we are very familiar with the topography around Emerson, Samoset and Andrews roads and have substantiated our studies with a carefully worked out cost data sheet based on the estimate of experts, whom we retained to supply us with these facts.

This point should be noted in commenting upon the cost of preparing this land. At the low land values in the 1920's the present Wyman School lot cost the Town approximately $31,000. Balance this against the Town purchase price of $9,800. for the lot in question plus the estimated cost of preparing the land with adequate playground area, and it runs but little over the price paid for the Wyman School land.

Some mention was made in Town Meeting that our figure did not include retaining walls. This is true. We hoped to avoid putting high walls around a school, for they are sometimes dangerous and are certain to be expensive. Therefore, in our first instructions to Fay, Spofford & Thorndike in their study of the problem, we asked that they pay particular attention to water shed, drainage, etc., and report as to the necessity of retaining walls. They supplied us with information that is very apparent to anyone who will take the time to study this land. There is a deep natural gully at the head of the School lot, that will adequately take off the spring season's natural flow of water. We have figured necessary drainage on the land itself into the cost estimate and these factors plus the usual street drainage systems absolutely eliminate the need for expensive and unnecessary retaining walls.

In reference to the building itself there seems to be little or no comment as to its adequacy with the exception that there is some misconception as to the seating capacity of the individual classroom. While these rooms are planned for 25 students in accordance with accepted practice, 30 children can be readily accommodated without crowding. These figures are based on the larger size desks, which are planned for the building.

We again call to your attention that the School Committee presented us with a well worked out plan of what they desired in the West Side School, based on careful surveys made on what is necessary in modern day elementary school facilities. The floor plans of the School which were shown at the Town Meeting will be sent down to you, Mr. Editor, to comply with your excellent suggestion that these be easily available for inspection. We hope that all the voters will study them if you will be good enough to put them in your windows.

We thank you for this opportunity of placing before the public this letter, which was written with the hope of clarifying some of the issues that have been raised and to help the voters to arrive at a decision on how to cast their vote when the referendum comes up before them.

Sincerely yours,

WHY BUILD NOW?

Editor of the Star:

All tax-payers of Winchester are agreed a new school is needed on the West Side, to take care of over-crowded conditions in the Wyman School, but why build now, when prices for building commodities, plus labor, are two, three and four times higher than normal, and probably at their very highest peak, making building a luxury.

Other towns facing similar conditions have decided to await lower costs before building.

The problem has come up in Winchester, and beginning with our Finance Committee, our School Committee, Superintendent of Schools, and the Limited Town Meeting Members we find no unanimity of opinions

The amount to be spend is $390,000. Of this amount we must figure that approximately $290,000 is excess costs, leaving us with a school which in normal times would be built for $100,000 only.

Can we as townspeople, in justice to ourselves, approve the spending of this large sum of money, when we know building is at a standstill because of prohibitive costs, or should we wait until the shortages of building materials are overcome, and prices are more on a normal level?

Those who favor the building of the school regardless, will say because of the overcrowding we cannot wait, but haven't we other schools, and can we not plan a stop-gap, which may not be the best for a few, but decidedly favorable for the tax-payer's money.

We found when necessary a short time ago, we could make some changes which gave us the Superintendents building in the rear of the Wyman School, for class rooms, giving us help when needed, and it seems in these more acute times, we could make further changes, which [illegible] us along until times are more favorable for building.

Average tax-payers, facing steadily rising costs, not forgetting a substantial increase in the town tax, are finding no relief so far in the present year of 1947, and they should ask themselves why a building program, anything but unanimous, should be financed and added to their burdens, when it is so definitely inflationary, and not approved by the Finance Committee. Apparently even the School authorities can not agree upon the program.

The money, if spent, will mean still higher taxes.

No one has come forward to prove the overcrowded conditions of the Wyman School will become worse in the next two years, and we are all sure we see no rush of new building in the section serviced by the school, so if any change, it could be just as well less as more.

The tax payers are given their opportunity in a special Town election to come very shortly, to approve or disprove the bond issue. Every single family in Winchester should not fail to express their wishes.

CRITICAL OF REFERENDUM

March 31, 1947

Editor of the Star:

I was present at the town meeting where the Andrews Hill School was discussed and voted on and have since learned that the matter is now to be re-opened.

In reference to the current referendum on the financing of the new school, it seems pertinent to point out that one of the leading proponents of the referendum is Mrs. Lorenz Woodside, a town meeting representative. At the town meeting she did not raise her voice either for or against the proposed school or the financing of it through a bond issue. What is more, though a specific poll was taken on the latter issue she declined to vote either way. There were other town meeting members who did not vote. On the following day she joined in circulating a petition for a referendum.

We have a representative town government by which duly elected representatives can express their views and can influence thereby those persons designated by the town to make decisions as to the policies to be followed by the town. To by-pass the town meting in the manner Mrs. Woodside did and to deliberately adopt the referendum as a means of carrying out town government attacks the very fundamentals of our town government.

It is submitted that the time has come to put an end to the substitution of the referendum for action by well informed town meeting representatives. Such methods tend to defeat the purpose of our town government and are also expensive and confusing to the citizens of Winchester.

WEST SIDE ROAD PLAN AT STAR

The Star has been asked to display in its window a road plan of the west side hill district, showing the footage of finished roads in the neighborhood and the amount which will have to be built if the new school is erected in the proposed location.

Opponents of the school feel that the expense of building necessary roads in connection with the new school has not been given sufficient consideration, while others feel that the roads will have to be built anyhow in connection with the natural development of the district.

UNITED NATIONS CONTESTANTS

During the past week two top ranking senior students in Mrs. Stacy's History Class at the High School have taken a comprehensive three hour examination on the organization, functions, and purposes of the United Nations as part of a national contest being conducted under the auspices of the American Association for the United Nations, Inc.

Over 1900 schools in every state throughout the entire country participated with two high ranking students in each who have been selected through elimination tests. The two Winchester High School seniors selected by the local elimination test taken a short time ago are Rosanne Borden and Marjorie Norris.

Their examination papers in the national contest go now, without identification individually, for study by a Committee of Awards in New York that selects the first and second national prize winners. The papers then return to the Massachusetts state branch where first, second and third prize winners are determined for the State.

This is the tenth successive year that the Winchester High School's history department has participated in this famous contest hitherto held under auspices of the League of Nations Association.

Citizens of Winchester and its school authorities have just reason for pride in the fact that Winchester students have taken awards nine years.

According to the Executive Director of the Massachusetts branch of the former League of Nations Association "no High School in any other State has even approached this record."

Mrs. W. R. Healey of Edgehill road is returning to town this week after spending the winter in Sarasota, Fla.

ALLAN CRITE PLEASING SPEAKER AT ART MEETING

Allan Rohan Crite, distinguished Boston-born artist, presented one of the year's finest and most interesting talks before the Winchester Art Association on Tuesday evening, in the Gallery of the Winchester Public Library.

Mr. Crite demonstrated his technique of painting, showing especially how he learned to paint in art school in his early life, drawing the skeleton, putting flesh on it, clothing it, and giving it action, all in a few deft brush strokes.

He explained how he takes a Negro Spiritual, such as "Fall on Your Knees" and with 25 to 30 brush paintings, illustrates the spiritual. In these drawings, he showed the preparation, Eucharist and the rejoicing scenes, all exquisitely done. In presenting some of his religious paintings, Mr. Crite explained that he believed that religion had come down through the ages in paintings—that the trend of art today still showed religion behind it, in spite of the confusion and unrest that is in the world. "Every art knows that God is the Creator who made man to create—that art is a means of creation," he said.

Those who heard Mr. Crite were deeply impressed by his youth and by his intensely religious feeling and by the poetry of words throughout his talk.

The members of the association exhibited their work under the guidance of Mr. Vaughan Harmon. The exhibit is open weekdays 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. for the public.

"DAYS OF YORE"

25 YEARS AGO

April 7, 1922

On Monday night the Town of Winchester voted by an overwhelming majority, 547 to 229, to proceed with the recommended purchase of four new graded school sites and the erection of four new buildings thereon at an expenditure of $540,000. The matter of a Junior High School site and building was not acted upon directly, but will be taken up and discussed at a later date.

Major Thomas E. Jansen of Wolcott road leaves next month for the Philippines, where he will be stationed for the next two years.

The snow storm extending from last Friday through Sunday was one of the heaviest of the winter, it being estimated that over a foot of snow fell here. Snow plows were out and the street scraper was used to good advantage clearing the main streets for auto travel. As it was, many cars got stuck in the snow on side streets and had to be shoveled out. Freezing weather Saturday and Sunday nights held the snow, and not until the warm sun of Monday got at it did it show any appreciable diminition. In New Hampshire the snow was reported as the heaviest of the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford Ashman Carpenter of Los Angeles were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dreier at 1 Curtis circle over the week-end. Dr. Capenter was for 30 years a member of the staff of the U. S. Weather Bureau and now is meteorologist and weather expert for the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, U. S. Government lecturer in aeronautics and head of the Department of Meteorology of the University of California.

Mrs. A. H. Morton and Mrs. James Nowell are included in the list of patronesses for the Vassar College bridge, to be given at the Copley Plaza the last of this month.

While digging for the new air compressor being installed at the West Side filling station at the corner of Pond and Cambridge streets this week, an Italian laborer uncovered a copper cent of the year 1802. The penny was in good condition and was purchased from the finder by Mr. James F. Keney for a quarter. The location where the find was made is historical, being on the old main road to Lowell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Eugene Wilde leave on Monday for a trip to Panama, Jamaica, Havana, and New Orleans, where they will attend the testimonial Masonic conclave of Knights Templar. They will make the trip with Boston Commandery, and will be away about a month.

50 YEARS AGO

Congressman McCall is not afraid to speak right out when the interests of Massachusetts are at stake, no matter which party is the agressor. His arraignment of that part of the proposed tariff bill relating to the rates on woolens as being altogether too high an detrimental to the interests of the State, was clear and outspoken.

The committee hopes to be able to add a new book to the library each week.

W. J. Jarvis and family left on Monday for a trip to California and other western points.

Mr. F. H. Nourse has been appointed agent of the German Alliance Ins. Association, also the Boston Maine Fire Ins. Co. and the Thuringia Ins. Co. of Germany.

Plans have been prepared for the widening of the ice bridge on Main street to 60 feet so as to conform to the present street lines. The expense about $3000, will be met by the county, Boston and Maine Railroad and the town. When widened, the Selectmen should prohibit the sides of the bridge being used as billboards. Now it looks very disgraceful.

SACHEMS ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Coon of Brooks street, royal rooters for the Winchester Sachems basketball team, on which their sons, Jim, Jr., and Dick, played throughout the past season, gave a dinner party for the club and their wives at their home Tuesday evening.

After dinner and a pleasant general social hour the "gals" got together for a spot of knitting or fancy-work and the men gathered around the radio to listen to the Bruins-Canadians hockey game.

WEEK-END FIRES

The first of several fires last week-end was a brush fire at 12.11 last Friday afternoon at the residence of Mr. Malcolm Shoffner, 6 Ardley place. At 6.37 p. m. Friday there was a grass fire in the west side well field off Ardley road and at 7.44 a brush fire off Brantwood road. The last fire was discovered by the Police.

Saturday morning at 9.35 the department was called to put out a fire in a tree on the Parkway near upper Mystic Lake. Box 46 was sounded for a grass fire in the rear of Loring avenue at 12.25 p. m.

At 3.58 Saturday afternoon there was a brisk grass and brush fire in the well field off Ardley road in the rear of the old Edison plant on Pond street. Chief James E. Callahan had a squad call, 7-7-48 put on at 4.13 for more men to assist in fighting this fire.

There was another grass fire on Brantwood road at 6.40, and at 11.25 p. m. Woburn Box 56 called local apparatus to Woburn to what was thought to be a fire at the Vine Gardens Cafe on Crane's lane. The trouble turned out to be a broken steam pipe, there being no fire involved.

TUFTS CONTRACT FOR FITZGERALDS

The J. J. Fitzgerald Contracting Company has been awarded the contract to level off and fill the old reservoir at the top of Tufts Hill, off Packard avenue about opposite the Barnum Museum.

"The Rez", as it has long been known to Tufts men, has been a familiar sight to visitors at Tufts Hill for many years. Triumphant parades following football and baseball victories have often wended their way around it behind the college band. Many a Tufts man has enjoyed a cooling dip in its waters after the police had made their final round. For years it has been used only as an emergency water supply in case of fire. Recently there has been no water at all within its walls.

The Fitzgeralds are going to level off the steep embankment that led to the walk around the top of the reservoir and reduce the pile to an approximate level with Packard avenue. It is understood that the site after it is leveled and filled will be used by the college for building purposes.

To the old time Tufts men and women the hill will never be quite the same without "The Rez".

PENNELL DIRECTING SHAKER WORK CAMP

Lt. Comdr. Alfred R. Pennell, USNR, former teacher at the Junior High School, is leaving the Navy about the last of April and this summer is to be co-director of the Shaker Work Camp, a new venture, at Lebanon, in the Berkshires.

Comdr. Pennell plans to arrive in Lebanon June 1 with a group of 10 boys who will assist him in getting the camp grounds and buildings ready for the campers who arrive July 1 to Sept. 1, though arrangements can be made to arrive before or after the opening and closing dates.

The directors of the camp are seeking to provide real experience for both boys and girls to whom the usual camp programs do not appeal. The camp aims to provide its campers with honest work opportunities for pay during the morning sessions and recreation in the afternoon and evening which is not required or scheduled or presented to the group as a "must" but developed as a logical consequence following the morning's work.

This theory is not new but Comdr. Pennell believes that the Shaker Work Camp program will be the best that careful personal selection and skilled personnel can make it.

Comdr. Pennell has been serving as an administrator for the government at the soft coal mines in Montana and Northern Wyoming, with headquarters at Billings, Montana. At the close of the Shaker Camp season he plans to enter Teachers' College at Columbia or Harvard to work for his doctor's degree.

MRS. EFFELYN W. SHERMAN

Mrs. Effelyn W. Sherman, widow of Leonard F. Sherman and mother of the late Alden W. Sherman, formerly of 56 Yale street, died in Winchester Friday, March 28, after a long illness.

Mrs. Sherman was the daughter of Joseph, and Catherine (Gibson) Wool. She was born in Chazy, N. Y., but was for more than 50 years a resident of Lowell, where her husband was treasurer of the John Pilling Shoe Company. A graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, Mrs. Sherman traveled extensively in this country and abroad, following the death of her husband. On one of her European trips she lived for a year at the Hotel Lorius in Montreux, Switzerland.

Mrs. Sherman was a charter member of the Middlesex Woman's Club and an honorary life member of the Vesper Country Club. She had been a resident of Winchester for the past two years.

She leaves three grandchildren, all of this town, Leonard Mosely Sherman, Priscilla Alden Sherman and Harriet Louise Sherman.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at Talbot Memorial Chapel in the Old Lowell Cemetery, Lowell, Rev. Lawrence Blackburn, rector of St. Anne's Episcopal Church, Lowell, officiated. Interment was in the Sherman family lot in the Old Lowell Cemetery.

The Art of Marbling paper, fine book binding and printing are the hobbies of Mr. Tim Thrift of Salisbury street. Mr. Thrift has given some fine examples of his hobbies to the library where they are now on exhibition in the Hobby Case in the main foyer.

Four annual issues of the "Lucky Dog", a hobby magazine are in the exhibit. All of them are autographed and one issue has the inscription, "This 1942 issue of 'The Lucky Dog' was completely produced—designed, hand set, printed and bound—by Tim Thrift for the pleasure and satisfaction of doing it. It was printed two pages at a time, on a 7x11 foolpress. The edition is 345 copies."

One little book in this collection entitled "Tim Talks" was written, printed and bound by Tim Thrift as was his recent book "Modern Methods in Marbling Paper." This last is a treatise for the layman on the art of marbling paper for book binding and other decorative uses, including a description of several practical methods, with illustrative samples of marbled effects". This is a first and limited edition of 225 signed copies, printed, bound and marbled by Tim Thrift, the author, at his private press in Winchester. THE MISSION UNION GUILD TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The Mission Union Guild of the First Congregational Church will hold its annual meeting and election of officers on Tuesday afternoon, April 8, at 2 o'clock, in the ladies' parlor. Mrs. Walter C. Tong, who will speak to the Guild on "Thy Neighbor—in the Philippines", is the wife of a missionary who was stationed in Davao, Mindanao and served with her husband in the Islands for more than 10 years. Separated from each other by the Japanese invasion for two years, they were finally united in Baguio and later transferred to the Bilibid Prison, Manila, from which they were liberated by American troops. She is able, therefore, to bring not only the picture of the creative years of her service before Pearl Harbor but details of the results of Japanese influence during their occupation.

The director of the Guild, Mrs. Norman J. Padelford, will preside at the business meeting and Mrs. Clarence R. Wickerson will lead the devotions.

There will be sewing for Tougaloo at 10 a. m., board meeting at 12 noon and luncheon will be served at 1. Luncheon chairmen are Mrs. George Budd and Mrs T. Parker Clarke.

Since there will be a dedication of the Second Mile Gift, Guild members are asked to return their envelopes at this meeting.

Mr. Lynch attended the Winchester schools and as a youth worked for his father in the market. Later he learned the machinist's trade and was for many years a machinist for the old Putter Manufacturing Company, manufacturers of soda fountains on Swanton street. For some years now he had been retired.

He leaves three brothers, Thomas K. Lynch of Woburn, and John A., and Daniel E. Lynch, both of Winchester.

TAXI DRIVER'S FARE PUNCH IN EYE

That's what Rocco Stasiichino of 191 Raymond street, North Cambridge, told the Police he got in exchange for driving a Winchester man from the corner of Dover and Tremont streets in Boston to his home.

According to Rocco, who drives for the G & A Veterans' Taxi of North Cambridge, when he got his fare to his home in the west side hill district, the man not only refused to pay for his ride, but punched the taxi-man squarely in the eye.

At Headquarters the taxi-man was advised to seek a complaint in Boston since he picked up the fare in that city.

ASSEMBLY OF MEN'S CLUBS TO MEET APRIL 24

Men who recall the confusion and uncertainty which they experienced when as boys they faced the problem of deciding upon what occupation or profession they felt best qualified for, or who now have sons approaching that critical period, will find the program arranged for the forthcoming Spring supper meeting of the Winchester Assembly of Men's Clubs both of unusual interest and value.

In an era of increasing specialization and stricter employment standards, it cannot be doubted that a practical and well planned method of providing vocational guidance is of vital importance to the youth on the threshold of graduating from our schools.

That Winchester has an excellent and intelligently conceived vocational guidance department as a part of its High School set-up is not as well known as it should be. What the High School's guidance director is doing along that line as well as why and how a well qualified corp of volunteer aids for consultative purposes can assist will be the main topic of the Assembly discussion.

The principal speakers are to be Prof. Robert H. Mathewson of Harvard, a nationally recognized authority on vocational guidance methods, and the High School's vocational guidance director Mr. Curtis Nash. Following their talks there will be a forum discussion led by Dana M. Cotton, formerly guidance director of the State Department of Education and now of the Harvard School of Education. A special guest speaker, as announced in last week's Star, whom everybody will enjoy hearing talk on his many years of experience as a chaplain in the regular Army will be Rev. Fr. Edmund C. Sliney, pastor of Immaculate Conception Church.

Tickets for the Assembly, including a genuine southern style chicken supper to be served at 6:30 p. m. at the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church for which the Sherman Dodge Men's Club are to act as the host club, are being distributed through the various Men's Clubs that are affiliated in the Winchester Assembly.

Otis W. Leary, 518 Washington street, telephone 1896-R, is chairman of the attendance committee and in charge of ticket sales.

DURAN VETS QUARTERMASTER

Joseph L. Duran of Wendell street has been elected quartermaster of Aberjona Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. He was elected at the annual meeting of the Post last week, but his name was not included with those given the Star for publication at that time.

Mrs. Wardwell was born Oct. 12, 1920, in Greensburg, Penn. She came with her family to Winchester in 1930 and attended the Winchester schools, graduating from Winchester High School with honors in 1938. In 1942 she was graduated from Jackson College for Women at Tufts, where she was a member of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. Frederick Russell was hostess for the Winchester Garden Club meeting held March 27, Mrs. Arthur Pitman and Mrs. James Russell poured.

Several flower arrangements in the home gave evidence of a talented hostess who has the inborn gift to portray beauty, form and symmetry. In the dining room on the center table was a symmetrical arrangement of coleous, snapdragon and gladioli; the buffet with its arrangement of Spring flowers of many hues was a display of scintillating beauty. Jane and Bill on a little card signified the flowers were from Mr. and Mrs. Russell's son and daughter-in-law. Combinations of fountain grass and coxcomb, cattails and wheat and an arrangement of forsythia made striking groups in the living room. In the hall, skunk cabbage and horse chestnut mingled in a dignified arrangement.

Before the business meeting, Mrs. Russell was surprised by the members singing "Happy Birthday" as the president, Mrs. Norman Mitchell brought in a birthday cake. Mrs. Robert Whitten read an original poem in honor of Mrs. Russell's birthday.

Mrs. Mitchell read Irene D. Williams' poem on the Garden of 1947 which amusingly implied that instead of planting vegetables this year—the last line explains it—"This Spring my planting has one goal—to feed my soul."

Mrs. Waldo V. Lyon, Horticulture and Conservation chairman, brought to the club many suggestions. Some of them are "Do not apply mulches until the soil has warmed and new growth has started. Any severely corrective pruning of hedges should take plae in the Spring before growth starts. Evergreen trees and shrubs do not require early planting. Do not apply dormant sprays, particularly oil to trees and shrubs in freezing weather or at any time when the spray will not dry on the plants before night."

Miss Margaret Stearns, State Horticulture chairman of the Garden Federation spoke on "Annuals and Perennials." She brought many practical suggestions and valuable information to the members—one suggestion ws to visit the Waltham Field Service to check up on new groups of annuals and many new ideas would be gained by this visit.

The next meeting of the club will be April 24, with Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood, hostess; Mrs. Ejnar Bratt, Mrs. Robert Orpin, co-hostesses. Mrs. Charles S. Grove will be the speaker.

WINCHESTER MAN INVENTS NOVEL FIRE ESCAPE

A Winchester man, Koko Boodakian the well known rug merchant, has invented a novel fire escape which he has had made and has ready for use at his home on Lochwan street. The fire escape is of a new and novel design, light in weight and suitable for use anywhere. Instead of using the customary rope he uses a band of webbing, and by an ingenious arrangement of aluminum bars and rollers it takes a supporting weight of from 125 to almost an unlimited number of pounds. Another feature is that the escape is ready for use again as soon as a person is lowered to the ground. In other words the use of the escape is continuous. Any one interested in a handy, light and convenient fire escape from any upstairs room, should contact Mr. Boodakian.

TWO-VOLUME TELEPHONE BOOK

With the issue of December, 1947, the single-volume Boston and Vicinity Telephone Directory will be divided into two separate volumes — one to contain the white-paged alphabetical directory and the other the yellow-paged classified directory.

The change to two volumes, it was said yesterday by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, is required by the rapidly growing size of the single volume during the past several years. With the future growth expected, the Company said a single volume would become too unwieldly.

Metropolitan Boston's current directory, it was said, is the largest in the United States containing both alphabetical and classified listings in one volume.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

The annual meeting of the Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church occurs on Tuesday, April 8. Luncheon will be served at 1 o'clock under the able chairmanship of Mesdames Dermot Townley-Tilson and Robert W. MacArthur. The reports for the year will then be in order with the President, Mrs. Henry E. Worcester, presiding. The special attraction will take the form of a Hobby Show and everyone having a Hobby or Collection is urged to exhibit the same. Kindly contact Mrs. Richard Parkhurst, Win. 1720 or Mrs. Clark Collins 0434 for reservations.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS IN WINCHESTER

To clarify our thinking with respect to Industrial Arts work in our schools, a brief history of its development, with some explanation of the various terms by which this work has been called, will help us to see how far we have progressed in our general educational program.

Manual training, which suggests the theory of formal discipline carried over into handwork instruction, was first started in this country in Boston at the Mechanic Arts School connected with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The Russian system of handwork was used, which briefly is the making of a series of joints before any finished or useful product can be constructed. The Russian influence contributed the ideals of trade skill, analysis and organization of subject matter, and the making and using of mechanical drawings. The Mechanic Arts High School of Boston and Rindge Tech of Cambridge are examples of this system. Their slogan might well be "Instruction before construction."

The Sloyd or Swedish system of handwork started in the city of Boston and because of its popularity spread very rapidly over the country. It made that city the experimental center for educational handwork in the country. The Sloyd system, interested in the making of useful articles, seems to fit in more closely with our democratic ideals of freedom. It also affords opportunity for pupil participation and observation of certain phases of the real work of the world.

Industrial arts education, the term we use to describe our handwork of today, consists of a great variety of activities that give insight to and appreciation of all those "arts" that industry employs to do the work and produce the goods of the world.

We can see by this brief history of handwork how we have passed from the Russian, or formal, to the Swedish, or more liberal, and finally to our present Industrial Arts set-up, which is the American way of providing a broader and more general education for all pupils, the only sure way we have to perpetuate our way of life.

Winchester was one of the first communities of greater Boston to give some handwork instruction in her schools. In the early nineties a carpentry school taught by a local tradesman was started. About the year 1900, when the Wadleigh School was opened, a room in the basement was set aside for the instruction of Sloyd, the Swedish system of handwork. Miss Frances Daley, a graduate of the Sloyd Training School of Boston, was the teacher.

Some mechanical drawing was given in the High School, and in the year 1920 printing was added to the curriculum. When the new Junior High School was opened, some provision was made for the High School to take Industrial Arts at the Junior High School. Many high school people have taken advantage of the limited program offered: woodwork on a part time basis in the Junior High School, and mechanical drawing and printing in the Wadleigh Building. The large increase in enrollment in the High School in the last 15 years has brought out the pressing need for more facilities to give a broader educational program to all of the pupils.

The survey pointed very strongly to our weak industrial arts set-up, both as to facilities and equipment, and the number of instructors. To quote the survey, the Junior High School woodshop is called fair; the mechanical drawing room in the Wadleigh Building, well equipped, but due to shortage of instructors, limited in capacity. The printing room is pathetic with the equipment of the museum sort.

It should be pointed out that strides have been made to improve and increase the industrial arts facilities. A new instructor has been added who takes care of the Junior High School shop. This made two men available for full-time instruction in the High School.

Principal Wade L. Grindle reorganized the entire curriculum for this group under a new Arts course. Some 300 pupils, or 40% of the total school population, are now taking advantage of this educational program: 150 in the woodshop, 125 in mechanical drawing, and 25 in printing. One thing we must note is that if facilities and instructors are available, pupils will elect this type of work. They, more than anyone else, appreciate that it is a part of their general educational program, necessary to a broader and more useful life as citizens in a democracy.

The aims of the present day Industrial Arts curriculum are to orient each pupil in good work habits, to acquaint him with a desirable industrial background, to make him an intelligent consumer, and to develop hobby interests. This new concept of Industrial Arts is far removed from the old belief of instruction for desirable skill only, that was found in Manual Training of Sloyd.

Since the survey report, the Industrial Arts program has been carefully studied by the Superintendent of Schools, the Principals of the High and Junior High School, and the teachers. All feel that the program should be broadened, and steps have been taken to accomplish that as far as facilities will permit.

A comprehensive Industrial Arts program should include the following units:

A General Workshop—Activities: Bench woodwork, wood turning, simple pattern making, simple housing construction, finishing, and refinishing.

Graphic Arts—Activities: Printing (different methods), Binding, Art (color-design), Editorial (journalism), Presswork.

These shops are now available with certain limitations: the shops being in different buildings makes the scheduling of classes difficult; inadequate instructional time and lack of equipment in the Graphic Arts department handicaps that work.

The following departments would need to be added to give a well-rounded program of Industrial Arts to the Winchester schools:

Industrial Arts Laboratory—

This unit will encompass the following activities that will give a general background of the technological democracy in which we live: Plastics, ceramics, household mechanics, leather work, jewelry, transportation, and communication.

From the foregoing it may be discovered that Industrial Arts, the term used in the Winchester schools, presupposes a broad definition. One must not be confused by the idea of vocational training. That is the work of the trade school or the vocational school so-called. The Winchester Industrial Arts Program may be interpreted as practical arts, the counterpart, perhaps, of fine arts. In music and art classes the emphasis is on enriching the life of the citizen, rather than on providing him with a vocation. That high school music and art furnish a good background for one's choosing a life work in those fields is quite possible, but appreciation of the arts is a more likely product. So, in Industrial Arts, the prospective householder learns certain skills which may be used entirely avocationally in later life, but whether he eventually becomes a school teacher or an engineer, the young man with Industrial Arts in his background will have a wholesome respect for manual skills and may enjoy carry-over value from his high school curricular study that may produce a lively hobby interest.

K. OF C. NOTES

The Penny Sale to be held in the Town Hall April 14, promises to be a real affair and the committee, under the leadership of Brother Harry Boyle, has secured a number of exceptional prizes.

The Ford sedan to be awarded at the Penny Sale has arrived and will be on disply shortly. Chairman Dan O'Donnell of the Car Drawing Committee urges every member to make prompt return on chances to his captain or direct to Al Pullo. Response to date has been excellent and the committee desires returns now to avoid last minute rush.

The 50th Anniversary Committees are making good progress. Henry Murray's ticket committee has contacted every member. Daniel F. Dineen's program committee is busy putting a beautiful program together. Luke Glendon's publicity committee is receiving publicity from many quarters.

The next regular meeting will be held on Monday, April 7th, at which time the accumulated attendance prize will be drawn.

Mrs. Kenneth B. Hiscoe of 1 Lagrange street has been appointed Winchester chairman of the "Come and See" Committee for the Massachusetts Osteopathic Hospital's Building and Endowment Fund, it was announced today. Mrs. Hiscoe and her committee will arrange appointments for individuals or groups to visit the hospital between April 11 and May 9.

HIGH SCHOOL CAPTAINS ELECTED

At recent elections of the Winchester High School basketball, hockey and girls' basketball teams, Alan Switzer was elected basketball captain for next year, Sherman "Whip" Saltmarsh, hockey captain; and Ann Albree, girls' basketball captain.

Switzer has played both forward and center on the basketball team this winter and was one of the team's high scorers. He is a junior and an all around athlete, playing both football and baseball as well as basketball.

Saltmarsh was a spare on this year's hockey team, but generally made his presence felt once he was inserted into the lineup, being both a good shot and play-maker. His father, "Sherm" Saltmarsh, 1910, played baseball and was a member of the track team in high school, running both cross country and as a distance man on the track team at Dartmouth.

Ann Albree was one of Coach Matthews dependable second team guards this year, often getting into the first team lineup toward the end of the campaign. She also plays field hockey and tennis, having been a member of the Winchester High unbeaten girls' team last year.

NEW SCHOOL OPINION

Views of Star Readers On Building New Andrews Hill School

The Star this week prints the opinions of Town Boards and individuals for and against construction of the proposed new school on the West Side Hill. Next Thursday, April 17, the referendum is to be held on this subject at the Town Hall. Voters will then have the opportunity to vote for or against its erection. The polls will be open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE RESTATE THEIR VIEWS

To the Citizens of Winchester:

The undersigned members of the School Committee feel that they would be remiss in their duty if they failed to restate their views urging support of a new West Side School at the coming referendum. These views may be put briefly:

1. The Need. The present overcrowding at Wyman is acute and bids fair to become increasingly serious in 1948 and 1949. There are 16 grades at Wyman, five of which have 35 pupils or more—too many for a grade. There are no rooms for expansion.

2. Delay Is Undesirable. A building started now will not be ready until September, 1948. In addition, other school building needs in the Junior High and High will soon require action.

3. The Site. The Committee approved the centrally-located site only when it was satisfied that adequate playgrounds could be provided. On this four acre plot there will be nearly 2½ acres of level play space, an area greater than at any of our other elementary schools, and above the minimum required by experts for a school of this size.

4. The Building is admirably adapted to present day elementary school education without being needlessly elaborate. Each room will seat 30 pupils without using the workroom for seats, and 35 with the use of the workroom. Classes ordinarily should be divided when pupils exceed 30.

5. The Cost. A completed building with all furnishings for $395,000 is required by the vote, and is not believed appreciably greater than what the cost might be a year hence. If costs prove to be above this figure, the school would not be built now.

6. The Method of Financing. A simple majority vote to finance construction from postwar reserves would undoubtedly have carried at the Town Meeting. In deference to the wishes of the Finance Committee, the plan to issue bonds to cover part of the cost was accepted by the School Committee.

We trust that this statement will make the position of the undersigned members clear. In view of the pressing need, it is our hope that the voters will endorse the action of the Annual Town Meeting.

Respectfully yours,
Hazen B. Ayer
Neil H. Borden
Christine E. Greene
Ruth C. Smith
William J. Speers

SCHOOL COMMITTEE MEMBER DISSENTS

To Winchester Voters:

The majority members of the School Committee on the issue of the new West Side school have determined, in response to suggestions of proponents of the school, to insert in this issue of the Star a statement designed "to strengthen the support of the School Committee." The minority is thereby placed under obligation to reaffirm publicly the reasons for its existence.

The "loyal opposition" in the Committee on this issue bases his position on the following convictions:

1. A new primary school west of Cambridge street should be built as soon as a good school on a proper site can be built at a cost proportionate to it's place in the whole Town program.

2. The site already purchased by the Town ten years ago is not a proper site. All the arguments pro and con have been presented in Town Meeting and in the press. Voters are urged to visit the site and draw their own conclusions.

3. The proposed building developed to fit this bad site is plainly too much building for a simple primary school. A glance at the plans in the Star office showing size and number of non-essential spaces will suffice.

4. The Town is NOT protected by the voted requirement that the Building Committee not proceed if the total of bids to complete the entire project exceeds $395,000. That figure, on the statements of two of the members of that committee, contains no item for "contingencies" regularly figured in construction projects and presently evaluated in the Boston area at from 20 to 30 percent of total cost. Contingencies are not covered by BIDS.

5. The crowded condition of Wyman School and its satisfactory annex can be alleviated by several administrative means until construction conditions stabilize.

6. While awaiting the time to build, the Town should
(A) Select a better site.
(B) Purchase or take the property selected and approved.
(C) Prepare plans and specifications for a primary school of modest design with large, safe playgrounds.

Respectfully,
Richard M. Rush
Member, School Committee

DO YOU KNOW THAT

Editor of the Star:

A referendum adds to the tax rate? This referendum will cost about $600? The last referendum upheld the vote of your Town meeting members?

The site was picked because it was located near the center of the district to be served (one at one end as would be the site proposed in the Star of April 4.)?

Many young couples bought home sites because a school was to be erected in that area?

Only the war prevented the completion and use of a schoolhouse on the West Side Hill?

The site in question is bounded by three streets—none of which is a main artery such as High street?

Large parking areas are not needed for elementary schools?

The site in question has about twice the play area of any other school site?

The cost of the Wyman School lot before grading was more than three times as much as the site in question?

Do You Know That

The Building Committee has already spent $3000 for engineering and architectural advice? (Shall we waste out tax money?)

A bonded bid means the school must be built for the amount specified and bidders are awaiting your decision?

The bid cannot exceed $395,000 which will include building, grading and furnishings of the school?

Grading costs, including excavating, can be done for less than $30,000 which is included in total cost?

Labor is two-thirds of the cost? No one knows when—if ever—labor costs will come down?

Today money borrowing is very cheap—only 1% for bond issue proposed?

Previous school bonds were at 3% and will be retired this year?

After World War I, having put off a necessary Wyman School, we had four new schools at one fell swoop?

If we delay building just one now, we shall be confronted in '49 or '50 with a huge and even more costly building program for Junior and Senior High schools to accommodate the 140 pupils arriving from the already crowded Wyman?

You, by voting "yes" on the referendum will show your faith in your Town Meeting members whom you elected?

Ella May Emerson

REFERENDUM A SAFEGUARD

Editor of the Star:

Because the present referendum seems to be "confusing" to some of our citizens, may I have space for a brief statement of facts concerning this question which just now is the subject of so much misrepresentation?

The referendum is as much a legitimate part of our limited town meeting government as is precinct voting or any other civic privilege. Without the assured safeguard of the referendum on important questions, where every individual voter might express his wishes by a direct vote in the privacy of the voting booth, our present form of town meeting would never have been adopted by the town—nor, so far as I know, by any other town with a similar form of government.

I was a member of the committee appointed to consider the change from the old form of town meeting to the new, and know first hand the many objections expressed. Some of the best informed members of the committee disapproved.

The present proposition to spend approximately half a million dollars and to build one primary school, at a time when building costs are at a prohibitive high peak, while even the School Committee admits that the problem can be solved, temporarily, by redistricting, or by transporting pupils to vacant rooms in the Noonan, Lincoln or Mystic schools, is a question which every voter and taxpayer should consider carefully, and vote for the best interests of the whole town, since tax payers of the whole town must pay the bills.

I know of no one opposed to a suitable school at a suitable time, but well informed citizens are not likely to spend $100 for a $50 value if it can be avoided.

Many other important projects of vital importance to other groups must be considered: the High School, the Junior High; additions to the Mystic and Washington schools, the Library, Town Hall, etc, etc.

Like a wise mother who deals out a fair share to all her children and does not let any favorite child no matter how "emotional" run away with the whole pie, our Town Fathers and the Finance Committee must guard our public funds and see that all worthy projects are given fair consideration.

Lorence M. Woodside

P. S.—In spite of the talk of my not "showing my hand" by voting at the recent town meeting, I wish to state that I supported the Finance Committee's recommendation and voted against the school.

When the Committee reversed its position and suggested that we vote for the financing of the school, I refused to pay for something to which I was opposed and did not vote. I would do so again.

In connection with this failure to vote may I call attention to the following official record of attendance and number voting at various town meetings in the past:

ERIC GUSTAVE ERICSON

Eric Gustave Ericson of 223 Forest street, died suddenly of a heart attack Saturday morning, April 5, at his home. He had not been ill and his sudden passing came as a severe shock to his family and friends. He was 55 years old.

A native of Sweden, Mr. Ericson spent his boyhood in Norrkoping in that country, coming to the United States and settling in Winchester 27 years ago. He was employed as a machine operator at Beggs & Cobb leather tannery.

Mr. Ericson leaves his wife, Mrs. Bertha (Olsen) Ericson; a daughter, Mrs. Betty O'Donnell; two grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Anna Carlson, living in Sweden.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the late residence with the Rev. J. Herman Olsson, pastor of the Swedish Lutheran Church in Woburn, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

MRS. MARY EVELYN PENALIGAN

Mrs. Mary Evelyn Penaligan of 16 Maxwell road, widow of James N. Penaligan, died Friday morning, April 4, at the Winchester Hospital after a month's illness. She had been in failing health since Christmas and entered the hospital on March 5 when she sustained a fractured right hip in a fall at her home.

Mrs. Penaligan was the daughter of James H., and Mary (Turner) Wright. She was born April 15, 1858, in Grafton, but spent her girlhood in Holden where her father was proprietor of a small knitting mill. She was educated at Willow Park Seminary, then located in Westboro, and for a time taught a district school in Holden.

As a young woman she moved with her family to Boston where she was married Oct. 25, 1881. She and her husband were married nearly 55 years before his death in 1936. Previous to her marriage she had been bookkeeper in the grocery store of Temple & Wright in the West End of Boston.

Mrs. Penaligan came to Winchester 47 years ago and had since made her home here. Never in robust health, her principal concern was her home and family though she maintained a life-long interest in the Sailor's Haven, the Episcopal City Mission, the Morgan Memorial and the Salvation Army.

She leaves a son, James H. Penaligan, with whom she made her home; and two sisters, Mrs. George F. Field of Southboro, and Mrs. Sidney C. Faulkner of Detroit, Mich., formerly of this town.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel with the Rev. Dwight W. Hadley, rector of the Church of the Epiphany, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

PROF. HANS KOHN LECTURE

On next Friday evening, April 18, at 8:30 p. m. Prof. Hans Kohn, chairman of the History Department, Smith College will give his annual Winchester lecture at the Winchester High School Auditorium under the auspices of the Smith College Club. Professor Kohn's topic will be "The Future of Europe", in which he will pay special attention to the political future and influence of Russia.

The Smith Club is particularly fortunate in being able to present Professor Kohn who has taught at seven universities and colleges including Harvard and the University of California, and who is a nationally famous lecturer and author of definitive works on European history and Nationalism, receiving a Guggenheim fellowship in 1940 for research in this field. He spent five years following the first World War as a prisoner of the Russians, witnessing the Russian revolution and civil war.

Both Professor Kohn and his Winchester audience enjoy the question period at the end of his lecture. Professor Kohn's book list comprising the best new books on current world affairs will be distributed at the lecture.

First Champions of Town League Sponsored by Recreation Commission

Winchester Post's American Legion team won the first championship of the Recreation Commission's Basketball League in an exciting playoff with the Sons of Italy Tigers, 36-34, two weeks ago. The regular season ended with the Legion and Tigers all even, each having won nine and lost three. The closeness of the League competition is indicated by the fact that behind the leaders the Elks and Rotary were knotted with eight wins and four reverses. The Veterans of Foreign Wars team, the best in the league over the last few games, was close behind the Elks and Rotary with a seven and five record.

The Legion paced the league clubs over the closing weeks of the campaign, displacing the Elks just after the half-way mark. The Elks led the league at the start of the season, giving way to the Rotary and then returned to the top for two weeks before the Legion finally took over. The loss of Joe McKee at mid-season just about cooked the goose of "Deacon" Hamilton's club.

The Sons of Italy Tigers never led the league, but were always within striking distance and forged to a top tie when the leaders faltered. The Legion's forfeit because they had too few players to start a game on time prevented their winning the title without a playoff.

The Veterans, generally conceded the class of the league at the end of the schedule, lost their first five in row, and then won seven straight, taking all comers.

Pacing the championship Legion club was the towering Roger Latham, former high school football star, who finished behind Bob Harris of the Rotary for individual scoring honors with 122 to Harris' 143. The real wheel-horse of the Legion, was, however, old Fred "the Red" Noble, who was starring for the high school back in the days of Wendell Mansfield and who is one of the few really good players developed at high school since the first World War. Red has slowed up, true, but he still knows the game and his presence in the lineup pulled many a close one out of the hat for the Legion.

Sam Tibaudo, former star fullback at high school, led the Sons of Italy scorers with 92 points, good enough for fifth scoring honors, behind Callahan, 101, and Way, 96, both of Rotary.

The Rotary club looked like the class of the league for a time, but a tendency to choke when the going got tough hurt its championship potentialities.

No mention of the league season would be at all complete without reference to the general excellence of the direction the project got from the high school's capable basketball coach, Ted Bartlett. "Bart" did a whale of a job, both of organizing and directing the league, the excellence of which stands as a tribute to his ability and interest in basketball and those who play the game.

WOBURN LOSES SEWAGE CASE

A decree has been issued by the Superior Court restraining the City of Woburn from discharging any sewage or wastes into the Aberjona River. The case was tried at length two months ago, during the hearing it developed that the sewer had not been cleaned for some time. They immediately started a crew of men making a thorough job of cleaning. Since that time the sewer has not overflowed. The manufacturers using this sewer for the disposal of their wastes are co-operating by staggering the flow into the Woburn sewer, each factory using it at a different time. The manufacturers are also starting to build new filter plants and vats to hold more sewage. It is hoped that by careful supervision no sewage or wastes will reach the Aberjona River.

The City of Woburn has the right to appeal this decree on the interpretation of the law under which the case was tried. At this time we do not know whether they will appeal.

The Winchester Water and Sewer Board has followed this case rendering much assistance to the State in procuring evidence.

SWETT ELECTED VICE PRESIDENT

Mr. William A. Swett of Highland avenue was elected vice-president and director of Paul Burrage, Inc., one of Boston's oldest general insurance agencies last week. Mr. Swett has been associated with the agency for the past year and has been in the insurance business in Boston since 1933 as a life insurance agent, supervisor and broker. He is an Army veteran on World War II.

The Fire Department had two house fires yesterday, the first at 3:25 p. m. at the home of Henry Kardoszewski, 98 Harvard street, where smoking in bed caused a fire in a bed room. At 4:55 Box 27 came in for a fire in the laundry at the home of Mrs. M. Walker Jones, 27 Ridgefield road. Water boiled out on a range, filling the basement with smoke.

MANNING—BIRCH

The wedding of Miss Barbara Birch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wadsworth Birch of 12 Sheffield west, and Mr. Albert Wesley Manning, son of Dr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Manning of 110 Church street, took place last Saturday evening, April 15, in the Unitarian Church with Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the church, officiating. There was a large attendance of friends and relatives.

The church was decorated for the ceremony with ferns and candelabra, and bouquets of gladioli, white roses and spring flowers. A carillon program of the church chimes, preceded the wedding, and played by Mrs. Mary Bennett Witham, who also rendered a program of organ music for the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Mr. Ralph M. Manning, the bridegroom's brother, was best man and the honor attendants of the bride were Mrs. Clifford W. Birch, Jr., of Arlington, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Eleanor Birch of Boston, the bride's cousin. The two bridesmaids were Mrs. Christopher L. Yates of Brunswick, Me., and Mrs. David P. Woodale of Syracuse, N. Y.

The bride wore white satin with deep V neck-line trimmed with double lace ruffles, sheer yoke, long sleeves and a long train. Her finger-tip veil, trimmed with lace and pearls, gave a halo outline. She carried a bouquet of hyacinths with a large white orchid and three gardenias.

The honor attendants wore fuchsia crepe with interwined gold belt and carried bouquets of Virginia and Pelergonian carnations. They wore headbands of the same flowers. The bridesmaids were dressed in pale aqua crepe with intwined gold belts and wore matching headbands and carried bouquets of the same flowers as the honor attendants.

A reception at the church in Metcalf Hall followed the ceremony, closing at 11. Ushers for both the ceremony and reception included Mr. George H. R. McQueen of this town, Mr. Philip A. Richenburg of Roslindale, brother-in-law of the groom; Mr. William R. Roop II, also a brother-in-law of the groom, and Mr. Clifford W. Birch, Jr., brother of the bride.

Mr. Manning is attending Tufts College after serving three years in the Army. Mrs. Manning, who attended Lassel Junior College, served for two years in the Marine Corps. Following a motor trip they will make their home at 12 Fletcher street.

WOMEN'S ALLIANCE

The Women's Alliance of the Unitarian Church held its annual meeting on Tuesday, April 8. A delicious luncheon was served by the luncheon committee with Mrs. Dermot Townley-Tilson and Mrs. W. MacArthur, co-chairmen.

The business meeting followed with Mrs. Henry E. Worcester, the president presiding. The reports of the various committees were most enlightening showing the amount of work that had been accomplished during the year for the Unitarian Service Committee, Winchester District Nursing Association, Red Cross, as well as other worthwhile charities and our church.

Mrs. Worcester was re-elected president with an efficient board. The entertainment for the afternoon took the form of a Hobby Show. The exhibits by members and a few husbands and friends were varied and well worth a careful study consisting of sandwich milk glass, pottery, buttons, oil paintings, hand-painted trays and boxes, hooked rugs, charms, bells, U. S. commerative stamps, carved wood, head lines from the last war, Lincoln and Indian head pennies, dolls of many countries, hats and a needlepoint picture of the Lord's Supper and fater color paintings.

A most enjoyable time was spent by all with hopes of a repetition another year.

TWO WINCHESTER ARTISTS IN EXHIBITION

Two Winchester artists are represented in the 20th annual exhibition of the Business Men's Art Club of Boston, opening Tuesday, April 15, and continuing through the month, in the fourth floor gallery of Paine's of Boston, 81 Arlington street.

G. Russell Mann, former president of the Business Men's Art Club and well known for his activities in conjunction with the Winchester Art Association, is exhibiting four oils, "Century House, Hillsboro, N. H.", "Summer's End, Martinsville, Me.", "Davis' Cove, Maine" and "Antrim, N. H." In business life, Mr. Mann is production superintendent at the New England Confectionery Company. He has been painting as a diversion for some 10 years, having studied with John Enser and Emile Gruppe. Mr. Mann lives at 14 Fenwick road.

"Himalayan Dawn", "Kasmir Spring" and "Road to Kashmir", are water colors being exhibited by Darwin E. Gardner, 5 Fells road. He received his early art training from his father and his father's friends Messrs. Hopkinson Smith, Sargent, Boit, Parish and others.

Of his art Mr. Gardner says, "I paint only scenes I wish to remember, and if you paint a building you will remember it since the very act of putting it down on paper obliges you to observe details which the casual eye overlooks. I have never tried to paint great pictures—just pleasant pictures of things I like to recall to memory; pictures of scenes as I see them and not as someone who has never seen them thinks they should be."

SACHEMS HAD SUCCESSFUL SEASON

New Town Basetball Team Won 12 of 16 Games

The Sachems, the first team for many years to represent Winchester in the independent basketball ranks recently closed a most successful season with a record of 12 wins in 16 game against representative teams in this district.

Organized by a group of former veterans interested in playing basketball, the Sachems scored a ten-strike when they secured the services of Ted Bartlett, popular and capable coach of the Winchester High School team, to handle the club. "Bart" has had plenty of experience in coaching independent teams, his Beverly City Club having been one of the best in the independent ranks back before the war. He is generally known as a sound coach and a good teacher of the game. He did a great job with the Sachems under adverse conditions.

Most of the local team played for Winchester High before the war, only a few of the regular members having had college experience. Dick Hakanson, former high school captain, played at Lowell Textile and Northeastern, and Ted "Moe" Hultgren, also played at Northeastern. Jim Coon and Bob Maynard played respectively at Deerfield and Bordentown Military. Late in the season Jim Phillips, brilliant Northeastern player, joined the club and Joe Borgatti, a Harvard boy, replaced Billy MacDonald when the latter was forced to give up the game on the doctor's orders.

Billy wasn't the only Sachem that the medicine man ordered out of there. "Junie" Donaghey, former high school captain and Wentworth Institute star, was prevented from playing by the doctor's orders as was Pete Provinzano, former high school captain and leading scorer. Pete did play a few games early in the season, his place being taken by "Fran" Poirier when he was forced to give up playing. Benjamin got into a couple of the last games played by the team.

Had the Sachems been able to keep Donaghey, McDonald and Provinzano through the season, in addition to their other players, they would have been a much stronger ball team, for few of their personnel were able to go at top speed all the way.

The Sachems reported for their early season practice in not too good shape and they were generally speaking short of work all season, having insufficient time for practice and playing too few games. In the face of this handicap the local club turned in a very creditable performance, being outclassed only once by the strong Woburn Town Team, at the Woburn Y, an admittedly tough place to play ball. Coach Bartlett would have been glad to meet the Town Team at Winchester, but arrangements couldn't seem to be made for a return game.

The Sachems played especially good ball against St. Josph's C. Y. O. of Belmont in the season's opener ,against the Murphy General Hospital, Winthrop Varsity, Hyde Park Y at Winchester and St. Raphael's H. N. S. of Medford, in the return game. The locals were really at their peak beating the "Saints" in their return game after dropping their first game to the Medford club by four points. It would have taken a pretty fair club to win from the Sachems that night.

Generally speaking when the Sachems elected to play a team, making use of the offense with which they had been equipped by Coach Bartlett, they were as good, or better than any team they faced all year. The locals' trouble was a tendency to discard combination play and a team offense for individual effort. Good as several of the local players were, and creditable as was their scoring was as individuals, the team was at its best when it was playing as a team.

In the forecourt all season were Jim Coon, Bob Maynard, and Joe Borgatti with Pete Provinzano and Benjamin filling in. Ted Hultgren and Dick Coon played most of the season at center with Jim Phillips shining there in the last few games. Regular guards were Dick Hakanson ond Kennie Wright, with Fran Poirier and Dean Derby as alternates. Dan Roop managed the club with Ted Covert and Peter Flagg as assistants.

Following are the game and individual scoring records:

58 W. H. S. SENIORS ELIGIBLE

Just before the schools closed for the Easter recess, Mr. Wade Grindle, Headmaster of Winchester High School, announced that 58 members of the Senior Class were eligible scholastically for the scholarships which will be awarded by the Winchester Scholarship Foundation in June.

Along with the announcement of those who were eligible on a scholastic basis, application blanks were given to those in the group who felt that they could establish the need of assistance in continuing their studies at higher institutions of learning.

A third requirement, and one to which the committee will attach a great deal of importance in making the final awards, is the so-called rating of the applicants under "Traits of Character". These so-called traits are eight in number and they will be used as a basis to partly determine the winners of the scholarships. The eight "Traits of Character" are as follows:

1. Ability—native intelligence; capacity for growth, aptitude.
2. Character—honest; reliability; co-operation.
3. Citizenship — attitudes and ideals; probable success as a man or woman; promise as an investment.
4. Industry—effort; works to maximum ability; work done on time.
5. Leadership — has influence; handles responsibility; gets things done; executive ability.
6. Maturity—degree of: self control; grown up; poise; emotional stability.
7. Personality — appearance; attractiveness; courtesy; personal grooming; social adaptability.
8. Scholarly characteristics — desire for knowledge; intellectual curiosity; seeks knowledge for its own sake.

He particularly stressed the work being done in veteran's hospitals throughout the state and country in bringing to those hospitalized many hours of pleasing entertainment.

Over 30 Winchester Elks were present at the installation in tribute to the popularity of Mr. McGrath, who did a splendid job with the new installation ritual.

Next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock is the date of the next regular meeting. This will be the first meeting at which the newly elected officers of Winchester Lodge will officiate. All members are earnestly requested to attend to help get the new lodge year off to a flying start.

COMMENTS BY COMMITTEE ON WEST SIDE SCHOOL LOT

by at least 90 per cent of the children, the exception being the small group from the South, who will have to cross High street at Arlington street.

Then, what is said to be the matter with the lot? The answer given by its opponents is that it slopes. Yes, it slopes in conformity with the entire hillside district. It always has, and it always will, but it is a fine and suitable school lot and has been successfully handled by the School Architect in his planning. It is unusual in Winchester for buildings to be erected on hillsides?

Our Junior High School and our Noonan School are built on sharp slopes with rooms on a lower level, but grading has minimized this appearance. The West Side School lot may look difficult in its roughly wooded state, but the architect and engineers for the Building Committee have found no obstacle not easily overcome.

It has been mentioned that the large field on the Southerly side of High street would have been a good site. It would from a building point of view, and we liked it, but it is way on the edge of the school district, and, furthermore, is on High street, a street which is becoming more and more heavily traveled and which about 90 per cent of the children would have to cross. Two weeks ago, you deplored editorially, Mr. Editor, that certain of our existing schools did not center in their districts and were on main streets. This charge cannot be made against the site, which the Town owns for this West Side School.

Our feeling now is the same as it was in 1937. It is a fine lot, free from ledge of any isequence. It slopes, to argument against it;
hillside slopes. It
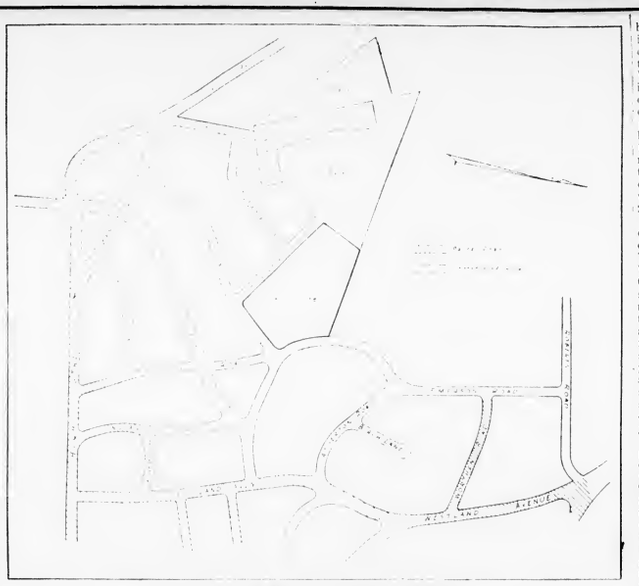
ilt because it is rough and covered with scrub trees. The architect has produced a very satisfactory solution for the grading problems and plans for a very attractive school. The people, who live in the district, believe the site an excellent one for their needs.



ROAD PLAN OF WEST SIDE SCHOOL DISTRICT

NO MENTION MADE OF STREETS FOR WEST SIDE SCHOOL

Editor of the Star:

I was very much interested in a letter published by the Star dated April 4, 1947 signed by the building committee for the so-called "West Side Hill School."

If that letter had any value for the voters of Winchester it should have been published previous to the town meeting of March 20, 1947, when $395,000.00 was appropriated for this project.

In it the committee appears to have based their estimate of the cost of preparing and grading the land, to a considerable extent, upon the investigation made by Fay, Spofford & Thorndike whose estimated cost was $32,500.00 as stated by the building committee and quoted in the April 4 issue of the Winchester Star. Personally I believe that a survey and an estimate by the Town Engineer would have been more reliable.

There was an investigation made by an architect and engineers from the Worcester Company of Boston and the results given to the building committee. They estimated a cost of about $85,000.00 to put the lot in condition. They are an outstanding firm of engineers and architects with a reputation second to none in this part of the country but I have not yet heard their report quoted.

The pits excavated on the site by the men from the street department, in some cases, did not go within from three to eight feet of final grade, which would make it impossible for anyone to determine the amount of ledge to be encountered.

I inspected the location of the proposed school and, with great difficulty, located the lot in the woods on the side of a hill with no streets constructed bordering any part of the schoolhouse location. The construction of these streets will mean a large expenditure of money which, up to the present time, I have not heard mentioned by the building committee.

I am enclosing a plan for you to publish in the Star showing the streets surrounding the schoolhouse site which are not constructed; also those which are constructed.

I went to the office of the town engineers to inspect the plans for this school project and was told they did not have any regardless of the fact that the town by-laws call for the plans of the different departments as well as of special committees be kept there. I finally located some prints of the land in the office of the superintendent of schools but there was no one there to explain their meaning.

There are in the Town of Winchester 8814 registered voters of which 227 are representative town meting members. Of course the town meeting members had an opportunity to listen to the building committee and others who were interested but the balance of the 8814 voters did not have that opportunity and it is, therefore, not amazing that the citizens, not town-meeting members, should desire an opportunity to vote on so large an expenditure of money.

It is my opinion that all of the opponents of the building committee's program are in favor of a new primary school west of Cambridge street and believe that one should be built as soon as a proper site is found and the building can be constructed at reasonable cost.

Very truly yours,
George M. Bryne

All committees, who from time to time have had occasion to investigate the problem of a future school in this district, have come to the same conclusion; namely, that the site is not only a good one, but the best that can be found.

While every individual is entitled to his opinion, we believe that our citizens can safely rely on the collective judgment of these several committees arrived at only after long and careful study.

Signed:
Robert M. Stone, Chairman (Appointed by the Moderator)
Frederic C. Alexander (Appointed by the Park Board)
Geoffrey C. Noiley (Appointed by the School Committee)
William L. Parsons (Appointed by the Planning Board)
W. Allan Wilde (Appointed by the Selectmen)

PANEL AGREED ON WEST SIDE SCHOOL

Editor of the Star:

In view of the discussion which has taken place regarding the need for the new elementary school, I feel that some weight should be given to the attitude of our Town Committees on this subject. Early in March the Winchester Mothers' Association and the League of Women Voters sponsored a panel discussion on the question "What Should Be the Building Program of the Winchester Schools?" The members of the panel were Mr. Raymond Dickman, Principal of the Junior High, Mr. Wade Grindle, Principal of the Senior High, Dr. Forbes Norris, Supt. of Schools, Mr. Daniel Barnard, Chairman of the Andrews Hill School Building Committee, Mr. Frederick Hatch, Chairman of the School Facilities Committee, Prof. Neil Borden, Chairman of the School Committee, Mrs. Lyman Smith, member of the School Committee, Mr. William Parsons, Chairman of the Planning Board, and Mr. James Dowell, Jr., Chairman of the Finance Committee. Every member of the panel agreed that the first item on the building program must be the elementary school on Andrews Hill.

If the school is not started this year, we delay the other items on the school building program. I refer to the completion of the Junior High School, the fate of the Senior High School, the additions to the Mystic and the George Washington Schools which will soon be needed as home building progresses. Winchester had one severe experience of delaying its school building program until all had to be built at once. Let us hope that this will not occur again.

OPPORTUNITIES AND DUTIES OF TOWN MEETING REPRESENTATIVES

Editor of the Star:

Congratulations to Mr. Bernard Swiedler for his excellent article regarding the opportunities and duties of our town meeting representatives. Our form of limited town meeting was adopted, among other requirements, to simplify the voting on various articles in the warrant, without depriving any citizen from expressing his views from the floor. Our town meeting representatives are elected to represent and vote for our citizenry and should not shirk their responsibility and duty by failing to vote on every question. If an individual is not willing or has not the courage to accept complete responsibility as a town meeting representative, he certainly should not accept the trust which is placed in him by election to said office.

I have not been active in our town affairs for some time, but I have been a continuous voter here and elsewhere for nearly 60 years and have always been satisfied to abide by the vote of the meeting, even though, in many cases, such votes did not coincide with my own personal views.

While I am not fully in accord with the decision of the meeting regarding the proposed construction of the West Side school at this time, I shall certainly vote to support the action of the meeting where everybody who wished to could express their own opinion on the subject, and where every town meeting representative should not have been afraid to stand up in his or her boots and vote "Yes" or "No". That is what representatives are elected for!

The failure to do one's complete duty and then take advantage of the rarely used referendum, with the additional expense involved, in order to satisfy one's personal feeling and thwart the decisive vote of 148 to 1 is, to say the least, an exhibition of poor citizenship.

We should select for town meeting representatives only such persons in whom we have complete confidence that they will do their entire duty fearlessly, honestly, and with credit to the voters whom they represent.

Vincent Farnsworth

ADDS TO SCHOOL BUILDING DISCUSSION

Editor of the Star:

As a newcomer to Winchester, I have been following the present school building discussion with great interest. Some of the statements made on the editorial page of the Star last week were particularly challenging to me, and I would like respectfully to call your readers' attention to several of them.

Mr. Ed Sanderson said "It is expected that it will cost at least 25% less to build next year." Let us remember that this is purely an expression of one man's opinion, and cannot be proved in any manner. In fact, if I were to go so far as to say that it might cost 25% more to build next year, I would be able to back up my opinion by such questions as: For what are the telephone workers striking? Higher wages. What is the hue and cry of almost every labor union in the country? Higher wages. Will higher wages ever result in lower prices? Does an increase in labor costs reduce the cost of materials? Probably I would be sticking my neck out if I were to attempt to prove that it would cost 25% more to build next year, just as Mr. Sanderson is on dangerous ground when he makes the statement quoted above.

Mr. R. P. Teele says "of this amount ($390,000; it is actually $395,000) we must figure that approximately $290,000 is excess costs, leaving us with a school which in normal times would be built for $100,000 only". Mr. Teele is comparing present costs with costs of building at a time when the other elementary schools in Winchester were built. This figure is again an expression of personal opinion based upon building costs of 25 years ago. Why is it that a present day building cannot be built for the same price as in the 1920's? Have you compared the national or state income for the two periods? Is there any indication that our national income will ever return to the level of 25 years ago?

Mr. Teele also said that "apparently even the school authorities can not agree upon the program." The splendid report made by the West Side Hill School Building Committee in last week's Star and subscribed to by the School Committee is sufficient indication to me that the school authorities do agree and have proposed a definite, forward-looking program. That same report quotes facts to support its conclusions and represents eight months of intensive study supported by numerous consultations with experts, and indicates the carefully considered judgments of the committee.

"No one has come forward to prove the overcrowded conditions of the Wyman School will become worse in the next two years." Mr. Teele apparently didn't hear the Superintendent of Schools when he told the Town Meeting about the outlook for next year and the following years. Mr. Norris said that this year there are three first grades and three second grades and that the prospective enrollment for the first grade next year is about 72, based upon this year's kindergarten. That means that next year there will have to be three first grades, three second grades and three third grades. But all the rooms are filled, so one of the grades, either the first, second or third will have to be doubled up into two rooms. With 78 in second grade this year, that would make 39 in each third grade room next year, if those children are crowded into two classrooms instead of three. Have you any idea how much individual attention your child could get from a teacher in one of those rooms? Does all this indicate overcrowding in the future at Wyman School?

In coming to our decision about this extremely important matter, let us consider carefully all statements that are being made in this campaign. Do they represent personal opinion or are they based on facts? Are we thinking of the tax rate or the education of our children? Are we being penny-wise and pound-foolish when we suggest postponing this building for a year or more?

In conclusion let us consider these questions in making our decision on this vital matter:

1. By delaying the West Side School Building, in what sort of a position will we find ourselves within a very short time, when the Junior High School and the Senior High School remodelling or rebuilding program must be faced?

2. Do we realize that the $1800 per year now being spent to transport children from the West Side district to Wyman School would pay the interest for one year, at present rates of 1½%, on $120,000?

3. Is it true economy to postpone this matter which means so much to the youth of our town?

4. Do we realize that only $1 would be added to the tax rate by the proposed $300,000 ten-year bond issue? (Mr. William Speers' report to the Town Meeting. With assessed valuation of about 34 million, a tax of $1 would more than amortize the principal and interest on this loan.)

5. Are we aware that 1946 census figures show there are 1721 children of 0-7 years of age in the area served by Wyman School, where only 1222 children of that age group lived in 1939?

6. How many months will we have to wait our turn if and when the market does break, and the terrific backlog of major construction projects is begun?

7. Has anyone who opposes the proposed site for this school offered a superior location, judged on availability, cost, and geographical relation to the district?

8. Are we considering this question from the standpoint of the opportunities we can offer to the parents and children of the West Side district?

Sincerely
Philip C. Putnam

RECOMMENDATIONS NOT UNANIMOUS

Editor of the Star:

Contrary to current belief the recent recommendation of the Finance Committee unfavorable to the building of the Andrews Hill School was not unanimous. A minority of the Committee felt compelled to vote in favor of the immediate building of the School after giving thoughtful consideration to the evidence presented. It was believed that the present need for the school had been conclusively demonstrated by those charged with the responsibility of administering our educational system: That theirs was the best informed opinion on the subject of need and therefore entitled to serious respect.

It was likewise felt that the opinions of a firm of outstanding engineers, the architect, the Town Engineer and the Committee that studied the site and the problem of adapting a school building to the site were more persuasive than random pronouncements from persons with no substantial claim to competency in such matters.

Finally it was concluded that the majority opinion on the subject of the future cost of building was based upon inadequate factual information: that all actual evidence as distinguished from guess work and wishful thinking pointed to a sustained high level of material and labor costs and that the wisest course for the town to pursue was to start the school now rather than take the risk of creating an intolerable situation one or two years from now when it would probably be found that no financial gain had resulted from the delay.

The Committee was, however, unanimous in recommending that the school be financed by a bond issue despite the fact we now have in our cash reserve almost twice as much money as is needed to build this school.

The Committee recognized that Winchester contemplates a long range program of school house construction in various parts of the town, and its accomplishment will entail further expense. It was clear that the whole program could not be financed out of taxation or out of savings and that sooner or later it would be necessary to raise funds by borrowing. Interest rates on municipal borrowing being at one of the lowest points in history it was wisely decided that now is the proper time to borrow the funds needed for this school. By so doing the cash reserves of the town are made available for financing the building or the enlargment of the Junior High, High School, or other schools.

It would be unfortunate if the voters of the town should fail to understand the real question presented on the coming referendum. In keeping with the great American tradition of majority decision our town meeting has voted to build a school. If the voters should now oppose its financing by the one method best calculated to save the taxpayer's money in the long run the town may shortly find itself faced with a more expensive necessity of using its cash reserves for the same purpose.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. George Chatfield of Alben street suffered the death of her father, Mr. John E. Waltars of Portland, Me., on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Chatfield, with their children Donald and Susan, had driven to Portland to spend Easter with Mr. Waltars, arriving there during the evening. A few hours later he was taken ill with a heart attack and lived but a short time. He is survived by nine children, 13 grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

When the Star reporter visited the new West Side School site on Tuesday someone had already knocked down one of the signs on the southerly side of the lot, pitching it into a clump of bushes across a small boundary road. It seems too bad anyone would interfere with the signs placed on the lot so that all interested can more easily find the location, about which there has been so much debate.

Mr. Clifford Torngren and daughter Janice, a student at Finch Junior College, New York City, have been registered at the Nacional Hotel, Havana, Cuba, the past two weeks.

SELECTMEN'S NOTES

Public hearing will be held April 21 at 8 p. m. on the petition of Charles A. Murphy to use a 2-car lubritorium and two new 5000-gallon tanks for the storage of gasoline at 279 Cambridge street.

John A. Rutherford, 16 Winslow road, was drawn as juror to serve at the first session of the Superior Criminal Court to report at Cambridge on April 21.

May 18 has been designated by President Truman as "I Am An American Day."

WINCHESTER RED CROSS

April 29 is "Blood Insurance" Day in Winchester, your chance to protect your whole family for an entire year by donating a pint of blood to the Massachusetts Blood Bank. Donations will be taken at the Unitarian Church between 1 and 7 p. m. To make your appointment, call Red Cross Headquarters Win. 2300. Evening calls will be taken by Mrs. Ruth Hilton, Win. 2516. "Blood Insurance" means FREE whole blood in any quantity needed and given without the terrible delay entailed in soliciting outside donors.

On Tuesday evening, April 8, the new Board of Directors met to elect the 1947 Executive Board of the Winchester Red Cross Chapter. Besides Mr. James Allen, Mr. Vincent Ambrose, Mr. Roland Carter, Mrs. James Murray, Mr. Frank Crawford and Mrs. George Dutting, the Chapter's officers, the Board will include Mr. Ralph Bonnell, Rev. Paul Chapman, Mr. Wayne Davis, Mrs. Edward Feeley, Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, Mrs. Ruth Hilton, Mrs. William Holdlich, Miss Natalie Jewett and Mrs. George Nardin.

Definite dates have been set for the new Gray Lady course. Between May 5 and 15 applicants will be interviewed by a doctor at the hospital; and on May 14 and 15, six-hour classes will be held at the hospital. Upon completion of the course, a Gray Lady is expected to give 150 hours of her time per year. For further information, call Mrs. Edward Feeley, Win. 1071.

Plans for the Future

It was decided at the April 8 Director's meeting that delegates should again be sent to the National Red Cross Convention. This year's Convention will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, and two representatives from both the Junior and the Senior Chapters will represent Winchester.

The highly successful beach picnics held for veterans at Bedford Hospital before the war will be resumed this year. It is expected that 125 veterans will be driven to a North Shore beach sometime in June. Recreational directors accompany the veterans for an organized afternoon of swimming and sports. Supper will be served by Red Cross Canteen Workers.

FIRE AT WINCHESTER COLLEGE

Editor of the Star:

As a new arrival in Winchester, I think that any of your readers who visited England, and especially our namesake, Winchester, Hants, will be interested and sorry to hear that they had quite a serious fire last week at Winchester College. The enclosed clippings came by airmail today. The damaged portion was entirely confined, fortunately, to the Victorian block of buildings. The original XIVth Century part seems to be unharmed.

Perhaps I might add that I was educated there myself. (I do not recall any impulse to set fire to the place). Later, I was destined to be married and finally to reside, at Winchester, Mass. As a schoolboy I often used to show American visitors "Britain's Oldest Public School." (The word "Public" means the exact opposite!) I showed them the haunted Seventh Chamber. I used to sleep in a dormitory said to be haunted by the ghost of mediaeval Bishop Ken —whose hymns are still sung in England, and, I think, America. What I did not attempt to teach our American friends was the strange jargon — almost a language—which Winchester boys use to one another. It is a mixture of Elizabethan English and highly original slang.

Or their peculiar system of nomenclature. The school horse used for rolling the 500-year-old turf and for sundry odd chorse was called, and always had been called, "Hockstapler". The school janitors were invariably named, in rotation, after the Minor Prophets. In my day it was Joe. It must be at least Amos by now.

Yours truly,
(Walton Mawdsley)

WYMAN FASHION SHOW COMMITTEE BUSY

This year the Wyman Mothers Association plans for the Spring Dessert Fashion Show have changed in one particular. There will not be any plans for bridge playing. Since very few people have played in other years, it was decided to concentrate on the Fashion Show itself.

Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood and committee have devised a novel and lovely plan for stage decoration, designed to show the fashion models to their best advantage. Mrs. Everett Stone has charge of the floor plans and her table decorations will form a harmonious whole with the stage.

Music is under the charge of Mrs. George Witham, well-known Winchester musician, and her talented direction will add to everyone's enjoyment of the afternoon.

Mrs. Warren Shoemaker and her committee are planning a delightful home-made dessert.

The chairman, Mrs. James Dwinell, Jr., and her vice chairman, Mrs. Hazen Ayer are arranging for the models and the fashion commentator, Mrs. Jordan from Filene's

Mr. and Mrs. David H. Walton, Jr., (Joan Blanchard) are the parents of a daughter, Joan, born April 6 at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Sidney C. DROVE CAR ON GOLF GREEN

Last Sunday afternoon Police Headquarters was notified that someone had driven an automobile across the 12 green at the Winchester Country Club, the wheels making ruts in the soft sod.

The Police found the car locked near the green and discovered that it had been driven twice, not once across the green.

The machine was registered to Daniel A. Rossano of 20 Bradley road, Arlington, who was contacted by the Police. He said that his wife had been driving the machine and had gotten confused, driving across the green in trying to make a short cut from Hutchinson road to High street.

The Police were at a loss to understand how such a mistake could be made in broad daylight and requested the lady to come to Headquarters and explain.

BOY INJURED WHEN STRUCK BY CAR

John Kellcher, 8, of 28 Englewood road, was badly injured Monday afternoon when he was struck by an automobile on Main street at Converse bridge.

The operator of the car, Michael F. Egan of 56 Central avenue, Medford, said he was headed south on Main street and was crossing the bridge when young Kellcher ran from the easterly side of the street between parked cars against the left front of his bumper.

The boy was taken to the hospital where he was treated for a fractured forearm, contusions to the jaw and left knee, a possible fracture of the knee and skull, abrasions to the left ankle and a broken tooth.

SHOES AND MALLETTS FELL FROM TRAIN

Last Sunday evening shortly before 7 o'clock Mrs. Andrew Lynch of Grove place notified Police Headquarters that a quantity of shoes had fallen from a northbound freight train near Wedgemere.

Officers Henry Dempsey and Thomas Parsons went in Patrol 53 to investigate and picked up 12 pairs of brown loafer shoes, assisted by the caretaker at Wedgemere Station, Walter Parkins. Later Mr. Parkins recovered 11 more pairs of shoes further up the track.

At the same time the police found 50 wooden mallets which had fallen from the freight car. The shoes were consigned to the Farmers' Store, H. H. Crossley, Greenwood City, Wis. The mallets were going to the Key Hardware Co., 406 Wall street, Los Angeles, Calif. Representatives of the railroad picked up the shoes and mallets at Police Headquarters.

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION PRESENTS DRAMA

The Immaculote Conception Catholic Club of Winchester has again added to its ever growing list of activities, the latest addition to this list being that of a play. The play will be done from lighting and sound effects to the actual acting by members of the club. This is the first time the club has tried anything along this line. For their first production they have picked a delightful three act comedy entitled "The Absent-Minded Bridgegroom."

The play will be presented at the Woburn High School Auditorium on April 20 and 21. The performance on April 20 will be on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 and on April 21, Monday evening starting at 8.15.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

The engagement of Miss Shirley Nancy Josephson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave A. Josephson of 25 Sheridan circle to Mr. Robert Warren Erlandson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar F. Erlandson of Charles street, Woburn, was announced this week.

BUSY TIME FOR FIREMEN

Last year was a record year for the Winchester Fire Department, but as of Wednesday forenoon there had been one more fire this year than at the same time a year ago.

Last week-end's activity commenced at 1.20 Friday afternoon, when Box 531 came in for a grass fire on the old Ginn estate on Bacon street, now owned by Mr. William J. Cusack. At 3.29 there was a grass fire on Ledyard road and at 7.15 another at the junction of Arthur and White streets. At 10.01 the Central Station was notified that a garage was afire on Winslow road. The firemen found upon arrival that the fire was in an incinerator next to a garage.

There was only one run on Saturday, that being at 11.06 in the forenoon for a chimney fire at the home of Mr. James Livingstone, 8 Sanborn street.

Easter Sunday was also quiet, there being one call for a brush fire near Menchin's Farm on Ridge street.

Shortly after midnight, at 12.32 Monday morning Arlington Box 393, a mutual alarm box, was pulled for what proved to be a false alarm. Winchester apparatus answered the box which is situated at the corner of Winchester and Bradley roads at the rear of Morningside.

Tuesday morning at 9.10 there was a grass fire on Garfield avenue, and at 10.30, another on Nelson street. Box 36 came in at 3.35 for an oil burner fire at the home of James Nolan, 9 Hancock street.

At 4.36 Tuesday there was a brisk grass fire on the Skillings Path at the rear of the Christian Science Church, and at 4.38, another grass fire at the rear of 173 Forest street.

The last fire of the day, another grass fire, was at 7.11, at the rear of the Bryer Farm on upper Washington street. Box 37 was pulled from the street for this same fire two minutes after the firemen had been summoned to it by phone.

IN ALL-GIRL MUSICAL PRODUCTION

Miss Ann Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Hall of 105 Cambridge street, recently participated in "Kaleidoscope", annual all-girl musical production of the University of Rochester College for Women. This year's production, for which Miss Hall wrote song lyrics, was entitled, "Strikes Me Funny" a fast moving comedy satirziing the hectic life of a University co-ed. It was written, directed and produced entirely by students.

Miss Hall, a senior at the University, has taken part in past "Kaleidoscope" productions, as well as being in the cast for plays given by Stagers, the University of Rochester dramatic society. She is an honor student, and was a member of the music committee of Cutler Union, the student union of the College for Women.

FORMER WINCHESTER BOY ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Erik Bergishagen of Birmingham, Ala., announce the engagement of their daughter, Annelise, to Richard Baxter Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Nason Smith, formerly of Winchester. The couple will be married June 14.

"DAYS OF YORE"

25 YEARS AGO

April 14, 1922

The most effective knock-out blow given the Junior High School in the discussion was given by our aged and highly respected fellow citizen, Mr. Charles E. Swett. In a speech of only three minutes, he set forth the folly of building a half-million dollar school building on that narrow ridge of land overlooking the tempestuous Aberjona. Mr. Swett is 83 years, and many years ago was the Principal of the Wadleigh School. He certainly has not forgotten in his old age to hit a solar plexis blow at what he held to be a weak spot in the discussion as the Good Book tells us, "a word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver".

Miss Eva M. Palmer, teacher of mathematics at the W. H. S. spoke at the Teachers' Mathematics Association last Saturday night in Boston. Her subject was, "Algebra Talks."

The spot light which the Edison Company was to put up for the night officer in the square is not being held up through any fault of the Edison Company, but from another source. This will soon be straightened out and then the officer will be well protected.

Some of our residents feel that Highland avenue should be repaired at once. This work cannot be done until the water leaves the road, it having no sub-drainage. As soon as the street has dried out the highway department will repair it.

Messrs. Winfield F. Prime and Edward O. Hatch attended the reunion of the Old Charlestown High School Boys Association Monday evening.

On March 27, dispensation was granted by W. W. Mountain, Grand Exalted Ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks in Winchester. The Deputy of this district has announced his intention to institute this new lodge on Wednesday, May 10.

Monday was the hottest day of the Spring. And the second hottest day the Weather Bureau has recorded. During the larger part of the day the glass stood above 80, and for two hours during the early afternoon was at 85 in Winchester Center.

Daily Philosophy

Triumph is satisfying only when it leads to further victories.

Most of the perspiration comes to the fellow who started last.

Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest are these: "An empty bin."

When in doubt mind your own business.

Some men break everything they touch except the record.

No man is truly honest who denies that he ever made a fool of himself.

Some men's honesty is the result of lack of opportunity.

The helping hand is seldom empty.

Leaving any job half done is as bad or worst than leaving it undone.

cased in brick.

Mrs. Fred M. Belcher is one of the most talented painters of china in this section. Her house contains many gems fit to adorn a palace. As an instructor in this art she has but few equals, and her services always command the attention of many pupils.

The street department is busily engaged in putting many of the streets in good condition. The real work of this department is now being mapped out. New curbstones will be laid on Main street between the estates of Messrs. Mason and Dwinell.

It is expected the County Commissioners will shortly lay out the extension of Highland avenue This new street should be laid out 60 feet in width, so as to conform to the present avenue, even if it is not built to the full width at the present time. When built it will be one of the main thoroughfares to the Fells for cities to the south of Winchester.

Our Representative, Mr Forest of Manchester, made the closing remarks Tuesday morning on the co-operative bank bill before the State Legislature, and ably defended what is believed to be the cause of right and justice. His fellow townsmen may well feel proud of his ability as a legislator.

Mr and Mrs. E. C. Gilman and sons, Ray and Harris, will tour in Scotland the coming summer.

The tight check rein is again up for condemnation. Over 500 veterinary surgeons have signed a petition condemning it as painful to horses ad productive of disease.

The frogs have again commenced to sing in the Aberjona Park.

Mr. E. N. Lovering has purchased a lot of land in the vicinity of Hillside avenue, and will build for himself a home. Mr. E. N. Lovering is not only very popular and much liked by the pupils of the High School but he is also a thorough educator.

Dr. Sims has decided to accept the call extended to him by the Melrose Congregational Church.

The furniture factory of S. C. Small on Walnut street has been closed up for good and he will hereafter carry on this branch in Boston, occupying a shop jointly with another firm in the same line.

We have this week seen two photographs taken by Mr. E. A. Holbrook that would be hard to beat not only for the excellent finish but because of their naturalness and true artistic merit. The first is a cabinet of Mr. George H. Gilbert and the second an interior view of one of the handsome rooms at "Sunnyside," with this same gentleman in the foreground. Every detail stands out clear and sharp, and it requires no great stretch of the imagination to cause one to feel as if he were present in the room.

April 9, 1897

It is not believed the officers of the Arlington and Winchester railroad will accept the conditions imposed by the Arlington Selectmen. Requiring the road to pave between the tracks and 18 inches outside will make its construction prohibitive, and unless this requirement is modified it is not expected the road will be built. Macadam instead would make an excellent bicycle path. From all that can be learned, the neighboring Selectmen were well aware that the road could not stand the expense of paving, and that was the reason requiring it.

The investigation of the State Militia appears to have commenced none to soon.

Smith, member of the Credential and Election Committee of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, our own past president of the New England Conference of Women's Clubs.

Let us make this, our last afternoon together in this club year, a good one to remember.

April 17

Northeastern Regional Conference, at the Methodist Church, Prospect street, Gloucester, begins at 11 o'clock, with Rockport and Gloucester Women's Clubs as co-hostesses.

Antiques Committee

Watch the Star for further information about the pilgrimage to Plymouth in May. Mrs. F. T. Greenwood and Miss Louise Bancroft are in charge of arrangements.

Literature Committee

In this last meeting of the season, April 7, there were excellent papers. Mrs. J. E. Downes discussed Swift; Mrs. Gordan Mann, Franklin; Mrs. Blanche Barnard, Ladies in English Literature; Mrs. F. S. Evans, Lady Gregory's Journal. More of our members should join this group and take advantage of the very excellent program this committee arranges.

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 5

The Girl Scouts of Troop 5 began vacation week enthusiastically by giving a supper dance and entertainment at the First Congregational Church Primary Department.

The girls wore their Dutch costumes and presented a play "Hans Brinker or the Silver Skates" rewritten from the story by Mary Mapes Dodge. The cast included all of the girls in the troop and they performed creditably for their guests who were boys invited from among their classmates. The girls also did a Dutch dance and sang "The Song of the Lark" which they had learned for presentation at the pageant.

The menu was a simple one of American chop suey, waldorf salad, Italian bread, ice box cake and milk. Easter flowers lent a touch of spring to the table decorations.

Troop 5 attempted to incorporate much of the year's work into this one party by reviewing activities of their cook and hostess badges and branching out into the new field of dramatics. They also enlarged upon their world friendship project by learning more of the Dutch customs and something of the literature, art and geography of the country which they chose to represent in the pageant.

The ballroom dancing to the music of the Girl Scout victrola and some borrowed records added to the versatility of the program and Troop 5 admits it had fun on Easter Monday night. Many thanks to all who have helped us!

Promptly at 2 o'clock Rev. John Nicol Mark, pastor of the church, will bring the greetings of the old First Parish, founded in 1733, and will give some highlights of Menotomy, as Arlington was formerly called, in connection with April 19th.

The president of the League, Dr. Laurence L. Barber, who is also president of the Arlington Historical Society, will present the program of his latest natural color pictures entitled "New England, Historic and Scenic."

At the close of the meeting, refreshments will be served in the church vestry.

VOL. LXVI NO. 34 THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, APRIL 18, 1947 PRICE SEVEN CENTS

MRS. SEVER CHOSEN

Mass. Mother of '47 the Former Mrs. T. Grafton Abbott

Tuesday's announcement that Mrs. James Warren Sever of Cambridge has been chosen the Massachusetts Mother of 1947 was of much interest in Winchester because the 56-year-old wife of a Boston orthopedic surgeon is the former Mrs. T. Grafton Abbott, who lived in Winchester during her first marriage and is well known here.

Three of her five children now live here, Walter D. Abbott, assistant general manager of Taylor and Penn, machinery manufacturers; Mrs. Walton Abbott Mawdsley and William W. Abbott, Boston insurance broker. Another son, T. Grafton Abbott is associated with Pratt & Whitney in Hartford, Conn., and another, George A. Abbott, is executive secretary of the Y. M. C. A. in Atlanta, Ga. A stepson, Capen Abbott, of Weston, is associated with the Waltham Ford agency. Her first husband, who died in 1935, was president of the Boston Y. M. C. A. and widely known in the town.

As the Massachusetts selection for the Mother of 1947 Mrs. Sever will compete with other state choices for the Golden Rule Foundation's national title.

She was much surprised and pleased to learn of her selection by the State committee stating "it is nice to realize that parenthood is made important in the eyes of the people."

Graduated from Smith in 1911, Mrs. Sever was awarded her master's degree in psychology by Radcliffe in 1927 and also did graduate work at Harvard. She is director of the Girls' Clubs of Boston, director of the Massachusetts Social Hygiene Association, director of the Mt. Auburn Hospital Auxiliary and director of the Boston branch of the American Association of University Women. She has taught in many schools, lectured extensively on parenthood and written many articles on parent education. While living in Winchester she was much in demand as a lecturer on "problem parents," and she has gained distinction as educational consultant for the American Social Hygiene Association. She married Dr. Sever a little over two years ago.

Mrs. Sever, in discussing her choice as Massachusetts standard bearer in the national mother contest, stated there should be more training for parents, and more interest shown by parents in their children.

She said, "We should have more intelligent discipline, for no two children are alike, and the sort of thing that is good for one child does not apply to another."

Asserting that the parent interest in children is very poor, she said, "Statistics show that only one out of 40 parents is willing to give up time to chaperon his or her children at dances."

PROGRESS AT MANCHESTER FIELD

The work of changing and laying out Manchester Field is progressing fast. At the present time the new stretch of Parkway alongside the ditch has been all laid out and the side curbing is nearly all in place. The work of putting on the top surface is to be started immediately, and as the entrance to the old Parkway at Mystic avenue is cut through, it will not be long before the new roadway is in use.

The laying of the granite bank wall on the east side of the ditch is also well along towards completion. With the warmer weather grading will soon be started.

BIRTH

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thompson of 15 Garfield avenue are the grandparents of a baby boy, Roy Albert Wilder, born to their daughter Lois Thompson Wilder, at the Winchester Hospital April 12. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilder of Chatham, N. Y.

Director of Mystic Glee Club

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB

The Men's Club of the First Congregational Church was highly enthusiastic in their praise of the short concert the Mystic Glee Club presented at their meeting Thursday, April 10.

Those who heard the Club express great praise for the Club's able conductor, Mr. William Creger and Mary Louise Wood, the accompanist in their combined ability to lead and support the singers in the interpretations of the songs rendered.

The Club, at its concert on May 9 will undoubtedly give the finest performance in its history.

Under the auspices of the U. S. O. the men of the Mystic Glee Club sang at the Veterans' Hospital at Bedford last Sunday. It is hoped that their songs brought pleasure to those unfortunate war victims whom the busy world sometime forgets.

VETERANS TO PARADE IN ARLINGTON AND LEXINGTON

The Arlington parade takes place in the morning, and the local detachment will leave local headquarters in Waterfield Building at 8.45 a. m., meeting in Arlington at the VFW Headquarters next to the Regent Theatre.

Buses and cars will be provided to take the "Vets" to the big parade in Lexington in the afternoon, leaving local Headquarters in Waterfield Building at 12.30 p. m. In the afternoon the Winchester Veterans will have their colors and color-guard and a firing squad, headed by "Mike" Sarasen.

Comdr. Robert McKee urgently requests all Post members to make a real effort to participate in both parades, if possible.

ROTARY NOTES

Winchester Rotary Club held its regular weekly meeting yesterday noon in Masonic Hall with Pres. Pat Foley presiding. A good attendance was on hand for this meeting with many visiting Rotarians and guests present.

There was no program planned for this meeting, but it was announced that at the next regular meeting Mr. Clarke H. Wertheim, assistant director of Junior Achievement of Massachusetts, would be the guest speaker. His subject will be "Junior Achievement of Massachusetts" and in conjunction with this a film will be shown.

All members are urged to be present for this meeting.

This is the first year that our League has tried to formulate a definite project of work and much interest is expected. At 2 p. m., various items in the suggested state program for next year will be discussed and voted upon for the guidance of delegates to the League's State Convention in Worcester next month. VISITED NEW YORK

Miss Dini and Miss Jan Meacham, daughters of Mrs. Lois Meacham of 9 Lakeview terrace, spent their spring vacation week in New York City, driving down on the Thursday before Easter. They attended their old church, St. Bartholomew's on Easter Day and afterwards joined the Easter Parade on 5th avenue, incidentally appealing to the news photographers sufficiently to get their pictures in the Journal-American.

Dini and Jan spent a busy week in New York, visiting the United Nations sessions at Lake Success, Flushing Meadows, and talking there with the Russian, Gromyko, who they say speaks good English, but is allergic to autograph hunters.

Besides the United Nations Jan and Dini visited the 60 room Carnegie Mansion, housing the original statue of Mercury, and the John Hammond Hayes House, another show place. They also attended the Easter Pageant at Radio City and saw the brand new British film "The Raider" in technicolor.

The sisters finally visited the modelling agency of John Robert Powers, who talked with the girls personally and urged Dini to return to him for a second and more serious interview.

TIMOTHY BURR THRIFT

Timothy Burr Thrift, a resident of Winchester for over a decade, died at his home, 64 Salisbury street, on Saturday, April 12, after an illness of a year and a half.

Better known as Tim Thrift, he was long a recognized leader in advertising. He had been associated with the Sherwin-Williams Paint Company, the American Multigraph Sales Company, and the American Salesbook Company as advertising executive. Since 1934 he had been advertising and sales manager of the Elliott Addressing Machine Company of Cambridge. He was a former president of the National Advertising Club and a member of the Advertising Club of Boston, and the Masons.

Early in his career he became internationally known as editor and publisher of "The Mail Bag," a professional magazine devoted to direct mail advertising and to educational training in using direct-mail advertising. The importance of this medium has become. In the hands of organs he edited for the American Multigraph Company and the American Sales Book Company appeared a column of business and sales philosophy entitled "Tim Talks." A number of these "talks" were republished in book form by G. P. Putnam's Sons and had a wide sale. Later Mr. Thrift continued the series in a monthly magazine, "Tim Talks," which he printed privately himself and circulated among advertising and sales executives. It was widely quoted and stimulated much discussion.

When the war made conservation of the booklet inadvisable, Mr. Thrift turned again to the hobby of his youth, journalism, and a miniature world of printers and writers that has been the training field for many noted American publishers and writers, as Cyrus Curtis of "The Saturday Evening Post" and E. A. Grozier of the "Boston Post." As a boy in Belle Fontaine, Ohio, his birthplace, Mr. Thrift had begun publishing a small magazine known as "The Lucky Dog," and in 1900 had become a member of the National Amateur Press Association, the leading organization of amateur journalists. He continued the paper for over ten years, part of the time as a professional magazine, and made it outstanding for effective and beautiful typography. In 1904 he had become official editor and in 1905 president of the National Association, and continued his activities until professional demands compelled him to stop publishing. But in 1941 he did issued a "Lucky Dog" for old times' sake, and published annual numbers through 1944 that surpassed in typographical perfection the earlier issues.

TOWN TO BE GIVEN RESUSCITATOR

The town of Winchester will be formally presented with a Goodner resuscitator by the Winchester District Nursing Association at a ceremony on Monday evening, April 21 at 7:45 p. m. in the gallery of the Winchester Public Library, to which townspeople are cordially invited.

Mr. Philip P. Wadsworth, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, will accept the resuscitator from Mrs. William A. Kugler, president of the Association. Mr. Wadsworth will in turn present the machine to Police Chief Rogers, and it will be housed in the Police Ambulance.

Very few towns of the size of Winchester own a resuscitator, and great interest has been shown in this Goodner which the Winchester District Nursing Association has just bought. The machine is the latest model made, compact and easy to use, and has already won the approval and admiration of firemen and policemen.

The machine will be on exhibit from April 18 to April 25 at the Library so that all who are interested may inspect it. On Monday evening, Apr. 21, Mr. and Mrs. William Soothworth, formerly of Winchester, will give a complete demonstration of the Goodner.

Home nurses with which Mr. Ellard Howard has taken, of the Visiting nurses on duty will be shown at this meeting.

All this, plus Public Health Nursing Week, when Winchester is celebrating April 20 to 26, in addition to the exhibit at the Library, with excellent posters, and books and magazines on Public Health Nursing at a loss, the week will feature an interesting exhibit in the Thompson street window of Edgerly's store, to acquaint the townspeople with the nursing agencies here and their personnel and services. These agencies include the Winchester District Nursing Association, a Red Feather agency; the Board of Health; Miss Hilda Hone, public health nurse; Mrs. Savage and Dr. William D. Barlow, school health nurse and doctor, respectively, and closely associated with their work is the Public Welfare Department and the care of Dependent Children.

Mr. Grant of the Winchester Theater will exhibit posters, leaflets, and pamphlets on Public Health Nursing Week. Some of these will be made available at the Winchester High School.

Over the air waves, a radio broadcast completed two weeks ago, given by Miss Angela O'Leary under the Red Cross, will be formally presented these week certificates.

TRIBUTE TO CALEB C. SANBORN

The following tribute to Caleb Chase Sanborn, whose recent death at Swanville, Maine, brought sorrow to many Winchester friends who knew him intimately during the years he made his home in Winchester, was written for his funeral and published in the February issue of the "Swan Lake Swivel."

THE CIRCUIT RIDER

With the passing of Cabe Sanborn, Swanville lost one of its finest citizens, and noblest souls. The following tribute was paid to him at his funeral service:

On horses rode the men of old
As circuit riders would,
To say a prayer, a friendly word,
In hope of doing good.

Cabe Sanborn rode a tractor 'round,
And went the second mile;
Neighbors, when they heard him pass,
Would have to stop and smile.

For Cabe was out to make a call
On neighbors, say "Hello;"
And incidentally while there
Might take the time to "chew."

How his new rig would do a job
That waited to be done;
The garden plowed the big field out
And after that, some fun.

Eve then would come a cup of tea
And Cabe, grown reminiscent,
Tell of sailing 'round the Cape,
Of things and people pleasant.

Living in eternity
Where "present," "future," "past"
Were just as useless as would be
A watchspring, broken must.

At other times the talk would turn
To cabbages and cows
To lessening the farmers' woes
The whys, the wheres, the hows

But always after he had gone
You felt a breeze had blown
Across your life, refreshing it
You claimed it for your own.

I am an irreligious cuss,"
He had been heard to say,
And jolted by standards of the world,
It might have seemed that way.

But circuit riders nowadays
Are not to houses bound
And tractor, with the rider Cabe
Can cover all the ground

He'll be surprised to learn of this,
The good he did to men
And then to hear the Master's voice
"Good and faithful, enter in!"

The rider we shall see no more;
His tractor now is cold,
But in our lives, and with our God
Lives on his heart of gold.

BACK IN WINCHESTER

The many friends of Ben Taylor, formerly of His Majesty's Navy, who spent five months in Winchester during 1944, will be glad to know that he is again making his home at 7 Cliff street, this time on a permanent basis. After leaving here in 1944 Ben traveled to many places and finally back to his native England where he received his naval discharge. He had, however, been completely captivated by our fair town, and so like all loyal Winchesterites, he has "come home."

HIGH SCHOOL TO OPEN WITH MEDFORD

Winchester High opens it current baseball season this afternoon, playing Medford High on the Plaisted Playground in West Medford. The locals hardly figure to win this one as they have no experienced pitching to send against the Mustangs, most whom have played a lot of Junior American Legion Baseball.

Medford will probably pitch Briggs, a transfer from Boston English, who last year while pitching for the Blue and Blue was rated the best hurler in Boston schoolboy ball.

Coach Knowlton expected to have some capable pitching on tap this spring in "Buff" Flynn, who last year as a freshman gave promise of being one of the best the high school has had in a long time.

The Buffalo, however, came up this spring with a sore pitching arm which long chucking from the outfield in scrub games has aggravated until it is now virtually useless. Trainer Lou Goddu is working on the ailing fin and is showing some improvement, but Flynn is definitely lost to the team for the early season games at least.

Coach Knowlton will start either Dave Eldredge, rightie, or Lefty Richie Carroll against Medford, with sophomore Ken Donahey or the veteran Jack Filler behind the bat.

The locals are well set in the infield with three veterans available in Captin Jimmy Olivier, second base; Ed Hicks, shortstop; and Dean Blanchard, third. Al Switzer is playing first and looking good at the initial sack.

In the outfield the veteran Sammy Bellino is back for left, with Vern Slack in center and Paul Roche in right. The latter, a younger brother of "Chucker" Roche, former Winchester all around star, takes a nice cut at the ball, and if he can overcome a tendency to go after bad ones in an effort to get the ball out of the lot, should develop into a good hitter.

Winchester opens its Middlesex League season next Tuesday, April 22, playing Wakefield away. Its first home game is Friday, the 25th, with Reading.

WRITES FROM GERMANY

Miss Esma Hackett, Wyman School teacher on leave of absence while teaching American children in Germany, writes that she has recently been attending a teachers' convention in Garmisch, Bavaria, and that it is very beautiful there with spring flowers in green grass, in sharp contrast from the snow-covered mountains so near her headquarters in Hoehst.

Miss Hackett is finding her year in Germany an interesting experience with the good more than offsetting the bad features. At the convention the teachers held an impromptu indignation meeting and discussion of stories which ambitious authors are writing from time to time in American publications about conditions in the European Theatre.

MALDEN P. O. IN DOUBLE VICTORY

The Malden Post Office won a double victory when her first team defeated Winchester's to the tune of 4—0 and Malden's second team also came through to nip Winchester's second team 3—1. The double bowling match was held in Malden and was Winchester's first try at bowling with Boston pins.

The first team battle was a rather one-sided affair as Winchester did not threaten at any time.

Gilkun	85	90	99	274
	456	440	424	1320

The match between the second teams had a few more thrills. At the end of the first string Malden was leading by two pins. In the second string Malden went to town and picked up 55 pins on this string alone, while Winchester floundered. The match at this point looked pretty hopeless for Winchester, but what a scare they threw into Malden when they picked up 16 pins in the final. Malden won the match by but 11 pins when the match was over.

The league which will start next year is now comprised of Winchester, Woburn, West Somerville, Winter Hill, Arlington and Malden with Belmont waiting to see if the league will have six or eight teams. Each team will bowl once a week and will have a home and home arrangement rather than all bowl at the same alleys on the same evening.

BADMINTON ELECT WILLIAMS

The annual meeting of the Winchester Badminton Club was held last Tuesday evening in the high school gymnasium at 8.30 p. m. with 22 members present. After the reading of the minutes and a highly satisfactory report from the treasurer, the president, Whit Gray, reported on the club's representation in the various tournaments which have been held during the current season in the Boston area. The club then proceeded to elect a governing board of seven members for the 1947-48 season as follows: Al Buros, Whit Gray, Brad Hersey, Art Hills, Lois Neff, Jim Ware and Ed Williams. From this number the club then elected Ed Williams as president for the 1947-48 season; the Governing Board chose Brad Hersey and Lois Neff as treasurer and secretary respectively.

Next meeting for play will be Tuesday, April 22, in the High School gymnasium, 7:30 p. m. to 10.

HORSESHOE SEASON OPENED

Two Doubles Covered at First Session

The Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association opened its current season last week-end at the Wedge Pond courts where the bright sunshine warmed the chilled hearts of the assembled members and the bath-house broke the brisk breeze which well could have quickly stiffened pitching muscles rendered somewhat flabby by a winter of comparative inactivity.

There were barely enough members on hand for a quorum, the Secretary and Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the "State of Maine Champ," being out of town, while the early-season work on the blueberry bushes also prevented Howard "Foul Line" Wittet from putting in an appearance. "H.M.S. Rodney" Walsh was A.W.O.L., too, but the necessary quorum was on hand and President Royal "Paper Trade" Teele announced himself as entirely satisfied.

That, my friends, was before play was joined. Afterwards the Teele satisfaction was not so marked, for during this first session of the brand new season neither his showing nor his luck was exceptional.

Mr. Butters, on an historic occasion, stated that he would rather be the possessor of Mr. Teele's luck than be good at the game of horseshoes. Last week-end he might well have wondered whether this feeling could after all be justified. For while the usual Teele fortune enabled Royal twice to throw double-headers, Lady Luck proved so fickle as to desert the gloeful President on both occasions, enabling first Mr. McLaughlin and later Mr. Pridham to "cover" the well-flung shoes.

Twice in the same place when it comes to having doubles covered is by no means an exhilarating experience, and did little to keep the Teele soup on the sweet side after the session.

Answering the President's call to arms were "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stowe and Champion of all Nabnasset; Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham and Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner, the Dig Street Magnate.

Some time back the last named announced that the ground was too hard to drive in stakes, so it can be assumed after his showing last week-end, that he got his backyard equipment set up as soon as humanly possible and commenced secret practice well in advance of the field.

In the absence of his son, "Butchie," who has gone in for acting rather than kabitzing and announcing, surmise was all the members had to work on, but Mr. Gardner's showing was so good you will never get Mr. Teele, at least, to believe that he was starting cold as were the other members. And specially, when upon his own admission, old "Garrulous" was newly recovering from an enervating attack of the grippe.

It did look for a time like he and Mr. McLaughlin might win the final match from Mr. Gardner and Mr. Pridham, leading in the deciding game, 16-1. Fate, however, entered the lists at this point enabling Messrs. Pridham and Gardner to creep slowly and surely upward until the score stood 21-21 in the Teele-McLaughlin favor. Mr. Teele's casual guess that his side could "rot out" was hardly communicated to the meeting when a Gardner ringer tied the count at 24.

Then came two no score boxes with both sides having one on the stake, after which, Mr. Gardner deposited a ringer and a close one. Mr. McLaughlin matched both, but Mr. Pridham's "thin finger" detected the Gardner shoe a shade the nearer. That was all there wasn't any more!

DETESO TUFTS J. V. BASEBALL COACH

Anthony "Tony" DeTeso of Winchester, recent Jumbo all-around athlete and assistant coach of football at Tufts College, has been named coach of junior varsity baseball at Tufts, Professor W. Stanton Yeager, acting director of athletics, has announced.

DeTeso, co-captain of the 1943 Jumbo football team and standout catcher on the varsity baseball nine for three years, will direct the Jumbo junior varsity in their nine game schedule this Spring. He will coach baseball in addition to serving as an assistant coach in football to Fred "Fish" Ellis.

As an undergraduate, both at Winchester High and Tufts College, Tony DeTeso was an outstanding all around athlete and an outstanding student. He captained both his high school football and baseball teams and played varsity basketball. At Tufts he played freshman football, basketball, and baseball. He then played three standout years of varsity football and varsity baseball. He was the recipient of the Bennett Award in 1943, awarded to the outstanding athlete-scholar each year by the Class of 1911.

DeTeso is a graduate student at Tufts College and will receive his Masters Degree in Education and History in June.

PETE PROVINZANO IN THE SOUTH

Pete Provinzano, former Winchester High pitching star, later with Scranton in the Eastern League, is working out with the Fall River Club of the New England League in Centerville, Md.

The White Sox now own the Fall River Club and Pete writes that they have strengthened the team appreciably. He has been showing to good advantage in the workouts thus far and expects to have a good season.

WINCHESTER IN INVITATION MEET

Winchester High School's track team will open its spring campaign tomorrow morning when it will send a team to Concord to participate in an invitation interscholastic meet to which most of the schools hereabouts have been invited.

The local boys have been doing their practicing this spring under adverse conditions, they having no track, now that Manchester Field is in process of construction.

Jumping pits have been constructed on the Shore Road field and the field events men have been using these while the runners have been jogging on the field or working on out-of-town tracks as opportunity has presented itself.

Coach Burns Winslow had his boys run time trials on the Woburn track last week, but bad weather and lack of real work has prevented the locals from approaching good form.

Just what the Winchester entries will be at Concord won't be decided much in advance of meet time at 10 o'clock tomorrow. Capt. Jack Grimes will probably run the half mile and is also expected to put the shot. Big Johnny West will throw the shot and may compete in both the broad jump and sprint. Bill Whittemore will heave the shot and has been working out at the broad jump. Harry Easton is another who has shown promise in the broad jump. Dick Smith and Ted Barrett have been showing the best form in the high jump.

Ted Covert is entered in the mile and Pete Dillingham and Don Berridge in the sprints. Just who will run the relay will depend to a large extent on how the meet events are scheduled. Dick Smith, Charlie Flynn, Ben Coe and Don Berridge have been running this event, with Coe and Berridge also running the quarter.

Richard F. Hegarty of 17 Wolcott road, is a member of the committee conducting the annual dinner given by the Holy Cross Club of Boston to the college president, Very Rev. William J. Healy, S. J., at the Harvard Club, Boston, on Wednesday, April 23.

While the road that runs from Waterfield road through Manchester and Ginn Fields to Bacon street is not exactly a thoroughfare, quite a few cars pass over it in the course of a day, enough at least so that the authorities may well think about insisting upon a reasonable rate of speed from motorists who use it. Right now there are some using the road who drive altogether too fast. This road is neither wide nor provided with sidewalks. Where it goes through Ginn Field it borders on a much used playground. Youngsters at play are not thinking about dodging autos. Nor should they. The motorists should look out for them, and that means driving slow enough so that they can stop quickly if some one runs suddenly in the path of their machine. At baseball games on Manchester Field it has often been the Lord's mercy that has prevented some one being hit and badly hurt, or worse, by cars flitting along the roadway at a rate of speed far in excess of what is reasonable and proper for conditions there. It be necessary for some injured to put a stop strip of road for a there are no legal under which the Police can act to bring about more careful driving through Manchester and Ginn Fields, then some should be made. A road running through a playground is no place for the boys and girls, to indulge their pennant for fancy and speedy driving

WINCHESTER SCHOOL COMMITTEE NOTES

A report on the chest x-rays of 241 pupils and teachers showed al in the health contested. ash reported on the y program which rch and reported in the Star some time ago.

The resignation of Miss Violet Nardone, supervisor of vocal music in the Winchester schools, was accepted.

Mrs. W. W. Walter was elected instructor in instrumental music for the elementary schools. She will instruct the beginners who are learning to play stringed instruments. Mrs. Walter has had considerable previous experience in music instruction, having been orchestral director in Natick, Exeter, N. H., and in Boston schools prior to her coming to Winchester.

YOUR PUBLIC HEALTH NURSES

In the pressure of daily living, most Winchester people take for granted the health and well-being of the community, seldom giving a thought to the women who work so unselfishly for the prention of and cure of sickness and disease. "Public Health Nursing" Week provides an excellent opportunity to introduce the public to these nurses of two vital organizations in Winchester.

There is the Winchester District Nursing Association, 540 Main street, a Red Feather Organization, with Mrs. Angeline O'Leary, R. N., Director, Miss Alice B. Petersen, R. N., and Miss Phyllis Condran, supply nurse. These three ladies in their trim dark blue uniform and crisp white collars, with their little black nursing bags as symbols of their healing profession, are within reach of everyone in the town in need of nursing care for one hour or more, for any number of days or visits. Whether it be caring for a new baby, changing a dressing, injections, or more detailed bedside care, these three Visiting Nurses are at the service of Winchester. Their help is as near as the telephone, Win. 0730.

Many people do not realize that the Visiting Nurse will respond to any call, whether in a home of means, or a most modest flat.

Then there is the Public Health Nurse, Miss Hilda Hope, at the Board of Health Office on Mt. Vernon street. Miss Hope is an R. N. and P. H. N., and carries on for Winchester an intensive program of Prevention of Disease. She works closely with the Visiting Nurses (and they with her!) to promote the well being of the townspeople above all else.

Miss Hope, in a typical day, might visit St. Mary's Parochial School, to examine the children there. She might then go on to visit new babies from a list given to her from the Town Hall. Then she would pick up a pre-school child to take him for an X-ray, and wait and bring him back home, giving him encouragement, confidence. As public health nurse, she does much T. B. follow-up work for the town.

On Tuesdays, her conferences are with mothers of babies under 2 years of age, weighing the infants, corrective diet, checking symptoms. This series of "Well Baby Conferences" has proved of great interest to mothers in the town.

In addition to this work, Miss Hope and the Board of Health do a great deal of preventive work, on contagious diseases, and instruction on care and treatment of the sick. It is not bedside care. For that phase, the Visiting Nurse is called in. For example, if a child has a contagious disease, Miss Hope will visit the home, suggest care that will make the child comfortable, and instruct the parents on care to prevent spreading of the disease. She will suggest that the parents call in the Visiting Nurse on her last call, to give bedside care to the patient.

Mrs. Ethel Savage is the school nurse, under the Department of Education, a third key to the health of the town, working directly in the schools, examining and watching the well being of each school child. She, with Miss Hope and the District Nursing Association, are the nurses we might better know during "Public Health Nursing Week" in Winchester

K. OF C. PENNY SALE

The Knights of Columbus Penny Sale held in the Town Hall last Monday evening was very successful socially and financially. The large crowd was pleased with both the prizes and the informality which prevailed.

Meanwhile he undertook with Ernest A. Elkins, retired sales manager of the Commonwealth Edison Company of Chicago, a project that they had long considered—the republication of the best literature of amateur journalism in book form. "The Aonian," as the work was called, appeared as a quarterly magazine, 6x9 inches, 24 pages and cover, exquisitely printed by Mr. Thrift in the print shop which he established in his home. When growing ill health caused suspension of the work, the numbers were bound handsomely and placed in several leading libraries having collections of amateur books and magazines. Mr. Thrift also took up the art of bookbinding, and printed and bound a collection of Mr. Elkins' poems, "Leave Taking." Becoming interested in marbling and discovering there was no inexpensive available work on the subject, he wrote, printed, bound, and illustrated with striking marbling effects produced by his own experiments "Modern Methods in Marbling Paper," nearly the entire edition of which has been sold at five dollars a copy and which is already becoming a collector's item. It is part of many universities and public libraries and several months ago, Mr. Thrift gave one to the Winchester Public Library.

Mr. Thrift's mind was markedly inquisitive and creative. Whenever he became interested in a matter it was characteristic that he inquired into it thoroughly, experimented extensively, and then became a master of it. As he did with printing, binding, and marbling, so he had done also with wood-working. Desiring good furniture at a time when, as he said frankly, he felt it beyond his means to puchase, he turned to making his own. His work was that of the true craftsman, and his home contained many pieces of fine furniture that were the product of his handiwork. On one occasion he was offered a thousand dollars to duplicate a bedroom suite he had made. He assembled wood-working equipment as extensive as his printing outfit. He also experimented with plastics, lucite, and so on, and adorned his home with many handsome lamps and other objects made of these materials. Equally he was interested in horticulture and developed a small but productive and attractive garden about his home.

In 1909 he married Miss Amanda Eunice Frees of Chicago, with whom he had become acquainted through amateur journalism. He is survived by Mrs. Thrift, their daughter, Mrs. Lenore T. Gannage, and two grandsons, Peter and Gary Gannage, all of Winchester.

The funeral services were held in the Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church, with Rev. Howard J. Chidley, conducting the services, on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

WATCH THE CROSSING

Now that school has reopened the guardians of the railroad crossing in the center are seriously concerned over the pupils crossing the tracks after the gates are down. With many trains being hauled by Diesel locomotives, which approach without the customary noise of the steam engines, and at high speed, the situation is extremely dangerous. Parents are urged to caution their children not to cross the tracks when the gates are down.

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Annual Meeting and Luncheon

On Monday, April 14, in the parish house of the Unitarian church, the Fortnightly held its annual luncheon and meeting. The hall was beautifully decorated with flowers, and a large and festive gathering in gay Easter finery made a pretty picture indeed.

Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes, president of the Fortnightly, welcomed the members and guests and introduced the speakers:

Mrs. Henry W. Hildreth, former president of the Fortnightly and of the Mass. Federation of Women's Clubs, and current president of the New England Council of Women's Clubs, told about the New England Council. She cordially invited all club members to attend the annual meeting which will be held at the Forest Hills House, Franconia, N. H., on Sept. 17, 18, and 19. Reservations should be made well in advance.

Mrs. Frederick C. Smith, Northeastern Regional vice-president of the State Federation, reminded members of the regional conference which is being held today at Gloucester.

Mrs. Lewis C. Stevens, second vice-president of the State Federation, urged all Fortnightly members, whether delegates or not, to attend some or all of the meetings at Swampscott on May 21, 22, and 23. There are still a few hotel reservations available.

Following the very excellent annual reports of the Recording Secretary, Mrs. Forrest Bursley, the Treasurer, Mrs. Stanley Howe, and the President, Mrs. Marshall Symmes, the following officers and Committee Chairmen were elected for 1947-1948.

Officers
President Marion L. Symmes

SEWING FOR CHURCH WORLD SERVICE

Sewing for Church World Service will be resumed on April 22, between 10 and 12:15 at Epiphany Church, corner of Church and Central streets, by those who can find time to give an hour or two to the work of mending (and contributing) clothing for world relief.

Church World Service work is inter-denominational, and all who wish to be of help in this work will be most welcome on Tuesday mornings. Work is being done at many centers throughout the country. This is the same organization which has sponsored the gifts of helpers for European countries, as well as large shipments of food.

The group formerly meeting on Lawson road will now join in work at Epiphany and elsewhere.

Search your closets and attics now for both summer and winter clothing, linens, blankets, kitchenware, anything which will help broken bodies and homes to mend. Leave either at Epiphany Church or at Parker & Lane's, next to the Star.

RECORD DAY FOR FIREMEN

The Fire Department answered 24 alarms last Friday, this number being sufficient to send Chief James E. Callahan delving into the archives to see whether it was a record. Apparently it is.

The Chief found on two days, April 18 and 19, 1946, the department answered 32 alarms, for the biggest two-day stretch, but neither day equalled the 24 runs of last Friday, and nothing could be found further back to match or surpass them. During the busy period last Friday afternoon apparatus from Reading, Stoneham, Woburn and Arlington was in town, either actively fighting fires or covering in at the Central Station. Chief Hugh Ames of Reading came down personally with his apparatus.

The day's activity commenced shortly after midnight when Officer Joseph L. Quigley of the Police Department discovered a grass fire on the old Wetherell estate on Church street near Cambridge street. At 11.50 in the forenoon there was a grass fire at the rear of 167 Forest street near Chisholm road and at 1 p. m. there was a woods fire on Horn Pond Mountain.

A brush fire called apparatus to the rear of 25 Park avenue at 1.34 and at 2 p. m. there was another brush fire near 372 Highland avenue.

At 2.09 the Department was called to what turned out to be a bad brush fire at the rear of the Cox estate on Ridge street. While at this fire at 2.30 Chief Callahan discovered another fire in progress at the rear of Russell's Farm on Cambridge street, Box 51 being put on at the Station.

Five minutes later a call came in for a brush fire at 14 Prospect street and in another five minutes Box 143 was put on to bring additional help to the crew fighting the fire in the woods at the rear of the Cox estate.

Stoneham's Engine 3 arrived in town to cover in at this time, all the local apparatus being out. At 3.53 the Stoneham crew had to put out a grass and brush fire at New Meadows road, and at 4.01 there was another brush fire on Madison avenue.

This fire was threatening a house and barn when the men arrived and was put out in the nick of time.

At 4.12 there was a brush fire on Marshall road, and three minutes later Box 65 came in for a brush fire which ignited a pile of lumber at the home of Mr. Michael Vozzella, 131 Highland avenue, Stoneham's Engine 2 came over from its headquarters to take care of this fire, everything in Winchester being busy. "Nick" Fitzgerald, who was filling in at the Central Station, called Stoneham for help when the box was pulled. While Engine 2 was taking care of the fire Engine 1 came over from Stoneham to cover in at 4.16.

Two minutes later Engine 1 of Reading arrived to relieve Stoneham, accompanied by Chief Ames.

At 4.31 the fire at the rear of Russell's Farm was discovered spreading toward Johnson road. Engine 1 from Reading with Chiefs Callahan and Ames responded, and at 4.55 Chief Callahan had to send in a call for more help.

Apparatus had to go to Russell's Hill in the North End to put out a brush fire at 5.33, and at 6.38 woods were discovered on fire at Locke's on Ridge street. This fire apparently started from the first fire at the rear of Cox's.

At 7.08 there was a fire in the west side well field off Ardley place, and at 7.25, a grass fire in McGonigle's sand-pit off Cross street.

Capt. J. Edward Noonan, heading the crew fighting the fire at the rear of Locke's, called in for more help at 7.32, Box 143 being put on at the Station. At 8.11 there was a grass fire on Glenwood avenue.

The tired firemen had a bad battle with a woods fire that broke out at the rear of Thompson's on Ridge street near the Woburn line, the blaze being in a particularly inaccessible place. It was 11.30 before this stubborn fire was finally extinguished.

The last run of the record day came at 11 o'clock for a grass fire at 334 Cross street.

WOBURN DISTRICT CONFERENCE AT FIRST CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The annual meeting of the Woburn District of the Massachusetts Congregational Conference and Missionary Society will be held at the First Congregational Church in Winchester on Tuesday, April 29. The conference will continue from 10:30 a. m. through the afternoon, with a luncheon at 12:30. As the Woburn District includes 29 churches, between three and four hundred people are expected to attend.

Mrs. John C. Randlett, of Melrose, president of the Woburn District, will preside at the morning session. Mrs. Robert M. Keeney of Winchester will lead the worship and Mrs. Robinson S. Whitten, president of the hostess Women's Association, will extend greetings.

The address will be given by Mrs. Edward W. Wilder who has spent the past seven years in southern India in charge of the religious work for women in and around Madura. Her talk, "Teaching India to Read," concerns the work done on a new original alphabet of 28 Roman letters replacing the old Tamil alphabet of 264 syllabic letters. Tamil children take from 2 to 5 years to master the old alphabet usually losing this knowledge after leaving school. The special value of the new alphabet is its aid in making the word of God available to even the most humble people.

The luncheon at 12:30 will take place in the Parish Hall and a large number is expected. Reservations for the luncheon should be made by Friday, April 25 with Mrs. Harvey Macauley or Mrs. Carl Sittinger.

At 2 o'clock the afternoon session will open with a devotional service by Dr. Howard J. Chidley followed by the music of Elsie Biron Nichols, violinist, and J. Albert Wilson, organist.

Mrs. Harper Sibley of Rochester, N. Y., will be the afternoon speaker taking as her subject, "Church Women at Work." Mrs. Sibley is president of the United Council of Church Women and director of the Federation of Churches of Rochester and vicinity. Both she and Mr. Sibley were members of the Laymen's Foreign Missions Inquiry which made a nine months' study of the Orient in 1932. She was one of two women delegates sent to the International Chamber of Commerce meetings in Berlin in 1927 and a delegate to Oxford, England that same year. Mrs. Sibley was chosen American Mother of 1945, an honor for which she is well qualified considering her six children and 14 grandchildren. She attended the San Francisco Conference as an official observer and is an observer at the Security Council meetings in New York.

The Committee for Arrangements will be Mrs. Walter W. Winship, hostesses; Mrs. Wilfred McKenzie, luncheon; Mrs. Norman J. Padelford, program; Mrs. Howard J. Chidley, decorations; and Mrs. Sittinger and Mrs. Macauley, luncheon tickets.

FORMER WINCHESTER GIRL WED

Mrs. Raymond Cottle of Lambert's Cove, Martha's Vineyard, a former well known Winchester resident, has announced the marriage of her daughter, Miss Jane Cottle, on June 29, 1946, to Richard Allen Gale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gale of Vineyard Haven. The ceremony took place in Philadelphia where Mr. Gale was stationed while serving in the Navy. Mr. Gale, then an ensign, was sent overseas soon after the marriage and Mrs. Gale came to Falmouth in September, 1946, to teach physical education.

When Mr. Gale returned from overseas he entered Texas Christian University under the GI bill of rights studying there until recently. Mrs. Gale is a graduate of Tisbury High School, class of 1943, and Bouve School of Physical Education, Mr. Gale was graduated from Tisbury High School and Massachusetts Nautical School.

The young couple and their two weeks old daughter, Lynne, are now guests of Mrs. Gale's mother at Lambert's Cove.

Miss Drolinda Lovell of Hyannis was engaged to teach physical education in Falmouth, starting in September, when Mrs. Gale notified Superintendent Dillingham some months ago of her plans to resign.

MISS BARBARA GILLETT BRIDE OF MR. RICHARD CHARNOCK

At a candlelight service at 8 o'clock last Saturday evening in the Crawford Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church, Miss Barbara Elizabeth Gillett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford W. Gillett of Arlington, formerly of Winchester, became the bride of Mr. Richard Donald Charnock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy C. Charnock of West Medford. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Harris E. Beverly. Fragrant Easter lillies, white gladioli and snapdragons together with chrysanthemums and candelabras formed the decorations for the church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of traditional white satin embroidered in seed pearls with a sweetheart neck, long pointed sleeves and court train. Her fingertip veil of illusion cascaded from a tiara of seed pearls and her shower bouquet was of white roses and stephanotis.

Mrs. Robert Hill Charnock of Lexington, who was the matron of honor, wore a gown of yellow moire with matching mitts. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and wore a matching tiara in her hair.

The bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Curry of West Medford, Miss Patricia Carr and Miss Audrey Carr of Arlington and Mrs. Robert Shalline of Concord. They all wore blue moire gowns with matching mitts and carried cascade bouquets of yellow jonquils and blue delphinium. All wore tiaras of matching flowers.

The best man was Mr. Robert Hill Charnock of Lexington, brother of the bridegroom, and the ushers were Dr. Ross E. Chapin of Arlington, Mr. William Neilson of West Medford, Mr. Ernest Tobey of Medford and Mr. Robert Shalline of Concord.

Mrs. Gillett, mother of the bride, wore a gown of powder blue crepe with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses while Mrs. Charnock, mother of the bridegroom, chose a gown of chartreuse crepe with fuschia accessories and a corsage of deep red roses.

After a wedding trip by motor, Mr. and Mrs. Charnock will make their home in Arlington. The bridegroom served as a paratrooper with the 82nd Airborne Division.

Hours: Monday through Saturday, 8:30 a.m.–5 p.m.

The Winchester District Nursing Association met in the Red Cross Home Nursing Room in the Waldeigh School Friday morning, April 11 at 9:45 o'clock, with Mrs. William A. Kugler, presiding.

Mrs. George E. Connor was elected a member of the board to fill the vacancy on the Education Committee and Miss Helen G. Munroe was elected a member of the Association.

Miss Alice Petersen, who recently returned from her three months' sabbatical leave, gave the monthly report of the nurses. Miss Petersen reported 341 calls made during the month of March, making the total number of visits this year for the first three months, 964. Mrs. Angeline O'Leary, Executive Director, began her sabbatical leave the first of April.

It was voted to hold the May meeting of the board in the evening, in order that members of the Advisory Committee might attend. Details of this meeting will be announced later.

Due to the rising cost of supplies and regular running expenses, it was deemed necessary to make a slight increase in the charge for visits by the District Nurses. The new charges went into effect April 1, and are as follows: $1.50 for one hour or any part thereof; 50 cents for each additional half-hour, $1 for Office Visits.

One of the problems which the Association is now facing is the renting or purchasing of an automobile for the use of the substitute nurse. Miss Condran, during the time Mrs. O'Leary is away.

Mrs. George E. Connor, chairman of the program for Public Health Week, which comes April 21-26, reported plans well underway. An interesting and instructive evening is planned for April 21, in the gallery of the Public Library, to which the public is invited.

An urgent appeal was made by Mrs. Erskine White for blood donors. Blood Donor Day will be conducted in Winchester on April 29, under the auspices of the Red Cross and it is hoped that many of our members will reserve the day and make arrangements to make a donation of a pint of blood.

The latter part of the meeting was devoted to an interesting discussion of the work done by the Winchester District Nursing Association, based on the Gunn Platt Evaluation Service. It was discovered that the quality of service rendered in Winchester compared very favorably with the standards set for an efficient organization.

SCOUTS HAD OVER NIGHT TRIP

The Girl Scouts of Troop 16 went on an overnight trip to Cedar Hill, Waltham on Thursday, April 10. Transportation was supplied by some of the parents. The girls met at the Unitarian Church and then started on their way.

The name of the cabin that they stayed in was "Top Lofty."

We arrived there just before noon and some of the girls explored the surroundings. The girls then had their lunch which was brought from home. During the afternoon Mrs. Metcalf and Mrs. Nelson (our Scout leader) taught the girls how to make gadgets for cooking over a fire. Then we visited the Maze where we had a thrilling time. When we came back we enjoyed a delicious dinner cooked by Marie Gorrasi, Phyliss DeAngelis Ellen Shields, and Anna Stran.

After our dinner we sang songs around the camp fire and received badges. We also had a screen play by Mrs. Metcalf. We then turned in for the night.

We woke up at about 6 o'clock and had breakfast at 7.15 o'clock. After cleaning up we explored some more. At lunch we toasted our cheese sandwiches and marshmellows.

LOCAL TALENT EXHIBITION A GOOD SHOW

If one could hark back to the days of the first exhibition of Local Talent sponsored by the Winchester Art Association and then look at the same show now at the Library Art Gallery he would be struck, not so much by individual as by general improvement. There were some excellent studies in the very first local talent show held in Winchester, but there were some others about which you felt impelled to explain, "they are only amateurs, you know."

There are some pictures in the current show that are not too good and the best studies are probably no better than those submitted by outstanding exhibitors in the first show, but the general tone of the exhibit is much higher, and has been getting higher each year. Local amateurs are improving. There can be no doubt about that. At the library right now are studies almost anyone would be glad to hang in his home. And they are not by the professional exhibitors either, good as their work may be.

This year's show doesn't have the variety of medium of some of its predecessors. There are no pencil, black and white or charcoal sketches on the walls, most of the studies being oil or water color.

There is a nice variety of subjects in the current show, land and seascapes, still life, flowers, animals and portraiture being included. The Winchester locale of some of the subjects lends added interest. There are also one or two snow pictures. All in all it is a show one can enjoy seeing and a distinct credit to the Art Association and the town. It will remain at the Library through April and is open to the public. Go down and see what your neighbors are doing in the field of art. You will be surprised if you have not seen one of these shows before.

Following is the complete list of exhibitors:—"Roof Tenement", Mary L. Hodge; "Margy McCreery", Mrs. Marshall R. Pihl; "Grandmother's Pitcher", Helen Enman; "New England Winter", Mrs. Anna R. MINIATURE WEDDING PAGEANT

The annual Thrift Shop Donation Day of the First Baptist Church is always a festive occasion and the Miniature Wedding Pageant held at the church on Saturday afternoon, April 12, proved one of the most popular of all Donation Days. A beautiful summer-like afternoon helped to add to the success of the event. Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood had charge of the decorations and flower arrangements and with her committe had decorated the altar with ferns and rose bushes which made a beautiful setting for the wedding party.

The children's choir, directed by Mr. Paul Knowles, sang appropriate songs for a wedding, the selections being "O Perfect Love" and "I Love You Truly." Their well-trained voices showed that much time had been spent in practising and these small children, in their picturesque red robes with large white collars, made a colorful addition to the friendship ceremony. The children in the choir were the following: Jeffrey Bradley, Patricia Dade, James Ekstrom, Richard Foster, Stanley Godsoe, Ruth Griswold, William Griswold, Phoebe Hinchey, Linda Leavitt, Linda Lutes, Mary Jane Lutes, Carol McNeilly, Coleen Neff, Madelon Nelson, Cecil Pride, Jr., Margaret Thomas, and Priscilla Ward.

The small wedding guests were directed to their seats at the front of the church by the childish ushers dressed in formal attire. Charming little evening gowns of net, taffeta, and lace, sometimes with matching hat and flowers, were worn by these young guests who were Suzanne Dresser, Carol Chesley, Barbara Clark, Vicki Russell, Joyce Connell, Judith Smith, Rosalind Webster, Noel Gove, Carol Swett, Susan Russell, Linda Fessenden, Lester Whittaker, William Ledger Mitchell, III, and Danny Gaynor.

At the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Helen P. Macdonald, the miniature bridegroom, Harold Ekstrom, and minister, Donald MacFeeley, took their places before the altar, while the wedding party marched solemnly down the aisle for the beautiful friendship ceremony. The wedding party included the following:

Bride ... Susan Webster
Groom ... Harold Ekstrom
Maid of Honor ... Nancy Chandler
Best Man ... Herbert Gardner
Bridesmaids: Sally MacArthur, Deborah Wadsworth, Dinna Kirkwood, Norma Hart, Deborah Jope, Virginia Dowe
Ushers: Douglas Kirkwood, John Burnham, Christopher Wadsworth, John Foster, Richard Smith, Robin Carlson
Bracelet Bearer ... Thomas R. Aldrich, III
Flower Girls
Karen Kulaker, Susan MacFeeley
Mother of the Bride ... Ann Wakefield
Father of the Bride ... Christopher Smith
Grandmother of the Bride ... Phyllis Ward
Mother of the Groom ... Beverly Ann Snell
Father of the Groom ... Robert Ripley

The six little ushers were followed by six charming little bridesmaids, all dressed in long gowns of peach taffeta trimmed with narrow blue velvet ribbon and wearing coquettish hats and all carrying tiny corsages of hyacinths and pinks, held in place by a little lace doily. After the bridesmaids came the maid of honor dressed in similar fashion with the costume colors reversed, a blue dress with pink trimmings. The bracelet bearer was dressed in white and held the precious symbol on a white cushion. Little flower girls in delicate pink net dresses preceded the bride who was dressed in the traditionally long white satin bridal gown with illusion net veil and bride's corsage.

The mother of the bride wore blue taffeta, and her grandmother magenta lace, while the mother of the groom wore peach taffeta. After the bride was given away by her father, the bride, bridegroom and minister moved up the steps to the chancel. The friendship ceremony was performed by the miniature minister in a formal and dignified manner.

At the completion of the ceremony the senior guests were guided to the church parlor by the Usher committee consisting of girls belonging to the World Wide Guild group. These lovely young ladies in their long gowns of pastel shades made an attractive addition to the wedding party. The bride with her attendants formed a picturesque receiving line and were greatly admired and acclaimed by the senior guests. They made a colorful and lovely subject for the pictures which were taken of them.

Coffee and cakes were served in the Chapel, there being several tables beautifully decorated with jonquils and narcissi, snapdragons and one with fruit forming the centerpiece.

Presidents of several of the women's organizations of Winchester aided the Donation Day committee in graciously consenting to serve as pourers. While the older guests were enjoying their refreshments in the upper room, the younger guests were served Hoodsies and other appropriate refreshments in the social hall below.

The success of the undertaking was made possible through the efforts and efficient planning of Mrs. Charles A. Burnham. Assisting Mrs. Burnham were Mrs. Horace Butler, Wedding Consultant and Advisor, who trained the children; Mrs. E. H. Garrison who gave unstintingly of her time and ability; Mrs. Walter L. Bailey, Mrs. Martin Swanson and Mrs. Frank McCullough.

The Thrift Shop wishes to thank every one who served in any way and helped to make the day such a successful one.

FUTILITY OF SELFHOOD

(For Winchester Star)

Unless we put ourself on guard Against trying to strengthen selfhood
By lowering some member of the human race
Our life is lived in vain.
Unless we put our trust in God
Ne'er can we firmly stand
For He holds us each and every one
In the very hollow of His hand.

PREAMBLE TO THE EN KA TUNERVILLE FAIR

Springtime means pussy-willows, robins, swan boats, housecleaning, and the En Ka Tunerville Street Fair. Jot down on your engagement pad, the date, Saturday, May 24th and plan to make merry at the musical Fair.

For the youngsters there will be the usual booths.

The Grab Booth is dubbed "You'll Never Know." Mrs. John M. Murray with Mrs. C. G. McDavitt, Jr., and Mrs. Henry N. Squires, Jr., are planning thousands of grabs. This year the choice is wider and more varied, for many novel toys are now back on the market. Kiddies had better be forehanded and start putting their pennies into their piggy banks. "You'll Never Know" what's in that mysterious package!

Balloons are dubbed "Up She Goes." Mrs. James R. Doty with Mrs. A. Allen Kimball as co-chairman will see that the balloons are blown up and hope too many won't be blown away. At this booth the children will find the desired canes, whips, and pin-wheels.

Silhouettes are called "You're As Pretty As a Picture." Mrs. Evan A. Kibbe, the chairman, reports that she has been fortunate in engaging Lillian Clark to once again cut silhouettes. Those who know her work will be delighted to procure likenesses of their offspring. The silhouettes framed make most attractive gifts.

Mrs. Kibbe also is in charge of Fortunes—"Tell Me Little Gypsy." Who isn't curious to catch a glimpse into the future? Mrs. Eugene Parson from Medford will be present to tell fortunes, located in a de luxe trailer loaned by Mr. Jack Baumgardner of Woburn.

Ice-Cream—"Tutti-Fruitti." No fair is a fair without the popular ice-cream booth. Nuf-sed! The children and grown-ups will find this booth wherever it is located. Mrs. Ferdinand F. Hawley is the manager of this booth.

Tonics will be dubbed by the tune "Roll out the Barrel". Mrs. James F. Dwinell, Jr. with Mrs. Loring P. Gleason are in charge of this stall. If it is a warm day as we hope, we hope, there will be a throng around this booth to purchase Pepsi-Cola, Coca-Cola, and other soft drinks. Dancers also will find an extra supply in the dance hall for their convenience.

Hot Dogs—"Where Oh! Where is my little Dog-Gone?" Mrs. Allan P. Lindblad with Mrs. Edwin W. Zimmerman as co-chairman, know the answer to that one. No advertising is necessary, for Hot Dogs cooked on the open grille are always in demand.

Pop-Corn is "Good, Good, Good". If Mrs. Leslie A. Tucker and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery are presiding over this booth then we know the pop-corn will be "Good, Good, Good". The street venders of pop-corn could take a few lessons from the above two-some when it comes to turning out white flakey, toothsome pop-corn.

The Attic is dubbed "Among my Souvenirs". Mrs. Wallace Miller with Mrs. Frank C. d'Elseaux as co-chairman are the efficient managers of this fascinating booth. Already they have gathered together an imposing array of articles from picture-frames and trinkets to tables and bureaus. Mrs. Miller has used her imagination and the articles she has created from someone's cast-aways are well worth seeing. Anyone with any "white elephants" do contact these ladies for it is unbelievable what a transformation they can make with almost any discarded article.

The Bakery is called "Jelly-Roll-Blues". Mrs. Richard J. Clark with Mrs. Irving E. Jennings as co-manager are the capable chairmen of the Bakery. This booth is always one of the first to post the "Sold Out" sign. A warning should be sufficient, so get your order in early for that yummy cake, or flakey pie, or maybe raisen bread you are counting on for Sunday dessert

There will be many other booths about which information will be given as soon as the colossal plans are completed.

DWINELL ACCEPTS RESUSCITATOR FOR TOWN

James F. Dwinell, Jr., of the Board of Selectmen, formally accepted the resuscitator from the Winchester District Nursing Association Monday evening at a meeting at the Library. The Goodner resuscitator has been purchased by the Association for the town, and has been turned over by Mr. Dwinell to Chief Rogers of the Police Department. Mrs. William A. Kugler, president of the Association, made the presentation as part of Public Health Nursing Week.

Mr. Dwinell spoke in appreciation of the gift to the town, and praised the vision of the Winchester District Nursing Associaton in securing such a machine when few towns own one.

Mrs. William Stephenson, formerly of Winchester but now residing in New Jersey, came here especially for the meeting to demonstrate the Goodner resuscitator for the public. Using her own person as a model she showed exactly how the machine was operated, and just how it should be used to prevent accidental asphyxial death in persons of all ages, from infants to elderly people. At the end of the meeting she was besieged by interested persons who wanted to know still more about the machine, which is the size of an average suit-case.

Mrs. Kugler introduced the town's nurses, Miss Hilda Hope of the Board of Health, Mrs. Ethel Savage of the School Department; Miss Alice Petersen and Miss Phyllis Condran, visiting nurses, and spoke of Mrs. Angeline O'Leary, now on sabbatical leave. A film was shown by Mr. Frank Howard, Miss Hope reading the commentary, to explain the type of cases the visiting nurses care for in Winchester.

Throughout the town, as part of "Public Health Nursing Week," there are many excellent posters, made by William Mason of this town, and by children of St. Mary's School. The children are Anita Watson, Maureen Cullen, Barbara Cournoyer, John Doherty, Paul Tuohey, of Grade 8; Margaret Doherty and Gail Watson, Grade 6; Jean Volpe, Grade 5. Mrs. John C. Willis was in charge of posters, and Mrs. Ruth Higgins distributed the special comic books to the schools.

ENGAGEMENT OF INTEREST

ON WESTERN TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. D. Earle Osgood of Bonad road passed through Chicago enroute to Palo Alto, Cal. where they will visit their son Stanley and his wife. They will return via the Sunset Route, stopping off a day or two at Los Angeles, San Antonio, Galveston, Houston, Texas; New Orleans, La. and Atlanta, Ga., where they lived during the first two years of their married life. Their last stop will be at Breva, N. C., where they will visit a sister of Mr. Osgood and her family.

REV. PAUL CHAPMAN TO SPEAK AT MEN'S BREAKFAST

The last breakfast get-to-gether of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church for this season takes place Sunday morning, April 27, at 8:45, when the men of the church and friends with numerous invited guests will sit down to one of the now justly famous breakfasts prepared by the men of the Bible Class, entirely untouched by female hands. There will also be special music, if anyone needs any further inducement than the promise of one of Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman's always interesting and inspiring talks which he will give at the Men's Bible Class at 9:30, immediately following the breakfast.

Men! This is the last Sunday of the attendance contest with the Stoneham Men's Class. Come and enjoy, this all men's gathering and help put the Brotherhood over the top in this contest. The figures as they now stand are dangerously close. This will also be the last meeting of the Bible Class until fall.

Don't forget the annual meeting and Ladies' Night of the Brotherhood, May 6, when a most interesting program is in prospect. More about that later.

BARTLETT TO BE PLAYGROUND SUPERVISOR

Helen Carroll Again in Charge of Beaches

The Park Department has appointed Edward A. Bartlett supervisor of Winchester playgrounds for the coming season, and has reappointed Miss Helen Jay Carroll beach supervisor.

Miss Carroll, a Winchester girl and former state swimming champion, was appointed beach supervisor last year after serving as Red Cross swimming instructor. A member of the Women's Physical Education Department at the University of Maine, she has done an outstanding job in teaching and coaching swimming in Winchester, as well as building a healthy interest in the sport in the town. Her reappointment will please all interested in Winchester swimming.

Mr. Bartlett, known to local sports followers as "Bart," is the popular basketball and assistant football coach at Winchester High School. This spring he is assisting Coach Knowlton with baseball by handling grade school teams at the various schools.

"Bart" has the athletic background, enthusiasm and ability to command both the liking and respect of youngsters so necessary for success in the job he assumes. This winter he supervised the town basketball league under the Recreation Commission and did an outstanding job. His appointment will be good news to those who are interested in building up the town's summer playground program.

Subordinates under Miss Carroll and Mr. Bartlett have not been appointed as yet, the Park Commissioners wishing, if possible, to secure more applications from young people of college age, so that the best possible supervisors and beach personnel may be secured.

T. O. U.

This week the Tool Owners Union, the organization of security owners seeking labor law reform, which was recently denied authority to operate in New York State under that name, filed with the New York Supreme Court an appeal from this decision.

The petition charged that the Board of Standards and Appeals of the New York State Labor Department in rendering this decision exceeded its statutory power and jurisdiction, and had denied the Tool Owners Union its constitutional right of petition and assembly, equal protection of the laws, and due process of law.

In the appeal the Tool Owners Union accused the Board of conducting "an inquisition on irrelevant issues" and of making their findings as a "slanderous, prejudicial political diatribe, rather than directing their hearings to the question of whether the purposes of the Tool Owners Union were consistent with public policy and labor law." The petition also charged that in drawing comparisons of the Tool Owners Union and the totalitarian principles of the Fascists and Nazis the Board "transgressed any power vested in them by statute or otherwise" and adopted a purely political approach having nothing to do with the state law under which the Board exists, and that "the members of the Board have unconstitutionally and illegally appropriated to themselves powers of political censor, and have clearly evidenced their prejudice and bias."

The hearings of this appeal will probably take place in about two weeks time.

DAYLIGHT SAVING STARTS

New Railroad Time Begins Sunday

Daylight saving time will begin on Sunday, when all clocks will be turned an hour in advance as in years past.

Coinciding with the change, the steam railroad will revise its timetable for the summer season. While the changes are comparatively few, those that have been made are important and all users of the trains should secure new timetables and note their favorite trains.

Inward trains have three important changes. A train will leave Winchester at 2.57 in place of the former 12.15. The former train leaving at 1.02 is cancelled. The train leaving at 5.54 will leave at 6.07 and the 7.27 will leave at 7.32. This last is the old theatre train and will arrive in Boston at 7.50.

The 1.45 p. m. outward train will leave Boston at 1.40 and two other changes will be made.

Changes have also been made in the Sunday trains.

Convenient pocket size timetables giving Winchester and Wedgemere trains may be obtained of the following:

TOWN HALL FILLED FOR FIREMAN'S BALL

The usual capacity audience was on hand at the Town Hall Wednesday evening when the Winchester Fireman's Relief Association gave its annual concert and ball.

Eight acts of vaudeville were put on by Ross Frisco under the direction of Jimmy Kennedy with Teddy English as "Em Cee."

High-lighting the show were the three Marino Sisters in a dancing-tumbling act, combining graceful dancing with high grade tumbling and acrobatics that increased in tempo to a rapid fire finish that had the audience breathless and applauding enthusiastically.

Ferrari and DeCosta offered an unusual musical act with the girl accompanying the boy on her piano accordian while he played such unusual solo instruments as the melophone, oboe and bass clarinet, and played simultaneously on two saxes and four clarinets.

John Ardoling pleased the audience with his rich baritone and sang such widely divergent selections as "The Lord's Prayer" by Mailotte and the "Surrey with the Fringe on Top" from "Oklahoma," adding "Begin the Beguine" and the familiar "Night and Day."

Don Hooten offered a clever baton and rope twirling act and Billy and Ann St. George lived up to their billing as "tip top" tappers, getting the show away to a good start.

Frank Lane, prestidigitator, had a lot of fun with four youthful stooges, who included the son of Fireman Edward Fitzgerald and the daughter of Fireman John Flaherty. Special mention should be made of Master Fitzgrald's egg-juggling.

Teddy English offered impersonations, comedy falls and hoofing, besides his M. C. duties, while the Raleigh Brothers clowned around with impersonations and an electric phonograph cued to the "mike."

Karl Rohde personally conducted his ten piece orchestra which played for the show from the stage and also played for the dancing which followed as soon as Lee Mellett and his bully boys could clear the hall.

Youngsters, unaccompanied by adults were not admitted to the hall, and this innovation proved a popular one to those attending the show.

At the Central Fire Station the firemen held open house with all sorts of good things for those "visiting firemen" and others who dropped in during the festivities.

MISS LORA BUCKMAN WINN

Miss Lora Buckman Winn of 18 Elmwood avenue, retired teacher of English at Revere High School, died Thursday morning, April 24, at the Winchester Hospital. She was ill less than a week, having been stricken with a shock at her home last Sunday.

Miss Winn came from one of Winchester's old families, her parents having been the late Dennis B., and Mary L. (Baker) Winn. She was born in Winchester Dec. 24, 1877, graduated from Winchester High School in 1895 and was graduated from Wellesley College in the class of 1899. Throughout her teaching career she took graduate courses at Harvard, supplementing her study with two tours of England and a European trip in the party of the late Rev. Joel Metcalf, former pastor of the Unitarian Church.

For a year after college she taught at the high school in Temple, then deciding she wanted to teach elementary subjects, she enrolled at the Salem Normal School. Completing her courses there, she taught school in Lynnfield and then went to Revere to teach in the grammar school. Subsequently she was advanced to the faculty of Revere High School where for more than 30 years she taught English, retiring only last June.

A successful teacher, Miss Winn was popular with her pupils and received many letters from former pupils praising her instruction. She particularly prized letters from old pupils who were in the service during World War II thanking her for the benefit they had derived from her teaching.

Miss Winn was a member of the Woman's Republican Club of Boston, of the English Speaking Union, Winchester College Club and of the First Baptist Church. She leaves two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Bartlett of Uxbridge and Mrs. Elizabeth Wentworth of Ardmore, Penna.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel with Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment will be in the family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

PROGRESS ON MANCHESTER FIELD PARKWAY

With the coming of Spring weather the work of changing the Parkway on Manchester Field has progressed rapidly. At the Post Office the circle at the end of Thompson street has been enlarged and the roadway bordering Manchester Field enlarged. The circle is now in elliptical form and where the side in front of the Post Office was formerly marked out by chains, a new curbing has been laid and the additional space loamed and graded.

At the Main street entrance to the Parkway the old circle with the elm tree in the center has been lengthened and slightly changed. A new center oval has been built just south of the old circle.

Notwithstanding all this new improvement, quite a lot of Manchester Field has been left for recreation purposes, although there seems to be considerable agitation for a parking space adjoining the new Parkway.

With the completion of the new Parkway road curbing the work of surfacing the new roadway is progressing rapidly, and the work of rip-rapping the sides of the Aberjona ditch is now completed.

NEAR ACCIDENT IN CENTER

Express Narrowly Misses Car Stalled on Tracks

Those who chanced to be in the center Monday morning shortly after 9 o'clock got a thrill of an unpleasant variety when an in-bound express narrowly missed an automobile which stalled on the tracks while its driver, Mrs. Barbara Hill Bond of 14 Norwood street, was attempting to drive from Church street easterly across the tracks to Main and Mt. Vernon streets.

The front end of the machine had entered the territory controlled by the gates, but was not on the tracks over the in tor west deal. The [illegible] for the 9:15 in-bound express [illegible] and Gatetender Hatch [illegible] started lowering the gates, one of them landing on the roof of Mrs. Bond's machine.

Officer John J. Murray of the Police Department, on duty in the square, ran to the assistance of those in the car, including besides Mrs. Bond, her daughter, Martha, age 1, Mrs. Blanche Hill of 14 Norwood street and Mrs. Robert S. Clark of 16 Norwood street.

All got safely from the car, but Officer Murray was unable to move the machine before the express rolled over the crossing, missing the front end of the machine by about a foot.

CHILDREN'S MEDICAL CENTER CAMPAIGN

Have you made your contribution to the Children's Medical Center? We are counting on you to give that a child might live.

Since 1869, the Children's Hospital of Boston has been a monument to medical science. It was the first of its kind in our country, the first general hospital for children, where members of its staff believed and proved that children's diseases and the treatment involved are essentially different from those of adults.

Through the Children's Hospital, its doctors and nurses have made many notable contributions to the advancement of pediatric medicine, surgery and research. They have restored health and happiness to countless children. They have given comfort and hope to parents.

Today, the Children's Hospital is indispensable, but is inadequate. Even this great hospital is far from being enough.

It is up to you, your contributions will allow the Children's Hospital to go on to greater accomplishments, to become the first Children's Medical Center in the world.

The Winchester Committee under the direction of co-chairmen James J Fitzgerald, Jr. and Francis MacFeeley earnestly solicit your cooperation. The time is now, contact your precinct leaders:

Precinct 6, John Cassidy, Mrs. Joseph Tansey.
Precinct 2, Francis MacFeeley.
Precinct 3, Mrs. Charles Riordon, Dr. Robert Smith.
Precinct 4, Robert Abbott.
Precinct 5, Gordon Bird

Contributions may be left in boxes provided at both the Mt. Vernon street and the Church street offices of the Winchester Trust Company.

Stephen Tozier Allison, a long time resident of Winchester, died Sunday, April 20, at 99 Hemingway street, where he had recently been making his home with Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Stevenson. He was 80 years old.

Mr. Allison was the son of Andrew, and Martha Tozier (Brown) Allison. He was born June 9, 1867, in Boston, but came with his parents to Winchester as a boy and spent the remainder of his life here, being well known to older residents of the town. He attended the Winchester schools, and for a time as his health permitted he worked as a gardener. In recent years he had been retired.

The Allison family home was for many years on Mystic Valley Parkway. Mr. Allison was the last of his family, two brothers, Walter J., and Fred Allison, being deceased.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church with Rev. John Prescott Robertson officiating. Interment was in the Allison family lot in Wildwood Cemetery.

HARRY COTY

Many in Winchester learned with regret of the sudden death on April 10 in Poughkeepsie, N. Y., of Mr. Harry Coty. Mr. Coty, a member of a well-known Winchester family, was born here June 7, 1881, son of the late Henry and Maria (Boudreau) Coty. He was a brother of Miss Mabel M. Harry Coty left Winchester 37 years ago to follow his trade as a toolmaker in Poughkeepsie. For many years he had been associated in that capacity with the DeLaval Separator Company in that city. He was a member of the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church, Poughkeepsie, and also of that city's Nimrod Club. For several years he was actively identified with his local sports circles, having been timekeeper on the occasion of many boxing shows held in Poughkeepsie.

REP. CHADWICK TO ADDRESS LEAGUE

The Winchester League of Women Voters is holding a special discussion group meeting on Thursday, May 1, at 10 a. m., in the Conference Room of the Public Library, to consider the various bills on Education now before the State Legislature.

There has been considerable interest in all of these bills, and the hearings at the State House have been well attended. Winchester is extremely fortunate in having its own representative, Mr. Harrison Chadwick on the Education Committee of the House.

Several members of the local league, not able to attend the hearings in Boston, felt that if Mr. Chadwick would be willing to discuss, at an informal meeting, these measures it would be most helpful. Mr. Chadwick most kindly consented to come on Thursday morning. Certification of teachers: (Massachusetts is the only state in the nation which allows each local community to set up its own standards for the selection of teachers), creation of a responsible State Board of Education, State Aid to Education, are a few of the items with which the present bills before the legislature are concerned.

Only informed public opinion can be the basis of a sound policy. The League extends a cordial invitation to all those who may be interested and especially urges its members to come to this meeting at the library not only to become better informed but also to show Mr. Chadwick that it sincerely appreciates his co-operation.

FINAL FORUM SUNDAY SERVICE AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

The closing Forum Service at Church will be held this Sunday morning at 10:45. Throughout the year on the fourth Sunday of each month the members of the High School unit have attended Church services as a group. A number of the upperclassmen have served as Chaplain and as ushers.

This week the Chaplain will be Ben Coe of Lagrange street. Dr. Chidley will preach an appropriate youth sermon on the subject, "The man with an elastic conscience." Both the Junior and Chancel Choirs will sing.

All women are beautiful!

That is the contention of Avant of Hollywood, famed stylist, lecturer, who will be prepared to prove it when she speaks at Mystic School, May 7, before members and guests of the Mystic Mothers Association.

COUNTRY CLUB OPENED PATRIOT'S DAY

Some 200 golfers were on hand for the opening of the Winchester Country Club on Patriot's Day, though only a comparative few, 35, took part in the 18-hole medal tournament with full handicap which was on all day. Many came off the course chilled through after 14 holes and some played nine or 12.

The 35 hardy golfers who played through the required 18 were divided into Class A and B.

Alan F. Howard and W. F. Cannon, Jr., tied for best net in Class A with Mr. Howard having a gross of 80 and Mr. Cannon an 85.

Three tied for second, C. H. Wansker having an 82-72, A. V. Rogers, 78-72, and Dr. W. J. Gardner, 80-72.

Notes

The usual luncheon was served at the club and 125 were on hand for the dinner dance in the evening. Both steak and lobster newburg were on the menu and Ken Reeves' popular band furnished music for the dancing.

Flags and shields arranged by W. J. Dunsworth, locker-room manager, made attractive decorations for the dinner-dance, plus an artistic flower arrangement on the fireplace by Mrs. Owena Chadwick. Miss Marguerite Donahue, club stewardess, was in personal charge of the dinner.

The usual mixed foursomes scheduled for last Sunday afternoon had to be scratched because of snow, of all things. It just wasn't a golfing day last Sunday, even for the most enthusiastic devotee.

The two-day storm, both rain and snow, made it necessary to close the course for a few days and prevented the official opening of the ladies golf matches on Tuesday. Seventy ladies were on hand for luncheon, presided over by Mrs. Alan Howard, chairman of the Ladies' Golf Committee, and with golf out of the question, many stayed on at the club for bridge.

The club's golf schedule is expected to be released soon, perhaps this week. Dave Whyte, popular pro, is back again, with "Mrs. Dave," and there is a new assistant, Paul Kelley, formerly with Charles River.

William Donovan, brother of last year's caddy-master, is filling that important post this season. Mr. Donovan came to the club as caddy-master last fall and has been in charge of the skating pond during the past winter. He has definite plans for improving the caddy service, by the way.

Winchester expects to put another strong team in the Greater Boston Four-ball League this season. The locals will need to be good for as defending champions the other clubs will all be gunning to knock the Winchesters off.

J. Norton Kidder is captain of the Winchester team. Norton was Jimmy Stewart's navigator on six missions in the ETO during the war and says the movie star went up the Air Forces ladder the hard way, being a regular guy and never once attempting to cash in on his position.

DOLAN ELECTED

At a meeting of the elected Town Meeting Members of Precinct 2 held at the Town Hall Monday night, Francis P. Dolan of 22 Hancock street was elected to fill the vacancy in membership existing in the precinct.

MEDFORD TOO GOOD FOR WINCHESTER

Winchester High lost its opening game of the current baseball season at Medford last Friday afternoon, 15-2, a combination of early season jitters and a good Medford team being too much for the locals.

The Mustangs, figured to be one of the good teams this spring, outhit the locals 11-6, including two doubles and a home run, but the 11 errors made by Winchester enabled the winners to run up their score.

Dave Eldredge, who started for Winchester, turned in a creditable performance in view of his shaky support, and Scott Doub, who relieved him, showed promise. The locals got a lot of bad baseball out of their systems at Medford and should do better as the season progresses. The summary:

WINCHESTER IN MASS INITIATION

Members of the Winchester Lodges of the Sons of Italy played an important part in the Mass Initiation of new candidates held at the First Corps Cadet Armory in Boston on Saturday evening, April 19.

John A. Volpe, State Chairman of the Membership Drive for the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, performed as Venerable with Dr. A. L. Maietta performing as Herald for the Winchester degree team, which initiated 432 new members into the Order.

Among the new members, were candidates from Lodges throughout Eastern Massachusetts. Winchester was well represented with 18 new members present from the Men's Lodge and 11 new candidates from the Women's Lodge.

The Winchester degree team received tremendous applause for the splendid manner in which they exemplified the ceremony of initiation.

Anthony Ficociello, a Venerable of the Men's Lodge and Mrs. Marion Manoli, Venerable of the Ladies' Lodge, led a large delegation of members from both Lodges at the function. Mr. Volpe, who incidentally had the pleasure of initiating into membership, his mother, three brothers, two brothers-in-law and the general manager of his business firm, was one of the speakers following the initiation and was presented by Anthony Julian, the Grand Venerable of Massachusetts.

BASEBALL AND TRACK MEN COMPETE

The Winchester High School baseball team plays its first home game of the season this afternoon at Leonard Field at 3:15, meeting Reading in a Middlesex League contest.

Bad weather caused the postponement of the locals' league game with Wakefield at Wakefield on Tuesday and also kept the locals idle Monday and Tuesday. Last week at Medford Winchester got some bad baseball out of its system, and given any kind of pitching today the locals should have a chance to win their opener.

The Winchester track team goes to Lexington this afternoon for a dual meet with Lexington High, winner of the Patriot's Day invitation meet at Concord.

If John West is in shape to compete the locals will pick up a few more points than they did at Concord, but their chances of winning don't seem bright.

Lack of a track for regular practice is hurting Winchester's chances this spring and at Concord both the morale and general condition of the local competitors seemed poor.

MAY BREAKFAST

Announcement is made that the annual May Breakfast which for many years has been held in Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will be served at that institution on Thursday morning, May 1 between the hours of 6:30 and 9 o'clock. The tickets of admission for adults are 65 cents and for children 45 cents. All who enjoy attending this annual event are expected and many who are new to our community will find a most pleasant welcome.

GOLF AND TENNIS MEN START

The Winchester High School golf team opens its schedule here Monday afternoon in a tournament with Concord, Next Thursday, May 1, the locals go to Reading.

The high school boys' tennis team opens its spring campaign next Tuesday at Hingham. Next Wednesday the boys play Lexington here and the following Friday, Watertown at Winchester.

WHITTEMORE SCORED IN SHOT

Bill Whittemore, big center on last year's football team, got the shot out better than 40 feet last Saturday to place second in the Patriot's Day Invitation Track Meet at Concord.

Bill's points were the only ones scored by Winchester in the meet, though Coach Burns Winslow entered several men in various events. Big John West, an easy winner in the shot, won at 42 feet, was out of the meeet, having been ill all week. Pete Dillingham placed in his heat in the dash, but was shut out in the semi-finals. Coe survived the early heights in the high jump but failed to place, the winning jump being at 5ft, 8in.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony DeTeso of this town are the parents of a daughter, Elizabeth McDonald DeTeso, born April 15. Mrs. DeTeso is the former Margaret Mary McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. V. baseball at Tufts, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Salvatore DeTeso of Olive street.

Mr. Leonard J. Raymond of Hillcrest Parkway, left Boston Sunday on the American Overseas Airlines Constellation, the Great Britain, for Shaunon, Eire and London. He was one of 10 passengers boarding the plane in Boston and one of 23 making the non-stop hop to Shannon. President of Dickey-Raymond, Inc., Boston advertising firm, Mr. Raymond will visit London, Paris, Frankfurt, Amsterdam, Copenhagen, Oslo, Stockholm, Finland and Ireland during a seven-weeks aerial tour.

Miss Katherine A. Cassari of Florence street has been elected secretary of the senior class at Suffolk University School of Law in Boston, Joseph B. O'Keefe, former mayor of Peabody, was elected president.

ELKS TO HOLD LADIES' NIGHT MAY 17

There will be a special meeting of Winchester Lodge, No. 1445, B. P. O. E., on Tuesday, April 29, at 8 p. m. in Lyceum Hall. All members are urged to be present.

The lodge activities committee, under the direction of Robert F. "Sam" Murphy, chairman, is to hold another of the popular Ladies' Nights. This year there will be a dinner and dance to be held at the Woburn Country Club on Saturday evening, May 17, at 6:30 p. m. From all reports this party will be the best held by the local lodge in years. Attendance will not be limited to Elks and their ladies. Many members can recall similar parties held in prior years, one of the best of which was held at the old Belmont Country Club.

Many Winchester Elks are planning to attend the annual State Elks Association convention tomorrow and Sunday at the New Ocean House in Swampscott.

SYMMES COMMISSIONED

Kenneth R. Symmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Symmes of 233 Main street, was on Wednesday commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army of the United States upon successful completion of the Officer Candidate Course in the Infantry School at Fort Benning, Ga.

Lieutenant Symmes, a graduate of Winchester High School, enlisted in the Army Feb. 12, 1946 and served with the 9400 TSU at Fort Monmouth, N. J., before enrolling in the Officer Candidate course six months ago.

JOHN HERRICK Baritone

GUEST SOLOIST WITH MYSTIC GLEE CLUB MAY 9

Mr. John Herrick of New York, well known concert and radio baritone will be guest soloist with the Mystic Glee Club when it presents its 35th Spring Concert on Friday, May 9 at 8:15 p. m. in the High School Auditorium.

In securing Mr. Herrick as guest soloist the Glee Club has made a choice that meets with the popular demand for the return of this favorite and accomplished artist.

Mr. Herrick possesses a virile baritone voice of rich and pleasing quality which he uses artistically, with sense, and sound musicianship. His long concert experience has given him a repertoire which enables him to please music lovers of widely divergent tastes. Of one of his New York concerts the New York Times says "John Herrick sang with skill, insight, taste intelligence and unaffected simplicity. We need more of his type native musicianship. Representing all that is best in Americanism, he brings dignity and intelligence to bear on a real talent. He has not permitted radio technique to spoil his concert stage singing. His full baritone voice is handled with sound musicianship."

Mr. Herrick's recent concert engagements include solo roles in Verdi's "Requiem" at Symphony Hall, "Messiah" at Elizabeth, N. J.; "St. Matthew's Passion" at the Bach Academy in Philadelphia, Haydn's "Creation" at Cleveland, Tenn.; "The Children's Crusade," with the Fort Wayne Symphony Orchestra at Fort Wayne, Ind.; and "Elijah" at Schenectady, N. Y. He also appeared in recital at the Gardner Museum in Boston and as soloist at the Edison Testimonial Dinner in that city.

He was baritone with the famous Revelers' quartet of New York City and has for the past ten years been soloist at Christ Church, New York City.

Mr. Alan Wells of Kansas City, who will be Mr. Herrick's accompanist, is a brilliant and accomplished pianist. The musical friendship and association of these two artists began during the war at Newport News, Va., where they both were in the service of their country. They gave many recitals together for servicemen and civilian affairs. Mr. Wells teaches at the New England Conservatory of Music and is also studying at Harvard College. When ever Mr. Herrick is in this vicinity on a singing engagement, his program would not be complete without the able assistance of his former war time friend.

The Mystic Glee Club is very proud to present Mr. John Herrick and his accompanist to the music lovers of Winchester.

ART ASSOCIATION

"Commercial Art" will be the subject of the Winchester Art Association's meeting and exhibit on Tuesday evening, May 6 at 7:45 p. m. in the Gallery, Winchester Public Library. Mr. William Mason is in charge of the exhibit, with the able assistance of Mr. Forrest W. Orr.

The commercial art exhibit, will be open to the public throughout May, will include sketches and paintings from Houghton Mifflin, Barbara Corrigan, and other companies, with some of Mr. Orr's own work. There will be a well-known speaker on the subject, name to be announced in next week's Star.

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

(Formerly Winchester Better Homes Garden Club)

On Wednesday, April 16, the Winchester Better Homes Garden Club met at 2 p. m. in the art room of the library. Two important matters of business were brought up by the president, Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood, and voted on by the club. It was voted to change the name from the Winchester Better Homes Garden Club to the Winchester Home and Garden Club and it was voted to raise the dues from $1 a year to $2 a year.

Miss Dorothea K. Harrison of the Middlesex County Extension Service gave a very helpful talk on "Revamping the Garden," and had many practical suggestions to offer. She said a one-half inch compost is more valuable than a fertilizer. Rhododendron need insulation and food, and a mulch prevents freezing in winter and drying in summer. Miss Harrison spoke of the difficulties in growing a lawn under shade trees and said if there were any sun, grass would grow provided the soil was kept constantly fertilized. If no sun, then it is best to plant a ground covering such as chionodoxa, lily-of-the-valley, or myrtle. The speaker talked about weed killers and made the comment that their efficiency varies according to weather conditions. She has found arsenate 90 per cent efficient for poison ivy if applied when the ivy grows most vigorously, about the middle of June. She cautioned everyone against burning poison ivy branches, as the smoke is very poisonous. It is better to let the dead branches rot, she said.

WEEK-END FIRES

The first of several week-end fires took place at 8:35 Friday morning when burning leaves and brush called the men to the town dump. At 11:07 in the forenoon there was a still alarm for a brush fire at Bushcliff terrace, but at 11:12 Box 7-7-63 was put on for more help when the fire started spreading into the Fells toward Long Pond.

A call from the telephone exchange at 2 o'clock in the afternoon reported a house on fire at 18 Grove street. Box 27 was put on at Headquarters, sending everything to the scene. The fire turned out to be only a grass fire and was quickly put out.

Saturday's only call was to the town dump, in the afternoon where the men had a two-hour fight with burning leaves and rubbish.

Sunday's storm prevented any fires on that day, giving the firemen a well earned rest.

FORD—HORN

Miss Clara M. Horn, daughter of Mrs. W Henry Horn of 47 Canal street, and the late Mr. Horn, was married to Alfred J. Ford, son of Mrs. Margaret Ford of Provincetown, on Monday evening, April 14, at Meyer Chapel of the Unitarian Church. The Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony which was followed by a small reception at the home of the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford are to make their home in Winchester. Mr. Ford is employed at Massachusetts Institute of Technology. His bride is a secretary with the J. F. Winn Company in Winchester.

METHODIST YOUNG ADULT FELLOWSHIP

To See Scenic Pictures of Canada and Our Nation

The Young Adult Fellowship of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will have a covered dish supper in the vestry of the church this Sunday evening, at 6:30 p. m.

The group will enjoy singing at the tables under the leadership of Edward Hitchcock. Mr. Alfred Lowe, from the Museum of Fine Arts, will share with the group pictures he has taken on many of his travels. These unusual pictures of beauty were taken about Winchester, along the Maine coast, in the Canadian Rockies, and the many points of interest in the Western part of our nation. The supper is in charge of Misses Barbara Galucia and Betty Griffiths. All Young Adults are welcome to attend.

WINCHESTER WELLESLEY COLLEGE CLUB

On Tuesday, April 22, the Winchester Wellesley Club met at the home of Mrs. Robert M. Stone on Foxcroft road. The speaker was Miss Elizabeth Manwaring, head of the English Composition Department at Wellesley.

She presented a picture of an alert department in step with the times, continually changing and expanding. The importance of good writing received great impetus during the war years. Opportunities for women in radio, publicity and journalism have been met by courses in these subjects. Also mentioned were courses in verse writing, essays, biography and novel writing.

The Dodd Mead annual prize for a novel by a college senior, twice awarded to Wellesley, has focussed the attention of publishers on undergraduate work. Samples of recent publications by graduates were described and displayed.

At the short business meeting Mrs. Paul Leverette reported on the successful bridge party.

Tea was served by Miss Gertrude M. Hall and her committee.

VFW IN LEXINGTON PARADE

Aberjona Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, sent a delegation of 75 uniformed members to participate in the big Patriots' Day parade in Lexington last Saturday afternoon.

Comdr. Robert McKee marched with the Veterans' district officers, the local delegation being led by Comdr-elect "Jake" Hor... Color-bearers were Norman Doucette and Anthony DeTeso, and the guards, Larry Penta and Nick Molea.

Forty members of the Aberjona Post went to Arlington Patriot's Day morning and marched with Arlington Post, VFW, in the parade held in that town.

UNUSUAL JURY

The Parish Players were hosts Wednesday evening to 75 young people from Perkins Institute of the Blind at the dress rehearsal of their current play, the "Night of January 16", at the First Congregational Church.

The guests literally had a great time at the show, the highlight being the selection of 12 of their number to serve as jury for the trial. The delight of those selected and the pleasure evinced by their associates at hearing their friends' names called was a heart-warming experience for those who witnessed it.

CHRISTIE McDONALD IS CUTTING PRICES!

At the beginning of this year we announced in the Star and at our store that we would start cutting prices as soon as the cost of raw materials would permit.

Prices, instead of dropping, have gone higher. Flour, our basic material, has advanced tremendously.

We are tired of waiting and decided to make our own start in bringing down prices.

Serving the Community For 66 Years

Residents of Winchester in the market for loam this spring will do well to know something of the party from whom they purchase this commodity. Several residents [illegible] week paid for many [illegible] of loam than they had [illegible] them and complaints [illegible] resulted in one out-of-town dealer making restitution for short measure, in lieu of prosecution. According to the Police there have been some sharp deals in loam consumated in Winchester of late and it is at Chief Rogers' suggestion that the Star is warning its readers to be careful in their purchases.

It is nice to be a good neighbor, but when it comes to having the town playgrounds used by groups of boys and young men from as far afield as Boston while our own youngsters are forced either to use less desirable parts of the fields or be shunted off the playing areas altogether it seems time to call a halt. The automobile has given the recreation-bent young people a mobility heretofore unheard of and makes it possible to, for instance, live in Medford or Somerville, and still play ball in Winchester. That is what is happening. Week-ends, especially, groups of boys and young men are arriving in town in automobiles with bats, balls and spikes, and getting onto the playground areas before the arrival of local players. If younger boys happen to be on the field, they are unceremoniously shoved into remote sections. If older boys are there, they are invited to play with the visitors, or, we assume, else! A week or so ago the high school athletic director had the police clear the Junior High School playground of a group of Medford youths so it could be used by some Winchester boys. Last week-end, we are informed, that some smaller Winchester boys had to be content with a particularly undesirable part of Ginn Field while a much better part of the playground was in use by a group of youths whom no one seemed to know, evidently from out-of-town. Already damage has been done the playing surface of Ginn Field by automobiles, and while it is by no means certain that out-of-town motorists are entirely to blame, it is more than likely that some of this damage at least has been done by visitors to town. At all events Winchester playgrounds should be used by Winchester residents, and the time to stop their appropriation by out-of-town groups is now, before the thing begins to be a habit. It should not take long to get the lesson home. Once the visitors find they can not use Winchester playgrounds they will stop coming to Winchester for that purpose. There is no reason why Winchester youngsters should be kept from their own playgrounds by out-of-town players

THE NEW SCHOOL

To Winchester Voters:

The recent referendum on the new primary school settled, despite the presence of other issues, the fate of the Emerson road site. The sweeping nature of the vote should eliminate any doubts upon that score.

It is a pleasure to report that contacts made since the referendum with the most ardent proponents of that site show nearly all to be graciously resigned to the will of the voters and concerned now with the taking of prompt steps to make possible the building of a satisfactory school on a better site at the earliest propitious time. Upon this we are ALL agreed. There has never been any difference of opinion as to the need of the new school.

Immediate action looking to the building of the school is not at variance with reluctance to undertake construction at this time, rather, it supplements that position. It takes time to select and acquire a new site and to get ready to build. By making these preparations promptly the Town will be enabled to better choose the time at which, in the public judgment, actual construction should begin.

There seems little doubt that the Selectmen will call a Special Town Meeting promptly. It is submitted that the discharge of the present Building Committee and the appointment of a new committee to select a NEW SITE should receive favorable consideration.

Respectfully,
Richard M. Rush

SCHOOL PLANNED IN TOO GRANDIOSE MANNER

Editor of the Star:

The decision of the voters of Winchester, disapproving of any present action on the proposed Andrews Hill School, came as a distinct shock to many of the townspeople. In the face of a clearly established, urgent need, why did a large majority of the voters answer bluntly NO?

The reason is not far to seek. To be sure, some taxpayers may have reasoned that costs, now highest ever known, will soon be lower. But the prospect of materially lower costs in the near future is far from good, and I hardly believe that I was alone in basing my personal decision on less conjectural reasoning. To state my reasoning in a nutshell, I believe that the Andrews Hill School has been conceived and planned in a much too grandiose manner. In support of this belief, I raise the following questions:

(1) Has any town in this State ever built a school of comparable purpose and cost in a similar location?

(2) Has this town ever built a school of comparable purpose and cost in a similar location?

(3) Does this town contemplate building other schools of comparable purpose and cost in similar locations?

(4) Could this town afford to build comparable schools wherever a need could be shown?

(5) Could this town afford to satisfy all of its school building requirements in an equally financially reckless manner?

(6) Would the taxpayers resident in the area which would be served by the Andrews Hill School vote in favor of equal expenditures in other sections of the town?

(7) Could the Andrews Hill area be efficiently served by a more modest school building, well staffed with the best teachers obtainable?

In conclusion, I believe the West Side should have a new school, and an excellent school, and have it now. Nevertheless, I cannot concede that the circumstances justify erection of the most magnificent school structure in the State. That the children of this area will be forced to wait at least one extra year for their own school is truly a tragedy, and the blame can be placed nowhere but on the shoulders of the Andrews Hill School Building Committee, the architects employed by them, and, to a lesser extent, the Superintendent of Schools and those others who worked most enthusiastically for the project. These good citizens forgot the lesson of the story of young Ben Franklin and his whistle.

Lorenzo G. Currier

WHAT IS IT?

Editor of the Star:

Yesterday I had occasion to go to the Post Office. When I came out I stood on the top step where I had a good view of the work going on in connection with the building of the new Parkway bordering the new Aberjona location. A gas driven road roller was running at a moderate speed up and down the roadway, between the white curbstones.

The only other activity was four men digging a ditch, but a larger force of men were in the process of setting curbstones and preparing to lay a new cement sidewalk over and on both sides of the south side of the bridge over the Aberjona.

I noted four huskies standing on the bridges, or leaning against the parapet wall, but all at once they started to wrestle one another, evidently feeling they needed exercise (since they were tired of digging), even though they were being paid to dig. After a bit of horse play they leaned up against the wall.

Finally a foreman came along (at least I supposed he was) and they were sent away just what to do I did not see. They just ambled away, no hurry. I do not know if these were contractor's men or not.

The thing that struck me was the attitude of these men—apparently if not caring to do an honest day's work, just "mooching" and killing time.

No wonder that public work cost more than it should. I expect these men were being paid at least $1 an hour. They were young and husky, but didn't give a dam. The State, County or Town was paying for the time they put in. Ever since the Boon Dogling days of W. P. A. this sort of think has been going on. Either it is a lack of good supervision or that contractors accept it and add same to the cost of the job and the taxpayers stand the gaf. When a brick mason is not allowed to lay but 500 brick per day, by his Union, when 1000 was once considered a fair day's work it sets an example for others to go slow, speed ahead—or is it backwards?

ALWAYS GLAD TO HELP

Editor of the Star:

Please accept the deep appreciation of everyone connected with the Winchester District Nursing Association, and my own personal thanks, for the truly splendid space you gave us during "Public Health Nursing Week." I have heard nothing but high praise for the Star's helpful articles this past week, and the success of the week here, and the resuscitator's public reception, was due to your kind cooperation. I just wanted to thank you.

APPRECIATES NURSES

Editor of the Star:

As this is Public Health Nursing Week, I would like to say how much I appreciate everything our District and School nurses have done for me.

Our school nurse is such a comfort, her presence is like the gladsome, cheering sun, making happy all who come within her presence. She does everything to help, to safeguard our health, and gives us assurance. So I wish to say today, that the comfort and happiness they give into the lives of others come back in good measure into their own.

MISUNDERSTANDING ABOUT PLANE PILOTS

Editor of the Star:

Inasmuch as there seems to be considerable misunderstanding in flying over residential areas and the procedure by which a civilian license is obtained, may I have space in your columns to point out a few pertinent facts.

1. When a student has completed his course, he must be tested by an Inspector from the Civil Aeronautics Administration (C. A. A.); he is not passed by "just any employee" of the airfield where he was trained. The C. A. A. does not hesitate to wash out any student not considered suitable.

2. As to joining in any move to restrict flying over residential areas—this I cannot do. Let us remember the unsettled state of world affairs; the fact that Reserve Officers must put in a required number of hours in the air; that it is impossible to fly in N. E. without passing over residential areas; that even though there have lately been several similar accidents to that of my son, I have heard of none in which the pilot came down in a congested area. These civilian pilots may form an important core in time of disaster or a future war—remember the radio "hams" and the services they have rendered their country?

3. Something is learned from every crash and the findings of the C. A. A. sent to every airfield. Further safety measures are then taken and in this way as many flying hazards overcome as possible. I admit it is a big price to pay as far as the pilot's families are concerned.

4. Stunting over residential areas is forbidden and should be reported to the C. A. A., Norwood, Mass. However, many times maneuvers which look like "stunting", to the average person, are merely rolls, spins, turns, etc., which the pilot must forever be practising. If one examines closely the area over which he is practising one will, in 9 cases out of 10, see there is an open space close by or under him although he seems to be directly over our houses. There are, of course, some show-offs in the air as on the ground, but by far the majority of fliers value their licenses—and their own necks—too highly to risk the wrath of the C. A. A., the Army and Navy.

While I understand the sincerity of some people who have called me regarding the above matters, I cannot let my own tragic loss influence me. America must remain strong in the air until such time as the U. N. is mature enough to take over.

Yours truly,
Gladys N. Toye

BLOOD DONATION

Editor of the Star:

Many people in Winchster, I believe, would be interested in the account of the dedication of the new blood processing laboratory of the State Division of Biologic Laboratories, as described in a recent issue of the "Harvard Alumni Bulletin."

This publication tells of the great stride in public health being made by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts in cooperation with the Harvard Medical School. First as a war project and now as a peace-time program in which all the people of the state will benefit, the fracionation of blood plasma in the new laboratory is carried on jointly by the Medical School and the state Department of Public Health.

In the last year the laboratory has shipped or has ready for free distribution 11,000 units of plasma, 3,000 units of whole blood, and 30,000 units of gamma globulin—that wonderful product that reduces greatly the ill effects of measles in children. It is hoped that during the coming year the laboratories will process five times this amount of blood.

As Winchester citizens know, the Red Cross is the agent that arranges for the local blood donations. The trained employees—nurses and doctors—of the Department of Public Health handle all the technicalities.

As I understand it, any person who donates a pint of blood will be given a certificate that will entitle his entire immediate family to all the blood or blood products that might be needed within the year without charge, in any hospital in the State.

Under the new state plasma fractionation program, the plasma and gamma globulin are free to everyone; but the whole blood is available only to the families that secure the privilege through a donation. Whole blood is necessary in many illnesses and operations. Doctors are prescribing it more and more frequently. The only other sources of it are through commercial purchase or the donation of friends. Blue Cross does not cover the cost of blood. One illness in the family might necessitate three or four transfusions. If one had to pay for these the cost might reach over $100. Anyone who has to pay for blood bought commercially or tried to secure numerous donations from friends, when there is a critical illness or serious operation, realizes what a boon this blood insurance plan is to individual families.

Hundreds of people in Winchester, too, learned during the war that the donation of blood is a simple act for a healthy person, causing scarcely more trouble than the inconvenience of giving 15 minutes to keep the appointment.

Quite a number of men and women of Winchester have made blood donations eight, ten, and 12 times or more in the last three or four years and are glad to see the State Blood Collection Unit set up in Winchester next Tuesday.

Sincerely yours,
Wayne E. Davis

ASKS SUPPORT OF BLOOD PROGRAM

Editor of the Star:

I am attaching a bulletin from the Mass. Department of Public Health describing the dedication ceremonies of the new Blood Processing Laboratory of this State.

It seemed to me that your readers might be interested in reading parts of this bulletin, particularly those marked.

I feel that it is very important that the people of Winchester get behind this Blood Program and anything that you can do through your paper will be very much appreciated.

Very truly yours,
Chandler W. Symmes
Chairman of Board of Health

"Governor Bradford and an impressive group of today's outstanding medical men, scientists, and civic leaders participated in the dedication of the new Blood Processing Laboratory of the Mass. Department of Public Health on Wednesday, March 26. This laboratory, the first state-operated plant of its kind established in this country, is designed for processing blood and blood derivatives on a large scale.

"The dedication ceremonies were begun with the presentation of the new building by Mr. H. LeBaron Sampson, Trustee of the Godfrey M. Hyams Trust, which provided the funds for the erection of the laboratory to be used for the benefit of the people of the Commonwealth through the Mass. Blood Donor Program.

"His Excellency Robert F. Bradford received the services of the building on behalf of the public and then commented upon the significance of the Blood Program . .

As pointed out by Governor Bradford, "Here in this laboratory, the first of its kind to be established, we have the tools with which to succeed in this life-saving program. The rest depends upon us."

And so it does. The Commonwealth has provided funds to operate the Program; a private foundation has given the funds for the laboratory building; a group of talented specialists stand ready to collect, process and distribute the blood under the very latest and scientific methods known to date; volunteer workers are giving their time and efforts to recruit donors and provide non-technical assistance; but the most important part is now up to you who can give blood for your own protection! Actually, you are not giving your blood away; you are providing yourself and your family with a new type of insurance which cannot be obtained anywhere else!"

SOCRATES UNDER MISAPPREHENSION

Editor of the Star:

Your correspondent, Socrates, while admitting that Lilienthal has great integrity, unusual ability, and unquestionable patriotism, believes that he is unfitted for the chairmanship of the Atomic Energy Commission because he is a New Dealer. Although Lilienthal pointed out in his book on TVA that he favored and practiced decentralization and held overcentralization to be a poison, Socrates is under the misapprehension that he is a socialist.

If that is the case, then Congress too merits this appelation. For it voted unanimously that atomic energy should be placed under public control for the general welfare. Among these "New Dealers" who so voted was "Statesman" Senator Taft.

ASSISTANCE APPRECIATED

Treasury Department
Internal Revenue Service
Boston 9, Mass.

Editor of the Star.

I want you to now how greatly I appreciate the assistance given this office by the Winchester Star during the filing period of Federal income taxes which ended on March 15th. Because of the early publicity and the generous amount of space given us, we find our office in better condition today than at any comparable time during the past years.

In explanation, it may be stated that 30 to 40 percent of the taxpaying public filed their returns in advance of March 1st this year, a circumstance which permitted immediate processing and maximum utilization of available clerical help. This, in turn, has resulted in the payment of more than one half million refunds on this date which is six to eight weeks earlier than an equal accomplishment in any previous year. Most notable, however, is the improvement in preparation of individual returns from a standpoint of legibility, accuracy and conformance with the Internal Revenue Code. We strongly feel that the instructions and explanations provided in newspaper columns has helped immeasurably in bringing about this welcome condition.

The enormous volume of business which had been completed so early within the filing period stems in a great measure from the amount of space devoted to tax information by our newspaper friends. This year the Winchester Star was particularly generous to the Collector's office, for which we are indeed most grateful.

With assurance of our sincere appreciation for the commendable public service you have rendered, I am

Sincerely yours,
Denis W. Delaney,
Collector

"Know ye not that they which run in a race run all, but one receiveth the prize? So run, that ye may obtain. And every man that striveth for the mastery is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a corruptible crown; but we an incorruptible." (I Corinthians 9:24, 25.)

"We can, and ultimately shall, so rise as to avail ourselves in every direction of the supremacy of Truth over error, Life over death, and good over evil, and this growth will go on until we arrive at the fulness of God's idea, and no more fear that we shall be sick and die." (p. 406.)

We're Sorry . . . but
IT'S GOT TO BE DONE

FARES MUST BE RAISED IF OUR COMPANY IS TO CONTINUE TO SERVE YOU ADEQUATELY

Passenger fares are practically our only source of revenue. We receive no subsidies from any governmental agency. Our operating losses are not paid by taxes on the cities and towns we serve. In other words, like any business organization, we must stand on our own feet and pay our own way.

The last five years have seen a steady increase in the costs of commodities and services. Practically everything you eat, wear, or do, costs you more than it did before Pearl Harbor. Yet, by straining every resource, we have faced a stupendous rise in operating costs without previously asking for an increase in fares. In fact, there has been no general fare increase on the Eastern Massachusetts since 1920 . . . twenty-seven years ago!

In recent months it has become more and more evident that fares would have to be raised. It all boils down to these facts, which we must face:

WE MUST HAVE MORE INCOME IF WE ARE TO CONTINUE TO OPERATE WITHOUT EXCESSIVE LOSS.
WE MUST HAVE MORE INCOME IF WE ARE TO BUY NEW BUSES AND EQUIPMENT.
WE MUST HAVE MORE INCOME IF WE ARE TO GIVE YOU BETTER SERVICE.

And here are a few reasons why!

WAGE INCREASES The Union contract under which we are now operating, provided increases for our operating and mechanical forces. A corresponding upward adjustment was also made for office and non-operating personnel. These wage increases are costing the Company over $2,000,000 additional per year.

Fares must be increased to meet this additional expense.

NEW BUSES The Company now operates 895 buses. Many of our older buses have been in service nine years or more, and have traveled over a half million miles each. These are being replaced as fast as is practicable. 154 new buses were delivered in 1946. 269 new buses are now on order. Some of the new coaches have cost us as much as $22,000. New buses which cost us $11,100 before the war, now cost us $18,700.

Fares must be increased to meet this expense.

BORROWED MONEY Rolling stock and equipment cannot be purchased from cash on hand. Consequently the Company had to borrow $1,300,000 in 1946 to buy new buses. $1,800,000 or more must be borrowed this year for the same purpose. This money must be repaid within five to seven years, with interest. There is a limit to the amount which we are allowed to borrow. We are near that limit.

OPERATING COSTS climbed from $6,000,000 in 1941 to $11,300,000 in 1946 . . . and they're still on the way up. To be sure, because of heavy wartime riding, our income showed a steady increase during those years. However, with private automobile traffic increasing and a plentiful supply of gasoline, it is apparent that the peak has passed. While our operating expenses this year have increased by 20%, our income has shown a steady decrease. We have shown a loss for our operations during the first quarter of 1947.

Fares must be increased to meet these losses.

INCREASED SERVICE To provide improved service in this post-war period, we have not only purchased new buses, but have added new routes and stepped up the frequency of service on others. We are operating more buses and more miles of service. Yet, while mileage has increased 12.5%, our income per mile has decreased 12.5%.

Fares must be increased to meet increased costs of service.

FINANCIAL CONDITION By every device of careful management, the Company is attempting to keep expenses down while providing adequate service. Yet, over the years, the cost of service has exceeded income to the point where we now have a deficit of $18,700,000.

An increase in fares provides the only solution.

This Company is under State control, and the law directs the Public Trustees to establish a rate of fare which will meet the costs of service. We have postponed action as long as possible. We have provided service without a general fare increase in twenty-seven years. But the change is forced upon us, and we must have more income if we are to serve you better in the future.

The coming increase has been kept as moderate as possible. Over the entire fare structure it will average less than 15%. We must regretfully announce that some cash and ticket fares will be increased effective Sunday, May 4, 1947. The details of this change will appear at a later date in your local newspapers.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Have you seen the new Girl Scout office yet? It is in the same building and on the same floor, but we have that extra space we so desperately need in consideration of the rapidly increse in enrollment. (There are 120 more girls registered this year than last, seven more troops.) Mr. F. L. McFeeley and Mr. Stafford Rogers of the Boy Scouts were responsible for our almost painless moving, and are sporting Girl Scout service pins as a result of their noble assistance. In all seriousness, the very cordial relationship between the Boy and Girl Scout organizations is most gratifying.

Now that we have an extra room, we plan to have a "workshop" for practical crafts where Girl Scouts of 7th and 8th grades as well as senior Scouts can work on projects two afternoons a week. It will also be used by the staff of the Girl Scout Scribbler, and, when not otherwise occupied, can serve as a sort of club room.

In this connection we need two comfortable chairs and one or two end tables, and hope very much that everyone interested in young people will look through their belongings and see if they have some to spare. Also, while you are searching your attics and cellars, will you see if you have any large grates, 2'x3', to be installed at Camp Joy? The camp also would like a two-burner oil stove, an electric plate, a good-sized cooking utensil suitable for outdoor use, and hatchets to replace those stolen last year when the camp was broken into.

At the monthly meeting of the Winchester Girl Scout Council at the library on Wednesday, April 16, plans were discussed for attending the regional convention to be held at the New Ocean House, Swampscott, April 30, May 1 and 2. Besides Council members, any leaders interested in attending all or any part of the conference are cordially urged to call the office, Win. 2592, for particulars.

The Council was asked to vote on the Juliette Low boxes, decorated by the various troops for their presentation at the pageant, and chose the one submitted by Troop 23 as best of the Brownies, Troop 16 of Intermediates, and Marines of Seniors.

During the recent vacation two troops had all-day cook-outs, and two actual overnight camping trips, the account of one of which follows under the title "The Girl Scouts Hit the Trail".

"Troop 10 spent the night of April 8 at Cedar Hill, Waltham. The troop left in the morning, Tuesday, April 8, and returned in the afternoon, Wednesday, April 9. We arrived in the morning about 10:30. The weather was wonderful the first day but unfortunately not so good the second. The troop had previously divided into four groups of six. Each group prepared, served one meal and planned entertainment for the troop until the next meal. For entertainment the troop went through the maize, tried to follow a cleverly concealed trail, played softball, had a campfire and played indoor games. Mrs. Metcalf came the first day and showed the girls how to make crude broilers from twigs, cooking dishes from tin cans, and fuzz sticks. She was helping the troop to earn the Campcraft Badge. All in all except for a few sniffles all had a good time."

NURSES' AID REUNION

On April 23, 55 Nurses' Aides gathered at the Winchester Country Club to have their first peace time reunion. Evidences of the patriotic spirit were visible in a large Red Cross flag hanging from the mantle and American flags as a center table decoration. A continuously waving American flag, loaned by the Rotary Club was much admired. The group were grateful to the Winchester Conservatories for the lovely floral decorations.

After a sumptuous meal, a meeting was held, Mrs. George Budd presiding as chairman.

Mrs. Budd introduced Mrs. Mary Carr Baker, who told of the interesting things the State Department was doing with blood at their laboratories.

After merry making the party was voted such a success that plans are now being made to make it an annual affair.

April 21, 1922

A decided cold snap arrived in full force last night after a cold, raw day. During yesterday a sleet and hail storm was experienced and early last evening there was quite a snow flurry. During the night the glass went down to 22 degrees and at 6 this morning registered 28.

The orginal vote to build four grade school houses in this town, two this year and two next year, on the selected sites, stands today. A motion to reconsider, based upon the appointment of the committee, although voted 584 to 377, failed, it being necessary to have a vote of 641 to carry it, out of the 961 citizens voting. This action was taken at last night's town meeting.

A meeting of the organizers of the new Winchester Lodge of Elks was held in Lyceum Hall on Tuesday evening, there being a large attendance. Arrangements were started for the institution of the new lodge on May 10, it being planned to make the affair one of the biggest events this town has seen in years.

Mr. Marshall Symmes reported yesterday that he had fished the Aberjona River during the holiday in hopes of finding some indications of the trout which had been planted there last fall. He says he could find no signs of trout and it happens that the trout did not long survive in the sewage of the river.

The contest for the Massachusetts' eccentric acrobatic dancing championship was won by Ormsby L. Court of Winchester, present title holder of the New Hampshire and Rhode Island titles, over Francis Penette of Malden and John Libby of Charlestown.

Mr. Addison R. Pike has purchased the Winslow P. Burhoe property at Montrose, consisting of a new seven room house, double garage and an acre of land.

The guest of honor at the annual dinner of the Calumet Club held Saturday evening was Governor Channing Cox, who was present and spoke before over 200 guests. The affair was one of the most successful affairs staged this winter, being the banner night for the men of the club.

J. Albert Wilson, and Richard Grant will attend the Music Supervisors Conference to be held in Springfield, next week.

Mrs. William F. Edlefson gave a bridal luncheon yesterday noon in honor of Miss Irene Lord, who is to marry Mr. Franklin Lane on June 3.

Daily Philosophy

50 YEARS AGO

April 16, 1897

The grade crossing question appears to be taking a rest. When it does come up there will be lots of music.

Mr. E. D. Bangs has sold to the State Park Commissioners his handsome family horse. This was one of the best animals of its class in town.

A meeting of Class '97 was held at the home of Miss Louise Stewart on last Saturday evening. Ice cream and cake was served.

Patrons of the Mystic Valley Railroad are enjoying the luxury of an observation car.

Philip T. French will be captain and Roger H. Hurd, manager of the High School baseball team. Practice is now in order.

Almost every afternoon shortly after 6 o'clock there are a half-dozen bicyclists who scorch down Washington street between the railroad tracks, Tuesday, in turning the corner of Washington and Pleasant streets, one of the riders was thrown to the ground and narrowly escaped being run over by his followers. His wheel was slightly injured, and he was somewhat shaken up. This fast riding is dangerous at best.

An auction sale was to have taken place Wednesday of the machinery and stock at Small's furniture factory, but the court ordered a stay of proceedings.

Engineer Thompson while making a survey on an estate of Railroad avenue found that the annex to Lyceum building encroaches two feet on the street line.

Congress seems to be going protection mad. If high protection will start the wheels going and give work to the unemployed then it will be all right, but indications point only to benefitting the selfish interests of corporations and trusts.

Three new houses are being erected near the syndicate land on the west side—two by a Mr. Peterson of Boston and the other by Mr. Fitch. When finished the houses will go on the market.

So dazed was Somerville's crack spelling team last Friday evening after the match that the members had great difficulty in boarding the right train for home. No doubt they have not yet realized how it all came about, and probably they never will. During the past winter this picked team of crack spellers has been going about the district vanquishing opponents right and left, but when it got through with Winchester's hastily-gotten-together team, it was it's turn to get "left." We may not be much on athletics (yet we are not so very slow in this either) but when it comes to spelling we can show outsiders how the "Winchester plan" operates. The Winchester spellers were: Viola M. McLellan, Mrs. J. F. Dorsey, A. M. Parker, Lillian W. Newman, James Nowell, Ernest W. Hatch, Mrs. L. A. Bradbury, J. F. Dorsey, Grace P. Stone, Mrs. E. A. Brackett and Herbert C. Sanborn.

It will be seen by the proposals from the State Park Commissioners that the Mystic Valley Parkway is to be macadamized.

A civil engineer for the proposed Arlington and Winchester Electric Railroad was looking the ground over on Church street Monday.

So Somerville has two crack spelling teams, and it seems the one defeated here last Friday was not the best. Some people don't seem to realize when they receive the worst of a contest.

WINCHESTER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Sixteen members of our society attended the meeting of the Bay State Historical League at Arlington on April 19. The chief point of interest was the Jason Russell House where 11 patriots were killed by the British on April 19, 1775, and in keeping with the day, Rev. John Nicol Mark gave a talk on the part played by Menotony, or Arlington on that day.

After the business meeting, we were privileged to be entertained by Dr. Laurence L. Barber, president of the League, who showed over 100 of his latest natural color pictures entitled "New England, Historic and Scenic. At the close of the meeting, bounteous refreshments were served. This was one of the largest meetings ever held by th League, over 400 members from historical societies all over the state being present.

Prices above are actual—taken from newspaper advertising and government records of 1924.

How long since you've heard that one?

The answer is—it was back in 1924, when a youngster with a penny at a candy counter was the envy of his mates. Today, as you too well know it's "Please, Ma, can I have a nickel," or, more likely, "Daddy, gimme a dime."

In 1924 pork chops were 31c a pound; roast beef was 30c; butter was 48c per pound; gasoline cost around 16c a gallon; and you could get a good cigar for 5c. No need for us to recite the prices you have to pay for everything today—they're all UP—AWAY UP! Increased costs of wages, materials and taxes have long since driven all prices away above their 1924 levels.

That is everything's up—except what you pay for railroad fares.

We can almost hear a shriek of "WHAT?" after we tell you that you are paying less today for railroad fares than you paid in 1924. That's true, however, for railroad coach fares back in 1924 were 3.6c per mile. Today they are generally 2.2c per mile.

For your commuting ticket you are now paying exactly the same rates which you paid in 1924, 23 years ago.

Since 1924 the average wage of train crews (engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen) has increased 78.5%. Everything which we have to buy to keep the trains running has increased in cost—in fact, since 1941 these prices have gone up 50% or more. It is a matter of simple arithmetic to figure that we cannot keep on paying increased wages, increased taxes and increased material costs and yet keep our fares at 1924 levels.

ONE INCOME SOURCE

For some unexplainable reason (at least we have not heard a lucid explanation) there are those who shout "Railroad fares must not (or should not) be increased!" Then there are those who insist, "We cannot pay more for our transportation to and from our daily work."

A railroad has no mysterious sources of income nor any unlimited supplies of cash. Its only source of income is from the sale of passenger and freight transportation.

"MAKING MILLIONS"?

There are those who apparently believe that railroads have been enjoying some lush years, with profits rolling in. We'd like to state the facts. Last year the Boston and Maine Railroad earned only 1.8% on the investment in the road's property—not even enough to pay anything to its owners, the stockholders.

The railroad industry of the country as a whole in 1946 earned only about 2.75% on its property investment. The largest rate of return which the railroad industry has been able to earn in any one year since 1935 was only 5.50% in 1942 and that rate of return has been dropping every year since then. Hardly "making millions" is it? We must have a return of 6% on investment to maintain a sound railroad and to keep service at a proper standard.

STILL A BARGAIN!

With the small advance in fares which we are seeking, railroad transportation will still be the best buy in travel. We want to continue to improve and modernize our service. A modern deluxe passenger coach today costs $90,000. A modern commuter coach (without air conditioning) today costs between $50,000 and $60,000. In 1924 we could buy a deluxe coach for about $22,000 and a commuter coach for around $18,000.

We cannot hope to even continue our present amount or standard of service at present rates of fare. Need for an immediate increase has been forced on us by mounting costs over which we have no control.

We believe that all fair-minded patrons will agree we have no alternative than to seek a fare increase.

WINCHESTER ARTISTS IN EXHIBIT

Contemporary New England artists will show their paintings from May 26 through June 7 in the 18th annual Art Exhibition in the Jordan Marsh Galleries, fifth floor annex. As in the past three years, the pictures will be judged by a dual jury, and the painters will be asked to specify on their entry blanks to which—Traditional or Modern—the picture is to be submitted.

Artists who wish to submit a picture for the exhibition may obtain an entry blank from Dorothy D. Stotsenberg, manager of this exhibition, in the fashion center on the fifth floor of the annex; or from the Information Desk in the main store building. Entry blanks must be returned to Mrs. Stotsenberg's office by Saturday, May 3. Deadline for receiving paintings is Saturday, May 10.

Serving on the traditional jury this year will be Miss Margaret Fitzhugh Browne, Mr. Albro T. Hibbard, Mr. Forrest Orr, and Mr. Anthony Thieme. On the modern jury are Mr. Edgar Corbridge, Mr. Gardner Cox, Mr. Lawrence Kupferman, and Mr. John Northy.

As in the past, the pictures will be divided into three classification: Class A, portraits and still life; Class B, marines and landscapes; Class C, water colors.

The Richard Mitton gold medal and $250 in cash will be awarded to the artist whose painting receives the greatest number of popular votes, regardless of classification. A Richard Mitton gold medal and $100 in cash will be given to the two artists whose paintings receive the greatest number of popular votes in the other two classifications. A Richard Mitton gold medal and $100 in cash will go to each of the two artists whose paintings are judged by the juries, one from the Modern, and one from the Traditional group.

I. C. PRESENTS SUCCESSFUL DRAMA

On Sunday afternoon and again on Monday night the Immaculate Conception Catholic Club presented very successful performances of "The Absent-Minded Bridegroom." From the very moment of the first curtain the self enacted comedy brought laughter and applause from a very appreciative audience.

Great comendation must be given Mrs. Jenne Flaherty, the director, whose generosity of time and talents and whose superb efficiency and patience born only out of a great love for her work helped to mould an almost professional production from a group of amateurs.

The cast was almost entirely local and well-known in the Woburn-Winchester area—with the exception of Edmundo Diniz, a student at Suffolk Law School, who very kindly and very ably filled in a vacated part. The cast should be congratulated on their excellent work. They are as follows:

Timothy Shea, the bridegroom — Robert Costello
Patrick Rooney, his friend — Robert Conlon
Jimmie Rooney, Daddman's son — Jack Collins
Fred Grady, his friend — Edmundo Diniz
Slade, plain-clothes man — George Wilson
Yattie, small colored boy — William Queen
Dennie Rooney, the maid — Mildred Dineen
Nora Shea, Tom's daughter — Mae Mulbern
Kathleen O'Connor, her friend — Dorothy Welsh
Tessie O'Connor, Mrs. Rooney's maid — Barbara Hayes
Yonnie, small girl — Margaret Casey
Yaney, small girl — Margaret King

The I. C. C. Club is very grateful to Mrs. Jack Lennon of Cross street for her beautiful furniture and for her work of arrangement on the stage; to Mrs. William LaRocque, Donald Lynch, and Bob Conlon for their contributions of additional stage properties; to Mrs. Jennie Narkiewich for her lovely hand-made roses; and to Peter Narkiewich for very generously supplying the amplifier.

The following committees worked zealously to insure the success of this church benefit fund. Special praise should be given to the members of the program committee for their remarkable job of writing, setting up, and printing the program.

The I. C. C. DEMONSTRATION READING LESSON

A splendid Demonstration Reading Lesson, for teachers only, was held in the Washington School, Wednesday, April 23 at 1:15 p. m.

The demonstration was conducted by Miss Roberts, grade five teacher at the Washington School. There was no school for all fifth grades in all of the elementary schools during the afternoon of April 23, except for the children in Miss Roberts' room. Those children were dismissed from school at the end of the demonstration lesson at 1:45 p. m. Immediately aterward all of the fifth grade teachers gathered for a professional group meeting to discuss some of the problems and ways of improving reading in the fifth grade.

The children showed many evidences of good training in reading. Interest was high, each child knew what to do and went about his assignment with alacrity and zeal. The atmosphere, in the classroom, was conducive to good learning and the children were free from rigid tensions which permitted them to do their best work.

FINAL DANCING LESSON

The fifth and sixth grade dancing class of the Noonan School held their final lesson on Tuesday, in the school auditorium. During the year the children have had ten regular classes plus an extension course of four extra lessons. The dancing class is sponsored by the Mothers' Association and conducted by the Curry School of Dancing. Mr. Harry Raymond has been the instructor.

The pupils came dressed in their best party clothes and enjoyed novelty games, elimination dances, etc., also the ice cream and cookies served by the Social Committee.

The mothers of the pupils were the guests of the afternoon.

Miss Lenore Rich, Principal of the Noonan-Washington School, Mrs. George A. Bloom, president of the Mothers' Association, and Mrs. Charles F. Wilson, chairman of the Dancing Committee, were the hostesses.

Mrs. Donald J. Elliott handled the publicity for the year and Mrs. Wilbur E. Connors was the treasurer.

The wooden fence at the corner of Chester and Swanton streets has been removed. This fence has been a landmark in this section of the town for many years.

LINCOLN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

A very enoyable Dad's Night was held at the Lincoln School on Friday evening of last week.

The program got under way with a band concert under the direction of Mr. Felmet. The soloists and selections for this portion were as follows:

"Gavotte" — Jennifer Meigs
"Beautiful Dreamer" — Richard Giacalone, slide trombone
"The Secret" — Richard Vincatte, clarinet
Saxaphone Quartet "Father Breathe an Evening Blessing" — Daniel Mantini, Joseph Venedi, Francis Mangano, Richard Migliacco
Trumpet Quartet "The Magic Flute" — Thomas Severino, Fred Wheaton, James Griffin, Nicholas Fitzgerald

This was followed by a rendering of songs by the pupils under the direction of Miss Nardone. The announcer was Patricia Carroll.

Songs:
"Flag of Our Land," "Juanita," "Love Thyself Last"
Sextet Jane Coyne, Barbara Colucci, Neil Muncaster, Catherine Serretore, Nancy Wilson, Patricia Carroll
"Carmen, Carmela"

The children were then excused for refreshments.

The adults enjoyed enlightening talks by Mr. Wade L. Grindle, principal of the High School, and Dr. Forbes H. Norris, superintendent of schools.

Mr. Grindle spoke of the growth of the High School in Winchester from one room to the present day set-up and the problems of equipment which even now is lacking.

Dr. Norris spoke of the future plans of the High School.

Delicious refreshments were then served which included salad, rolls, coffee, and cakes.

The committee for this included Mrs. Arthur Cameron, chairman; Mrs. Lewis Curtis, Mrs. Robert Corthell, Mrs. David Meskill, Mrs. Ramdolph Kazazian, Mrs. John Flaherty, Mrs. Waldo Dade.

Complaints have been registered at the Office of Sealer of Weights and Measures regarding deliveries of loam. In one case the party charged for 6 yds. and only delivered 2 yds., giving a name and address believed to be false.

It is suggested that care be exercised in making purchases from persons not known, who refuse or are evasive in giving their names and sufficient identification. Legitimate dealers in loam and other commodities, will or should have their names on their trucks or vehicles.

Should there be any doubt in your minds as to the weight or measurement call Win. 0221. This is for your protection.

VOL. LXVI NO. 35 | THE WINCHESTER, MASS., STAR, FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1947 | PRICE SEVEN CENTS

EN KA TUNER-VILLE FAIR

Hop on the Band Wagon! Strike up the Band, The En Ka Tunerville Fair is just around the corner. Saturday, May 24 is the big day.

The all-out activity of En Ka members, under the capable guidance of Mrs. Clark Staples, to produce their twelfth annual Street Fair is now almost a fait accompli.

The latest bulletin regards the gigantic Midway, planned and directed by Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin and Mrs. Richard Harlow, both veterans in managing such a stupendous production. They, with a corps of workers, have divulged the following plans.

For the children (grown-ups not barred) is the ever popular Ferris Wheel, dubbed "Swinging on a Star." There is always a waiting line to secure a seat on this popular wheel, so you'd better get there early. From the starry-eyed kiddies who dismount, one judges it's a swing worth while. Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker is the chairman.

Two Kiddie Automobiles. "In My Merry Oldsmobile." These mechanical cars for the tiny tots are a safe way to give them a real thrill. Mrs. Theodore von Rosenvinge is the chairman for these.

For the teen-agers and adults of both sexes there are the following games of skill!

Bumper Automobile.—"I've got your number." An innovation this year, this sporty game will tax your skill. Be sure and try your hand at this new feature game. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith are in charge of it.

The Dart Game. — "You hit the Spot." Maybe you will and then you'll win one of those worth while prizes. Mr. and Mrs. Donald F. Connors are in charge of this game.

Ping-Pong. — "It could happen to you." It looks easy, but don't be fooled, tossing those elusive ping-pong balls is quite an art. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dickey are chairmen.

Add-A-Ball. — "Take a number from 1 to 10." Are you lucky? Here's your chance to find out. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Walton are chairmen.

Wheel. — "There's no harm in Wishing." Maybe your wish will come true. Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Kuypers are in charge of the Wheel.

Base-Ball. — "Take me out to the ball game." Try smashing those milk bottles! It's a riot! If at first you don't succeed, try, try again. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence S. Luitwieler are chairmen.

Here at the Midway you can use up an enormous amount of uninhibited energy; if you have the prevalent Spring Fever. Who doesn't like to try out their particular technique in striving to win some of the numerous "prizes"? A few of these fabulous prizes are card tables, smoking stands, cameras, dolls, large and small sail boats, toy electric stoves, men's traveling sets, poker chips, and hundreds of other worth while prizes.

The Midway will be open from 10 a. m. until midnight. Many of the barkers are now "skilled barkers" of many years' experience. They will enjoie you to their particular stand and instruct you in the art of playing the game. You'll have a hilarious time and probably a "buck-ache" on Sunday, but who cares? It's Spring isn't it? It's all in fun isn't it? It's all for Charity, isn't it? Well, then let's go!

Snacks. — "A Cup of Coffee, A Sandwich and You." This year there will be no supper. Instead the Snack Bar will function from 10 a. m. until 12 p. m., if the food holds out.

This booth will be located in the Small Town Hall. In charge is Mrs. D Townley-Tuson with Mrs. Charles W. Lovejoy and Mrs. E. Ober Pride as co-chairmen. These ladies are all experienced caterers of food. They will dispense ham, egg salad, and chicken salad sandwiches throughout the day. Also doughnuts and coffee.

Plan to spend the day at the Fair Grounds and have luncheon in the little Town Hall.

Choop suey and noodles, cole slaw and rolls are on the menu at noon, all for the moderate price of 50 cents. Yummy dessert will also be served extra. At night you may partake of their delectable baked beans, cold ham, rolls, cole slaw, and dessert.

Coffee, milk, and soft drinks will quench your thirst. When you smell the pungent odors emitting from the Town Hall, you will not be able to resist sampling the food at the Snack Bar.

Tea. — "Tea for Two." Just off Melody Lane, in the attractive Pergola, will be situated the Tea booth appropriately named "Tea for Two." Here one can get away from the gay confusion and enjoy watching the swans in the Aberjona, while partaking of a refreshing cup of tea. Mrs. Roland W. Fletcher as chairman with Mrs. Dorothy Hall as co-chairman are in charge. These two ladies are famous for their cooking knowledge. Be sure and visit the Pergola for super-duper sandwiches and tempting cakes all for 50 cents.

Dance. — "Ten Cents a Dance." Mrs. Herbert Todd Wadsworth

MARY LOUISE WOOD

TO ACCOMPANY MYSTIC GLEE CLUB

Musicians know that one of the most difficult and enviable arts in musical talent is that of piano accompaniment. It has often been said that a good accompanist is born, not made. It is a special talent, and a very rare one, requiring a keen feeling for music as well as technical skill.

Such a musician is Mary Louise Wood of 267 Appleton street, Arlington, accompanist for the Mystic Glee Club since 1941. Those who have heard her recognize the club's good fortune. A graduate of the New England Conservatory of Music, Mrs. Wood studied under the widely known Mme. Antoinette Szumowska, and has played with instrumental trios throughout New England and Florida. She has also taught piano for several years in Arlington.

Her playing reflects the refinement that is one of her obvious possessions. Her assistance to Director William Cruger is most noticeable in the way she sets the mood for the selections, aiding his interpretation with understanding and deft skill. In addition to her artistry, her warm and gracious personality has endeared her to every man in the club.

No small part of the enjoyment for the audience will come from hearing Mary Louise Wood accompany the club at the concert to be held next Friday, May 9, at 8:15 p. m. in the High School auditorium. This is the annual spring concert of this fine Mystic Valley civic choral organization. Approximately 300 sponsoring members are supporting this group this year, and the men have worked hard to perfect the music for what they hope will be their best concert, thus rewarding their loyal patrons, and inspiring others to join their membership in the seasons to come.

The guest soloist for this May 9 concert is the nationally known concert baritone, John Herrick, of New York, who has been getting some of the more important concert and oratorio assignments in the country in recent months. It is hoped that many Winchester music lovers will be certain to attend this splendid concert. This is your club; well trained, and a credit to our community.

FIREMAN'S EXAM IN JUNE

The Civil Service Commission has announced that an examination for entrance to the Winchester Fire Department as a private will be held in Boston during June in connection with the state-wide examination for firemen to be held at that time.

Five members of the Winchester Fire Department took the examination for captain in the local department at the high school last Saturday. They were Officers J. Edward Noonan and Ray Hanscom, and Privates Edward D. Fitzgerald Frank Amico and John Pearson.

MR. JEFFERSON GUEST SPEAKER

Mr. Tennyson Jefferson, postal inspector in charge of Boston, was the guest speaker at the Rotary Club's regular meeting yesterday noon.

Vin Ambrose introduced Mr. Jefferson to the members and told a little of the type of work he has been doing. Mr. Jefferson has been in the postal service for over 30 years and his wide and varied experiences provided a very interesting talk. As in inspector he was able to present actual cases that he had worked on and also stressed the fact that everyone was able to help by constructive criticism of any nature to come under Postal jurisdiction.

It was announced that Dr. Benson would be in charge of the entertainment program for the next meeting. All members are urged to be present. Try and make this meeting 100 percent.

WINCHESTER MEETS BLOOD QUOTA

Help of Local Organizations Proves Invaluable

More than 140 persons called the Red Cross to offer a pint of blood toward Winchester's 125 pint quota in the Massachusetts Blood program last Tuesday, April 29. Most of these people represented leading Winchester service organizations which gladly assisted the Red Cross in soliciting donors among their members. Without their help, the quota would never have been met. Donations were received from the following organizations:

American Legion and Auxiliary
Boggs & Cobb
College Club
Congregational Business and Professional Women's Clubs
Elks
En Ka
Fortnightly
Grange
Immaculate Conception Church
League of Women Voters
Lincoln School Mothers' Assoc.

Nurses Aides
Rotary Club
Sons of Italy and Ladies' Lodge
Unitarian Women's Alliance
Veterans of Foreign Wars
Visiting Nurse Association
Water Department
Winchester Hospital Staff

Wyman School Mothers' Assoc.

Special thanks also go to Mr. Fred Dodge, Mr. Stafford Rogers, Mr. Parker Holbrook and the Boston Edison Company for contributing time, materials and display space for advertising the program, and to Mr. Francis McFeeley for donating innumerable odd jobs entailed in equipping the Center. To the Unitarian Church the program is once again indebted for the use of Metcalf Hall and adjoining kitchen facilities.

Those only five donors could be cared for during each 15 minute period at the Blood Center, another "Winchester Day" will be held in the Fall to take care of donors who were turned away and others who wish to donate.

FIORE—SULLIVAN

Miss Margaret Frances Sullivan of 281 Washington street, daughter of the late Robert H. Sullivan, and Peter John Fiore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orazio Fiore of 43 Spruce street, were married Sunday afternoon, April 27, at St. Mary's Rectory by the pastor of St. Mary's Church, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan.

Miss Sullivan was attended by her sister, Mrs Richard Cooper of Medford, and American Fiore of Winchester was best man for his brother.

The bride wore an azure blue wool suit with a gray straw hat trimmed with a blue bow to match her suit and a pink orchid corsage. Her accessories were gray. Mrs. Cooper's accessories were navy, to match her wool suit. Her hat was of white felt trimmed with cut leaves and a navy bow, and she wore a corsage of tea roses combined with valley lilies.

Mrs. Fiore is a graduate of Winchester High School. Mr. Fiore, a member of the Sons of Italy Lodge in Winchester, is assistant manager of the Warren Restaurant in Worcester.

GUILD OF THE INFANT SAVIOUR

The Winchester Country Club was the scene of one of the most colorful and most successful bridge parties Wednesday when over 200 members and friends of the Winchester Chapter gathered there on the occasion of their annual spring bridge.

One hundred and forty-five members attended a very well prepared luncheon prior to the bridge. Geraniums were the table prizes. The prizes disposed of by chances were won by Mrs. John Doherty of Kenilworth Road, Mrs. Harry Costello and Mrs. John Ryan of Winchester and Mrs. F. F. Hannon of Medford.

Preparations are now well underway for the annual Communion breakfast which will take place in Lyceum Hall on Sunday, May 18. Mr. David Goldstein will be the guest speaker.

The meeting on May 13 has been postponed and our spring season will close with a bang-up bridge on Tuesday, May 20 at Lyceum Hall, with Mesdames McGaragle, Cavanaugh, Doyle and Lennon in charge.

MISS PENTA SHOWERED

Miss Camille Penta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Penta, was given a miscellaneous shower on the evening of April 19 by her seven sisters at their home, 336 Washington street. About 100 relatives and friends attended the party which was in honor of Miss Penta's approaching marriage to Mr. Joseph Figueia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Figueia of Conn street, Woburn.

Miss Penta received many beautiful and useful gifts and was also presented with a purse of money.

After the packages were opened refreshments were served and piano selections were played by Miss Marion Wynne of Holland street and Mrs. John Flaherty of Washington street.

WINCHESTER CIRCLE FLORENCE CRITTENTON LEAGUE

The annual meeting and tea was held at the attractive home of Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, 16 Everett avenue at 3 p. m. with a large attendance of members and their guests present.

The Rev. Dwight W. Hadley of the Church of the Epiphany gave the opening prayer.

Mrs. Richard Harlow, president of the Circle presided at the annual business meeting at which time many interesting reports of the year's activities were given by the officers and chairmen of the various committees.

Mrs. Richard Harlow, president
Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin, 1st Vice President
Mrs. Reginald Bradlee, 2nd Vice President
Mrs. Edward E. Kuypers, Recording Secretary
Mrs. Donald F. Connors, Corresponding Secretary
Mrs. Frederick W. Aseltine, Director for 1 year
Mrs. Walter Winship, Director for 2 years
Mrs. Harold F. Meyer, Director for 3 years.

After the business meeting had been concluded, a varied and entertaining program was presented. Due to the sudden illness of Ruth McGowan Libby, the scheduled artist, Mrs. Lillian Given Beasley, a Boston soprano graciously substituted and rendered well selected and charming group of songs. She was accompanied by Mary Ranton Witham, who as always with her gracious manner and talent added so much to the program.

Miss Mildred Given, sister of Mrs. Beasley presented a most varied and amusing group of monologues portraying characters of several different nationalities. The highlight of the program was the stirring poem composed and read by Miss Given and then the poem which had been set to music and published was sung by Mrs. Beasley who gave a most beautiful musical interpretation of her sister's composition.

Tea and refreshments were served by Mrs. Carl G. Richmond and her committee, Mrs. Charles Wansker and Mrs. William C. Cusack poured.

SEAGER REMOVED AS GREEK AIRLINE DIRECTOR

Cedric H. Seager, whose wife is the former Gertrude Packer, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. William S. Packer of Yale street, was removed forcibly on Wednesday from the office of the Greek National Airline in Athens where he has been serving as an American director. News reports from Greece which tell of his removal say it was brought about by a court order which vested control of the line in a five man commission.

Mr. Seager served during the war as military attache in Turkey with the rank of colonel in the United States Army. Previously a British subject, he became an American citizen in 1941. He visited Winchester last summer and since then has been living in Athens with his wife and their two children, Elizabeth Louise, 13; and Walter, 7.

Following his ejection from the Athens office by police, Mr. Seager declared the court action was unfair to American and British interests and said he was protesting to the United States embassy. A spokesman said the embassy was "closely following" developments.

Mr. Seager said only one member of the new commission was an American, John M. Davenport, Athens regional director of TWA.

The effect of the court order Mr. Seager asserted, would be to place virtual control in the hands of Stevens Zotos, a Greek whose connection with the company as managing director ended two months ago after a disagreement over issuance of stock.

HERBERT L. BALDWIN HONORED

Herbert L. Baldwin of 5 Ardley place, publicity manager of the Boston & Maine Railroad was one of five persons signally honored by the Advertising Club of Boston at the Hotel Statler last Tuesday.

Mr. McGrath spent much time and effort during the past year in directing the entertainment program of this committee and in the distribution of cards, cribbage boards, radios, flowers and slippers to the various, Army, Navy and Veterans' hospitals throughout the State.

Among the programs to be continued this year by the State Association, in addition to the hospital program, is that of cancer research, youth sports, and scholarship awards. GEORGE BRYNE HAS A BIRTHDAY

Mr. George M. Bryne of Copley street, former chairman of Selectmen, widely known marine contractor and long-time member of the Republican Town Committee, had a birthday party Wednesday at the City Club in Boston.

Just what birthday he was celebrating George refused to state, but that he is far from a "dead one" many will testify who have recently been involved with him in local politics.

George had a long-standing engagement to have lunch with his friend, Arthur W. Weston at noon Wednesday. Mr. Weston piloted George to a private dining-room and when the door was opened, George was greeted by 30 of his best friends who had quietly assembled to wish him a happy birthday—and was George's face red?

It was evident that his friends were unanimous in their choice of a gift for George as he presented with a beautiful bric-a-brac, and the one he has been carrying for 30 years or more was placed on exhibition. A solemn pause was voted for the old case.

The principal speaker was Channing H. Cox, former Governor and now President of the Boston Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Cox reviewed several incidents of his early political campaigns in which Mr. Bryne was a very active lieutenant of the Governor's campaign committee. He also paid tribute for the excellent work done by Mr. Bryne during the period when George was one of the trustees of the Eastern Mass. Street Railway. Other speakers included Arthur D. Weston, Chief Engineer, Sanitary Division of the State Health Department and William A. Fisher, former Traffic Commissioner for the City of Boston.

Other guests included Senator Harris S. Richardson, Herman A. Macdonald, State Appelate Tax Board, William T. Morrissey, Chairman Metropolitan District Commission, Thomas H. McGarry, Vice-President Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company, Benjamin Davis, Chief Engineer M. D. C., Parker Holbrook of Winchester, Joseph P. Dever, former Associate Commissioner of Public Works, Francis O. P. Carlson of the Division of Corporations and Taxation, Mr. Bryne's two sons, George and John, William E. Ramsdell, Edward T. Murphy, U. S. Engineer (retired) and several of Mr. Bryne's employees.

Telegrams and letters were received from Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Congressman Joseph Martin, Speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, Governor Robert F. Bradford, and Hon. Sven A. Mylner of St. Thomas, Virgin Islands.

The party was declared a complete success.

St. Mary's Church has at present on its altar two Easter plants, one with rose and one with ten blossoms, the gift of Mr Jos. Fentross of Bonad road.

Mr. Fentross, control technician for the Yankee Network, was given the plants by Mr. William Burton, Bermuda representative of the Pan-American Airlines who was Washington's guest of the Yankee Network's "Kaltenborn Edits News."

Mr. Burton left Bermuda with the plants at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning, arriving in Boston at noon. After the broadcast he gave the plants to Mr. Fentross, who worked with him on the program and the latter brought them to Winchester, they being placed on the altar at 3 o'clock. WYMAN SCHOOL FASHION SHOW

A smartly dressed audience, which might have staged a fashion show in its own right, crowded the auditorium and kindergarten room of the Wyman School on the afternoon of Wednesday, April 23, to see a display of the latest fashions as presented by Filene's and modeled by Wyman School mothers.

Mrs. Janet Jordan of Filene's, already well known to fashion show audiences here, called attention to the significant style trends revealed in each costume as the models mounted the tastefully decorated stage, while Mrs. George Witham, at the piano, furnished a delightful musical background. All types of costumes, ranging from sports wear to afternoon dresses and evening gowns, were displayed to great advantage by Mrs. Albert Swazey, Mrs. Wallace Miller, Mrs. George Marks, Mrs. Roswell Barnard, Mrs. Harold French, Mrs. William McGill, Mrs. William Speers, Mrs. Edward Peabody, Mrs. John Lynch, Mrs. Ellsworth Nichols, Mrs. Clark Staples, Mrs. Robert Abbott, Mrs. Langley Keyes, and Mrs. George Blackwood.

During a brief intermission the drawing for the $50 certificate at the Hancock Stores was made and announced, the lucky winner being Mrs. Michael S. Bales of 195 Cambridge street.

Credit for the great success of the fashion show goes to Mrs. James Dwinell, chairman of the ways and means committee of the Wyman School Mothers' Association, together with her co-chairman, Mrs. Hazen Ayer, and a committee consisting of Mrs. Philip Wadsworth, Mrs. Philip Woodward, Mrs. John Gibbons, Mrs. Ronald Wyman, Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood, Mrs. Everett Stone, Mrs. J. Warren Shoemaker, and Mrs. George Witham.

Previous to the fashion show, coffee and dessert were served by Mrs. Warren Shoemaker and her committe, whose members included Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. R. H. B. Smith, Mrs. Paul Roerig, Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, Mrs. Thomas Kirwan, Mrs. John McLean, Mrs. Frank T. Connolly, and Mrs. Evander French. Thanks are also due to a large and efficient group of waitresses and to those who contributed to the delectable homemade dessert.

ERNEST VON EVANS

Ernest Von Evans of 207 Beach street, Wollaston, who died April 23, is a former Winchester boy who will be remembered by older residents of the town. He had a shock at Christmas but had made a remarkable recovery, being able to get about until April 14 when he had a second shock from which he failed to rally.

Mr. Evans was born March 6, 1901, in Chelsea, the son of Frederick H. and Barbara (Thomas) Evans. He came to Winchester as a boy, his father having been a meat-cutter at Richardson's Market and later proprietor of a small food shop on Main street near Converse place.

Mr Evans attended Winchester High School, from which he was graduated in the class of 1911 and was active as a cunoeist at the Winchester Boat Club, also serving for several years as usher at the First Church of Christ Scientist in Winchester.

At the time of World War I he enlisted in the United States Navy, receiving the rating of machinist's mate, first class, after attending the Columbia University Gas and Engine School and serving on dispatch boats out of New York.

After the war Mr. Evans moved to Lancaster, N. H., making that city his headquarters while serving as representative of the International Harvester Company with territory north of Concord. Returning to Boston, he became associated with Horace Martin in the Live Leather Belt Company, serving as general manager of the plant. For more than 20 years before his death he had been employed at the Fore River Shipyards as an electrician and crane operator.

He was a 32nd degree Mason, a member of Wollaston Post, 295, the American Legion, and an officer of the Wollaston War Parents Association.

On March 1, 1922, Mr. Evans married Esther Nutter of Woodsville, N. H., who survives him, with a son, Robbie, 23, and a daughter, Joan 19, all of Wollaston.

Funeral services were held last Saturday forenoon at the Russell Funeral Home in Wollaston with the Rev. William B. Ayers, pastor of the Wollaston Congregational Church, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

Over 250 boys below high school age competed in round robin tournaments and received instruction in basketball fundamentals as the Saturday morning sessions operated for the second season. Athletic Director Henry Knowlton reports that 150 boys from the town's fifth and sixth grades took part in the program, and Physical Education Instructor Alfred Muerling of the Junior High School reported 112 boys of the seventh and eighth grades in his two groups.

Coach Knowlton reported 11 teams in the fifth grade league and 11 in the sixth grade league. As a result of the play-off games, "Five Kings" from the Washington School were declared champions of the sixth graders. The "Flying Yanks" of the Lincoln School won the fifth grade championship.

Gymnasiums were opened at 8.30 and remained open until 12.30 every Saturday morning from Jan. 11 until March 29 with the exception of Feb. 22. Each group of boys was given a full one and one half hour period for instruction and games.

LEXINGTON TRACK MEN TOPPED WINCHESTER

Lexington High's track and field forces proved too potent for Winchester last Friday afternoon, winning in the cold and rain, 58½ to 18½, at Lexington.

Winchester got but one first, big John West getting out the shot 44 ft. 4 in. to cop this event easily. Bill Whittemore, who distanced all Lexington competition in the shot at Concord, failed to place in the shot and Ted Covert, Winchester's best distance runner, was shut out of the mile, won in 4m. 59s, which ought to be easy for him. Dillingham and Sorokin got seconds in the dashes and Sargent in the half mile.

WINCHESTER WON LEAGUE OPENER

Winchester High won its opening game in the Middlesex League series Saturday afternoon on Leonard Field, beating Reading High, 5-3. The game was postponed from the day previous when rain halted play with the teams deadlocked, 2-2, after only two innings.

Dave Eldredge went the route for Winchester and it wasn't till the 8th that Reading was able to put over a run. Dave balked in this tally after a hit, a fielder's choice and a base on balls had got the runner around to third.

Reading put over two in the 9th. Dacey hit to right and Duggan walked. On Martin's rap to Horn, Dacey was erased at third, but Gillis hit over second to bring in Duggan and White's hit to right brought in Martin.

Winchester put over two in the second. Ken Donaghey hit past third and stole second, going to third as White tossed out Switzer. Eldredge walked and stole second, scoring behind Donaghey as "Hinkey" Horne rapped a timely single over second base into center field. Horne also stole, but Martin threw out Olivier and Roche fanned.

The locals had a big 6th. Blanchard opened with a hit through short and stole second. Slack fanned but Donaghey walked and Blanchard got around to third. Switzer laid down a pretty bunt, scoring Blanchard and reaching first safely for a hit. Eldredge's hit to left filled the bases, and Horne's second hit, a single to right, brought in Donaghey and Switzer. Duggan took hoists by Olivier and Roche to end the rally.

Coach Knowlton was pleased with the showing of two sophomores, Ken Donaghey, who topped off a nice job behind the bat with a perfect day at bat, and "Hinkey" Horn, who replaced the veteran Eddie Hicks at shortstop and drove in five runs.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

WINCHESTER BOAT CLUB READY FOR BANNER SEASON

Rumor has it that Commodore Martin Swanson named Eddie Cantor chairman of the Club's Weather Committee. More than a few club members suspect this rumor to be true for how else can he justify the appalling lack of "sun" since the "Merry Manor on the Mystic" opened for business the past Patriot's Day? We'd like to suggest that if this serious situation hasn't altered by the time this epistle appears in print, that the good Commodore get off a wire to Bing Crosby at once.

Under the capable direction of Steward Ed Kent, (who's back for '47) the club's been made as bright and neat as a new Easter bonnet and ready for the many activities that are so thoroughly enjoyed throughout the season by its members. The entertainment committee is already hard at work on the initial "opening party" which we'll give you full details next week. A half dozen moorings are bobbing about in the water although, as yet, no Snipes have been launched.

Some of the hardier fishermen members of the club have taken some really fancy fish and the seesaw has been almost perpetually in motion, thanks to the endless, I mean ceaseless stream of youngsters who just can't wait for warmer weather to get started. Half a dozen boats are being reconditioned at the club and reports from the other sailors in and around Winchester indicate there'll be a goodly number of starters in the first race, May 11.

Commodore Martin Swanson and his many capable committees are planning renewal of many of last year's popular gatherings and features and a host of new ones that are sure to make this an outstanding season. One of the most exciting weeks should prove to be the week of July 14th when the club plays host to the entrants in the National SCIRA (Snipe Class International Racing Association) championships at Marblehead and then has a regatta of its own on the Mystic over the week-end. It'll afford a splendid opportunity for the club members to meet the country's outstanding Snipe sailors and make friends with a grand bunch from all over the nation.

But to get back to the club, Saturday, May 3, is "Dock Dunking" Day. All you hibernating huskies are cordially invited to bring your bulging biceps and hurly backs to the club at 2 p. m. and help hoist the floats into the drink. See ya' then.

KEY ADVERTISING SPEAKER AT ART ASSOCIATION MEETING ON MAY 6

Mr. Arthur Wolfrum, Art Director for Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osborne, one of the best known advertising agencies in the country will be the lively and entertaining speaker on Tuesday evening, May 6, at 7.45 p. m. in the Gallery of the Public Library, when the Winchester Art Association enjoys its May meeting. "Commercial Art" is the theme of the evening and the walls of the Gallery will exhibit work of many prominent and important commercial artists of Boston.

The speaker, Mr. Wolfrum, will give his audience a glimpse into the practical side of art, and show just how it is used to create "customer appeal". As an Art Director, liason man between the artist and the public, he will give some of his personal experiences—which will provide his audience with a very interesting evening.

The exhibition is one which will draw keen attention of every Association member and those who see the exhibition during the month, for there will be great variety in the work of the artists, and students and advertising men, as well as those who paint and draw "for Art's sake" will enjoy the examples shown. The splendid exhibition is sponsored in great part by the Art Director's Club of Boston, of which Mr. Wolfrum is president.

In charge of the "Commercial Art" program for Tuesday evening will be Mr. William Mason and Mr. Forrest Orr. Mr. Charles H. Watkins will preside.

CUTTING PRICES!

At the beginning of this year we announced in the Star and at our store that we would start cutting prices as soon as the cost of raw materials would permit.

Prices, instead of dropping, have gone higher. Flour, our basic material, has advanced tremendously.

We are tired of waiting and decided to make our own start in bringing down prices.

Our Famous...

FRESH APPLE PIES 52c

Cutting prices in our small food shop will have little affect on inflated prices in general. However, if our start accomplishes no more than to let our friends in Winchester know that we sincerely appreciate their generous patronage, we will consider the cost worth while.

FRED M. ALLEN

Retired M. D. C. Superintendent Former Winchester Resident

Fred M. Allen, retired superintendent of maintenance for the Metropolitan District Commission, who died Saturday at Oak Bluffs, was a former resident of Winchester and widely known to residents of the town through his long connection with the local Metropolitan parkway system. He was until his retirement several years ago in charge of maintenance of the parkway from High street in Medford to the Fish Hatchery, now the Boy Scout Headquarters on Border road, including the Woburn Parkway and Fresh Pond in Melrose.

Mr. Allen was the son of Fred and Sarah (Smith) Allen. He was born in St. John, N. B., July 3, 1870, coming to this country as a young man and serving in the army before entering the employ of the M. D. C., then the Metropolitan Park System.

For a time he served on the Metropolitan Police, but later asked to be transferred to a civilian employee and was assigned to maintenance on the local Parkways. For years he and his bicycle were familiar to residents of Winchester before the M. D. C. services became motorized.

Before coming to Winchester Mr. Allen lived in West Medford. He made his home at 252 Highland avenue from 1927 to 1935, returning to West Medford, before taking up residence at Oak Bluffs nine years ago. He leaves his wife, Lorena; a son, and a daughter, Mrs. F. I. Courtney of Salem.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at the Whitney Funeral Home in Melrose with Rev. John L. Cairns, pastor of the Melrose Methodist Church, officiating. Interment was in Wyoming Cemetery, Melrose.

LUNCHEON TO BE SERVED AT SMITH COLLEGE CLUB PLANT SALE

Tickets are now on sale at the Knit Shop on Thompson street for the luncheon to be served from 12 until 2 o'clock on Saturday, May 17, at the Smith College Club Plant Sale at Central Green for the benefit of the college's $7,000,000 fund drive in this region.

The deadline for luncheon reservations is May 12, and they may be made with the luncheon chairman, Mrs. Harold V. Farnsworth at Win. 1680, or at the Knit Shop. All four lovely homes at Central Green will be opened for the luncheon and the gardens are expected to be especially beautiful on that day.

Assisting Mrs. Farnsworth on the committee are Mrs. Robert B. Abbott, Mrs. Harold B. Beebe, Mrs. Robert B. Blackler, Mrs. M Reynolds Clark, Mrs. Clark Collins, Mrs. Norman Cushman, Mrs. Maxwell Fish, Mrs. Harold F French, Mrs. Merton E. Grush, Miss Helen A. Hall, Mrs Kenneth S. Hall, Miss V. Pauline Hayden, Mrs. Alfred H. Hildreth, Mrs. Paul Lamb, Mrs. Harrison F Lyman, Mrs. Robert Metcalf, Mrs. Raymond MacDonald, Mrs. Benjamin T. Marshall, Jr., Mrs. Clarence L. Miller, Mrs. Harry S Parsons, Miss Beatrice Putnam, Mrs. N. P. Simpson, Mrs. Charles E. Thornton, Mrs. Charles H. Tozier, Mrs. Bowen Tufts, Mrs. Prescott F. Wild and Mrs. Howard H. P. Wright. Mrs. Robert Smith is in charge of waitresses who will be some of the younger club members and girls at the college.

The plant committee, headed by Mrs. William L. Davis, Mrs. Henry K. Spencer and Mrs. Clarence P. Whorf is appreciative of the many advance orders which have been received, and order blanks can be obtained at the Knit Shop. They have arranged to have a varied supply of annuals, perennials, and the same kind of tomato plants which have proven so popular with their customers, for sale that day beginning at 10 a. m.

Mrs. Raymond S. Wilkins and her committee are busily planning all kinds of home cooked foods for the food table, and they will also have candy on sale.

Hand done leather goods, including thong sandals and novel leather belts will also be available. Miss Virginia Drew, Smith 1925, noted graphologist, will donate her services to the club, and will analyze samples of handwriting from noon until 3 o'clock.

The drawing for the $100 credit at Filene's will be made at 2:30 p. m. under the direction of Miss Adelaide Homer, general chairman of the day's activities. Subscriptions may be bought from any club member in this district.

No admission fee to Central Green will be charged, and everyone is urged to attend the sale, enjoy the delicious luncheon, the attractive setting, and avail themselves of an excellent opportunity to buy unusually fine plants for their gardens.

MORNING MUSICALE BY THE FORTNIGHTLY SINGERS

Through the kindness of Mrs. Reginald Bradlee a spring musicale will be given at her home, 6 Ledgewood road, on Thursday, May 15, under the auspices of the Music Committee of the Fortnightly. Choral selections of delightful springtime feeling have been prepared by the Fortnightly Singers under their director, Mary Ranton Witham, and their accompanist, Lucy Wilcox Cushman.

The group has been notable this year for its sensitive response to Mrs. Witham's artistic interpretations. It sang unusual and lovely carols as part of the Fortnightly Christmas program, repeating them later in a vesper service at the Unitarian Church and in a broadcast over NBC network on Christmas night. On Passion Sunday afternoon the Fortnightly Singers augmented the Unitarian choir in a program of rare devotional music. Comprising the Fortnightly group at present are Blanche S. Barnard, Olive Bird, Suzanne Burr, Sophia Gardner, Elizabeth Gardner, Nellie Hultgren, Mary Hyde, Louise Kelly, Elizabeth MacLeod, Katherine Meserve, Betty Mouradian, Martha Schnedl, Mabelle Wright, Idabelle Winship, Madeleine Zimmerman, and Caroline Fitts, chairman of the Music Committe.

To the great pleasure of the committee, Mrs. Helen Bedford, the well-known harpist, has consented to take part in this coming musicale. The beauty of her music is appreciated throughout New England, and Winchester is fortunate on this opportunity to hear her in the lovely setting of Mrs. Bradlee's home.

At 10:15 a. m., just previous to the music program, coffee will be served under the direction of Mrs. John A. Billings, and Mrs. C. M. Jenkins, chairmen of the Social Committee.

This will be a public meeting.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB SANG AT CUSHING HOSPITAL

Last Sunday evening 34 members of the Mystic Glee Club traveled out to Framingham to sing at the Cushing General Hospital under the auspices of the U. S. O. An unusually large group of patients enjoyed the progrom rendered by the club. The concert was opened by Romberg's "Great Day" and concluded with the ever popular "Whiffenpoof Song."

Assisting the Mystic Glee Club was Miss Mildred E. Zwicker, well known to many in Winchester as a teacher at the Wyman School and as soloist at the First Baptist Church. Miss Zwicker's beautiful lyric soprano voice was heard in two groups of songs. Her charming presentation of "Ave Maria" by Schubert, "Because" and "Only Make Believe" were unquestionably well received by the large group of veterans of World War II.

Having only recently appeared in a similar concert at the Bedford Hospital, the men of the Mystic Glee Club have found another outlet for benefitting charitable causes made possible by the financial assistance of the Sponsoring Membership.

Important Notice To Our Patrons:

On Sunday, May 4, special zone fares will be changed from 5c cash to 6¼c tickets (4 rides for 25c). If you do not have these tickets, the fare is 10c cash. It is not our desire to have you pay 10c cash fare for a 6¼c ride.

GIRL SCOUTS

Tomorrow, all Girl Scout Hospital Aides and Seniors are invited for a tour of the Mass General Hospital, and are to meet at the 9.55 a. m. train. Student nurses will conduct us through the wards, operating rooms, class rooms, nurses' home, and the famous ether dome. On May 3 the same invitation is extended to the Scouts of the seventh and eighth grades.

Next Tuesday afternoon, May 6, at 3.15, Troop 1, the Storrow troop, is presenting a puppet show at the First Baptist Church for all Girl Scouts, Brownies through Senior.

Members of the troop made all the puppets and the scenery, and stage managed the entire production, having adult assistance only in the construction of the stage itself, which fathers were kind enough to make. This show has been given but once before, at the Troop Committee meeting last week, where it was most enthusiastically received.

On Thursday, May 8, leaders, assistant leaders and their troop committees are urged to attend the Spring Area Training all-day conference at the Congregational Church in Wakefield, where they will meet their counterparts in the organizations of the allied communities.

The sessions start at 10.30 and the morning will be given up to "interest groups", separating into small discussion units on the different phases of program, and out-of-door skills.

In the afternoon we are fortunate enough to have the author of many of our Girl Scout song books, our authority on singing games and dances, Miss Janet Tobitt. If you cannot stay for the whole day, plan to come for either half. Call the office, Win. 2592, to learn arrangements.

Roland H. Parker was the speaker at the combined meeting of 21 Clubs (Republican) held last week in Cambridge.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

The annual meeting of the Winchester League of Women Voters will be held at the home of Mrs Ralph M. Sparks, 45 Cabot street, on Thursday, May 8, at 2:30 p. m. The business meeting this year is particularly important because of the fact that both a new set of by-laws and a local program for 1947-48 will be adopted.

Mrs. Wilbert E. Underwood and her committee have been working for some time on this new set of by-laws incorporating several suggestions made by the State and National League. At the same time Mrs. Philip Woodward and her committee have been drawing up a program of objectives for which the local league will work during the next year. League members will have received in the mail copies of both these reports and it is hoped that a large representation of the membership will be at the May meeting to vote on these matters. The usual reports of officers and committee chairmen will be given, followed by the election of officers.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Mrs. William E. Minot of Cambridge. She will speak on "Plan E". Mrs. Rowland V. Patrick is in charge of the program and Mrs. William Spaulding will preside.

MASS. CATHOLIC WOMAN'S GUILD

The Winchester Branch of the Mass. Catholic Woman's Guild will meet at the home of Treasurer Julia Fitzgerald, 165 Washington street, Thursday, May 8, at 8 p. m.

The newly elected officers of the Branch will be installed at a state gathering of the Mass. Catholic Woman's Guild on June 1 at the Copley Plaza Hotel. A tea in their honor will be held immediately following the installation ceremonies.

MISS SHIRLEY GODWIN TO WED

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Godwin of Commonwealth avenue, Boston, and formerly Winchester residents making their home at Wedgemere on the Mystic Valley Parkway announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Shirley Godwin, to Mr. Frederick Pabst Goodrich, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick P. Goodrich of Daytona Beach, Fla., and Cuttyhunk Island.

Miss Godwin was graduated from the Brimmer May School and Edgewood Park Junior College and is attending the Garland School. She made her debut in the 1943-44 season.

Mr. Goodrich is a graduate of Pomfret School and is a student at Williams College, where he is a member of Delta Upsilon fraternity. During the war he served with the USAAF for three years, two of which were spent in Europe.

"NIGHT OF JANUARY 16TH"

A comedy drama in three acts by Ayn Rand, presented by the Parish Players of the First Congregational Church, directed by John N. Hall, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, April 24, 25 and 26, with the following cast:

Prosecuting Attorney . . . Vivian P. Ballard
Bailiff . . . Hobart L. Smith
Judge Heath . . . Robert P. Hoke
Defense Attorney Nicolas . . . Diane J. Kees
Defense Attorney Scudder . . . Donald V. Hills
Clerk of the Court . . . Donald R. MacArthur
Sonya Andre . . . Marion T. Hoke
Dr. Kirkland . . . Charles A. Godsell, Jr.
Mrs. John Harding . . . Janet Nichols Dalrymple
Homer Van Fleet . . . George E. Connor
Elmer Sweeney . . . Nathan Thumim
Nancy Lee Faulkner . . . Connie Bond Hessler
Magna Svenson . . . Enid Straw Chamberlin
John Graham Whitfield . . . J. Waldo Bond
Jane Chandler . . . Marjorie McIaw
Siguard Jungquist . . . George E. Connor
Larry Regan . . . John S. Ball
Roberta Van Rensselaer . . . Rosalind K. Young
Marjorie B. Clarke
Stenographer . . . William J. Callahan
Policeman . . .

"Night of January 16th" portrays the trial of Karen Andre, secretary, who is charged with murdering her employer, Jon Faulker, industrialist, on that date. The players gave a first rate performance, both the prosecution and defense being sufficiently convincing to cause the four juries, selected from the audiences at the dress rehearsal and three performances to divide, two for acquittal and two for conviction.

The Players maintained an excellent pace and a good cast did well with a play that is cleverly written to lighten tenseness with humor and to include several finely drawn characters. Audience interest was held closely with the average judgment fluctuating between "guilty" and "not guilty" as the various witnesses were interrogated by the district attorney and counsel for the defense.

The show is really a succession of episodes as the witnesses take the stand, so that most of the members of the big cast are called upon to make an important contribution to the development of the plot. Space forbids individual comment on each of the witnesses. Each played his or her part well. The audience seemed especially pleased with Mrs. Dalrymple as the colored janitress, with Mr. Thumim as the equally laughable Irish copper and Mr. Connor, who played both Homer Van Fleet, a foppish private detective, and Siguard Jungquist, former convict and bookkeeper for the murdered magnate.

As Jungquist Mr. Connor did one of the best bits of character acting yet seen in the Little Theatre, playing the smouldering Swede with an intensity that was gripping. His snarling fiery brush with the D. A. was one of the emotional highlights of the show, strongly done by both actors.

Mr. Kelly, a lawyer by the way, was excellent as the district attorney, playing the part in finished fashion and having his voluminous lines at the tip of his often fast-wagging tongue. His diction, even in the swiftest moving passages was excellent and he used his always good voice with telling effect.

Mr. Hills, the defense counsel, seemed less at home in his role and at times not too sure of his lines and business. His final summing, however, was well at production level and delivered with a sincerity that carried conviction.

Mrs. Blake's playing of the defendant, Karen Andre ranks with the Players' very best characterizations, outstanding from first to last. Her poise, masterly pointing of lines, facial expression and fine voice inflection enabled her to make her presence felt at all times and carried her, once heroics, to real heights in her big scenes with Mrs. Faulkner, the D. A. and Larry.

Several mention should be made of Miss McGaw's speaking voice. Others of the Players might well strive for her splendid diction. The size of the stage offered some difficulties in gaining the appearance of a real courtroom, but once the play got under way one did not notice too much and Officer William J. Callahan of "the force" did add a strictly professional touch.

Your reviewer thought Mr. Lybeck's jury did right in finding Karen guilty. That sudden tightening of Larry's collar as the D. A. asked him about the heat test for guns, seemed pretty conclusive.

SPINAZOLA—DAVIS

The marriage of Miss Patricia H. Davis of 1 Everett avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Davis, to Victor Lewis Spinazola of 4 Church street, Woburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spinazola, took place on Sunday afternoon, April 13, at St. Mary's Church. The pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, performed the ceremony at 4 o'clock in an attractive setting of Easter lilies, white carnations and sweet peas. A reception was held afterward at the Woburn Country Club.

Miss Davis was given in marriage by Frank Diorio of Winchester and had for her honor maid Miss Lee Adams of Somerville. Pauline Monroe of Somerville, Jennie Balkus of Wilmington, Margaret Spinazola of Woburn, sister of the bridegroom; and Rita Zanello, also of Woburn, were bridesmaids.

The bride wore a gown of white satin trimmed with French lace and seed pearls, and carried a cascade bouquet combining stephanotis and lilies of the valley with white orchids.

The honor maid wore a turquoise dress of frosted organdy and carried pink sweetheart roses. The bridesmaids wore identical gowns of yellow frosted organdy and carried matching roses.

Following a wedding journey to Canada Mr. and Mrs. Spinazola will make their home on Main street in Woburn.

MRS. FLORENCE M. SMITH

Mrs. Florence M. Smith, widow of Henry E. Smith and a native of Winchester, died suddenly Saturday, April 26, at the Lynn General Hospital. She made her home at 87 Baker street in Lynn.

Mrs. Smith was the daughter of Frank M., and Margaret (Connor) Nowell. She was born in Winchester Nov. 9, 1885, attended the Winchester schools and married Mr. Smith here Sept. 6, 1914. Her husband died last September.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Charles Meredith; and a son, Lawrence F. Smith, both of Lynn; by two sisters, Mrs. John H. Bennett and Mrs. Ella L. Fisher, both of Winchester; and three brothers, George R., William A., and James L. Nowell, all of this town.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the Lane Funeral Home with solemn requiem high mass celebrated at St. Mary's Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

MISS ELIZA WARD TWOMBLY

Miss Eliza Ward Twombly, formerly of 81 Wildwood street, a native and life-long resident of Winchester, died Sunday morning, April 27, after a long illness.

Miss Twombly was the daughter of William A., and Eva (Fuller) Twombly. She was born April 20, 1884, in the Twombly homestead at 81 Wildwood street, attended the Winchester schools and was graduated from Winchester High School. For a time she and her sister, the late Miss Alice Twombly, conducted the Mistress Mary Tea Room on Cambridge street adjacent to their home.

Private funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel with Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

JOHN T. SALYER DEAD

John Townsend Salyer, formerly of Winchester, died on Wednesday, April 23, at Interlaken, N. Y., after a long illness. He was born in Warren, Pa., May 19, 1899 and was the son of Mrs. Emayle (Townsend) Salyer and the late Charles B. Salyer. He spent seven or eight years of his life here, attending the public schools and graduating from the High School, where he played on the football team, in 1918. During World War I he served in the Marine Corps. Since leaving Winchester he spent a number of years in California and the last five years in Interlaken, where he was a member of the American Legion.

He is survived by his mother, his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth (Wrigley) Salyer, and one son, John Salyer, Jr. He also leaves a daughter by a former marriage, Miss Shirley Salyer of this town, and a sister, Mrs. Frederick Oliver of Sargent road, together with two brothers, Charles of Elmira, N. Y., and George of Rochester, N. Y.

Funeral services were held at Ovid, N. Y., on Saturday, April 26, at which place the interment took place.

Someone, last week, was making a quite a fuss about town—at the Post Office and the News Company, demanding to know how many copies of the Star are printed weekly. Why they did not ask the Star is easily imagined, but it is no secret. This week's edition is 5100 copies. During the year the weekly edition of the Star has been from 3100 to 3600 copies.

Editor of the Star:

Because of the predominate No vote in the recent school referendum, I am interested to make a few observations as a resident of the West Side Hill.

We have no school now and definitely won't have one ready for our kids to go into in the fall of 1948. There are many who now feel that we will be in the same boat in 1949 and well into the '50's.

A good many of those who worked hard to convince the voters that we needed to start this year to build a school in Precinct 4—(incidentally this is the only precinct in town without a school) now say "How will we ever relieve the acute condition at the Wyman School if only those served by the Wyman School vote favorably on this question. Is there such a thing as sectionalism in the Town of Winchester?"

I, personally, don't believe it. I honestly feel whether it be Precinct 6, or 1, 2, 3, 4 or 5 that we all want a better Winchester and the best that we can economically provide in educational facilities for our children. Also we all know and want to correct some of the troubles with the town due to its natural growth in population. For example; there is the terrific grade crossing problem in the center. Then the inadequacy of the Town Hall and Town Yard facilities and of course the most apparent of our inadequacies is the present overcrowded conditions of some of the elementary schools and the Junior and Senior High Schools. Last but not least is lack of recreation, space so apparent in the softball and baseball seasons.

We all want to better these conditions and many people can't forget that New England habit of ours, to say, "Let's wait a little while longer. We have lived with these as they are so long that to have it won't hurt to put it off." Put it off! Postpone! Delay! Wait! The concensus of the present put off movement seems to be because building costs are too high. However, who but a few self appointed forecasters can tell just when costs are going to be lower. We all want lower prices. You want them, I want them, Truman wants them, but we will only have lower prices when the supply of goods is greater than the demand. Your guess is as good as mine as to when that time will be.

Meanwhile our youngsters are crowded into a school built for 350 and now serving approximately 500. Some of these kids are being educated in a converted barn.

Come fall, in 1948 or 1949 or perhaps 1950 a.m. will be transported by bus to other schools, away from their playmates, to eat cold lunches, to school days they will dread.

This in spite of the fact that the Town Treasurer has over $700,000 of your money and mine, that can't be touched because we are waiting. Perhaps we are waiting for a complete breakdown of our whole town educational facilities, so that we will have to rush out and build five schools all at once—as our own history proves we once did.

To you citizens who voted No, all of us with youngsters in the crowded Wyman School address this plea. We hope and pray that someday soon you will give our kids a break, so that they can receive their education in decent facilities, consistent with the high standards we all want for the town in which we live.

Sincerely yours,
Daniel F. Barnard

CAN CHILDREN HELP?

Would your child like to share in the new Children's Hospital?

Would your child like to receive new usable activity gifts for children in the hospitals instead of for themselves on his birthday?

Can Winchester children thus start a commissary in the new hospital unit so that there will always be available new cut out dolls, crayons, pencils, books, for a child who needs them?

Harassed mothers who spend so much time and effort and money looking for something to please a child who already has a great deal may welcome this opportunity. They may also wish to allow their own child the privilege and pleasure of giving on their birthdays instead of receiving.

The child having the birthday should state on the invitations that if gifts are brought they should be of a nature suitable for this purpose instead of the usual personal gifts.

This has the approval of the Children's Hospital and they feel that any birthday child who takes in such gifts will be shown enough of the hospital to see how much the gifts are needed and appreciated.

Will your child share?

Mr. James H. Noonan, retired member of the Highway Department and well known resident of Sheridan Circle, is at the Winchester Hospital with a broken hip sustained Monday in a fall at his home.

Sometime during Tuesday, in the absence of the family, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred N. Denley on Maxwell road was entered and a quantity of valuable jewelry was taken from a dresser drawer on the second floor of the house. The back door was unlocked by the intruder.

with Mrs. Elisha George Pierce, Jr. have completed plans for the Dance. They announce, with pleasure, that our old favorite, Ken Reeves, will again be on hand personally with his orchestra to see that the dance is a success. The dance, as usual, will be held in the Town Hall. Tickets may be purchased in advance for an evening of dancing at $1.20 per couple, with a lucky number on the back to win a prize of records. Single dances are 10 cents per couple. There will be lucky number dances with prizes. Any one wishing to watch the dancers may obtain a seat in the balcony for a minimum fee. With a fine orchestra, and reasonable tickets, parents should urge their off-spring to spend a wholesome evening dancing in the Town Hall, and children should urge their parents to do the same.

Have you purchased a chance on that Ford Sedan? Better half! It might be you, one never knows.

Remember the date May 24. Be seeing you at the Street Fair.

RALPH A. DEL GROSSO TAKES STONEHAM BRIDE

Given in marriage by her brother Harold, Miss Marion L. O'Melia, daughter of Mrs. Minnie S. O'Melia, 2 Montvale avenue, Stoneham, became the bride of Ralph A. Del Grosso, son of Mrs. Adeline Del Grosso of Winchester, in a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Mark J. Coakley at St. Patrick's Church, Stoneham, at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, April 20.

The nuptial music was played by Joseph Murray, organist, and "Ave Marie" and "Mother at Thy Feet is Kneeling," were sung by James Fitzpatrick of Stoneham. The high altar was beautifully decorated with Easter lilies and white snapdragons.

The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of ivory satin with long train; her finger tip veil held in place with a high crown trimmed with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of orchids and sweet peas with white satin streamers.

In the colorful bridal procession were the bride's sister, Dorothy O'Melia, maid of honor, wearing rose taffeta with cap, sleeves and rose feathered crown with matching gloves; Geneva O'Melia, cousin of the bride, Evelyn Halgren, Carmille Rotundi, cousins of the groom and Rhoda Gordon of Winchester. The bride-maids wore aqua taffeta with cap sleeves, crowns of white feathers with aqua veils, white gloves, and carrying old fashioned bouquets.

Harry Chefalo of Winchester served as best man and ushering duties were shared by Robert O'Melia, cousin of the bride, Douglas Surrette, and Robert and Ernest Del Grosso, brothers of the groom.

More than 300 guests attended the evening reception at Odd Fellows Hall, Melrose, where the mothers of the bride and groom assisted the bridal couple in the receiving line.

On their return from a wedding trip to Quebec, Mr. and Mrs. Del Grosso will take up their residence in Stoneham.

The bride was graduated from St. Patrick's High School, Stoneham, with the class of 1934 and is past Pocahontas of the Daughters of Pocahontas.

Mr. Del Grosso is a graduate of Winchester High School, past commander of Aberjona Post, V. F. W., and a member of Winchester Council, K. of C.

LEXINGTON EDGED WINCHESTER

Winchester High School lost a tough one to Lexington, 2-1, in the Middlesex League series Tuesday afternoon at Lexington.

Fall Scott Doub started for Winchester and got into trouble right off the reel. DeWolfe, first batter for Lexington, was safe when Horne bobbled his rap to short and a wild pitch let the runner reach second. Connor sacrificed him to third and another wild pitch let him score the run that matched Winchester's in the opening half of the first.

Lexington's winning run was also tainted though it got on when Parker hit past third in the second. An error by Swetzer let the runner advance to second, and once again the sacrifice was used to advance him to third.

With one away Merrill flied to short right. Roche made a nice running catch and the throw home to cut off the run was not a hard one. However, as Paul set himself for the peg, his feet went out from under him in the soft turf and he went down, his throw landing behind second base and the run scoring. Ross fanned to end the frame.

Doub pitched himself out of a hole in the third and in the fourth McElhinney took over, allowing only two hits and no runs thereafter.

The locals scored their first time up. Horn grounded out to shortstop, but Blanchard hit over second and went all the way around on Roche's triple to deep center.

Paul foolishly tried to score on Bellino's topped roller toward third and was an easy out, Parker to Merrill, there being no possible play on the latter. Donaghey grounded to Nylander.

With two out in the 5th the locals had the tieing run on third by virtue of Blanchard's three-base drive to right. Roche, however, tanned on three pitched balls to end the frame and Winchester went out in order in the ninth.

COSTELLO—SARACCO

Cala Elies combined with white carnations and snapdragons to decorate St. Mary's Church Sunday afternoon, April 20, for the marriage of Miss Catherine R. Saracco, daughter of Mrs. Anna Saracco of Hemingway street, to Charles J. Costello, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Costello of Hartford, Conn. Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, St. Marys' pastor, officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Hotel Commander in Cambridge.

Miss Saracco was given in marriage by her brother, Michael J. Saracco of Winchester. Mrs. John Costello of Hartford, Conn., was matron of honor, and Miss Josephine Capone of Winchester was maid of honor. Miss Clementine Costello of Hartford was flower girl, and two sisters of the bridegroom, Miss Clara Costello of Hartford and Mrs. Warren Tracy Dunn, Jr., of Biglerville, Penna., were bridesmaids.

The bride wore a gown of white satin styled with a bodice of imported French lace and a sweetheart neckline. Her full skirt extended to form a court train, and her long veil of French lace was caught to a beaded crown. Instead of the conventional bouquet, she carried a white satin prayer-book with two matching orchids.

The matron of honor wore a Nile green net dress with a fitted bodice and a hoop skirt with a bustle. Her headdress was a matching bonnet trimmed with yellow rose, and she carried a bouquet of jonquils and white iris.

The honor maid was gowned in Nile green marquisette, her dress having a fitted bodice with a sweetheart neckline, short sleeves and a full skirt and bustle. With this she wore a tiara of matching green and long green mitts. Her flowers were jonquils and white iris.

The bridesmaids wore canary yellow dresses styled like that of the honor maid with matching tiaras. They carried bouquets of green and white carnations. The small flower girl wore a long white satin frock with short sleeves and a hoop skirt having a peplum front and a bustle. She also wore a matching white bonnet with long white mitts and carried an old fashioned nosegay.

Frank Costello of North Conway, N. H., brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and the usher corps included Anthony Saracco of Winchester, brother of the bride; Michael D. Saracco and Frank Saracco, both of Winchester and cousins of the bride; and Anthony Rania, also of Winchester.

Following a wedding journey to Washington, D. C., and Gettysburg, Penna., Mr. and Mrs. Costello will make their home at 782 West street, Walpole.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1940, and has been employed since her graduation as a book-keeper for J. F. Winn Company in Winchester. Mr. Costello is associated with the Costello Construction Company of Hartford, Conn.

GRAZIANO—RAMBELLO

St. Charles Church, Woburn, was the scene of a 3:30 o'clock nuptial ceremony, Sunday, April 6, uniting in marriage, Miss Jennie S. Rambello, daughter of Mrs. Rose Rambello of 48 Highland street, Woburn and Mr. Anthony J. Graziano, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Graziano of 14 Olive street.

The bride's brother, Mr. Leo Rambello gave her in marriage and she wore a white marquisette gown designed with long sleeves, snug bodice and full skirt bordered with a deep ruffle. Her bouquet of Easter lilies was centered with an orchid.

Selecting a romance rose taffeta gown with a sequin bodice, the bride's sister, Miss Mary Rambello was maid of honor. The four bridesmaids were Miss Glora Gilbert, Mrs. Lucy Juliano, Miss Alicia Gentile and Miss Theresa Rambello, all wearing yellow taffeta gowns, same style as the honor attendant's. Flowered crowns, with short veils cascading, were worn by all the attendants and they carried cascade bouquets of red roses.

Little Miss Carmela Valenti was flower girl, attired in a romance rose dress identical in style to the honor maid's and wore a sweetheart bouquet.

Mr. John Graziano was best man for his brother and Mr. Peter Graziano was head usher assisted by Messrs. Samuel Provinzano, Samuel Tibaudo and Dante DeTeso.

A reception was held at Columbus Hall, Winchester, following which the newlyweds left on a wedding trip touring New York, Philadelphia and Washington, D. C.

The bride who attended Woburn public schools is employed at the Atlantic Gelatin Company. The groom attended Winchester schools and is employed at the J. O. Whitten Company in Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Graziano will reside at 14 Olive street, this town.

The Council was honored by the presence of His Excellency Richard J. Cushing, Archbishop of Boston, who gave a brief talk on the problems of administering the Archdiosese.

Grand Knight Charles L. Haggerty presented two checks, one for $1000 from Council 210, the other for $100 from the Winchester Degree Team, to the Archbishop for his Charity Fund.

Toastmaster Dana J. Kelly introduced the guests. Chaplain Edmund C. Sliney, Past State Deputy and State Deputy Joseph I. Francis gave brief talks. Special homage was paid to Charter Member Thomas K. Lynch who has the only continuous membership in Council 210 for 50 years.

Dancing until 1 o'clock with Hennessey's Orchestra completed the festivities.

Present at the installation were Grand Venerable Anthony Julian, Harry Gorrasi of Woburn and Sophie Gorrasi, Grand Trustee of the State.

The Waltham degree team coached and placed into the field by Winchester boys Angelo Tofuri and Gabriel Vespucci performed splendidly, note that to Winchester belongs the honor of being the first degree team in the state, said unit founded and organized by our Dr. Angelo Maietta.

In fact, the last several weeks the Winchester degree team has performed intitiations and installation rituals at Boston, Roxbury, Revere, Salem, Woburn, Weymouth and Malden, and most important of all, the Massachusetts initiation at the First Corps Cadet Armory in Boston; all units from the state participated in this membership drive under the able leadership of John Volpe from our lodge. This week-end the team goes to Springfield.

Of special interest last week was the appointment of Harry Chefalo to the Finance Committee. Harry being one of our members was a good choice from the Italian-Americans in the community. E. B. R.

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

It is reported that Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Borgatti, formerly of High street, are now living in Haverhill.

It is reported that some one has stolen 50 hives of honey bees from a farm in this county. A truck with double tire rear wheels was used to take them away in the night. Police are at work on the case. Very few people live in this state who know enough about bees to have been able to steal them. It would be a good idea for any one purchasing honey bees already in a hive to know whether they were stolen or not. The 50 hives were valued at $1500.

Boys about town have discovered the cinder building blocks on the lot on High street where the Maryeliff School was started. These blocks were neatly stacked by the workmen when they left but have been thrown down and some sort of a hut made out of them. Work on this school was halted due to construction conditions.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Dumper, formerly of Rangely road, have returned to Boston after spending the winter in California, and will be at the Hotel Bradford until the middle of May, before leaving for Chatham, Cape Cod, where they will spend the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Armstrong of Curtis circle have been spending several days at their Friendship, Me., home.

The announcement of the engagement of a former Winchester boy, Mr. John Gibson Williams, son of Mrs. Frank Williams of Wellesley and Falmouth Heights, formerly of Wedgemere avenue, Winchester, to Miss Dorothy Stratton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stratton of Reading, has been announced. A fall wedding is planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCormack of Ridgeway have gone west to California by plane for a vacation. They plan to visit Los Angeles, San Francisco and San Diego, and may get down into Mexico if time permits. This is the trip Mr. McCormack, who is proprietor of McCormack's Apothecary, tried during the war, only to get grounded out in St. Joseph, Mo., and had to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Kimball of Riverside avenue, Medford, are the parents of a son, John W. Kimball, Jr., born April 26 at the Lawrence Memorial Hospital in Medford. Mrs. Kimball is the former Rita O'Neil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Neil of Cambridge. The paternal grandparents are Fireman and Mrs. Everett W. Kimball of Westley street.

To Mr. and Mrs. Wetherbee Lamson (Lucy Hawkes) of Lowell, a second daughter, Betsy, April 26 at Lowell General Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fay Lamson of Lowell and Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Hawkes of Winchester.

The engagement is announced of Miss Dorothy Crittenden Danner of Medford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Danner, and Mr. Clarence Ross Nyquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter A. Nyquist of Grayson road, Winchester.

The Fire Department had only two alarms over the past weekend, the first on Friday for a flooded oil burner at the home of Mrs. Mary Ravalli, 71 Oak street. Sunday afternoon there was a brush fire discovered by Officer William Cassidy on town property off the Skillings Path.

The club year opened on October 11 with a reception to officers of the club. The hall was decorated with beautiful arrangements of fall flowers, the work of Mrs. Norman Mitchell, conservation chairman. The entertainment of the afternoon was presented by Miss Mary Elizabeth Barry, marimba soloist. Miss Barry's charming personality, the ease and assurance and remarkable skill with which she played, the variety of worthwhile selections and the generous length of her program, made it an afternoon thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Exhibition of Handiwork

An exhibition of the handiwork of members featured Art Day on October 28. Colorful paintings of landscapes and still life, decorated trays, boxes and furniture, crocheted tablecloths, needlepoint and an afghan were among the articles on display, testifying to the skill, artistry and variety of interest in handiwork among our members. The artist of the afternoon was Marjorie Shepherd, narrator Mrs. Henry P. Moore, vice-chairman, Division of Art of the Massachusetts State Federation of Women's Clubs, was our guest of honor at this meeting. A joint meeting with the League of Women Voters was held on November 18. The morning session was held in the Library and the League presented Mr. Leonard Cronkhite, a trustee of the World Peace Foundation, as the speaker. His subject, "Can We Have One World?" was of vital interest to all present. Mr. Cronkhite stated that we all want one world but that we haven't got it and will have to work toward that end. At 12:30, a delicious luncheon was served to 133 persons at the Unitarian Church Parish Hall. During the luncheon, Mrs. Rethal Wyman of the League, introduced Mrs. Romeo Rossi, who gave a vivid account of the work of the Italian "Undergound" during the war. Mrs. Marshall Symmes, president of the Fortnightly, introduced our guest, Mrs. Robert Powell, chairman of the International Relations Committee of the Federation. The afternoon session was in charge of Mrs. Donald Hamilton, International Relations Chairman, who introduced Capt. Mu Hsiang Chu of the United States Marines. Captain Chu spoke of the power of women's influence in China.

Symphony Players

Christmas

In keeping with the Christmas season, the Music and Dramatic Committees presented one of the most delightful programs of the year on December 9. Mrs. Henry K. Fitts, music chairman, presented her original Pantomime Tableaux "Christmas Around the World." In cooperation with Mrs. William C. Hultgren, dramatic chairman, charming sketches showing families of different countries receiving Christmas gifts, that were packed and sent to them from America, were presented. Beautiful carols of the various countries were sung by the Fortnightly Singers. Mrs. George L. Witham directed the group and Mrs. Stuart L. Cushman was accompanist.

Illustrated Lecture

On January 13, Mrs. Irma Wing Taylor, lecturer, editor and world traveler, presented a program on that fascinating section of the world—the Dutch East Indies and Siam. Her talk was illustrated with colored stills and motion pictures taken by Mr. Taylor.

Marion Rudkin

"Books in Review" was the topic of Mrs. Marion T. Rudkin's dramatic presentation at our regular meeting on January 27. Her charm, wit and clear honesty of judgment make her one of the best current literary speakers of today.

Antiques

On February 10, the Preservation of Antiques Committee, Miss Louise Bancroft, chairman, presented a delightful program by Mrs. Bertha Turkington, whose subject was "Stored Away in the Attic." Mrs. Turkington showed a great many antique pieces that had been stripped of several coats of paint and restored to their original woods. Her talk on old china and glass was interesting, as she collected many beautiful pieces which she showed during her lecture. Members displayed some of their own antiques and Mrs. Turkington gave short talks on many of them.

American Home Day

American Home Day, June 20 February 24, Mrs. Conrad S. Rosander, chairman, introduced Mrs. Hinsley Starratt, Romeyn, whose subject "Where I Hang My Heart" was entertainment of great warmth and simplicity. Mrs. William M. Monroe, Eighth District Director, was our honored guest at this meeting.

Dramatics

The Dramatic Committee, Mrs. Alfred G. Nelson and Mrs. William C. Hultgren, co-chairmen, presented Home Talent Day on March 10. A three-act play "Susan Believe," written by Mrs. Hultgren, was a clever and amusing comedy and was thoroughly enjoyed by a large audience.

Philip Cummings

Our last regular meeting was indeed a rare treat when the Education Committee, Mrs. William E. Priest, chairman, presented Mr. Philip Cummings, world traveller, news analyst and commentator of world-wide experience. His timely talk on Greece, Turkey and Russia was extremely interesting. Mrs. Ralph G. Swain, Regional Vice-President of the Mass. State Federation was our guest of honor on this day.

Co-operation With War Veterans

The Co-operation with War Veterans' Committee, Mrs. James N. Clark, and Mrs. R. K. Miller, co-chairmen, have done a great deal for our veterans confined to hospitals. This committee reports $10 given to the State Federation for work in hospitals, 20 bags at Christmas time to Murphy General Hospital; 18 new packs of cards to Bedford; 30 picture puzzles to Bedford; 35 toilet kits to Chelsea Naval Hospital and to the Rutland Heights Hospital 5 pairs of socks, 9 pairs of gloves, 1 army helmet, 2 stump socks, 1 large army scarf and 1 sleeveless sweater. Three table radios were purchased, two going to Bedford and one to Waltham. Three hospitals have been visited and sewing has been done at Bedford. Used cards and magazines have been distributed. This is certainly a fine record of achievement.

French Child

The Education Committee, Mrs. William E. Priest, chairman, besides giving us the fine program of March 24 has done a kindly and christian job as "caretakers" of the French orphan which the club adopted this year.

This committee sent the first package on Jan. 13 and have sent two boxes a month. These boxes have contained a well balanced assortment of foods and other necessities. During the week of March 24, the sixth box was sent which contained new clothing, a navy blue suit (long trousers) white shirt, white tie, white socks, and black shoes, very special gifts to be worn when our young "adopted son" receives his first communion.

"Donation Day" was held on March 24 and many members brought a wonderful collection of foods, while others contributed a total of $33.11 in money which was later increased by $22.30. The committee has been most enthusiastic especially since letters written in French by Mrs. Barbaro, have been answered by the child and his mother, thus bringing them a great deal closer to us.

Literature

The Literature Committee is again grateful to the Trustees of the Winchester Public Library for the privilege of holding its meetings for the season of 1946-47 in the Library; also to Miss Mead, the Librarian, for her hospitality. There have been six meetings all devoted to the study of "The Diary as a Form of Literature". Each member has taken part in the program and all types of diaries have been considered. The programs have been varied and interesting, with profitable discussion periods.

Special Antiques Meeting

The Preservation of Antiques Committee, Miss Louise Bancroft, Chairman, has had three special meetings, besides planning the club program on Feb. 10. On Oct. 18, the group went to the Spaulding D. A. R. House in Lowell and then to Edna Cutter's 1750 House on Dracut for a box lunch and a talk by the hostess on "Old Furniture and Furnishings", and on the way home stopped at the Whistler House in Lowell. On Nov. 7, Mrs. Alice Tarbox talked on her Kate Greenaway collection, which she exhibited at the home of Mrs. George Connor. On March 21, there was a tea at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Wills, preceded by an exhibition and talk on "Old Cambridge Glass" by Harriet Connor. Mrs. Wills told interesting stories about some of her antiques.

Music

The Music Committee, Mrs. Henry K. Fitts, chairman, in addition to presenting the meeting of Dec. 9, sponsored the traditional community singing on the Common on Christmas Eve. Mrs. Witham directed the singing Mr. Clark and Mr. Fitts accompanied with trombone and trumpet respectively.

Art

Scholarships

The Scholarship Committee, Mrs. Paul Eberle, chairman, has selected their candidates with care and awarded two $100 scholarships.

As this 60th season draws to a close, let us view with satisfaction and pride our accomplishments as a club and look forward, with renewed faith, to a future of continued opportunity and service.

COTTONE—CIPOLLO

A marriage of Winchester interest took place at St. Thomas Church in Wilmington on Sunday afternoon when Miss Louise Mary Cipollo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Cipollo of 470 Main street, Wilmington, became the bride of Mario Peter Cottone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Cottone of 91 Irving street. The pastor of the church, Rev. Fr. Brennon, officiated at the ceremony which took place at 3.30, and was followed by a reception at Christopher Columbus Hall in Winchester.

Miss Cipollo was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Angie Cipollo, as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Grace, and Miss Rose Cipollo of Wilmington, sisters of the bride; Miss Angie Ciccolo of Roxbury and Miss Phyllis Burono of South Boston.

The bride wore a white gown of chiffon and lace with a matching conventional veil, and carried gardenias, centered with an orchid.

The honor maid wore a dress of yellow net and taffeta with matching headdress and carried a spray of roses in harmonizing shades. Two of the bridesmaids wore pink dresses and two, aqua. All wore headdresses to match their gowns and carried bouquets of red roses.

Jasper Cottone of Winchester was best man for his brother, and the usher corps, headed by another brother, Peter Cottone, also of Winchester, comprised Joseph Cipollo of Wilmington, brother of the bride; Frank Iuttilo of Winchester and Frank Burono of South Boston.

Upon their return from a wedding trip to Canada Mr. and Mrs. Cottone will make their home in Winchester. The bride is a graduate of Wilmington High School, and Mr. Cottone, of Winchester High School.

SPECIAL INTERESTS GUILD HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

The Special Interests Guild of the Women's Association of the First Congregational Church held its annual meeting in the Ladies' Parlor of the church on Tuesday evening, April 22, at 8 o'clock. About 50 members of the Junior Mrs. Group and the Business and Professional Women's Group were present, these two groups being the principal ones comprising the Special Interests Guild.

Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, director of the Special Interests Guild, led the meeting, which was opened with a devotional reading by Mrs. John Robertson. Reports on the year's activities in each group were given by the chairmen of the two groups; by Mrs. George Connor for the Business and Professional Women, and Mrs. Richard Ashenden, Jr., for the Junior Mrs. Group. Following these reports it was announced that a change in policy concerning the Special Interests Guild on the part of the Women's Association had caused the recommendation that the Guild retain Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard as director, and Mrs. William Barone as secretary until the Fall Association meeting, at which time new officers would be appointed for the Guild, so that the officers of the Guild will remain the same as last year's officers for the present.

The new officers of the Business and Professional Women are: chairman, Miss Emily Greene; secretary, Mrs. H. Harold Dover; treasurer, Mrs. Frederic B. Withington; membership, Miss Margaret Hodgson; nominating, Mrs. Maude T. Wolloff and Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard; program, Miss Gertrude Davis and Mrs. Ruth E. Hilton, with Mrs. A. Kirby Snell as chairman; publicity, Mrs. George Connor; social, Miss Helen Niedringhaus; and work, Miss Alfreda Kearney and Miss Cassie Sands.

The new officers for the Junior Mrs. Group are: chairman, Mrs. Charles E. Crede; secretary, Mrs. David Choate, Jr.; devotional, Mrs. John P. Robertson; finance, Mrs. F. Meredith Cooper; publicity, Mrs. Charles E. Clarke; membership, Mrs. Richard C. Ashenden, Jr., chairman, and Mrs. Chester W. Smith, co-chairman; nominating, Mrs. Raymond Carter; program, Mrs. Dean Chamberlin; fair table, Mrs. Otis Hammett, chairman, and Mrs. Allan A. Switzer, co-chairman; project, Mrs. Richard Davenport; and social, Mrs. E. Hawes Kelley, Jr.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Louise Baker Olivier gave readings from "Our Miss Boo," and "Time for Each Other," both by Margaret Lee Runbeck. These readings, which were splendidly done by Mrs. Olivier, brought chuckles and reminiscences to all who heard them.

During the social hour at the close of the meeting refreshments, consisting of sherbert, cakes, and coffee, were served by a committee headed by Miss Cassie Sands, and including Mrs. E. Hawes Kelley, Jr., Mrs. William D. Barone, Mrs. Raymond Carter, Mrs. Ruth Hilton, and Miss Helen Niedringhaus.

TOW-CAR AND HORSE COLLIDE

Last Saturday evening at 8 o'clock as Charles L. Haggerty of 161 Swanton street was driving his garage tow-car east on Swanton street a black horse, owned by Salvatore Marchesi of 6 Holland street, suddenly ran out of Holland street into the path of the machine.

Mr. Haggerty stopped the truck but the horse could not stop in time, running into the left front of the machine, breaking the left front headlight.

It was at first thought that the horse was not hurt, but later its owner reported a swelling on the animal and several cuts.

Last Saturday afternoon the Police discovered between 15 and 20 panes of glass broken in windows of the old Witherell house on the estate at 114 Church street.

ARREST FOLLOWED MAIN STREET ACCIDENT

A motorist was returned to Winchester from Medford and locked up last Friday evening after the automobile Police say he was driving figured in a collision with another car on Main street at the intersection of Highland avenue.

According to the Police the accident occurred as a Dodge sedan, owned by Ella M. Wilmot of 135 Park street, Medford, and driven by Merrill B. Wilmot, 21, of the same address, was in collision with an Oldsmobile sedan, owned by Julin Fitzgerad of 165 Washington street and driven by Thomas J. Bane of 4 John street, Woburn. Both machines were headed south with Wilmot's machine attempting to pass Bane's.

Both drivers went to Police Headquarters in Medford where report of the accident was relayed to Lt. Edward W. O'Connell at Headquarters here. He sent Patrolman Henry W Dempsey to Medford, and the latter brought Wilmot to the local station house where he was locked up, charged with drunkenness and driving while under the influence of liquor.

In court Monday morning he pleaded guilty and was fined $35.

WINTON TO RUN SUMMIT HOUSE

Mr. Robert J. Winton of Forest street, for many years chauffeur for Hon. Lewis Parkhurst and later in the real estate business here, is to manage the Summit House of the Mt. Washington Club situated at the top of Mt. Washington. Last year he managed the Club's Base Station and railroad boarding house, regularly feeding 62 in help.

"Bob" is planning to go to the Base Station May 10, opening it and remaining there until June 15 when he will go up the mountain to open the Summit House. He will manage this unit of the Mountain Club as well as its gift shop and postoffice. Both units are owned by Col. Henry Teague.

"Bob's" success in running the base station last season prompted the Colonel to put him in charge of the larger and more important unit, the Summit House, having between 20 and 30 in help under his direction. He will be glad to see his many Winchester friends at the Summit House this summer.

COLUMBUS LADIES' CLUB TO DANCE

The Columbus Ladies' Club of this town is rapidly completing plans for a May dance to be held at Columbus Hall, 18 Raymond place, on Wednesday evening, May 7, from 7 to 12 o'clock.

Music will be furnished by Al Pecora and his orchestra, and among many attractive features will be the presentation of a door prize to some fortunate winner who must be present at the time of the drawing. Rose Marabella is chairman of the ticket committee.

POLICE CAR CRASHED INTO STORE

Shortly before 7 o'clock Tuesday morning Police Patrol Car 51 crashed into the front of G. Raymond Bancroft's Dry Goods store at 15 Mt. Vernon street, smashing the big plate glass display window and the heavy black glass of the lower store front just above the sidewalk.

Officers Thomas F. Hannon and James E. Farrell had been on duty in the patrol car and had driven to Headquarters to get oil and water for the machine which had commenced to heat up. They parked the car on the easterly side of Winchester place in front of the Police garage.

According to the officers the brake was set on the car, but in some way it refused to hold and after the men had entered the station the cruiser rolled backward down hill against the front of the Bancroft store. Traffic is not too heavy in the center at that hour and no car happened to be passing along Mt. Vernon street. The cruiser was not badly damaged.

RUNAWAY CAR STRUCK TREE

Last Friday evening shortly after 10:30 the Police Department was notified that a car had run into a tree near 173 Forest street, and had apparently been abandoned.

Sgt. Charles J. Harrold and Officer John Elliott went to investigate and found the car to be a Chevrolet sedan, which investigation disclosed was registered to Emma P. Finnegan of 13 Circuit street, Melrose.

The Melrose Police were asked to check on the machine, but meanwhile it was discovered that Leo J. Finnegan had parked the car in front of his brother's home at 194 Forest street.

The brake in some way had become released and the machine had rolled down hill and around the curve in the road, crossing the street and going over the sidewalk to damage a stonewall in front of 173 Forest street before stopping against a near-by tree. The machine was only slightly damaged and fortunately no one was injured.

SCHEDULE OF FARE CHANGES

EFFECTIVE SUNDAY, MAY 4, 1947

In previous advertisements, we have told you that everything needed to provide your transit service now costs more. There has been no general upward change in our fare structure in 27 years. But buses can't run on "red ink." Service so far during 1947 has been provided at a loss to your transit system. We want and intend to give you improved and widened transportation facilities. To meet the directives of State laws which say that we shall set a fare schedule which will meet the cost of the service, the following changes have become necessary. We have tried to make increases as moderate as possible. We feel that you will understand our situation, and that we will continue to merit your patronage.

GENERAL

Special 5c cash fare zones changed to 6¼c tickets (4 rides for 25c) or 10c cash. Present 10c cash fares remain unchanged.

Ride-all-Day Adults' Tickets increased from $1.00 (plus 15c tax) total $1.15, to $1.09 (plus 16c tax) total $1.25.

EXCEPTION:

Children over 5 and under 12 years, one-half regular adult one-way cash fare. Minimum 5c, raised when necessary so that the fare will be divisible by 5.

STUDENTS' TICKETS:

Remain at one-half the regular adult one-way cash fare. Minimum 5c. Good only on days when school is in session. Students becoming 21 years of age during a school year will be allowed to use these tickets for the remainder of the school year.

WINCHESTER:

The 6 rides for 50c ticket (8.33c per ride) is abolished, and 10c cash fare substituted. The 3-zone 6 rides for $1.00 ticket (16.67c per ride) is abolished.

RAILROAD EMPLOYEE HONORED

Winchester Represented at Exercises for Cross Street Agent

Winchester's Selectman Morris B. Kerr and Robert M. Edgar, assistant to the president of the Boston & Maine Railroad, were among those who spoke at the exercises dedicating a memorial tablet to the late William T. Flaherty, for 41 years agent at the Cross Street Station of the B. & M. near the Winchester-Wobuhn line, on Sunday afternoon, April 27.

Another Winchester man, Edward J. O'Melia, was chairman of the committee in charge of the memorial, the inscription on which reads: "In memory of William T. "Bill" Flaherty, for 43 years an employee of the Boston & Maine Railroad, erected by his many friends."

More than 150 persons from Winchester and Woburn attended the memorial exercises at the station. Among those paying tribute, besides Selectman Kerr and Mr. Edgar, being Mayor William E. Kane of Woburn, Justice William H. Henchey of the Woburn District Court and Thomas H. McGowan, Woburn librarian.

Mr. Flaherty died suddenly last Christmas. His death prevented him receiving the present of a necktie which David Boyle, 7, had for the popular agent's Christmas present. Because of this fact the committe in charge of arrangements chose David to unveil the tablet to Mr. Flaherty's memory in the waiting room of the station.

ELKS TO CELEBRATE 25TH ANNIVERSARY

John F. Malley to be Speaker at Banquet in Town Hall

On Sunday afternoon, May 11, Winchester Lodge No. 1445, of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks will celebrate the 25th Anniversary of its institution.

A large class of candidates will be initiated by the officers of Winchester Lodge at 2:30 p. m. in Lyceum Hall. A banquet will follow at 5:30 in the Town Hall.

The speaking program will be headed by Past Grand Exalted Ruler John F. Malley. Mr. Malley is former collector of Internal Revenue at Boston and at present is chairman of the Elks National Foundation.

Past District Deputy Fred H Scholl is general chairman of the 25th Anniversary Committee with P E. R. Fred D. Clement, co-chairman; P. E. R. Arthur J Harty, secretary; and P. E. R. John F. Donaghey, treasurer.

Winchester Lodge No. 1445 was made possible by the late John McNally, its founder, whose ambition, courage and persistency conquered much opposition. Many thought that Winchester could not maintain a lodge, and that it would detract from neighboring lodges.

Aided by Fred Clement and Charles Farrar, these three members of Woburn Lodge contacted several prominent Elks in the State for advice and proper procedure, months previous to the first general meeting held February 19 1922.

On this date, at White's Hall, 31 petitioners gathered to conduct the preliminary negotiations for dispensation to organize a Lodge in Winchester. John McNally was chairman and Michael J. Dennen as secretary.

With a list of 38 prominent Winchester citizens and 24 members to demit from other lodges, the plan was laid before Grand Exalted Ruler W W. Mountain of the Grand Lodge.

On Monday, March 27, 1922, dispensation to organize a lodge of Elks in Winchester was granted and then followed the second meeting of the petitioners on April 18, 1922. At this time, the first officers were elected and arrangements made to have our new lodge instituted on May 10, 1922.

In the Town Hall, Wednesday evening, May 10, 1922, there gathered Elks from everywhere, with the hall being jammed to its capacity. At 7 p. m. District Deputy William D. McKee of Massachusetts Northeast District called the meeting to order; then followed the formal institution of Winchester Lodge of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks No. 1445 by District Deputy McFee and his Grand Lodge of Emergency. Then, Past District Deputy Arthur T. Jacobs with his suite initiated the 38 new members and approved the 24 demitted members.

PILOTED PLANE AT SUB TEST

Lt. Conrad Larson of Lakeview road, Naval Air Corps reserve officer, piloted the Navy DC-3 type plane carrying Navy observers and Boston newspaper men from Squantum to observe the test of the new type wakeless torpedo at Bar Harbor, Me., on April 23.

Several torpedoes were fired from a submarine against the rocks of Porcupine Island in Bar Harbor, the explosions throwing water into the air from 300 to 500 feet.

Even with the plane flying low over the water observers were unable to see the wake of the torpedoes fired 10 feet below surface. A Naval officer explained that the new type torpedo is operated by an apparatus powered with a diesel engine and not by compressed air as in the old type torpedo which left a wake.

They were married Saturday, April 26, at Dongen Hills, Staten Island, N. Y., and the marriage is of Winchester interest since the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice A. Miss Hope Pouch was her sister's honor attendant, wearing peach marquisette and carrying American Beauty roses. Another sister, Miss Elizabeth Pouch, was one of the four bridesmaids, the others being Miss Dorothy Magruder of West Brighton, N. MT. HOLYOKE BOOK TALK

The Winchester Mount Holyoke Club presented Alice Dixon Bond in her final lecture of the 1946-47 series in the Library, May 6. Mrs. Bond began with a brief discussion of the current Pulitzer Prize winners in the literary field.

With Hans Kohn's reading list before her, she spoke briefly about the most important and penetrating book on Soviet life, Deane's "Strange Alliance." Also on the same list is Martin's "Ally Betrayed" which she considers a sensational story, fearlessly about Tito and Mihailovich.

Mrs. Bond reviewed Bartley Crumb's "Behind the Silken Curtain," a study of conditions in Palestine. Of concern to all, in connection with this book, was the report of her interview with Mr. Crumb in which she spoke of the fact that the conquered German in Europe is better off than the liberated Jew. Crumb considers freedom the greatest export the United States has.

A book given the highest praise as holding interest for all ages of Americans is Townsend Scudder's "Concord, American Town." It is American history told as it flowed through Concord reaching from the first Indian settlement there to the beginnings of the Student Federalist Movement of present day fame.

She spoke briefly of Robert Frost's new volume, "Steeple[illegible]", a collection of lyrics holding shrewd comments on current affairs. "Purple Testament," a collection of compositions written as classroom assignments by 53 disabled veterans and edited by their professor, is an important document of what veterans are thinking about.

Among the other books reviewed were "Tin Flute" by Gabrielle Roy, Stevan Javellana's "Without Seeing the Dawn", concerned with guerilla warfare in the Philippines; a gentle whimsical story by Robert Nathan, "Mr Whittle and the Morning Star"; and Mary Reynault's "Return to Night." A highly recommended story of the great northwest is A. B. Guthrie's "Big Sky." She concluded with Henry Robinson's "Great Snow" and Agnes Newton Keith's "Three Came Home," the triumph of a human heart against everything in a Japanese prison camp.

At the close of her lecture, Mrs. Bond's announcement that she would be returning next fall for her 14th season met with enthusiastic applause.

MISS JOY ENGAGED

Miss Joy is a graduate of the Brimmer School and Bennett Junior College, Millbrook, N. Y. Mr. Sargent is a graduate of Governor Dummer Academy.

The Winchester Knights of Columbus had to "stand treat" at the supper which they and teams enjoyed Wednesday evening with those of Winchester Lodge of Elks. Each winter these friendly rivals engage in a series of matches and this winter the Elks came out on top. The Knights say they will eat for free next year!

WINCHESTER MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Annual Meeting, May 13

The Winchester Mothers' Association will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday, May 13, at 2:30 o'clock in the assembly hall of the High School. As part of the afternoon program Mr. Fred Felmet, director of the school orchestras, will give a preview of the coming concert of the school bands and orchestras scheduled for presentation on Thursday evening, May 15, in the High School Assembly Hall. The orchestra will play "The American Patrol" by Meacham with a trombone solo by Fred Weiss. They will also be heard in the "Emperor Waltz" by Strauss.

Following the business meeting Mrs. Kenneth E. Cullen and her committee will provide refreshments for the social hour.

The Central Board of the Mothers' Association represents the combined groups of the individual school chapters, and it is hoped that as many mothers as possible will take advantage of this opportunity to meet together and hear the reports of the various schools. A cordial welcome is extended to all mothers to attend this annual meeting.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT CLUB SPRING DANCE

The Wednesday Night Club of the First Congregational Church concluded a successful social season last Friday evening in the Parish Hall when 125 old and new members, and friends, danced to the music of Ken Reeves' orchestra at the annual spring dance.

The hall decorations delighted the dancers, a spring atmosphere having been created inside in contrast to the heavy rains which fell outside. The stage was a particularly gay spot, being arranged as a colorful lawn and garden scene and all the properties being lawn furniture. The dance committee was indebted to Paine's Furniture store for the use of these pieces.

The two lovely punch bowls of solid ice, in which were frozen narcisssus, daffodils and iris blossoms, were a novelty and the center of attraction.

Ten hosts and hostess entertained at dutch treat suppers in their homes before the dance. They were Mr. and Mrs. Kimball Archibald, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Goss, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin McDermott, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oxford, Mr. and Mrs. William Rodgers, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Smith.

Mrs. Alexander Clark was chairman of the hostesses committee, assisted by Mrs. Everett Goss.

The committee in charge of the decorations were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Taylor, chairmen; Walter Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Georges Houle, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. George Gowdy, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Nason, Richard Ashendon and Dwight Bellows. Mrs. F. Meredith Cooper and Mrs. George Traut were in charge of the punch.

The retiring club president, George Gowdy, gave a report of the nominations of officers for next season as made by the nominating committee headed by Lawrence Palmer. They were unanimously elected and are:

RUBBISH DUMPED IN CEMETERY

Officer John Murray of the Police Department, while patroling the Winchester section of Calvary Cemetery in the highlands on Monday discovered that a quantity of rubbish, including old tin cans and bottles, had been dumped on the grave of a Winchester man and former town employee, dead for many years.

After photographing the mess, Officer Murray made an examination and discovered a bottle which had contained a druggist's prescription. Checking with the pharmacist the name of the party who ordered the prescription was obtained and the matter turned over to the Woburn Police for action, since the grave was found to be located over the line in Woburn.

CHRISTIE McDONALD IS CUTTING PRICES!

At the beginning of this year we announced in the Star and at our store that we would start cutting prices as soon as the cost of raw materials would permit.

Prices, instead of dropping, have gone higher. Flour, our basic material, has advanced tremendously.

We are tired of waiting and decided to make our own start in bringing down prices.

Our Famous...

FRESH APPLE PIES 52c

Cutting prices in our small food shop will have little affect on inflated prices in general. However, if our start accomplishes no more than to let our friends in Winchester know that we sincerely appreciate their generous patronage, we will consider the cost worth while.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

CHOWDER PARTY TO OPEN SOCIAL SEASON

The Winchester Boat Club's energetic entertainment committee has scheduled a good old Fish Chowder Party for the opening social event of the '47 season. The time: Friday evening, May 16 at 6:30 p. m.; the place—the Boat Club.

There'll be bowls and bowls of steaming Fish Chowder (prepared by a secret recipe closely guarded by one of the Club's finest cooks,) and all the fixin's. Following the feast, some suitable movies will be shown and there'll be other activities not yet announced. Here's the initial opportunity to renew old acquaintances and meet the new Club members. Better make your reservations now. It's only 75c per person (tax included). "Remember the Day—the 16th of May."

Club Chatter

Last Saturday's rain kept most members away from the "Dock Dunking" festivities at the Club, but in spite of the lack of manpower the docks were promptly and properly launched. A brainy rather than brawny group, under the direction of Jim Newman (a man who's clever with a lever) huffed and puffed and heaved until the dastardly deed was done. George Field's Handtack II was the first Snipe to be launched. Let's hope it's first in many other ways this season. Hard on Handtack's heels were George Jones' and Bart Sullivans' beautiful boats.

BELMONT P. O. LANDS WINCHESTER 3—1

In a preseason match in preparation for next year's bowling league, Belmont defeated Winchester to the tune of 3-1 last week.

Winchester started off well and had a 38 pin lead at the end of the first string. But this lead was soon nullified when Belmont bowled 898 for their second string. With but a four pin lead at the end of the second string, Winchester lost the advantage when the first box tied up the total pinfall. Belmont slowly edged ahead and finally wound up with a 14 pin lead and thereby got 3 of the points.

IMPORTANT SOFT BALL MEETING

Managers or individuals representing groups expecting to have teams in the soft ball league which is to function this summer under the direction of the Winchester Recreation Committee are invited to attend a meeting to be held on next Wednesday evening, May 14, at the Legion Headquarters on Vine street, commencing at 8 o'clock.

It is important that all groups expecting to field teams be represented at this meeting, for due to the lateness of starting, final arrangements for competition will have to be made at this time. As a consequence those groups without representation at the meeting will be "out of luck."

Already several groups have indicated that they will have teams in the league and it is expected that there will be an organization sufficiently representative to maintain interest and provide worthwhile competition.

The Recreation Committee's first venture, the town's basketball league last winter, was a great success and there is every reason to believe the soft ball circuit will turn out equally well.

Edward A. Bartlett, high school coach who directed the basketball league so ably, will be in charge of the soft ball league. He urges all representatives of teams to meet with him at the Legion House next Wednesday.

STONEHAM 11, WINCHESTER 4

Winchester couldn't seem to do anything right Tuesday afternoon and lost its Middlesex League baseball game to Stoneham High at Stoneham, 11-4.

Stoneham's three-run first inning set the style for Winchester's play and just about cooked the locals' goose, three runs scoring without the semblance of a hit.

Eldredge, who started for Winchester, walked Leland. Corkum tapped to Switzer and tail "Al" whipped the ball to second to start what he hoped would be a twin killing, first to second to first.

Neither Hinkey Horne nor Captain Oliver covered and Switzer's throw whizzed out to left field. Leland going to third base and Corkum being safe at first.

Corkum stole second, Leland was out at the plate on Gelineau's rap to Blanchard, Corkum reaching third. He and Gelineau worked a double steal, Corkum scoring and Gelineau reaching third, after Horne had tossed out Davarick.

Corkum stole second. Leland was out at the plate on Gelineau's rap to Blanchard, Corkum reaching third. He and Gelineau worked a double steal, Corkum scoring and Gelineau reaching third, after Horne had tossed out Davarick.

Corkum's home run helped Stoneham to five runs in the 3rd, the winners other runs coming in the fifth and seventh.

Winchester got over two in the third on an error and hits by Roche and Oliver. The other two were scored in the seventh when Bezzo and Switzer walked and rode all the way on Slack' triple. A perfect relay from Rees to Corkum to Hewhurst nipped Slack at home. Corkum pivoting beautifully on the play.

The only consolation Winchester got from the game was the ability of "Buffalo" Flynn to pitch two relief innings after being incapacitated all spring with a sore arm. The summary:

MARIBEL VINSON BREAKS LEG IN ICE ACT

Maribel Vinson, the former Miss [illegible] of Winchester, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Vinson of this town, is performing with Eddie Shipstad's Ice Show at the Boston Garden. Every Tuesday Miss Vinson goes to the New England Baptist Hospital where Doctors Fowler and Bowers are treating her for a fracture of the tibia above the ankle of the left leg. Fortunately the joint was not affected and the injury will not prevent the former Wellesley girl from resuming her career.

Maribel has been associated with ice pantomime from her early childhood days. Toronto boasts January as the snow, "Everything's on Ice", after being featured in other ice shows here and on the west coast. They were together in a show at the Coral Room of the Copley Plaza last fall. They have two children, Maribel, 7, and Laurence, 2.

Miss Vinson was reported to be resting comfortably at the hospital the day after the accident and relieved to find nothing permanently disabling in her injury. She was at a loss to account for her fall which came, she said, while she was performing a simple step in her act and not during any spectacular evolution.

VOTING IN ROTATION

The last two or three referendums have shown that the voters of Winchester will get out and vote when they feel that their action will count for or against a clear-cut question. These same voters are bored with the out-dated procedure at town meeting time. First we are expected to vote on candidates for local jobs. Often there is no choice. Or if there is a choice, it is between two weak sisters or two strangers to us. It has always seemed to me a bit childish to go to your friends and ask for their signatures, so you can run for office. With such a system we can hardly expect to see on our ballots the names of our most gifted citizens. Later, on Town-Meeting Night, the greater part of our citizens are asked to vouch and listen to the proceedings. We are permitted, if we have the "temerity," to rise and speak from the back of the hall or to lean from a balcony—few wish to go through such an ordeal. To add insult to our injury, we of the outer circle must send see our Town-Meeting representatives vote, not as we may wish them to, but just as they see fit to vote. At other times they do not vote one way or another. Yet again they do not bother to attend Town-Meeting at all. Our system permits certain townsfolk to serve us as Town-Meeting Members year after year. Other citizens will never get a chance to serve their town, even in a hundred years. Is this true democracy or even wise? It seems to me we could be a bit smarter without undue strain on "the little gray cells."

Another illustration of procedure in town government that should be brought up to date, is our School-Board and-Superintendent set-up for running our schools. Schools come first in cost and importance in town business. No profession, no line of endeavor, is more specialized or more technical. The average citizen does not even know the terminology used now in the field of education. This was brought out amusingly, short time ago, in a page-by-town, when a high official spoke of the Social Subjects as pertaining to manners and parties! I hope you you know the right answer to that one but can you answer these?

1. What is meant by the phrase "Standard Classroom" and what are the dimensions of same?

2. What is "work-space" and what relation has it to an "informal" class room?

3. What is meant by 6-6-6?

4. What are fenestration activities?

5. What is the difference between Practical Arts and Vocational Education?

6. Why should school room walls have a special finish?

7. How is a school-house plan "rated" on an effic ency scale?

8. How do the experts find why a new school should be located?

9. How and by whom should plans for a new school building be checked before any bids even are sought?

10. What are the two essentials to be looked for in the arrangement of trees-lows in a stair well as applied to school construction?

The above factors and terms are known at random and are easily by any one who has done any study of educational problems at a university or college. They serve to show what I mean when I assert a school system is a highly specialized business. The question then therefore is raised, Why do we go on year after year, allowing matters as important as money and the education of our children to be handled by a Board of Selectmen and Town Meeting voters who, in this business would be amateurs?

Appointment of the best Educational Expert our Town Government can afford, as Superintendent of Schools.

Supervision of School Budget and appropriations.

A Superintendent should not have to please individual members of the Board by giving a job to a certain individual, say a coal boy or girl. After turning over the schools to a competent expert and agreeing to his general policies the Board should go home and leave him alone. If this was the rule in Massachusetts rather than the exception, we would see the ranks of School Superintendency filled with able, career-minded men, rather than the many third-rate, politically minded fellows we see filling so many of these important posts. Here in Winchester we have picked some men in the past, and now The question is, can we keep "hands-off"? We hear a lot about "What is wrong with our American Schools?". In many cases the trouble stems from the top.

My own suggestion for getting a more democratic town-meeting procedure and a more business-like structure for conducting town activities, is as follows:

Selection of Town-Meeting Members in Rotation or
The Winchester Plan for Limited Town-Meeting

(A)

Replace the present system of nomination and election of Town-Meeting Members by a system taking these citizens to serve as ing blocks of voters from each alphabetically-arranged list, (Six Precinct lists as now) and appoint-Town-Meeting Members. If one year was the term decided on, the following year a second block of voters would be designated, and so on and in rotation. In the course of a few years, every voter in town would serve as a Town-Meeting Member. We have six precincts. Starting at the top of each list, the Selectmen would take the first 20 percent (let us say) of the names of registered voters and would notify those men and women that they were to serve at the next Town-Meeting. By taking the same percentage from each precinct we would get proportionate representation automatically.

(B)

Each new body of town-meeting members, precinct by precinct, would be given a time and place for a pre-town-meeting caucus. Here each precinct would pick (by secret ballot) one member to serve as a Selectman and two members to serve on the Finance Committee. In this voting the ballots would be simple slips of paper with places designated where you write-in your choice for the three Precinct citizens you want. The small numbers involved makes this form of voting practical. The three names appearing the most times would be forwarded to the Selectmen or a sub-committee. The caucus could be in charge of the first six members on the Precinct and they could select a temporary chairman

(C)

The Selectmen would function more as they do now but one of their new and most important duties would be the selection and appointment of a Town-Manager from a list of candidates presented by the Finance Committee. The Manager would be directly responsible to the Selectmen. He would have tenure of office except to such time as he was found to be out of step or thought to be incompetent by a two-thirds vote of the Selectmen. Space here and now does not permit for a detailed working plan but the a ove does suggest a way by which the Town-Fathers with the help of our able Town Counsel could make a start on a reform of this nature. I would place all departments under the Manager and then hold him accountable. This must be done with full protection for the feelings of present skilled and loyal town personnel but that problem can be worked out in fairness to all. The first Town Manager must be a type willing to work along with the old order while at the same time laying the founda tion of the new.

Analyzing the propaganda in last week's Star, with long experience in Town matters, I have found that every section of the Town has been perfectly fair in voting if the subject has real merit in it.

Now as to the "barn" the kids are in—this building was constructed by a Mr. Shattuck, a wealthy, retired, business man. It is a finely constructed brick building one-half of which he used as an office. This room had a large fireplace and was furnished very elaborately with many oil paintings, beautiful rugs and furniture. The other part of the building housed the carriages and two fine horses. It was always kept in the very best condition and I do not think that the kids are suffering a visit to school rooms for a short time. It is no fire risk as all the rooms are on the first floor. So let's not worry about the kids as they are." They're having a good time. The Superintendent used to say many years ago that fun and schoolroom

I agree that last week's correspondent is right to spend the Town's money on $8,000,000 when

Appreciation of the work of the Finance Committee and the Selectmen in the matter of the Town's finances is that Town's credit is one fine and [illegible] in every way. I am not against a new school on the corner of Cambridge street, as a matter of fact as soon as conditions are a little more settled I don't forget that a few fire houses must be built near the new school site in case of a fire. Big Johnny Stevenson, who played a lot of tackle on Sarto Walsh's fine football team at Winchester High, several years ago, is back in this country after serving with the United States Army of Occupation in Belgium, France and Germany. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stevenson of Hemingway street, and like most boys after army duty appears taller and trimmer than when playing football for the high school

Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Carrier, after spending a few days at their home on Lloyd street following their return from a visit with their daughter, Mrs. E. L. Hathaway, in Pittsburg, Kansas, are now at their summer home in Hancock, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Poole of 35 Water street are the parents of a son, born April 23 at the Winchester Hospital. Mrs. Poole is the former Leona Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Elliott of this town. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Poole of Peabody.

Marshall R. Pihl, Jr., a member of the eighth grade of the Browne and Nichols School in Cambridge was a contributor this month to "The Spectator", the school quarterly and has been advanced from circulation department to reporter staff of the bi-weekly paper called "The Spec." In sports, he has been chosen as cox-swain of the third crew. Previous to the war, the Browne and Nichols crew won the Hanley Cup, after competing with many prep schools and colleges on the Thames River, England, and now with the war over they hope to again win a similar distinction.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark W. Collins of Lloyd street have purchased the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Tufts on Hutchinson road. Mr. Tufts, who is connected with the Atlantic Mutual Insurance Co., has been transferred to New York and expects to settle with his family in Greenwich, Conn. The Collins' expect to occupy their new home early in the summer.

Effective May 15, George I. Chatfield of Alben street, assistant advertising manager of Lever Brothers Company, will join the executive staff of Kenyon and Eckhardt, Inc., according to an announcement made today by Thomas D'A. Brophy, president. For the past 19 years, Mr. Chatfield has worked on all phases of advertising. Recently, he had full charge of all advertising for both Lifebuoy and Rinso. He attended the University of Minnesota and was graduated from M. I. T. in 1928.

Box 211 sounded at 11:28 Tuesday, calling fire apparatus to the Home for Aged People on Mt. Vernon street. Recognizing the box, call men reported in large numbers and the apparatus from the Central Station made short work of the run to the home. The men found their services were not needed, the alarm having been pulled inadvertantly by an insurance inspector testing the fire prevention equipment at the home. Everyone was glad there was no fire and the "family" enjoyed seeing the "boys in blue and silver" drive up to their door.

Chief Boatswain's Mate Dale F. Dye and Mrs. Dye (Grace Ulrich) formerly of Winchester, announce the birth of a second daughter, Natalie Joyce, on April 27 at Coco Solo Naval Hospital, Panama Canal Zone. The maternal grandmother is Mrs. Carrie J. Ulrich of this town and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Dale W. Dye of Harrisonville, Ohio.

Miss Fannie E. Young of Maxwell road attended last week's reunion of the famous "Fadettes" women's orchestra in Boston. Miss Young was a soprano in the "Fadettes" and after several tours with the orchestra did theatre work in and around Boston, playing at mountain and beach resorts in the summer.

Many people are asking what has become of the winter traffic lines hitherto painted on the streets. According to report the whole Town equipment was sent somewhere in the West for repair and renovat on and has not yet been returned. Meanwhile, the pedestrians are crossing street intersections wherever they can find room between the cars which park on cross-walks or wherever the drivers elect.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

On Saturday, May 17, the Brownies, weather permitting, will hold their pet show at Ginn Field, this year for the first time in conjunction with the Cub Scouts. The slogan "Nothing is too large or too small" is expected to produce a great variety of entrants ranging from a possible horse to an almost certain caterpillar.

Next Wednesday, May 14, at 1.15 all adults active in Girl Scouting in Winchester will meet at the First Baptist Church for their annual meeting, preceded by dessert and coffee. Many "old-timers", including Mrs. Addison Pike, organizer and first commissioner of Winchester Scouts and other early commissioners and Council members of Winchester, are expected to be on hand for the cutting of the mammoth birthday cake which is to mark the 34th anniversary of the founding of Girl Scouting in Winchester. The slate for next year's council will be voted on at this time.

A group of 28 Winchester leaders and Council members attended the three-day regional Girl Scout convention at Swampscott last week. With Mrs. Barbara Metcalf, our executive director, taking part in a panel discussion of the formation and requirements of a program committee, and members of the Winchester delegation manning the appointment desk, Winchester can consider itself actively represented.

On Thursday, May 8, a smaller but no less enthusiastic group joined an all-day area training meeting held in Wakefield.

News from Troop 16

Saturday, April 26, we had a cook-out at the base of Horn Pond Mountain. We had previously divided into four groups. One girl in each group brought 1 lb. of stew meat and each girl brought a potato, one other vegetable, either an onion, carrot, parsnip, or celery, and bisquick for bread twists.

Upon arrival at about 9.45 a. m. our leader Mrs. Nelson gave each group a pail the same size and announced the following contests:

1. Starting Fire
2. Boiling water
3. Well-cooked stew

Everyone scattered to gather firewood and green branches to make cranes, etc. as 11 had been set a starting time for the contests. About 11.15 each group had their cranes set up and their teepee formations ready to light. Most of the girls had gathered their tinder from the ground and it was rather damp but one group took their tinder from the lower dead branches of the pine trees. This group won the first contest, another won the water boiling contest, and the same two shared the third contest.

For dessert we had mock angel food (it was wonderful, if you haven't tried it you should).

While we were cooking Mr. Nelson hid a treasure and left signs for us to follow. When we had climbed almost to the top of the mountain Carol Cleaves found the treasure, a Girl Scout head band

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Divine Science does not put new wine into old bottles, Soul into matter, nor the infinite into the finite. Our false views of matter perish as we grasp the facts of Spirit. The old belief must be cast out or the new idea will be spilled, and the inspiration, which is to change our standpoint, will be lost." (p. 281)

SALE OF BUDDY POPPIES ASSURES HAPPY HOME FOR ORPHANS, WIDOWS

The V. F. W. National Home for orphans and widows of veterans, at Eaton Rapids, Michigan, is unique among America's charitable institutions. It was built, in part, by contributions of citizens of this community.

This information was offered today in an interview with Commander Horn of Post 3719, Veteran's of Foreign Wars of the United States. Commander Horn announced that the 26th annual Buddy Poppy sale will be held here on May 23 and 24.

Ideally located on 640 fertile acres of rolling, shaded Michigan farmland, the surburban Home has housed, clothed and fed hundreds of "families" since its founding in 1925.

Since then thousands of orphans of overseas veterans and scores of especially selected war widows have lived a happy, normal life financed almost completely by proceeds of Buddy Poppy sales.

To insure the integrity of the home, the Veterans of Foreign Wars set up a National Board of Trustees, which is entirely independent from the parent V. F. W in management of the Home. A pioneer in casting aside uniform and barracks atmosphere commonly associated with institutions of its kind, the Home is an orderly city of $12,000 brick houses.

Paved streets checkerboard the area. Each house has a "Mother" who does all of her own cooking and tends the children. Older girls help their "Mother" while older boys help with the chores.

The older children take care of the younger while at play just as in any large American family. Children attend services at any one of the several denominational churches in Eaton Rapids. Then again, perhaps the family members might wish to attend functions in Lansing or Jackson, Michigan, less than an hour's ride away.

Brick houses at the Home are sponsored by State Departments of the V. F. W. These Departments are actually state organizations and include their Ladies Auxiliaries. More than a score of attractive houses have been erected already which makes possible the comfortable housing of some 200 children annually. More houses are planned when construction is again possible. As the youngsters reach maturity, their custody is returned to the legal guardian or nearest relative.

PAST AND COMING EVENTS AT THE METHODIST CHURCH

Last Sunday evening, May 4, from 5:30-8:15 o'clock, Methodists and their friends crowded the vestry of Crawford Memorial Methodist Church to enjoy a Family Night Program in keeping with this week's observance of National Family Week. The program opened with a covered dish supper. Dr. Charles R. Mingins, our faithful song leader, with Mr. Stephen Burgoyne at the piano, led the large church family in a rousing song fest that will long be remembered. Intertwined in the unusual musical program were instrumental numbers presented by Mr. Gerald Smithson, our lay leader, at the piano, and Mr. Fred Felmet, Jr. and Mr. Charles Enright, clarinetists. Mr. Gerald Smithson gave his musical talent at the piano by playing two special selections.

Following the musical program, Rev. Harris E. Heverly, presented each family with a printed sheet suitable for framing, entitled, "A Creed for Parents." This Creed was read in unison.

Appropriately following this ritual, flowers were given to the mothers present as a gift from their church. Miss Nancy Griffiths distributed the flowers as the mothers stood while they were being honored. Rev. Heverly, with Mr. George Needham assisting, led the families in a game period. In conjunction with this period of recreation, Mr. George E. Roghaar, manager of Associated Film Libraries, Inc., presented a program of movies suitable for every age present. The Family Night Program came to a close when the entire group formed a Fellowship Circle of clasped hands and sang, "Bless Be the Tie That Binds." The Pastor closed with the Benediction.

Mr. Ralph Hatch, Donald Hatch, Victor Griffiths and John Marshall, arranged the tables for the supper. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wilkins prepared the delicious coffee and directed the course of the supper. Many others helped with the dishes and cleaning the vestry.

Much credit is due Mr. Gerald Smithson, lay leader, for his work in planning the program.

Saturday morning at 10 o'clock parish workers will be actively covering the Methodist Parish in the first waste paper collection drive for the new parish house. This is the second project of the new parish house committee directed by Mrs. G. Raymond Bancroft, chairman. A surprising amount was raised during the Lenten season in the distribution of self-denial boxes among the homes of the parish. If you have paper you want to contribute to this worthy project that will inevitably see the community profit by it as well as the Methodist Parish, call Mrs. Bancroft (Win. 1998) or Rev. Heverly, Win. 0139). Mr George B. Needham and Mr. W. Raymond Chase will collect paper with their trailers. Many parishioners will use their cars and beach wagons.

Monday evening at 8 o'clock, the Sherman M. Dodge Men's Club will present a unique "Surprise Night Program" for the men of the community. You cannot afford to miss this program arranged by Mr. Lewis G. Curtis, chairman of the program committee. Recall some of the programs he has arranged so far this year and you will realize why we make this invitation to come so urgent.

If you enjoy singing come to the club and "get in tune" with a fine song leader, Dr. Charles R. Mingins. This is a friendly club that meets in a friendly church.

Wednesday evening at 8:15 o'clock, a fine musical program will be presented by our Choral Society. This will be the third annual "Pop" Concert held in the vestry of the church. Fine music, fellowship and friends, and food await all who buy their tickets now for 60c. Mrs Milton G. Galucia, 11 Bonad road is in charge of tickets. Call her up at your convenience and reserve a table for the family. (Win. 0020-W)

RADCLIFFE ALUMNAE TEA

Mrs. Lyman B. Smith and Mrs William E. Spaulding were hostesses to all Winchester Alumnae of Radcliffe College at a tea held at the home of Mrs Smith last Saturday.

Officiating at the tea table were Miss A. Natalie Jewett, Mrs. Everett A. Tisdale, Miss Phyllis M. Palson and Mrs Theodore E. Browne.

Mrs. Brewer Brackall, national chairman of the Seventieth Anniversary Fund, outlined plans to increase Radcliffe's endowment by raising $400,000 from alumnae all over the wolrd by June 1949. She also suggested ways and means by which each community can help the college reach this goal.

Mrs. George B. Redding, chairman, and Mrs. Theodore E. Browne, vice-chairman, head Winchester's Radcliffe Alumnae who are making plans to participate in the drive.

Mrs. Henry B. Hawkins (Mary McGrath) and son arrived by plane Sunday from their home in Alice, Texas. They will visit Mrs. Hawkins' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McGrath of Rangely ridge, for a month.

"DAYS OF YORE"

Clippings from the STAR Files

25 YEARS AGO

May 5, 1922

Mr. Arthur E. Sanford is the new author of the Parliamentary Law Club of Boston, and Mrs. Herbert Maynard and Mrs. H. W. Hildreth are directors.

John Luongo of this town, only six years old, has a drawing of "A Rabbit Running Fast," at the exhibition of young children's drawings at the Boston Art Club. It is a most creditable drawing.

The Winchester Boat Club is now open for the season. Mr. Felix Lanctot, formerly assistant steward at the Calumet Club, is the boat club steward this season and is now on duty at the club.

Dwight Fiske, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A Bradford, sailed Tuesday on the Aquimta, for Europe. He expects to remain there until fall.

Mr. Gordon Wheeler, Tech '24, has been elected circulation manager of the humorous magazine of Tech, named Voo Doo.

President Edmund C. Sanderson has announced a new idea for the regular meetings of the Winchester Chamber of Commerce commencing next week. This is to replace the regular evening meeting by a noon luncheon followed by a brief instructive talk on interesting matters.

Rev. Howard J. Chidley of the First Congregational Church will sail for a trip abroad May 7th. His itinerary will include the North Cape cruise, a visit to Spain and a Mediterranean cruise. He will return the first of September.

Mr. Roger C. Wilde was a graduate of the Tuck School of Business Administration at Dartmouth College last week.

Margaret Howland of this town will take part in a specialty number "Egyptian Girls" in the B. U. show, "Zero."

Bowling is growing rapidly as a sport among the ladies, and the Calumet Club alleys have seen some fine strings rolled this season. Last Friday afternoon Miss Janet Goddard, the 12 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Goddard, rolled a string of 88 at the club.

Eldith Lewis of this town, a student at the Boston University College of Secretarial Science, is a member of the University Junior Week Committee.

The bill for the construction of a new Bacon street bridge over the river was passed and signed by the governor this week.

Daily Philosophy

When in company, watch your tongue.

You may know a man pretty well by just knowing the people he knows.

Some of the chauffeurs about back up against the curb stones as if they had previously been employed by the government to test armor plate.

Some men think greatness is to hold a town office or have a pull in town affairs.

When with the family, watch your temper.

April 30, 1897

In view of the deplorable act of Woburn's license commissioners in permitting the establishing of four licensed liquor saloons close to the border line of Winchester, it would perhaps be well for our Selectmen to have a temporary caboose or lock-up at that end of town for the convenience of the patrons of these rum holes. It would also save numerous long trips to the present police station, and prevent the demoralizing scenes witnessed in taking these drunks through the center of town. Again it would be nearer to the police court.

Open electrics made their appearance on the Mystic Valley railroad Sunday for the first time this season.

Winchester Council, 210, Knights of Columbus, is rapidly growing in membership. The genial "Joe" Colbert is secretary and this may possibly account for its prosperity. He is evidentally the right man in the right place.

Mr. A. E. Whitney is getting to be an enthusiast of the wheel.

A spelling contest was held Tuesday evening in the Congregational vestry, Woburn, between Woburn and Winchester teams. The judges were Edwin N. Lovering, Henry M. Shepard and Fred E. Rowe of Winchester. There were given out 188 words, and the Winchesters fell on the 138th, and Mrs. Cotton of Woburn did not stop until she came to "vizet", the 188th word.

Mr. James Nowell has been elected captain and Mr. Samuel W. Twombly, 2nd, manager of the Winchester baseball team.

The Selectmen and Engineer Thompson viewed Highland avenue last Saturday, that they might attain an idea of what is required to put it in good condition.

The sidewalk on Main street adjoining Simond's market was concreted this week.

A garbage push cart such as is used in Boston by the street department would be an improvement over the wheelbarrow now in use, besides it would have an up-to-date appearance.

A large turtle, a denizen of Aberjona park, was captured on the boulevard a few days ago, and was placed on exhibition in the window of Sherman's provision store on Main street. The turtle weighed 28½ pounds, and Mr. Sherman intended to have it sent to the city, probably to be made over into soup.

Highland avenue since the mud has dried up, is much resorted to for pleasure driving. In fact it is the only street on the east side of town available for that purpose.

Mr. Charles Carter has accepted a position as a Gypsy moth hunter.

The house on the corner of Highland avenue and Wilson street formerly owned by Mr. Frank Weeks, was moved this week to land off Cross street.

The macadam roadbeds of electric roads solve the question of a bicycle path. The Selectmen of Arlington do not recognize this, in requiring the paving by the Arlington and Winchester road.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Swett and Messrs. I. Holmes Kendall and William A. Stone will attend as delegates the Woburn Conference of Congregational Churches in Billerica.

The many who took down storm windows regretted doing so. The thermometer at freezing at noon Tuesday, will make that day memorable.

Den 3 showed a 1910 Joy Ride with tire trouble playing a prominent but unwelcome part. The actors were Bobby Willing, John Becker, Owen Nichols, Billy Eriksen, Charles Brown, Curtis Ryan, Stephen Nichols and Stephen Dunn.

Den 2 next appeared as Rockettes to dance for the company while the stage was being made rady for the "Battle of the Century," presented by Den 5. Announcer, Elie Pierce, Den Chief; soap announcer, John Swazey; fight broadcaster, Earl Carrier, Cub emeritus; T. N. T. Jones, John Atkinson; Slugger Magee, Vernon Carrier; timekeeper, John Swazey; trainers, Wally Hart and Kent Wright; referee, David Meskell. Ask any one in Pack 6 to name the winner!

The flag for highest achievement for the month of April was awarded to Den 3 whose denner is Billy Eriksen.

SMITH HEADS CAMPAIGN

R. H. B. SMITH

The appointment of R. H. B. Smith of Dix street as chairman for Winchester in the 1948 campaign for Red Feather services of the Greater Boston Community Fund next fall is received with wide interest by his fellow townsmen. Announcement that Mr. Smith would succeed Walcott B. Thompson, 1947 chairman, was announced by President James Nowell of the Winchester Community Chest today.

As Town Meeting member, member of the Executive Committee and historian of Winchester Post 97, American Legion, and chairman of the Music Committee of the First Congregational Church, Mr. Smith is closely identified with town activities. He is sales manager for Lawrence Portland Cement Company of Boston and chairman of the Civic Development Committee of the Boston Rotary Club. In addition to Rotary, Mr. Smith is a member of the Engineers Club and the Winchester Boat Club.

Generous of his time and capabilities in serving his community, Mr. Smith was chairman of the Service Flag Committee and took a leading part on A. R. P. and War Records committees during the recent war. He was chairman of the local Red Cross War Fund campaigns in 1941 and 1945 and has served in Community Fund drives. He left the University of Chicago in 1917 for World War I and is a former commander of Winchester Post 97.

In accepting the leadership for the 1948 Community Fund campaign, he said, that in his opinion, "It is the duty of everyone to participate in some way in recognized activities that have as their motive the alleviation of distress and the extension of good will to vast numbers of people in the community in which we live. Personally, I have always considered my services were available to any possible extent, where it was considered they might prove useful in such endeavors."

SENIOR FORUM PLAYS HOST TO THE WOBURN DISTRICT

The Pilgrim Fellowship spring rally for the Woburn Association was held last Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational Church. "We Would Be Building" was the Conference theme. The president of the Senior Forum, Jack Filler, opened the afternoon session with greetings on behalf of the host church. Ruth Morse was the organist during the song fest. Since Grace Padelford is vice-president in charge of Missionary Action, she took charge of one of the four simultaneous conferences.

The following Forum members were waitresses at the dinner: Linda Bartlett, Bette Fitzgerald, Patty Kaknes, Pat McDermott, Martha Knowlton, Patsy Willing, Mary Morse, Carolyn Zinn, Betzy Chipman, Sally Carlisle, Alice Hodge, Barbara Macaulay, Betty Ann Parker, and Cynthia Morse.

The evening session was held in the auditorium. Dr. Howard J. Chidley, minister of the host church, was the speaker. His subject was: "The Man with an Elastic Conscience." Mr. J. Albert Wilson had charge of the music. Total registrations for the Spring Rally numbered 283.

The Trip to Plymouth

On Monday, May 5, about 40 members of the Preservation of Antiques group enjoyed a pilgrimage to Plymouth, under the leadership of Mrs. T. T. Greenwood, leaving Winchester by bus early in the morning.

The first visit in Plymouth was to the First Church, Unitarian. The next stop was at the historic Harlow House, where the hostesses guided the members through the quaint little 17th century home, and showed them the household crafts of the Harlow family and the many objects in the house.

At noon, the members went to the Ebenezer Curtis House for their box luncheon, and were served coffee by the lady of the house, Mrs. E. Carlisle Dunlevy, who is the mother of Harriet Connor, one of our members.

The afternoon tour started with a visit to the Plymouth Pottery. From there, the bus drove us to the Pilgrim Maiden and all walked through the picturesque park, saw the spring and noted the banks of Town Brook where the Pilgrims "washed their clothing."

The bus then drove along the waterfront, past Plymouth Rock, up to Faith Monument, and then along the King's Highway to Boston and Winchester. It was a sunny spring day for the trip, and all made the pilgrimage were outspoken in their enthusiasm for the day's outing and hoped that another bus trip to an historic town could be arranged later on.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

Winchester Hospital is regretfully informing its friends of the omission of its customary "Open House" on May 12, National Hospital Day. Beginning with the observation of this special event in 1923, Winchester Hospital has welcomed its friends annually on May 12th and each year since then. The celebrations have taken a number of different forms. In some years there have been changes in the Hospital building or additions to the equipment which have deserved special attention. In 1928, May 12th was the day on which the Hospital was rededicated in its present form after the completion of a wing and the reconstruction of original units, representing an investment of more than three hundred thousand dollars.

One Hospital Day which I remember with special pleasure was in 1930, when we issued invitations to the mothers of babies born in the Hospital during the preceding year. Dr. Clarence E. Ordway, long head of the Hospital staff, was present with his motion picture camera. The weather was perfect and the guests made a happy scene on the lawn. The babies of that day are now in high school, and in the film we recognize Mrs. John Clarke of 149 Highland avenue with Dorothy, Mrs. Lawrence S. Martin of Washington, D. C., with Jimmie, Mrs. William E. Ramsdell of 6 Summit avenue with Virginia, Mrs. Ronald G. Richburg of 13 Highland avenue with Ronald, Jr., and Mrs. Thomas Righter of 5 Fernway with Martha.

We have dug into the Winchester Hospital records to round out our impression of the relationship of the Hospital to the local high school girls and boys. We find that 60 percent of the families have had medical and surgical service in the Winchester Hospital, ranging all the way from the arrival of the children into the world, through tonsillectimies and appendectomies, and the broken bones and other vicissitudes of growing up. In some cases, the nearness of the Hospital and the superior skill of its Staff has literally saved the life of one of these young people.

The omission of a celebration at Winchester Hospital on this May 12th is made necessary by the very heavy demands now being made upon the staff members and nurses. In the year 1930, when Dr. Ordway took the motion pictures, the Hospital's capacity was normally the same as today, but during the 17 years the number of admissions has risen from 1583 to 3856, an increase of 141 pecent. The number of medical admissions has increased from 192 to 471, a 145 percent increase, and obstetrical admissions from 236 to 1104, an increase of 367 percent. During this same period the number of births in the town of Winchester has risen 200 percent. In spite of a large amount of home building during the past 17 years, we talk of a serious housing shortage, yet Winchester Hospital has taken care of the increased load without additional facilities. Perhaps the most astonishing single fact is that the census on the Hospital's heaviest day each year has increased from 65 in 1930 to 121 in 1947, a figure which seems almost incredible for a hospital with normal bed capacity of 90.

D. A. R.

The annual meeting of the Committee of Safety Chapter, D. A. R. was held at the home of Mrs. Harold F. French, 371 Main street, on Monday, April 28. The Regent, Mrs. Nathaniel M. Nichols, presided.

The following officers were elected for three years (1947-50): [illegible]

As the reports of the different officers were read the members couldn't help but realize and appreciate the amount of work the past registrar Mrs. William A. Purdy did during her term of office. An increase in membership from 25 members in 1911 to 116 in 1947 is proof of what she accomplished.

Miss Clara Russell paid tribute to Mrs. Charles S. Beaudry our retiring treasurer and it was unanimous from all the members to one who has been our treasurer for over 20 years.

At the close of the business meeting Mrs. Nichols introduced the speaker, Mrs. Raymond W. Wheeler. Mrs. Wheeler is a favorite speaker of ours and her "Cape Cod Stories" are always very much enjoyed.

Mrs. Harold F. French and her committee, consisting of Mrs. Carlisle Burton, Mrs. William Coady, Mrs. Robert Wild, Mrs. Donald K. Lewis, Mrs. John Hill, Mrs. John Wills, Mrs. Bertram Dube, Mrs. Marshall Pihl, Miss Eleanor Bancroft and Miss Louise Bancroft, served refreshments. Mrs. Earle E. Andrews and Mrs. William H. Cole poured.

CAR RAN DOWN HILL

A Ford sedan, owned by Randolph L. Kazazian of 19 Lincoln street, was badly damaged about the rear end Monday afternoon when it backed down the hill from where it had been parked in front of his home and finally smashed into a tree, after sideswiping another automobile and caroming off another tree.

Mr. Kazazian told the Police his small daughter informed him his car was backing down hill about 3 o'clock and he ran out to attempt to stop the machine. He was unable to do so because the fluid hose of his brakes had let go. The machine first sideswiped a Chevrolet sedan owned by High School Principal Wade L. Grindle and parked in front of his home at 31 Lincoln street., damaging it slightly. It then caromed off a tree and crashed into a second tree in front of the home of Police Officer Archie O'Connell coming to a stop at that point. No one was injured.

MISSION UNION GUILD

The Mission Union Guild of the First Congregational Church will meet on Tuesday, May 13. At 10 a. m., there will be sewing for the bazaar which comes in November; at noon there will be a board meeting; and at 1 p. m. luncheon will be served by Mrs. R. Earle Dickson, and Mrs. F. D. Hawkins. At 2 p. m. the meeting will assemble in the ladies' parlor to hear Dr. Eddy Asirvatham of Madras, India, a distinguished Christian leader and an author. His topic will be, "Thy Neighbor in India." Having received his B. A. at the University of Madras, a B. D. at Hartford Theology Seminary and a Ph.D. at the University of Edinburgh, also having traveled widely in India, Burma, Ceylon, Scotland, Denmark and the United States, he has the background and ability to present an unbiased evaluation of the complexities in India which puzzle Americans. He is head of the department of Political Science and Public Administration at the University of Madras, but is now serving at Boston University as visiting Professor of Missions and Christian International Relations.

The director, Mrs. Clarence Wickerson, will preside and Mrs. Edward R. Grosvenor will lead the devotions. There will be special hostesses to greet newcomers at luncheon.

Special zone fares on the Eastern Mass. are now 6¼c . . . 4 tickets for 25c. Without tickets, the fare is 10c cash.

Save yourself those extra pennies, by getting tickets from your bus operator . . . a quarter's worth or more.

The use of the 4-rides for 25c tickets is not restricted to the purchaser . . . your family, or any rider, can use them. And there's no time limit . . . they're good until used.

So why pay a dime for a 6¼c ride? Buy 4-ride tickets for 25c, and keep a supply on hand.

VETS TO HAVE OUTDOOR MEMORIAL SERVICE

Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, and Aberjona Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, are joining this year in a mass memorial service to be held outdoors on Sunday afternoon, May 25, at 3 o'clock on Leonard Field.

It has long been the custom for the Legion to join with one of the local churches each year in a memorial service preceding Memorial Day. The outdoor service at Leonard Field will replace that service this year.

Rev. Edmund C. Sliney, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, and Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church, will conduct the service. Both are veterans, Father Sliney having been an Army chaplain in the Pacific during World War II. Rev. Mr. Chapman is chaplain of Winchester Post and is also the Legion State Department chaplain.

Memorial Day

A joint committee of Legionnaires and Veterans of Foreign Wars is arranging for the annual observance of Memorial Day. The program will be as usual with parades to both Calvary and Wildwood Cemeteries and the customary services at each. Walter J. Burns of the Legion is heading the committee of arrangements and it is expected that two bands will be in line this year so that those toward the end of the line can also have music to march to.

The Legion will hold its annual pre-Memorial Day Banquet at the Legion House Monday evening, May 26, at 6.30 with Rev. Edward B. Wilcox, minister of the Unitarian Church in Lynn as guest speaker. A major in the Army Intelligence Service during World War II, Mr. Wilcox will speak on the "Challenge of Communism."

Rutter announced that the appointment coincides with the naming of Dr. Pratt by trustees as president, general manager and trustee of the New England Alcohol Company, a Monsanto subsidiary at the Everett plant. Dr. Pratt has served as vice president and general sales manager of the New England Alcohol Company since 1942.

Assistant division general sales manager Howard J. Heffernan of Boston was appointed division general sales manager to succeed Dr. Pratt and Frederick S. Hatch of Jefferson road, assistant to the division general manager, was elected by trustees as vice president of the New England Alcohol Company.

ADOPTS FRENCH GIRL

Mrs. William G. Morse of 1 Cottage avenue has "adopted" Annie Trochine, 11 year old French girl in France, through the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children.

dren whose family was forced to Annie is the eldest of three chilflee from Paris during the German occupation. Since the war, her father has been unable to return to his job of driving a taxi and despite his utmost efforts, his family has been hungry and poorly clothed. Both he and his wife are deeply grateful for the help which Annie's "adoption" will give both them and the child.

Though far from robust, Annie is extremely charming and very intelligent. She has lovely fair hair, deep eyes, a sunny smile and a sense of humor.

She wants to learn to be a good typist and is thrilled to have a foster parent in far-away America.

MRS. PERRY AT WARING CONCERT

Mrs. Ella Perry, popular member of the family at the Home for Aged People on Mt. Vernon street, was the personal guest of Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians at their concert last Sunday afternoon at the Boston Garden.

Mrs. Perry, whose 97 years make her one of Winchester's oldest residents, has long been a favorite of Mr. Waring and his bandsmen. For her part Mrs. Perry is an enthusiastic Waring booster and never a day passes that she does not write a letter or card to the band telling them how much she enjoys their broadcasts.

Five years ago when the Pennsylvanians were in Boston at the Statler, Mrs. Perry was Mr. Waring's guest at one of the programs, and the popular band leader has kept constantly in touch with his Winchester admirer since that time, showing her many kindnesses.

Sunday he sent his personal limousine for Mrs. Perry and Mrs. Elizabeth McWha, assistant at the Home, who accompanied her to Boston. At the Statler the ladies were met by a representative of Mr. Waring who escorted them to the Garden where special seats were reserved for them near the orchestra.

It being "Mothers' Day", Mr. Waring referred to Mrs. Perry as in a sense the mother of the Pennsylvanians, saying that she had some time ago "adopted" the Fred Waring Show. The spotlight was thrown upon Mrs. Perry after this reference to her and she and Mrs. McWha were presented with handsome corsages by the band leader.

At the conclusion of the program the members of the band went to Mrs. Perry's seat and greeted her personally for she is well and favorably known by all the performers. Afterward the big limousine took the two guests back to the home.

While in Boston Sunday Mrs. Perry accepted an invitation to attend the Waring rehearsal and broadcast the next day at New England Mutual Hall. Consequently on Monday she and four of her friends at the home, Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers, Mrs. Carrie Clark, Mrs. Annie Foster and Mrs. Florence Girdler, went into Boston to attend another Pennsylvanians' show.

The Police found that the glass had been smashed out of the window of the front door of the station but the intruders had been unable to force the door. Glass over the catches had been broken in windows on the south side of the station, but once again the windows could not be forced.

The thief or thieves finally got into the station by hurling a two-pound stone through the sash of one of the windows on the south side of the building.

DANGEROUS MISCHIEF

The Police were notified Wednesday that damage had been done to houses being built by Alfred Elliott on Seneca road and Wildwood street extension.

It was also found that nuts had been removed from bolts holding stagings creating a dangerous condition for the workmen. The Police secured the names of several boys believed responsible.

LEAGUE TO STUDY SCHOOL BUILDING PROGRAM

The annual meeting of the League of Women Voters of Winchester was held on Thursday, May 8, at the home of Mrs. Ralph M. Sparks of Cabot street. The sunshine, the special business, the hospitality of the hostess, the speaker, all combined to bring out a large and interested audience. Probably the most important action taken at this meeting was the acceptance of a program for local action during 1947-48. The National League and the State League set up each year a program of items on which to concentrate their efforts and urge each local league to do the same on a local level. Mrs. Rowland Patrick and her committee presented the following items for the local program:

1. Support for an adequate building program for the Winchester schools to meet present and future needs.
2. Support for a broad and well coordinated recreation program for Winchester.
3. Study of the limited Town Meeting form of government.

Mrs. Patrick, in explaining what the program would mean, said, "The first two items are necessarily study items also, since we shall have to decide what constitutes an 'adequate building program', and what is a 'broad and well coordinated recreation program.' We have phrased both these items 'support for' since they may well be that before the year is out, plans will be put forward, which, on the basis of our study, we could vote to support."

In the case of the first item, she pointed out "Such a study could do a service to the town. The striking thing brought out in the recent school debate was that the people of the town were not well informed as to the facts until the question was on top of them, few had seen the site for the West Side School. Townspeople were asked to make decisions without sufficient time to study the whole picture. We have now," she continued, "an opportunity to initiate such a study, not only for the League, but for the town, and to do a job of education by making the results of such a study known to the people of Winchester. The building of the West Side School is the concern of the people from every precinct and of all groups."

In considering the second item, a broad and well coordinated recreation program, she interpreted "broad" to mean supervision of and provision of both winter and summer sports and other recreational activities, and by "well coordinated" a study of the duties of the Park Department and of the Recreation Commission. The last item, that of a study of our form of Town Government, was chosen by the League because so few seemingly know how it functions. How and why is the Planning Board? the Park Commission? What is the place of the referendum? How are committees appointed?

The program was unanimously adopted by the League.

After the other annual reports were read, the following were elected for the year 1947-48:

President, Mrs. William E. Spaulding
1st Vice President, Mrs. Wilbert Underwood

She explained how the adoption of Plan E had benefitted Cambridge, what P. R., or proportional representation meant, and of how important it is for all of Massachusetts to have the right kind of government in Boston where so much money is spent of the state.

Following the meeting, Mrs. Walter Winship and her committee served a most enjoyable tea. Mrs. Theodore Browne and Mrs. Bowen Tufts poured.

FINANCE COMMITTEE DINED

The Finance Committee held its annual get-together and dinner at the Winchester Country Club Wednesday evening with 24 members and ex-members present. Virtually all of the new committee members were present with Selectman James F. Dwinell, Jr., last year's chairman and Selectman Morris Kerr, his immediate predecessor.

Herman Pike, newly elected chairman of the committee was M. C. but the general informality of the party made a presiding officer unnecessary. Moderator Joseph W. Worthen, a former chairman and the ranking "old timer" present, welcomed the new members.

V. F. W. BUDDY POPPIES HELP ALL VETERANS

Immediate aid to disabled and needy veterans, their dependents, widows and orphans is one thing to be made of proceeds from the 26th annual sale of Buddy Poppies to be sponsored May 23 and 24 by Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3719, Commander Horn said today.

Aid to tide over men disabled in any of the nation's wars is granted from Buddy Poppy funds, while V. F. W. service officers assist the veteran in adjudication of his claims for compensation from the Veterans Administration, Horn pointed out.

Millions of Buddy Poppies sold throughout the nation and overseas this year will help solve the problem of rehabilitation and useful citizenship for those who sacrificed the most to preserve our nation," Horn continued.

"Our service officers are familiar with the rights of widows, orphans, the disabled, job trainees and GI Bill of Rights students. We represent them, at no charge, in cases where power of attorney is necessary. Unsnarling of insurance claims, helping survivors get terminal leave pay when the veteran dies, and all other cases of veteran rights have increased enormously since War II," he declared. "We look forward to a greater response than ever before on the part of the public to those who served."

MYSTIC SCHOOL NOTES

On Wednesday, May 7, the Mothers' Association of the Mystic School held a Bonnet Bridge. Dessert was served under the direction of the refreshment committee, Mrs. Russell Symmes and Mrs. Frank Harlinson assisted by the girls of the sixth grade serving as waitresses.

The stage of the assembly hall was decorated with a spring scene which the fourth grade Brownies, and some members of the fifth and sixth grades had helped to complete.

The audience was welcomed by Mrs. Herbert Ross, president of the Mystic Mothers' Association. Mrs. Henry Dellicker, general chairman of the Bonnet Bridge, introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Mme Avant, Hollywood stylist. Mme. Avant, in a most entertaining way, showed how every woman by following certain basic rules of style can be beautiful. Also a milliner of renown, Mme. Avant did amazing things with hats, even trimming an evening hat in about three minutes flat.

Probably the audience was most enthralled by Mmme. Avant's enlightening skit "Mrs. Winchester's day in her basic dress—five different changes of accessories for five different occasions."

At the conclusion of her talk, Mme. Avant drew the ticket for the winner of the $20 Peck and Peck hat. It was Raymond Clark of Sargent road.

The committee who were responsible for this entertaining program were the following:

General Chairman, Mrs. Henry Dellicker
Refreshments, Mrs. Russell Symmes, Mrs. Frank Harlinson
Decorations, Mrs. Katherine Dawes, Mrs. Aline Miller
Tickets, Mrs. Dorothy Donovan, Mrs. Herbert Preble
Chances, Mrs. James K. McElroy

The cooperation and enthusiasm of the committee members and many other mothers assisting was most gratifying.

The annual meeting of the Mystic Mothers' Association will be held on May 27, at 2:45 p m. at the Mystic School Assembly Hall. Miss Asher will speak, and the kindergarten band will perform. Pre-school children will be taken care of in the kindergarten room.

STUDENTS AT CAMBRIDGE CENTER

There will be no scarcity of educational and recreational opportunities this summer at the Cambridge Center for Adult Education, 42 Brattle street. News of the many courses to be offered will doubtlessly attract numerous Winchester residents, as the spring term has done. Everett Kinsey, 12 Fells road; Dr. Lawrence Trevett, 5 Chesterford road; Leslie A Tucker, 54 Hillcrest parkway; Miss Ethel Robbins, 7 Brooks street; Mr and Mrs. Charles Wilbur, Swan road; R. F. Jones, 31 Mystic avenue; Miss Edith LaMarca, 6 Sheffield road; and Mr and Mrs. C. Wilbur are members of the Advisory Committee.

Wednesday morning's alarm of fire from Box 521 at 5:46 was for a fire under the piazza at the home of Mr. William E. Bottger, 17 Sheffield road. The fire did quite a little damage to the piazza before it was finally declared out at 5:48 It was the second piazza fire in town within a week.

EN KA TUNERVILLE FAIR

Spend the day at the Tunerville Fair on Saturday, May 24. Lunch at the Snack Bar, relax over tea in the Pergola, stay those hunger pangs by loitering at any one of the numerous food booths. Brouse around the attic for rare treasures, frolic in the midway, and cavort on the dance floor in the Town Hall.

One of the booths that should be visited is the Gift Booth, appropriately titled after the song hit, "Tie me to your Apron Strings". Mrs. Franklin A. Flanders is in charge of this stupendous project. At this booth will be displayed handicraft fashioned by the nimble fingers of artisans who have labored for months to turn out attractive, useful and unusual articles in the sewing, knitted and painting line.

Dainty colorful aprons for Mother, or daughter. Dad, too, has not been neglected. Tie him up in one of those jaunty aprons for his own particular brand of housework. Seersucker sun-suits for children are practical as well as cunning.

Mrs. Harold N. Stevens and her committee have turned out a variety of knitted masterpieces. Infantine tidings are adorable booties, sweaters and rompers. A new idea is the fashionable knitted children's bathing suits. For the teen-agers are lovely cable and plain socks for girls, and equally attractive argyle socks for men and boys. Mrs. Morris B. Kerr is in charge of these knitted articles.

Mrs. Clarence S. Luitweiler, Jr., with Mrs. R. Ronald Wyman as co-chairman, plus a large committee have been industriously at work for months painting. The results of their work are fascinating hand decorated mirrors, colorful hearth brushes, gay salad dressing bottles, waste baskets, match boxes and many other gifts too numerous to mention. Of particular interest are the large hand decorated chinese lacquer and peasant decorated sweater boxes, which may be pre-vued and pre-purchased at the home of Mrs. Luitweiler.

Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin announces that the Merry-Go-Round and the Ferris Wheel will be running on Friday evening, May 23 from 7:30 until midnight.

Chance books for the Fair should be returned to the "What-Not Shop."

Garden Booth "Just an Old-Fashioned Garden." Away from the hullaballu of the Midway, is the Garden Booth, located on the Island. Cross the bridge and you'll step into a veritable fairyland of flowers and plants. On this Paradise of Beauty will be found Mrs. Harold H Blanchard and Mrs. Victor Wolff.

They will have for sale baskets of herbs, seeds, weed killer, all sorts of sprays for gardens. Also unique gadgets for outdoor cooking, if these are available.

Mrs. John Wills has painted some very lovely flower prints which make most desirable gifts.

Flowered chintz smocks for working in the garden will also be on sale. An unusual feature will be a picturesque Wishing Well. Toss in a penny and have your wish come true.

A delightful program has been arranged by Miss Wright featuring the Ballet School, Glee Club and the School Band, which has aroused a great deal of interest in the past as an amazing feat for so young a group of children. REPORT OF ANNUAL MEETING OF WINCHESTER MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

Reports presented by the officers of the Winchester Mothers' Association and the presidents of the various chapters representing the individual elementary schools and the Junior High at the annual meeting of the Association held in the Assembly Hall of the High School on Tuesday afternoon, May 13, indicated a most active and profitable year. Interest has been stimulated between the teachers and the mothers, there have been many social events to help the mothers get better acquainted with each other, and an unusually large amount of money has been raised for the Winchester Scholarship Foundation, in addition to the various worthy causes to which the Association has contributed.

Preceding the business meeting with Mrs. George I. Chatfield, president of the Association, presiding, Mr. Fred Felmet presented the High School Orchestra in a number of very fine selections which were indicative of the great progress this group has made under his direction.

President, Mrs. Lyman Smith
1st Vice President, Mrs. George A. Marks
2nd Vice President, Mrs. Charles E. Wilson
Secretary, Mrs. Richard Cunningham
Treasurer, Mrs. Herbert Mullen
Publicity Chairman, Mrs. Benjamin T Marshall Jr
Ways and Means Chairman, Mrs. Lyndon Burnham
Nominating Committee Chairman, Mrs. Maurice Freeman

Mrs. Chatfield as retiring president was presented a beautiful bouquet, and the words of praise spoken by Mrs. Carle Zimmerman in presenting them echoed the sentiment of the entire Mothers' Association, for Mrs. Chatfield has been an indefatigable worker and her labors and those of her Board have made this the most successful year so far for this organization.

Following the business meeting delicious refreshments were provided by Mrs. Kenneth Cullen and her committee.

PLAYGROUND AND BEACH PERSONNEL OLDER THIS YEAR

The Park Commissioners' recent appointments for Playground and Beach jobs this summer reflect the commissioners' desire to have so far as possible older young people as instructors on the playgrounds and lifeguards at the beaches.

Ted Bartlett, who heads the playground program, is a teacher in the commercial department at Winchester High School, head coach of the school's basketball team and assistant coach of football. During the spring he has been assisting Coach Knowlton with elementary baseball instruction and umpiring high school baseball. During the war he served in the Army Air Forces, having a long tour of duty in the European Theatre and being discharged with the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Frank Provinzano, who will act as supervisor of the Leonard Field playground, a graduate of Boston University school of Physical Education and a former varsity football and baseball player at B. U. An all around athletic star at Winchester High, he is currently a teacher-coach at Webster High School. He too served in the Air Forces in the ETO during the war.

Dick Murphy, supervisor at Loring avenue, was a three sport athlete at Winchester High and is currently at Tufts where he played varsity football last fall and is on the baseball team this spring, also being on the basketball squad. He was in the Marine Corps during the war.

Roger Wright, Ginn Field supervisor, is a western boy, having come to Winchester two years ago from Cincinnati, Ohio. He is a pre-medical student at Harvard and has had considerable athletic experience which should assist him in his playground duties.

Marjorie Mahoney, girls' supervisor at Leonard Field, has had several years playground experience in Winchester, including the supervisor's job. She is at present teaching school in Hull. Anne Costello, girls' supervisor at Loring avenue is a member of the senior class at State Teachers' College, Lowell, with actual teaching experience to help her in her playground duties. Rosanne Borden, who is to be girls' supervisor at Ginn's Field, is a senior at Winchester High, a member of the field hockey team, cheer-leader, and has served as one of the ditors of the student publication, Red and Black.

Helen Jay Carroll, reappointed supervisor of beaches, needs no introduction, having been Miss Winchester Swimming for some years now. Currently teaching physical education at the University of Maine, she is a former junior A.A.U. sprint champ and before becoming beach supervisor was Red Cross swimming instructor in Winchester.

Many of Miss Carroll's personnel are former Winchester playground or beach boys and girls who have grown up in the Winchester tradition. Addison Augusta, Roy Mellett and Bob Harris have all been beach-guards, and both Barbara Walters and Mary Dean Snell have held office jobs at the beach bath-houses.

Of the two beach custodians, Robert Horn is a former G. I., and Fred Scholl had a lot of guard duty, both at the reservoirs and at war plants during the war.

TENNIS ASSOCIATION ELECTS

On Friday evening, April 11, the Winchester Tennis Association held its annual meeting at the home of the president, Bob Drake. After the reports on the very active 1946 season had been discussed and thoroughly aired, the meeting proceeded to the election of officers for the present 1947 season. The nominating committee's slate was unanimously elected as follows: President, Conrad Rosander; Vice President, Kenneth Hills; Secretary-Treasurer, Wallace Blanchard; Members of Governing Board, Arthur Hills and Raymond Terhune.

Plans were then discussed for the 1947 season. The evening terminated with a collation served by Mrs. Drake and daughter, Marilyn, and by some very fast table tennis in Bob's comfortable basement.

The following members were present: Harry Bean, Bob Bellows, Wallace Blanchard, Bob Drake, Whit Gray, Ken Hills, Conrad Rosander, Dave Small, Ray Terhune, Jim Riley, and Jim Ware. The badminton tournament at Belmont prevented Art and Dot Hills and Ed Williams from attending, so later that evening some of the members went to Belmont to cheer them on.

HONORS EVEN AT PALMER STREET

Honors were fairly even last week-end at the regular matches of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association though several of the members were competing under handicaps of one sort or another.

Royal P. Teele, doughty ex-champion of the Boston Paper Trade, reported with a heavy cold and the admission that he had felt "dreadful" the day before. The fact that he had recovered his "googles" from the Cape where they had been inadvertantly taken by one of Roy's "nearest and dearest" did not seem to offset the ravages of the cold, which hampered the President both vocally and mechanically.

"Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the "Pride of Stow and Champion of all Nabnasset," arrived at the courts late, having driven all the way from Manomet to compete. He was at first a bit stiff and was unequal to carrying Mr. Teele all the way on his back in the first match which he and the President dropped to Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner, the "Dix Street Magnate" and, of all people, the Secretary.

The Secretary admitted to a slight headache and Mr. Gardner had lamed a wrist while wrestling with the storm-windows the day previous. The Scribe's game seemed unaffected, being bad as usual, but Mr. Gardner's submarine shoe was much less accurate than is its wont.

So far as any one knew Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham was normal for the pitching, his sky-scraper shoe landing much too near and on too often for the good of his opponents, while his always remarkable score-keeping confounded Mr. Teele and the Secretary as usual.

It should be mentioned that the President and Secretary won a game from Mr. Gardner and Mr. Pridham by the devil of a comeback after an 18-3 deficit. All the games were close with one side or the other seeing a commanding lead melt away as their opponents surged upward with hoarse cries! Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the "State of Maine Champ," failed to appear for play.

"MARNEE" NORRIS LONGWOOD VICTOR

"Marnee" Norris, all around athletic star at Winchester High School and daughter of Superintendent of Schools and Mrs. Forbes H. Norris of Church street, won the older girls' singles championship at the Longwood Cricket Club in Chestnut Hill last Saturday, beating team-mate Ruth Murray of Winchester in the final round, 6-2.

Winchester sent only three girls to Longwood, "Marnee," Ruth and Joyce Dana. Two others, eligible for the older girls' class, Libby Fenno and Ann Albree, having other engagements.

The local girls did pretty well. Besides "Marnee's" win in singles "Ruthie" Murray paired with Helen Pipes of Wellesley to win the doubles crown and Joyce Dana was a finalist in consolation singles. She and "Marnee" played together in doubles reaching the semi-final round before being eliminated.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Conrad Rosander, president of the Winchester Tennis Association, has announced the 1947 Tournament Committee as follows: Ken Hills, chairman; Ray Terhune, and Ed Williams. On Monday evening, May 12, the committee met at the home of Ken Hills and formulated its plans for the Annual Get-acquainted Spring Draw Doubles Tournament. This highly amusing as well as profitable event is open to all Winchester residents and Town employees.

The present town title-holders will certainly be present to help make things hum. They are Jim Coon, who is now attending Harvard and is a high ranking member of the tennis team; Art Hills, who used to play tennis at Dartmouth; Frannie Keyes Yeager, who is now coaching girls' tennis at the high school; and Dot Bruno Hills, who is the busy mother of two flourishing boys. But remember that except for the family doubles this is a draw tournament, so one of the preceding or some past or future champ may turn out to be your partner and help you march on to victory. The program adopted is as follows:

Men's Draw Doubles
Friday, May 30 at 1.30 p. m.
Saturday, May 31 at 10 a. m.

Women's Draw Doubles
Friday, May 30 at 1.30 p. m.
Saturday, May 31 at 10 a. m.

Mixed Draw Doubles
Saturday, May 31 at 1.30 p. m.

Family Doubles
Saturday, May 31 at 2.30 p. m.

Entries will close at 7 p. m. on Monday, May 26. The entrance fee is 25 cents per person per event. Telephone your entry to Ken Hills at 1083-R, Ed Williams at 1191-W, Ray Terhune at 0826. You may also leave your entry with the attendant at the Palmer street courts, where, of course, the tournament will be held as always.

ACTOR'S THEATRE TO DO "GOLDEN BOY"

Miss Jeanne Tufts, daughter of Mrs. Octavia and the late Bowen Tufts, formerly of Winchester, is the founder and actively interested in the Actor's Theatre of Boston which is to produce "Golden Boy" by Clifford Odets at the Peabody Playhouse, 352 Charles street, Boston, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, May 28 and 29.

"Golden Boy" is the third production this season of the Actor's Theatre, an experimental group which intends to become a permanent organization devoted to producing the best dramatic literature. Rehearsals and acting classes are held nightly in its studio at 36 Causeway street, Boston.

THE MISSES GRACE TANNER AND VIRGINIA TANNER IN BERMUDA

Recent visitors to Bermuda from Winchester, during the month of May were the Misses Grace and Virginia Tanner of 17 Lebanon street, who stayed at "Belmont Manor" in Warwick, Bermuda, for several weeks.

WINCHESTER HIGH DROPPED PAIR

Winchester High dropped two Middlesex League baseball games last week, losing to Belmont Thursday at Leonard Field, 13-8; and to Melrose at Leonard Field Friday, 5-3. Two questionable decisions by the umpire helped the visitors to six runs in the Belmont game which was featured by Wettlaufer's hitting. Lack of baseball sense, due to inexperience, hurt the locals chances against Melrose which is far from a potent club.

WINCHESTER ELKS OBSERVED SILVER ANNIVERSARY

Sunday, May 11, proved a red letter day in the annals of local Elkdom as Winchester Lodge, 1445, B. P. O. E., observed the 25th anniversary of its institution May 10, 1922.

Thirty new members were initiated into the lodge and five members were reinstated at an impressive ceremonial conducted at the lodge hall in Lyceum Building Sunday afternoon by Exalted Ruler Archibald J. MacDonald and the officers of the lodge. At the conclusion of the initiation several charter members spoke very briefly about the early days of the lodge, and Past Exalted Ruler Harry A. McGrath presented the charter and 25 year members with handsome gold pins, after which all present stood in silent tribute to those members who had passed on.

Following the initiation all adjourned to the Town Hall where the big social event of the program, the anniversary banquet, was served. The entrance to the hall was decorated with bunting and a big "welcome" sign, and inside the patriotic motif was repeated with bunting on the balconies and stage and potted plants and flowers.

Seated at the head table with P. E. R. Fred D. Clement, who served as toastmaster, were several distinguished Elks, headed by Hon. John F. Malley, former collector of Internal Revenue in Boston, chairman of the Elks National Foundation and Past Grand Exalted Ruler. Others were District Deputy [illegible] C. Mulcahy, representing Grand Exalted Ruler Charles E. Broughton, Thomas Copp[illegible] of Newton Lodge, secretary treasurer of the Massachusetts State Elks Association; John F. Burke, Grand Treasurer; P. E. R. John O'Brien of Cambridge, 2d vice president of the Massachusetts State Elks Association; State Association President Irving K. Shaw of Springfield and former Presidents Edward A. Spry and Arthur J. Harty of Winchester; Past District Deputies Fred Scholl of Winchester, chairman of the anniversary committee; Michael J. McCarron of Woburn, Warren F. Cox of Woburn, John F. McGann of Arlington; Past Exalted Ruler John P. Brennan of Cambridge, former Representative; Exalted Ruler Archibald J. MacDonald of Winchester Lodge, Representative Harrison F. Chadwick of the State House of Representatives, Selectmen Philip P. Wadsworth and James F. Dwinell, Jr., Rev. Fr. Edmund C. Sliney, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, and Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church. Fr. Sliney made the invocation and Rev. Mr. Chapman pronounced the benediction.

Past District Deputy Scholl introduced Toastmaster Clement, preceding his introduction by leading all present in the salute to the flag. During the banquet Fred T. Strachan's Elks' Orchestra played instrumental selections.

Toastmaster Clement traced briefly the outline of Winchester Lodge from its institution. The principal speaker was Hon. John F. Malley, who gave the history of the Elks' order from its earliest days to the present and outlined the charitable work which the Order of Elks is doing, such as its aid to crippled children, scholarship awards, career [illegible] and youth sports program.

Other speakers were John F. Burke, Grand Treasurer, [illegible] of being present 25 years ago when Winchester Lodge was instituted, and District Deputy Mulcahy, who as personal representative extended the greetings of Grand Exalted Ruler Charles E. Broughton.

Responding to toasts were Rep. Chadwick, Selectmen Wadsworth and Dwinell, Past District Deputies McCarron, McGann, Barry and Cox, State Association President Shaw, past State Association President Spry and former State Representative Brennan. Mr. Brennan paid tribute to the late John McNally, founder of Winchester Lodge, and requested all present to stand in silent tribute to his memory.

Following the speaking program an excellent entertainment program was presented through the efforts of Bro. R. A. "Al" Somerby.

Included were Dee Thompson, dancer; Manny Williams, magician; The Tumblin' Boys, acrobatics and clowning; Johnny Adalino, baritone; Eve Massey, tap dancer; Dornan Brothers, novelty act; and the Marino Sisters, songs, acrobatic dancing and tumbling.

Johnny Adalino sang by special request Malotte's arrangement of "The Lord's Prayer" and selections from "Oklahoma," as well as the popular favorite, "I've Got Plenty of Nothin'."

Assisting the Dornan Brothers as "stooges" in their act were Tax Collector Nathaniel M. Nichols, Andrew Capone, George Foley, Howard Brownell and Eric Johnson. Special mention should be made of Mr. Nichols' work in this act, so good that it drew personal commendation from the professionals.

COMPLAIN OF BROKEN GLASS

Over the past week-end six lights of glass were broken by stones in the basement door of the Lincoln School and a light of glass in the front door facing Westley street, was pushed out. The building was entered and paper taken from holders in the girls' toilet and crammed into the bowls.

Glass was also smashed in the Leonard Field bath-house and at the Junior High School a number of panes of glass were broken by stones in the gymnasium. Custodian Thomas Drapeau complained that the Junior High playground is still being used by out-of-town persons.

COMMERCIAL ART AT LIBRARY

The Winchester Art Association, in accordance with its policy of covering as many forms of art as possible is showing, this month in the library art gallery examples of commercial art by well known Boston artists.

Of especial interest is an example of four-color process of printing, showing the progressive steps in the production of a color illustration by Winchester's own Forrest W. Orr, who is well known as an illustrator.

Mr. Orr's illustration is of an old fashioned political street rally at night. The first plate is printed in yellow, then in red, and then in red over yellow. Next comes a black print, then black over the red and yellow. Then comes blue and finally blue over black red and yellow for the finished print.

The local exhibition shows a number of book jackets, black and white illustrations, illustrations in color for magazine advertisements, and catalogue illustrations in both color and black and white.

There are also drawings for folder and pamphlet illustrations and illustrations of such widely divergent items as sterling silver flat-ware, automotive pumps and [illegible]. Some of the illustrations resemble wood-cuts and some etchings.

There is a fine pencil sketch of a [illegible] with its building under the spreading [illegible] of a tall elm tree.

WEEK-END FIRES

The first of several alarms which the Fire Department answered last week-end came from Box 47 at 7.54 Friday evening for a chimney fire at the home of Emilio Luongo, 212 Cross street.

Saturday morning at 9 o'clock there was a brush fire on Cemetery land, and at 10.40, a second [illegible] fire on the old Ginn estate off Central street. At 7.40 Saturday evening there was a grass fire at the corner of Highland avenue and Fells road.

Sunday afternoon at 12.54 Box 62 came in for a fire under the porch at the home of Mr. Harold Bradley, 11 Myrtle terrace. Cause of the fire is unknown. At 2.26 there was a grass fire at the rear of Bryer's farm on upper Washington street.

SPRAYING FOLIAGE IN FELLS

The Metropolitan District Commission has been spraying the foliage in the Fells and on the Winchester watershed this week with D. D. T., applying the spray from an airplane flying about 30 feet above the trees.

The spraying was done between 1 and 9 o'clock in the morning and some who saw the job in process believed that the plane doing the spraying was on fire, so dense is the spray [illegible].

The D. D. T. is [illegible] very powerful, a gallon of the solution spraying [illegible] acre. [illegible] admit that there are certain kinds of bettles which the spray will not affect, but they are, generally speaking, of the garden variety. It has been found very effective for forest spraying.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY ELECTION OF OFFICERS

On Sunday, May 11, Mothers' Day, the Holy Name Society of St. Mary's Church received Holy Communion at the 8 o'clock Mass.

In the evening at 7 o'clock the Society held their annual election of officers for the year 1947-48.

The following members were elected to office:

President, John A. Volpe
Vice Pres., Harold I. O'Leary
Treasurer, Vincent F. Erhard
Secretary, Francis D. Weafer
Marshall, Henry (Harry) F. Boyle

ELKS LADIES' NIGHT

Tomorrow evening at the Woburn Country Club the Winchester Lodge of Elks will hold a Ladies' Night which will include a banquet starting promptly at 6:30 p. m. Following the banquet there will be dancing until 12 o'clock.

The lodge activities committee, under the chairmanship of Robert F. "Sam" Murphy, has been working hard on this party and are sure it will be a complete success. Favors are to be given to the ladies. Marshall's Orchestra will furnish the music.

FLOWER MISSION BEGINS 1947 SEASON

For the 78th year the Flower Mission is carrying on its grand work. Flowers will be collected in Winchester every Tuesday throughout June, July, August, and September (except on the holiday June 17) and transported via the 9 a. m. daylight train to Boston.

The various churches and the Winchester Garden Club have all generously and enthusiastically supported the idea again this summer and committees have volunteered to take charge of the project on succeeding Tuesdays. On June 3 the Methodist Church will start with Mrs. Henry Roberts and Mrs. Alonzo Nicholas and on June 10 the same church will have Mrs. Harris G. LeRoy and Miss Eva Sherman on the committee.

So many people are interested in the work they know it is worthwhile, but are not quite sure of the details. Briefly the story is this: from 24 towns around Boston, fruits, flowers and vegetables are collected on different days of the week and sent to Boston to be enjoyed by the aged, shut-ins, by patients in hospital wards, and to people in institutions, neighborhood centers, and service clubs. The contributions of Winchester's flowers go to the South Bay Union first and from there are distributed. The happiness and real personal comfort our flowers bring are reflected in the letters that come in from the grateful recipients. Headquarters for the Benevolent Fraternity Fruit and Flower Mission, which is its full name, [illegible] Horticultural Hall.

So remember June [illegible] and bring your bouquet from [illegible] garden first wrapped in newspapers to the Winchester Station or call a member of the committee to have it picked up. With your help we know we can have another good Winchester project.

SEWING AND KNITTING FOR WORLD RELIEF CONTINUES

Sewing for Church World Service will continue at the Church of the Epiphany for the next four Tuesday mornings at 10 o'clock. Donations of clothing, bedding, etc. are much needed. If you are in doubt whether to save that dress or blanket for another season, take it to the Parish House of the Epiphany Church, or leave it with Miss Sands in Parker and Lane, next to the Star Office.

Nineteen forty-seven is one of the worst years in history for the people of Europe and Asia. Let us help out of our plenty. Goods are distributed with almost nominal overhead through the churches, yet they are given without distinction as to creed or color. In one European town recently visited by an American churchman, every child there was wearing American clothing.

If you are unable to find clothing to donate, you can knit squares during the summer, either in the 4 in. size for a child's afghan or in 7 in. size for an adult's. Leave them at any time with Miss Sands at the above address, and willing hands will be found to join them into afghans.

Shipping these things and providing food for distribution takes money. Make a contribution through any church for World Relief. Your minister will forward it through the Reconstruction and Relief Fund of his church.

NURSING SCHOOL GRADUATE

Miss Frances Elaine Feinberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Feinberg of Water street, was graduated May 7 from the nursing school of the Beth Israel Hospital, exercises being held at Temple Israel Meeting House on Longwood avenue in Brookline. Miss Feinberg is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1944.

BOAT CLUB NEWS

STORK STALKS SNIPE FLEET

Shortly after 10 Snipes had crossed the starting line for the initial championship race of the 1947 season, a small rowboat came racing out of the gut and rushed into the fleet. Thanks to an almost complete calm, it soon overtook George Jones' "Lomar," and quick as a wink John Powers was aboard heading for shore much faster than we've ever seen him move before. You've guessed it, he was keeping a date with the stork and apparently he made it because he became the proud papa of a baby girl in the afternoon. Guess those funny looking birds on the sails of the fleet are storks— something we've suspected for a long time.

John will be pleased to learn that he didn't even miss a race. After drifting for the 45 minutes allowed to finish the first lap, not a single Snipe had completed the circuit, so the race was postponed. Those nearest to making the mark were Don Simonds, Jr., Ted Burleigh, Bob Swanson and George Field, who were more or less in that order when the race was called.

Club Chatter

The first good weekend of the season brought plenty of activity to the club. More docks were dunked, boats polished and launched, and there were a goodly number of sun bathers on hand. Don't forget the Chowder Party at the club tonight.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

A group of Winchester citizens have accepted as a civic responsibility the task of completing the Building Fund to provide a new wing for the Winchester Hospital. In this column we shall, from week to week, tell you about this project, describing the facilities, which the hospital places at your disposal and which make it one of the very best hospitals in Eastern Massachusetts.

In preparing the weekly newspaper releases, we shall have the assistance of the Executive Committee of the Hospital Directors under the Presidency of Mr. Edward R. Kenerson, of the Building Committee, whose Chairman is Mr. Harold B. Richmond, and the Committee on Public Relations under Mrs. Wayne B. Thompson. We shall give you, as clearly and briefly as possible, a wide variety of important facts about the Hospital and its services, facts supplied by members of the medical and surgical staff of the Hospital and by its Administrator, Mr Tucker M. Vye. We believe that you should have a full report of the work and the needs of your Hospital, and that we can fulfill our responsibility only by giving you an understanding of the value of this institution to you and your family and friends.

Winchester Hospital is one of the agencies cooperating with the Greater Boston Community Fund through the Winchester Community Chest. The completion of the Building Fund will, therefore, be made under conditions laid down by the Capital Campaigns Committee of the Fund, one of which is that the public appeal will be made after the completion of the 1947 Community Fund, November 30, 1947. In the weeks between today and the end of November, we shall plan carefully to place the necessary information before you, and we trust that you will arrange to keep in touch with your home newspaper.

On May 30 this column will introduce you to the plans of the new wing.

Ralph H. Bonnell,
Chairman
Winchester Hospital Building Fund

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB TO SING WITH FEDERATION AT NEW HAVEN

The Mystic Glee Club whose spring concert last Friday evening at the high school was such a success, will sing in the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs annual joint concert at Yale's Woolsey Hall in New Haven Saturday evening. The Winchester group is one of 11 clubs participating in the concert which will have between 300 and 350 men singing together as a unit. Alexander Kipnis, famous operatic and concert basso, will be the soloist and the New Haven Symphony Orchestra will play.

Thirty-three of the Mystic Glee Club's membership of 40 are going to New Haven and during the afternoon will participate in the glee club competition at the Hotel Taft. This competition should provide a stiff test for the local group as several of the older clubs have been definitely pointing for the event. The local singers, under their popular leader, "Bill" Cruger, are, however, confident of making an excellent showing.

Mary Louise Wood, the club's talented accompanist, is going to New Haven with the club, but will not be called upon to play, since the competition in the afternoon is unaccompanied. Wives of several of the club members are going to New Haven and an interesting round of events is being planned leading up to the big concert in the evening.

WOBURN 6; WINCHESTER 1

Winchester High lost a non-league baseball game to Woburn on Leonard Field, Wednesday afternoon, 6-1, one bad frame upsetting the locals' applecart.

Blanchard walked in Winchester's third, was advanced on Olivier's tap to Fields and scored as K. Donaghey tapped a single to left.

In Woburn's 5th, after Devaney fanned, Martini was safe when he collided with Switzer, allowing A. to drop Donaghey's throw to the runner's topped roller. Weafer rapped to Horne and "Hankey" bobbled the double-play ball, both runners being safe. Vasapolli's one-shot to left filled the bases.

With two strikes on Fields, McElhinney tried to waste one, but the batter reached up and out to belt his high outside pitch to center for two bases, bringing in Martini and Weafer. Castiglione hit past third to score Vasipolli and Fields came in when Switzer got his glove on, but couldn't hold Dulong's rap between first and second, a routine second base ball.

Castiglione reached third on the bobble and Dulong stole second. Borgerson fouled to Donaghey but both Castiglione and Dulong counted when Blanchard erred on Garvey's grounder. Olivier threw out Devaney to end the inning.

Bob McElhinney, who pitched for Winchester, deserved a better fate, walking but one man, fanning five and keeping Woburn's hits well scattered except in the 5th when ordinarily good ball would have retired the side in order. The summary:

PARISH PLAYERS WARD SHOW

The Ward Show under the auspices of the Parish Players, was taken to Murphy General Hospital in Waltham on Tuesday evening by Mrs. Howard J. Chidley and Miss Janet Sargent, and the boys in the wards gave them a resounding welcome and applause. The show is part of the USO unit.

First the girls passed around home made cookies and hard candies to the patients, accompanying the gifts with a cheerful word and smile. Then the quartet entertained, with Mrs. Dorothy Ghirardini at the piano and also taking part. Other quartet members included Mrs. Marian Blake, Mrs. Janet Dalrymple, Miss Annette Crouchwell. That the harmony of this quartet delighted the boys was evidenced by their demand for "more".

Miss Isabelle Stactkum of Medford was the accordian player, called by some of the patients "the best we have heard yet". Miss Marguerite Darro presented some of her tap dances, accompanied at the piano by Barbara May Elliott. The dances, too, were applauded as the girls went from ward to ward.

The Ward Shows have been to Chelsea Naval Hospital and to Cushing General this past month, and on May 25, another Ward Show will be sent by the Parish Players to Cushing General, to bring entertainment to the boys there. And as always, some home made delicacy will be brought along with the entertainment to add to the pleasure of the Show.

"OPERATION NAVAL RESERVE"

Film "Fighting Lady" to Open Enrollment Campaign

A special showing of "The Fighting Lady," action-packed sound film of the Carrier Enterprise, will be given at Odd Fellows Hall, Monday evening, May 19, at 8 p. m., under the joint sponsorship of Winchester Posts of American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars. Lt. A. Newman, carrier pilot of Torpedo Squadron VT-19, who formerly served on the Carrier Antietam, will be present to answer questions concerning Naval Aviation. Winchester Chapter A. R. C. will serve refreshments during the evening. All ex-servicemen are invited.

The occasion marks the opening of an enrollment campaign "Operation Naval Reserve." Outstanding civilian leaders in each community are working in cooperation with Rear Admiral W. D. Baker, U.S.N., Commander of the Naval Base, Boston, in securing the enrollment of 16,000 men between the ages of 17 and 39 in the 12 cities and towns of this area. The campaign is part of a nation-wide drive to acquaint service clubs and other civic groups with the necessity for maintainance of a strong Naval Reserve as an instrument for world peace and to inform prospective recruits of the many advantages offered them by the new civilian reserve. A quota of 150 enrollees has been established for Winchester.

Veterans undergo no physical examination and become reservists at the rate at which they were discharged. Non-veterans are given a simplified physical examination and join as Apprentice Seamen.

Those in both groups join up on an inactive basis, attend no drills, and make no cruises, but they may volunteer to take some study courses which lead to advancement in rating. Reservists may resign at any time and may be called in to active duty only at their own request or by Presidential declaration.

The new civilian Naval Reserve, as authorized by Congress to help this country carry out her responsibilities in a world of peace, aims at conserving, improving, and utilizing the Navy's wartime "know how" which otherwise would be lost.

Further information and pledge cards on "Operation Naval Reserve" may be had from any member of Winchester Posts of American Legion or V. F. W.

Through the courtesy of Postmaster Vincent [illegible], information and enrollment [illegible] open in the lobby of the Post Office from 7 to 9 p. m. Monday through Saturday, May 19-24.

The Winchester committee is composed of Philip P. Wadsworth, honorary chairman; Maurice [illegible] Bird, chairman; Comdr. J. H. Jordan, U.S.N., Vincent C. Ambrose, John T. Horn, Charles D. Rose, Edward Woodbury.

In review of the recent Post Office mixup whereby mail was held up and Post Office employees discharged whill-nilly, there is little question but what the Boston postmaster slipped in applying the good old New Deal technique. To be sure we still have the New Deal with us as strong or better than when our late departed dictator was ruling us, but in these economy minded days the people at least like to have a gesture made of keeping within an appropriation and the passing of the buck to Congress over the discharge of postal employees stirred up a hornet's nest. It is of note too that it took a Maine Congressman to get things going again in Massachusetts. Evidently our Washington representatives are too busy to bother over these minor local matters.

It is always nice to learn of co-operation between town departments and especially heartening to find the town's Recreation Committee rallying to the support of the Park Department in the latter's attempt to set up a much more comprehensive playground program for the coming summer. After providing for the Leonard Field and Loring avenue playgrounds the Park Department found itself left with only half of the funds necessary to provide adequate facilities for the Ginn Field playground. This playground a relatively newer field, is one of the most popular, from a use standpoint, in town and the Park Department felt that because of the large number of children and adults it serves it should be equipped and staffed as well as Loring and Leonard. The Recreation Committee supported this reasoning and rallied around with some $500 from its account to provide the necessary funds. As a consequence Ginn Field will have in addition to greatly increased equipment two full time instructors. This will be good news to parents of children in the Wedgemere and Symmes Corner districts and to the youngsters themselves. Meanwhile everyone will be happy to know that town boards can, and are working together to better serve the public interest.

The speeding of automobiles along the roadway through Manchester and Ginn Fields continues and despite a small sign erected to forbid though traffic, cars continue to leave the field on Bacon street at a risk to their own safety and to that of machines approaching or leaving the Bacon street bridge. Apparently it is squarely up to the Park Commissioners to make suitable regulations for this roadway in legal form that can be enforced by the Police. With Ginn Field sure to be used more this summer than ever before, effective means should be provided to stop the use of the driveway through the field as a speedway before someone is injured, or worse. It would also be a good plan, while the Park Commissioners are at it, to make new and more workable regulations governing the town's beaches. According to the Police those now in force are not good for much. Both our beaches and playgrounds are bound to be used by more and more of our young people For the public benefit there should be certain regulations pertaining to their use which are clearly defined and enforceable by the Police. If, as the Police allege, the present park and beach rules are not in form acceptable to the courts, they should be put in such form at once, and then strictly enforced, from the start. Anticipating trouble and providing for it usually prevents most of it from developing.

The Star has received from a reader a clipping from the "Christian Science Monitor" with a note suggesting that the clipping would be timely for those who believe that only in beautiful and well appointed schools can children learn anything. The article tells of Lord Kelvin, one of the world's greatest physics teachers, and of how he sent from his pitifully equipped classroom and laboratory at the University of Glasgow outstanding students in research, discovery and teaching. Among others, the president of a Canadian college told of the lessons Lord Kelvin taught with spools and pieces of string in lieu of standard equipment. The point to it all is of course that the real teacher will teach wherever he is, or whatever the handicap. Apparenty Lord Kelvin could not have taught better from the world's best equipped laboratory, and while all teachers are not Lord Kelvins, it is probably true that the teacher, more than his surroundings and appurtenances, makes the instruction. It is equally true that the boy or girl who has a good, if not outstanding, teacher and wants to learn will do so under conditions which are not one hundred percent, while the finest, best equipped school in the country is no guarantee in itself that pupils will be educated when they leave its halls. As the result of the recent adverse vote on the proposal to build a new school in the West Side hill district there are many bitterly disappointed parents who feel that their children are being discriminated against in their attempt to get an education. They feel that way because their youngsters are not to have a beautiful, new, finely appointed school building as soon as they had hoped that they would. We can understand and sympathize with their disappointment, but just as the nice new building would not guarantee their children a better education, so the lack of such a building need not prevent them from learning the lessons they need to learn in the primary grades. If a Kelvin could teach college physics brilliantly with spools and string, a good grade school teacher ought to be able to instruct healthy normal children in elementary subjects under conditions less than ideal. While a way is being found out of the present school impasse the parents of children affected can help a lot by accepting with what grace they can muster interim arrangements which may not be to their liking, and by encouraging their youngsters to react to their teacher and not to their school. Parental supervision and encouragement can go far toward helping our teachers in their attempts to do the best possible job under conditions both they and the members of the School Department consider a distinct handicap.

"FRED'S HOME SERVICE"
Tel. Win. 1271

Take a little bit of advice you good people of Winchester. There are plenty of good Painters in town well known of good character, honest and reliable. Some of you people are having your houses painted by a total stranger just because he has painted a house next you and it looks good. "What of it." So does a new pair of cheap shoes look good, but watch out when the weather hits them they may be made out of paper and fall apart. Same thing with your paint, it will crack, check, and peel. Who will blame them? Oleomargine is good, but butter is better if you get it. Same thing about oil, a great many people don't know the difference between floor oil, replacement oil, linseed oil. They are all good when used in the proper places. If you needed a doctor for your child you wouldn't call in a strange doctor. Why call a strange painter and let him use his own prescription on your house. My advice is use a man you know or be ready to take the blame yourself Thank you.

Fred J. Larson, Mgr.

DEMONSTRATION READING LESSON

A Demonstration Reading Lesson, for teachers only, was held in the Lincoln School, Wednesday, May 14, at 1.15 p. m. The demonstration was conducted by Miss Murray, grade six teacher at the Lincoln School. There was no school for all sixth grades in all of the elementary schools during the afternoon of May 14 except for the children in Miss Murray's room. Those children were dismissed from school at the end of the demonstration lesson at 1.45 p. m. Immediately afterward all of the sixth grade teachers gathered for a Professional Group Meeting to discuss some of the problems and ways of improving reading in the sixth grade.

The reading lesson was well organized and it was plain to see that a considerable amount of thought and interest had been put into it. The children knew exactly what their reading tasks were and went about them in a quiet, efficient and delightful manner. The visiting teachers plied the children with questions which they answered with great ease and quiet assurance. The boys and girls have certainly gained tremendously in their reading and in their ability to organize, create, and fulfill desirable aims set for them by their very able teacher.

Streamers of aqua, white and pink decorated the living room and dining room. Upon her arrival Miss McCarthy was seated under a decorated watering can that showered her with confetti. After opening her many useful and beautiful gifts, she graciously thanked her guests, and refreshments were served. As the guests left later in the evening, they extended their best wishes to Miss McCarthy, who will become the bride of Mr. James E. Donaghey of 271 Washington street.

SERGEANT CASSIDY ESCORTED DUCKS

Last Sunday forenoon Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy of the Police Department received a call from Sherman Russell of Wolcott road asking police assistance for a "mother and nine children" on their way to the center. Because of the heavy traffic about the center on Sunday, Sherman was apprehensive for the safety of the little family.

The Sergeant, with proper regard for the public safety, wanted to help, but was unable to secure from Mr. Russell the exact route by which the mother and her children were approaching the center. Mr. Sherman was not too sure. It might be this way, and then again, it might be that!

Sergeant Cassidy went out to reconnoiter in a patrol car and as he arrived at the traffic circle near the Baptist Church, he saw a wild duck escorting nine little ducklings along Washington street in front of the Baptist Church.

"The Sarge" was non-plussed for the nonce, because he hadn't been looking for just that sort of a family. He quickly recovered however, and with his usual efficiency took charge of the situation.

The mother duck had no fear of the big policeman who held up traffic to get her across the traffic circle. Choosing the correct place to cross the intersection, she led her little brood safely over the cross walk and down the right hand side of Mt. Vernon street with Sgt. Cassidy forming an effective rear-guard.

At the Christian Science Church "Tom" steered the ducks across the street and down the bank into the mill pond to an accompaniment of big and little "quacks" Later the mother duck took her little brood across Main street into the river by Horace Ford's where Sgt. Cassidy has been keeping a wary eye on their welfare.

According to "Tom" the duck is a wild one which was on the river and mill pond last year. She had hatched out her brood at Long Pond and remembering the handouts from Horace Ford's a year ago decided the Aberjona near his restaurant was the proper place to bring up the "chillun"

ATTENDED MILITARY ENGINEERS' MEETING

John A. Volpe of Grove street, head of the Volpe Construction Co., returned by plane from Washington this week, where he attended the annual meeting of the Society of American Military Engineers at the Mayflower Hotel.

Mr. Volpe was a guest of the society and at the meeting was declared elected a National Director of the society.

He also attended a meeting of the Board of Directors held at the Army and Navy Club, Monday evening, May 12.

On Tuesday he conferred with Mr. Foreman, managing director of the Associated General Contractors of America, on labor relations matters as they effect the Massachusetts Chapter.

Many persons are enjoying the new stretch of Parkway now open between the Unitarian Church and Mystic avenue. The fine new road shortens the time between the two places considerably. No observance was made in opening the stretch last week. The new trees set out this week add to its beauty. The old parkway which wound along beside the former river channel is being torn up in preparation to grading its location over as a part of the new Manchester Field.

THE MYSTIC GLEE CLUB

The Mystic Glee Club, with William Craig conducting and Mary Louise Wood at the piano, gave [illegible] Friday evening [illegible] School. [illegible] and most [illegible] was ever [illegible] [illegible] lovers [illegible] and splendidly [illegible].

John Herrick, guest [illegible] has grown in musicianship since his last appearance with the group, and his fine baritone voice added a great deal to the pleasure of the evening.

The year's concert was the finest yet presented by the Club, and marked an immense forward stride in its development, as evidenced by the successful rendition of some of the difficult numbers attempted. Schubert's "Thou Art Repose," one of the loveliest of the eGrman lieder, proved that the group can produce good, well-rounded soft tones, and still keep the parts balanced the real test of good group singing.

Tchaikovsky's "Pilgrim Song," another ambitious number, though a little ragged in spots, was on the whole well done, and again showed fine balance of parts. The second tenors improved even more than last year, to provide a very satisfactory balance for the other parts, and the second basses, in spite of an occasional tendency to flat, admirably fulfill their own function without ever compelling the other parts to force their tone. The first tenors' tone is very fine, and in such numbers as "Waters Ripple and Flow" show unmistakably that the occasional raggedness of atttack noted throughout the performance was not their doing. The baritone section has kept pace with the general improvement.

The program this year was very well-balanced, including as it did a group of the spirtuals which the men do so well, a few English folksongs, such stirring numbers as the "Border Ballad," and the glorious chorale "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee," as well as the nostalgic "Dear Land of Home" from Sibelius' "Finlandia" and the modern "Stout-Hearted Men" from "The New Moon."

The group got off to a fine start with J. H. Maunder's inspiring "Border Ballad," a marching song taken from a poem by Sir Walter Scott. Deems Taylor's arrangement of the charming "May Day Carol" provided a sharp and effective contrast. There was noticeable in this and the following number, "I See Your Face," the above-mentioned slight raggedness of attack, yet this was in part compensated for by clarity of diction and fidelity to pitch. The latter number was composed and dedicated to the Club by Harvey R Davies of Stoneham, while he was serving as conductor of the Glee Club. The light and sprightly rhythm of "Gentle Johnny," an English folksong arranged by Seth Bingham, was well sustained.

Mr. Herrick was in very fine voice, and was capably accompanied by Alan Wells. His rendition of the aria "Per Me Giunto" from Verdi's "Don Carlo" was masterly; his phrasing and regard for context unusually good. The recitative was very effective, and the changes in tempo well brought out.

The Chorus came back to sing Oscar J. Fox's "Rain and the River," which, though admittedly a trifle draggy, served as a gentle transition to John W. Work's arrangement of the spiritual "Po' Old Lazarus," which the Club obviously thoroughly enjoyed singing. Again [illegible] "De Animals A-Comin'" [illegible] [illegible] Glee Club. MIKE

Part 2 of the program started with Cecil Forsyth's doleful "Bell-Man". In this there was a slight tendency for the basses to eclipse [illegible]. This number [illegible], however, marked by precise attack and the fact that the majority of the men at last took occasion to raise their eyes from their books. The tone was clear and bell-like, and the number gave evidence of more self-confidence than had been noticed up to now. The Tchaikovsky and Schubert noted above followed. Riva's arrangement of "Thou Art Repose" was definitely the hit of the evening, moving and well sung. Climaxing this group of classical numbers was the noble "Now Let Every Tongue Adore Thee" from the cantata "Sleepers, Awake!" an arrangement by Archibald T. Davision, sung in the grandiose manner it demands. By this time the Club had definitely hit its stride, and although the tone was a trifle breathy in some passages, brought out all the beauty of the Chorale in glorious swelling tones ending in a triumphant crescendo.

Mr. Herrick chose a very good group of songs to display his voice and delivery in his section of the Second Part. The first two, Edward German's "My Song is of the North" and "Sure on This Shining Night" by Samuel Barber afforded a pleasant contrast, the first rugged and forceful, the second calm and placid. Sydney Russell's "Spring Sabbath Morning", gay and lilting, and the charming melodious "Sweet Chance That Led My Steps" by Michael Head, were followed by the last of the group, "Love Went A-Riding", a swaggering number by Frank Bridge. As his first encore Mr. Herrick sang Clara Edwards' "Into the Night", a plaintive melody ending with the promise of hope fulfilled. His gracious gesture of singing the second encore to the men on the stage facing them as he sang, was well received by the audience. It was a sea chantey "Roll Along Home", sung with the lusty swing of its kind. Mr. Herrick is a popular soloist and deservedly so. His voice is good, his delivery pleasing, and his personality attractive.

In "Stout-Hearted Men" an arrangement of the popular Romberg marching song, by William Stickles, the men showed how well they do the swinging rhythm of this sort of thing. They were assisted in this number by Mr. Herrick who did this as well as he did his solo work. His long sustained notes in this were particularly fine. The Czechoslovakian folksong "Waters Ripple and Flow", a lovely symbolic thing beautifully arranged by Deems Taylor was followed by the plaintive, haunting "Dear Land of Home" which so well expresses Sibelius' passionate love for his native land. In this last number the fine phrasing and nuance were especially noteworthy.

Departing from his usual charm, Mr. Cruger granted two encores. The first was the humorous "Mosquitos", which the men obviously enjoyed as much as did the audience. It was sung in animated fashion and the surprise ending brought a burst of laughter from the house. As the second encore the group sang Rudy Vallee's arrangement of Yale's beloved "Whiffenpoofs Song", which is patently one of their own favorites.

Mr. Cruger did his usual good job of conducting. He is not a dynamic leader, but he is competent and not too demanding. It is obvious that he is a popular conductor, not only with the Club members, but with the members of the audience as well. There is an obvious esprit de corps that carries across the footlights. There was apparent, however, in some of the lighter numbers, a shade too much independence on the part of some of the singers, which a little more attention to the conductor would have remedied.

Mary Louise Wood, the Club's capable accompanist, did a splendid job and was an important factor in the success of the concert. Her playing was unobtrusivė when the occasion demanded, yet she provided strong support when it was called for.

MEN VOLUNTEERS ASKED TO HELP REHABILITATE VETERANS

The Red Cross is now sending out an appeal for men who are willing to give a little time and work to help with recreation in veterans' hospitals. Men who enjoy playing chess, pool, ping pong, poker, billiards or other indoor games are urged to contact Red Cross headquarters. Men who play musical instruments are wanted. Men who can help hospital instructors with outdoor sports are in ever increasing demand. Winchester days at the hospital are Saturday and Sunday, all day, and Monday and Wednesday evenings. Any time on any of these days is acceptable.

Gray ladies have been serving the veterans for years, but this is the first time that men have been appealed to for help. No uniforms will be required and the men will not be known as "gray men."

A class for men will start at the Bedford Veterans' Hospital on Monday, June 16 and will include an interview and two evening classes. Applications must be filed before June 13. Call Red Cross headquarters, Win. 2300, or Mrs. E. M. Feeley, Win. 1071, for application blanks.

MRS. JELLISON HEADS ITALIAN RELIEF DRIVE

Appointment of Mrs. Charles Jellison of 56 Emerson road, prominent Winchester woman, as chairman of the Winchester committee for the current state-wide drive for American Relief for Italy was made this week.

Always interested in Italy, where she spent her summers until the outbreak of war, Mrs. Jellison has issued an appeal to all Winchester residents to aid the stricken people who are in desperate want.

"Only through the funds sent them through American Relief for Italy," Mrs. Jellison stated, "can the helpless and undernourished children of Italy be kept alive."

Mrs. Jellison, whose husband is a Boston attorney, is the mother of two daughters, Mary 7, and Barbara, 1

Robert Fiore of Spruce street will assist Mrs. Jellison in canvassing the nearly thousand Americans of Italian descent living in Winchester, as will Prof. and Mrs. Bruno Rossi of Edeghill road; Mrs. Antonio Mezzacappa, Wildwood street; Mrs. Amelio D'Errico, Everett avenue; Mr. and Mrs. John Volpe, Grove street; Dr. and Mrs. A. I. Maietta, Main street and Miss Rose Politano.

Contributions, made payable to American Relief for Italy, should be sent directly to Mrs. Jellison before May 31, the closing date of the Winchester campaign.

WINCHESTER CIRCLE JUNIOR FLORENCE CRITTENTON

The annual meeting, May 13, of the Winchester Junior Florence Crittenton marked the close of a very successful year for the Circle. Mrs. Robert Smith of 45 Wildwood street opened her home for the meeting. Mrs. John Page, president, presided and heard the reports of officers and committee chairmen.

The following officers were reelected for the year 1947-48: Mrs. John Page, president; Mrs. Carrick D. Kennedy, vice-president; Mrs. John S. Swift, secretary; Mrs. Arthur M. Agnew, treasurer.

Following the business meeting the lovely Miss Muriel L. Williams of the Hart Modeling Agency gave a most intereseting talk on "Fashion Facts and Fancy."

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Downes and her committee.

WINCHESTER TRACK TEAM DROPPED TWO

Winchester High School's track team lost meets by identical scores to Arlington and Belmont, dropping its decision to Arlington at Arlington last Friday and to Belmont at Belmont Tuesday.

The scores, 50-27, while not too close were not too bad in view of the fact that the local boys have no track on which to practice this spring and as a consequence are not in too good shape.

Big John West won the shotput in both meets, getting the ball out better than 46 feet against Arlington and better than 45 feet at Belmont. Bill Whittemore did better than 44 feet in the Belmont meet for second place.

Besides West's first in both meets, Ben Coe won the quarter in 58.2s and Don Berridge, the 220 in 25.3s against Arlington. Dave Sargent got a second in the half, Ted Covert a second in the mile and Pete Dillingham a second in the broad jump, Coe got a third in the high jump, Whittemore a third in the shot, Dillingham a third in the hundred and Sorokin a third in the quarter. Pete Gilberto won both sprints in the Arlington freshman meet.

Against Belmont Coe did 56.3s to win the quarter and the locals won the relay with Dillingham, Whittemore, Coe and Berridge competing.

Roger Creelman and Dillingham were second and third in the 100 and Berridge and Creelman, second and third in the 220. Sargent got a third in the half. In the Belmont freshman meet Gilberto again copped the 100 and was third in the 220. Myers and Williams finished second and third in the 100 to give the locals a clean sweep.

Reid, Rocray and Tom McGowan also placed for the frosh against Belmont and Mario Mascioli, Charlie Sapone, Rocray and A. Antippas were place winners in the Arlington freshman events.

Mrs. Leo F. Garvey of Allen road went to the Hospital Tuesday where she underwent an operation. She is reported recovering satisfactorily and it is expected she will be able to return to her home the first of the week.

Shadows That Shall Never Pass...

"OUR time is a very shadow that passeth away." So said Solomon. The Veterans of Foreign Wars recognizes this truth and dedicates its entire energies to make OUR TIME a time of Peace on Earth, Good Will toward men.

Silenced is mortal combat. And those who returned, now veterans, are solid citizens blazing their paths in this postwar world. But there ARE those who need help. So in this year of the 26th Annual Buddy Poppy sale, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States asks all Americans to join in reaffirming the V. F. W. pledge to "Honor the dead by helping the living." Never has that pledge had more significance. Never have the people of the United States been more aware of veterans' welfare. We shall dispel the lurking shadows which threaten those who were wounded mentally or physically, their widows and their orphans.

In 1946, more than 15 million Americans pinned Buddy Poppies on their spring dresses and suits. All collections were made by volunteer workers. Every sale was clearly ear-marked for:

(1) The relief of disabled needy veterans and their dependents.

(2) Orphans of veterans in the V. F. W. National Home, Eaton Rapids, Michigan.

(3) Rehabilitation services for veterans in their dealings with the Veterans Administration.

(4) Hospitalization expenses for non-compensated veterans.

(5) An emergency fund for use in the event of national disaster.

This year there are more living veterans of all wars than there were Buddy Poppies sold last year. Since V-E Day, over 14 million men of World War II have become veterans. There are also some 3 million veterans of World War I, Spanish-American War, and Civil War. You honor each and every one of these heroes when you wear a Buddy Poppy.

So America's traditional "Flower of Remembrance," the Buddy Poppy of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, is an accepted symbol of our loyalty to those who, emerging from the shadows, bravely face physical and economic handicaps.

Be fashionable, and patriotic, too. Wear a Buddy Poppy proudly. Your contribution for a Buddy Poppy will be a lasting, living tribute to our war wounded, their widows and their orphans.

THE WHITE HOUSE
WASHINGTON

February 27, 1947

My dear Commander:

The 1947 sale of Buddy Poppies is a worthy reminder that the welfare of veterans and their families is of continuing importance.

[illegible] supported by this annual event, will aid the [illegible] a splendid work in behalf of [illegible] and children of deceased veterans.

The sale of a Buddy Poppy this year is an excellent way to express appreciation [illegible]

Very sincerely yours,

Harry S. Truman

Clippings from the STAR Files

25 YEARS AGO

May 12, 1922

The new spot light, recently erected in front of McLaughlin's shoe store in the centre, was turned on for the first time Tuesday night. The light is directed upon the traffic officer in the square and it is anticipated will aid autoists greatly in seeing him and his signals.

Mr. Howard Snelling of Lakeview road was a member of the cast of the "Pirates of Penzance," given by the Medford Woman's Club at the Medford Theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. H. Taylor of Bacon street and the Rev. Willard Washington, attended the annual convention of the American Booksellers Association.

Mr. Frank P. Zuffina of 14 Hill street and Frank Gigliotti of 30 Florence street, were elected as delegates from Foresters of America, Court 258, to attend the convention in Springfield.

Winchester Lodge of Elks No. 1415 was instituted on Wednesday evening amid an attendance of over 1000 visiting Elks. The affair constituted probably the biggest event of its kind ever held in this town, and the new lodge starts off amid the most propitious surroundings and enthusiasm. The attendance witnessing the ceremonies included visiting Elks from all over the State of Massachusetts, as well as many of the highest officials of the body.

The fire chief's new car has arrived at the Central fire station from the paint shop, being newly painted, nickeled and lettered. With the placing of the chemical tank on the rear it will be put in service. The outfit excludes class and speed.

Miss Edith Lewis was a member of the committee of the Secretarial Science Juniors of B. U. which gave a tea dance at the college hall.

Miss Roma S. Nickerson was a member of the Gilchrist Association annual dance held in Paul Revere Hall.

Saturday's play at the Winchester Country Club was a four ball event, one-half added handicap. R. S. Dunbar and A. H. Bond were the winners with a gross of 77 and a net of 70.

The Winchester Boat Club is looking forward to a very active season on the water this year. It expects to put out two good crews, a club four and a war canoe. Special attention is to be given to the latter, the war canoe, the object being to bring back to Winchester the Tenney Cup, which is at present being held by the Medford Boat Club.

Daily Philosophy

A few years ago the farmer damned every auto that passed. Now he damns his own.

Fears pay no dividends.

The man who boasts that he forgot more than we ever knew reminds us of the empty book shelf, it also was burdened with knowledge.

Luck in a way is only the shadow of pluck.

May 7, 1897

It is to be regretted that the old and familiar Mystic station has been changed to Wedgemere, a meaningless designation at best. Dating back as far as the time of the Indians this section with its lakes and rivers and its valley has been known as "Mystic," and the old name of the station was most appropriate and significant. We have a Wedgemere Heights, a Wedgemere Park, a Wedgo Pond, and with all these everyone ought to be satisfied.

Mr. Charles A. Lane is building a house on Glen road and when completed will be occupied by himself and family, who are at present residing at Nahant.

Hook and Ladder Company 1 held their annual meeting Tuesday evening, and elected th following officers: Rockwell A. Churchill, foreman; Simon W. Campbell, assistant; Bernard Rogers, clerk and B. Russell, secretary.

Col. N. A. Richardson finished his labors as Supt. of Streets last Saturday. He ceased work serene in the contemplation that he had left the streets in a clean condition for his successor.

Miss Georgie Stone, as the crack speller of the Winchester team at the contest held in Woburn last week, was presented with a copy of Whittier's poems.

Last Friday the Board of Fire Engineers organized by the choice of Fred L. Waldmyer, chief; James J. Fitzgerald, assistant; A. E. Ayer, clerk. The board is composed of men who have done fire service for years and are thoroughly familiar with the internal management of the department. This is the first time that Mr. Waldmyer has filled the office of Chief, and he is considered a good fire fighter. This is Mr. Fitzgerald's first term as an engineer, while Mr. Ayer had previously held the office of Chief. A good administration is looked for from the new Board.

The surface of the common is being sadly marred by the "short cut" pedestrians. Three direct paths ought to be sufficient for everyone.

The new Supt. of Streets, Mr. Spates, took charge Monday.

Gov. George A. Ramsdell of New Hampshire was in town last week, visiting his brother, the Colonel. The Colonel did the honors handsomely by showing his brother over the town. The Governor believed that outside of New Hampshire there was no place equal to Winchester.

Mrs. John M. Corse of Boston, formerly of Winchester, with Miss Harriet A. Shaw, the harpist, will sail May 29 on the Steamer Canada for Paris.

The Winchester and Arlington Street Railway has been chartered by the secretary of state. Among the incorporators are Col. Woodward, Maj. G. H. Taylor, Richard Britton, S. B. Washburn and James E. Woodward. Work will be commenced on the new road at an early date.

Twelve little people of the west side of town by invitation of Mr. James William Newman of Cottage avenue celebrated "May Day" in a manner both appropriate and enjoyable. Mr. Hawes' newest "drag," drawn by four spirited horses transported the happy children to a sunny nook in the "Fells" where games and a dainty luncheon pleasantly occupied a part of their day. During the long drive which was taken before their return several of the picturesque spots for which this section is so celebrated were visited.

WYMAN TEACHERS REPORT ON LANGUAGE ARTS

One of the recommendations of the School Survey, conducted by Dr. John Guy Fowlkes and his staff was that committees of teachers should share in the long range planning in specific subject matter fields. After nearly a full year of weekly meetings and special conferences, the teachers of the Wyman School, under the leadership of Miss Mabel C. Lowry, Principal, met with all elementary school teachers at the High School recently to report on their findings in the field of language arts, which consists of oral and written expression and literature.

Since there were several teachers at Wyman who were teaching at the same grade level, each grade from kindergarten through the sixth grade was the subject of many conferences among the staff. They consulted recent research in the field of their study, carefully considered textbooks, monographs, in short, all types of literature dealing with their problem, and held joint meetings with other teachers in their building. Part of their work consisted of viewing the further adventures of Winchester pupils in secondary schools, so teachers from the junior and senior high schools were called in as consultants at various times.

At their conference last week, after a general session with Miss Lowry and Dr. Norris Reynolds the theme of the meeting, the teachers adjourned to small conferences. At the smaller conferences a Wyman teacher served as chairman and presented the findings of her group to the other teachers of that grade level. All chairmen reported lively discussion of the points brought out and felt that a beginning had been made which will be directly beneficial to the Winchester pupils.

Later conferences will be held with the teachers of the other elementary schools discussing the subjects of social studies and arithmetic.

WASHINGTON MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION MEETS MAY 20

The annual meeting of the Washington School Mothers' Association will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 at the Washington School. Annual reports will be given followed by the election of officers for the coming year. A highlight of the afternoon is to be the program presented by the Washington School band under the direction of Mr. Fred Felmet.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting. Children through the second grade will be cared for in the kindergarten room.

WINCHESTER DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

So that the Trustees and the members of the Advisory Board could have an opportunity to meet with the directors, the regular monthly meeting of the District Nursing Association was held in the evening at the home of the President, Mrs. William Kugler.

Miss Petersen presented the nurses report which showed there were 425 visits for the month of April, the largest number for any one month during the last five years. The instruction for the Red Cross Home Nursing Class composed of high school students was completed, as well as the streamlined course for adults. At a meeting of the Greater Boston Community Council where the principal speaker was a director of the Veterans Administration Nursing Service, Miss Petersen reported that there were plans under way for home care of certain veterans, a service offered by local public health nursing organizations.

Plans were discussed for the luncheon meeting on June 6 at the home of Mrs. Erskine White. Association members and representatives of local health agencies will be invited to attend. An up to date summary of the year's activities and suggested changes in the by-laws will be presented at this time.

The Chairman of the Finance Committee reported that Mr. Bonnell offered the use of a car for a month this need arising as the Executive Director is on her sabatical leave. The Association is most grateful to Mr. Bonnell.

Mr. Ralph T. Jope was elected as the new business advisor to succeed Mr. George Chatfield.

The Nursing Committee made a survey of medical advisory committees in surrounding towns and concluded that it would be advisable to have three doctors on the committee rather than two, which is more in keeping with other agencies. Mr. Vincent Farnsworth, Sr., donated a second hand adding machine which will be most acceptable for use in the office.

On behalf of the Board, the President expressed appreciation to the Chairman of Public Health Nursing Week, Mrs. George Connor, and her committee, for their splendid work.

The speaker of the evening, Dr. Wallace Miller, gave an informative talk on the use of X-ray and Radium in the treatment of disease. During the discussion period, the point was brought out that although there were detection centers in Philadelphia, New York and Chicago, there are none in or around Boston.

Responding to the roll call were Mesdames Kugler, Grosvenor, Russell, Spalding, Schneider, Farnsworth, Kingman, Johnson, Nichols, Copland, Marsh, Ayer, Connor, Moffette, Dwinell, Aitken, Higgins, Trustees, Mr. James Nowell and Mr. Kenneth Caldwell, Member of Advisory Committee, Dr. Winfred McKenzie, Office Secretary, Mrs. Charles Eaton, and the nurses, Miss Alice Petersen and Miss Phyllis Condran.

WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

On Wednesday, May 21, the Winchester Home and Garden Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, 12 Foxcroft road, at 2 p.m. The subject of the afternoon will be "Music and Poetry." Mrs. Robert Whitten and Miss Alice Mann will present the program. Tea will be served.

On June 11, the annual meeting of the club, there will be a flower show. Mrs. Norman Mitchell, chairman. Members of the club are asked to bring flower arrangements. For the benefit of those who would like to make exhibits for the show and anyone interested, classes will be held on flower arrangement. Those who wish to attend these classes, phone Mrs. Norman Mitchell, Win. 0679-W.

CARD PARTY

The Auxiliary to Post 97, the American Legion, will hold another of its popular card parties Monday evening, May 19, at the Legion Headquarters on Vine street.

The chairmen for the party, Mrs. Pansy Flaherty and Mrs. Katherine Nostrum, urge those attending to bring along a prize to assist the committee. Auxiliary members are reminded of the County Council meeting in Everett on Saturday, May 17.

TO AN AVIATOR

You, who have left us and this earth,
Can we find within our hearts no need to grieve,
Or dare, in our mortality, to retrieve
You from reward of your most ultimate worth?
The skies you knew and loved beyond soft words,
The clouds that felt your very touch and breath,
The oneness that was yours with gentle winged birds
These things are yours forever now in meeting death.
Would we withhold the seeking heavens from you?
The dawn wherein your silver spirit flew?
You who had a better right than we who cry
And long for the substance of all your gallantry?
Take the white of the cloud and the blue of the sky
They shall be your banner through all eternity!

GIRL SCOUTS

The crowning feature of the 30th birthday of the Winchester Girl Scouts, held on Wednesday, May 14, at the First Baptist Church, was the awarding to Mrs. Clarence Roberts of a Girl Scout "Thanks Badge." These high honors, given only to those who have richly deserved them, were well earned by Mrs. Roberts, retiring commissioner, not only by her loyal work for the Winchester organization but also, in previous years, for Medford.

A 20-year pin was presented Mrs. Marshall W. Symmes and five year pins to Mrs. Lyman Smith, Mrs. James A. Willing and Mrs. K. Foster Cleaves.

The birthday party, which was combined with the annual meeting, was attended by many previous commissioners, including the original organizer and first Winchester commissioner, Mrs. Addison Pike. Other past commissioners present for the occasion were Mrs. J. F. Ryan, Mrs. Howard J. Chidley, Mrs. Louis K. Snyder, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. Harold Farnsworth, Mrs. Donald V. Heath, and Mrs. Gilbert Tapley.

Among other adults formerly active in scouting was Miss Ella May Emerson, whose quaint, old-time, leader's uniform is attracting many appreciative glances in Peck & Peck's window.

(Speaking of windows, we should like to call your attention also to Consolidated Edison's, where a Brownie and an Intermediate Scout are happily eating ice cream beside a giant-sized birthday cake, and Myron Berlow's where activities of our Storrow Troop are represented). Ice cream, birthday cake and coffee were served at the party, and each troop leader received a gardenia corsage, all creating an appropriately festive atmosphere.

Aside from the announcement that the Scout paper drive, planned to help defray the additional expense incurred by the larger office, was to be June 4, 5, 6 and 7, business was limited to very brief reports of troop activities, followed by the election of the new Council.

The members for next year consist of Mrs. George W. Cary, commissioner; Mrs. James B. Willing, deputy commissioner; Mrs. Lester Moulton, secretary; Mrs. Carl Morse, treasurer; Miss Constance Lane, registrar; and Mrs. Harold Stevens, assistant treasurer.

The Camp Committee consists of Mrs. Cole Neff, chairman; and Mrs. Hollis Dyer. Mrs. Vincent Ambrose, with the assistance of Mrs. Shepard Pond, is in charge of the finance committee. Mrs. K. Foster Cleaves, chairman of the membership committee, has with her Mrs. Arthur Cameron, Mrs. James Coon, and Mrs. Clarence Roberts, while Mrs. Allan Farquhar and Mrs. Waldon Hersey constitute the program committee with Mrs. Robert Tonon included as Juliette Low chairman. Mrs. Alfred Higgins is in charge of staff and office, Mrs. Paul Lamb of public relations, Mrs. Gilbert Tapley of service, and Mrs. John Clarke of training. Mrs. Clarence Roberts and Mrs. Kenneth Lamprey form the organization committee and Mrs. James Campbell and Mrs. James Lyman Smith will act in advisory capacity, while Mrs. Fred E. Stanton will be member at-large.

Outgoing members were thanked cordially for their generous contributions of time and energy and new members were given an enthusiastic welcome.

Be sure to remember the Brownie-Cub Pet Show to be held at Ginn Field on Saturday, May 17, at 2 p. m. Though we hope each Brownie and Cub will enter a pet to compete for one of the many prizes, they are urged to come even if for some reason they have no entry. The Brownies of Troop 31, which Mrs. Shepard Pond leads, should be very proud of the fact that they made all the little green trefoils to be used for identification purposes. It was one of those not-too-interesting jobs which are nonetheless very important.

RUSSELL CURRY CLOSES 1946-1947 SEASON AS INSTRUCTOR FOR DANCING IN SCHOOLS

Russell Curry of the Curry School of Dancing, Arlington, has just closed the series of class instruction in dancing for the Winchester schools.

This year marks the end of seven years as instructor, three years with the present eighth grade who are so enthusiastic over learning the new dances which are being accepted everywhere that they have requested that Russell Curry continue with them when they become High School freshmen next year. These new dances, the Rhumba, the Tango and the Mexican Raspa are quite new but are gradually being introduced at all parties. Next year, under Mr. Curry's supervision, the so-called Samba will be taught. Of course these new dances are interspersed with the old familiar fox-trot, waltz and polka.

BREAK AT DOCTOR'S HOME

The home of Dr. A. J. Maietta at 408 Main street was broken into Sunday some time between 5 o'clock in the afternoon and 11 o'clock at night.

The family was absent from the house during that time and when they returned home they found that their home had been entered. Access was gained by forcing a window, apparently with a jimmy, in the bathroom on the first floor at the rear of the house.

The doctor's office had been ransacked and some dressers on the second floor of the house. A fur piece, kept on the second floor, was found by Mrs. Maietta on a table downstairs, but a complete list of missing articles could not be given at once. An immediate investigation was commenced by the police.

The New Wing

The proposed new wing of the Winchester Hospital will have four floors and basement, a total of 26,000 square feet of floor space, supplying to all services relief from the present overcrowding.

The location of the wing will be specially attractive, occupying the high land which extends southwestward from the brick terrace of the present hospital, its axis roughly parallel to Valley road, standing well above street level and 40 feet from it. Few of the trees will be sacrificed in the construction, and the windows of the wing will look into the branches of maples, oaks and birches. From the upper floors there will be nothing to break the view of surrounding hills in the Fells and neighboring towns.

The main entrance of the present Hospital sets back 125 feet from busy Highland avenue, and the new wing continues the construction plan away from the main-travelled road, its western frontage being 80 yards from Highland avenue. Since the Hospital is easily reached from Washington street as well as Highland avenue, it has the double advantage of accessibility and comparative quiet.

The architects of the new unit are James H. Ritchie and Associates, nationally known hospital architects. The plans follow the best form of modern hospital design, with centrally located service facilities, elevators, dumbwaiters, diet kitchens, workrooms and nurses' stations. The advantage of this general plan is ease of hospital administration and service, with maximum convenience to all who serve the patients or visit them, together with reservation of all possible sunlight and fresh air for the rooms occupied by patients. The laboratories, office space, kitchens and dining rooms in the existing hospital will be reconstructed with greatly improved results to the entire hospital.

The new wing will increase the hospital capacity to 112 adult beds and 75 bassinets. The number of bassinets allows for rotation in use of nurseries. The second, third and fourth floors will be devoted to private, semi-private and ward beds and attendant nurseries. The first floor will have labor and delivery rooms, central workrooms and sterile storage, doctors' lounge, a waiting and conference room and nurses' retiring room. In the basement will be resident doctor's quarters, meeting room for staff and directors, rest rooms for service staff, as well as centralized storage and repair space.

Reassignment of beds for all services, made possible by the new wing, is one of the most eagerly awaited by the Hospital staff. Medical beds will be increased from 12 to 24; surgical from 22 to 52; pediatric from seven to 15; and maternity from 35 to 51.

WEST GRADUATES FROM WEST POINT

Among the Cadets graduating from the United States Military Academy this June is William I. West, son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. West of 74 Wedgemere avenue.

Prior to entering the Military Academy, West graduated from Winchester High School and attended Dartmouth College. He also served one year in the Air Corps before receiving his appointment. COMMANDER JORDAN ROTARY SPEAKER

Comdr. Mark Jordan, a graduate of Annapolis and an officer in our Regular Navy, was the Rotary Club's guest speaker at yesterday's regular meeting in Masonic Hall.

Commander Jordan was introduced by Maurice Bird, the local chairman for the Naval Reserve in this town, who spoke on Winchester's quota and the part it would play in the drive. He also stated that there would be an information center at the Post Office.

Commander Jordan explained a little about the Naval Reserve and then answered the question why we should have a Naval Reserve. Following this a technicolor film was shown of the landing by the Marines at Iwo Jima.

It was announced that at the next meeting Ted McCrosky, executive manager of the Greater Boston Development Committee, would be the guest speaker. His subject will include the Airport, Port of Boston and Traffic Control. Also, Winchester Rotarians will be privileged to hear the Boston Rotary Club's Octette.

All members are urged to be present for this meeting.

ROSANNE BORDEN UNITED NATIONS PRIZE WINNER

Miss Rosanne Borden, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Neil Borden of Highland avenue, was awarded second prize of $100 last week-end in the 25th annual high school essay contest conducted by the American Association of the United Nations.

Miss Beatrie Hauser, 17, of Sheboygan, Wis., won first prize in the contest which this year took the form of an examination on international relations in general and the United Nations setup in particular. Sealed questions came to the participating schools and were opened and given to the contestants at the time of the examination. Each contestant had certain formal questions which had to be answered, the remaining question being one requiring the contestant to write his own views in the international field.

Approximately 1000 students representing 1925 high schools in every state in the Union participated in the contest.

Each participating school entered two pupils. Winchester selected Miss Borden and Miss Marjorie Norris, daughter of School Superintendent and Mrs. Forbes H. Norris, after a preliminary contest held at high school, in which ten pupils participated. This contest was conducted by Mrs. Ella Stacy of the Department of Social Studies who also coached Rosanne and Marjorie for the United Nations Event. The success achieved in essay contests by Winchester pupils under Mrs. Stacy's guidance is remarkable and speaks volumes for the preparation they receive at her hands.

Rosanne, whose father is a member of the Harvard Business School faculty, and chairman of the Winchester School Committee, is an 18 year old member of the high school senior class.

A top ranking student, she is one of the school's leaders in extra curricular activities, having been editor of the Red and Black, the student newspaper; a member of the varsity hockey team and a school cheer-leader. She is also president of the dramatic club (playing the lead in the class play), a member of the student council and of the recently organized National Honor Society. She is planning to enter Oberlin in the fall.

LINCOLN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Mothers' Association was held on Tuesday, May 20, at 2.45 p. m. in the auditorium of the school.

Reports of the past year were read by the retiring officers and the new officers were elected as follows:

President, Mrs. Charles Lewis
1st Vice Pres., Mrs. George Saltmarsh
2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. Alexander Clark
Secretary, Mrs. Arthur Cameron
Treasurer, Mrs. John Flaherty
Auditor, Mrs. Nicholas Fitzgerald

At the close of the business meeting Mrs. Ralph Meigs, the retiring president, was presented a beautiful bouquet of flowers. The teachers then gave very interesting summaries of what is expected of each child in his or her grade.

Miss Blanchard, who is taking a years' leave of absence was presented 25 silver dollars in a very attractive handkerchief case. She was also presented with a corsage.

Delicious refreshments were served from an attractive table decorated with apple blossoms. Mrs. Cameron and her committee were in charge.

LEGIONNAIRES TO HEAR ADDRESS ON COMMUNISM

The timely topic of communism is to be discussed by an expert for members of Winchester Post, 97, American Legion, at the annual pre-Memorial Day banquet of the Post to be held at the Legion Headquarters on Vine street Monday evening, May 26.

Rev. Edward B. Wilcox of the Unitarian Church of Lynn is to be guest speaker at the banquet and his subject is "Imperial Communism." Every Legionnaire and veteran is sure to find his subject both absorbing and provocative.

Mr. Wilcox is a friend of Legion Chaplain Paul Harmon Chapman, through whose offices he was induced to come to Winchester. A speaker much in demand it is not easy to book him.

A graduate of Harvard and of Harvard Divinity School, Mr. Wilcox has done much research in the field of military history and tactics, being considered an authority in this field.

During World War II he served as an officer of Military Intelligence in the U. S. Army for four years, the last 13 months of which were spent in India. He was deputy commander of a British-American intelligence group, as well as an intelligence liaison officer between the British Army of India, the Southeast Asia Command and the United States forces in India and Burma.

All veterans are invited to join with the Legion at its pre-Memorial Day banquet. A catered roast ham dinner with banana fritters and all the fixin's will be served at 6.30. Reservations must be made by Saturday, May 24 with the Post Adjutant, Win. 0171, or contact any Legionnaire.

DUCK RESCUED FROM DRAIN

The latter part of last week a Woburn resident was given permission to place several ducks in the Mill Pond, joining those already swimming there. The new ducks hadn't been at the pond long when one of the swans chased them, as he does all the ducks, out of the water.

One of the new ducks took refuge in a drain pipe which empties into the Mill Pond and goes up through the town hall parking space into Washington street. Near the water there is a sort of retaining wall in the drain which the duck negotiated all right on the inward trip, but couldn't seem to figure out when trying to get out of the drain.

Along about Friday the staff in the engineering office at the town hall began to hear noises like a duck quacking below ground outside the building. People passing through the town hall parking space were surprised to hear a brisk quacking under their feet.

An investigation disclosed the quacks to be issuing from the drainage manhole in the parking lot and glimpses of the trapped duck were caught there.

Several attempts were made by Park Department employees to get the duck out of the drain both Saturday and Sunday, but without success.

Monday forenoon a really organized attempt was made under the direction of Supt. Tom McGowan. Parkmen John Lang and Jim "Shvvers" Rogers were placed at the man-hole opposite the Engineer's office, where they made what were described by Officer Edward F. Bowler as "weird noises" to prevent the duck from going beyond that point.

Wearing a rubber suit, Parkman Herbert S. "Babe" Mullen entered the drain through a second manhole near the Mill Pond, crawling up the pipe toward the quacking of the duck, faintly heard above the sound effects produced by Messrs. Lang and Rogers. All sorts of advice were offered by all sorts of people who were on hand for the rescue.

Slowly Mr. Mullen progressed through the pipe until he reached a spot where the duck could see him. For her part the duck seem delighted to fall in with the "Babe" and gave herself up without a struggle, waddling to meet her rescuer with quacks of thanksgiving.

Mr. Mullen, guarding against any possible change of mind on the part of the fowl, secured a firm grip upon the bird and backed down the drain, slowly and by that time, painfully, as regard to knees and an occasional scrape of elbows or dome.

Finally the lower man-hole was reached. The duck was handed out and Mr. Mullen emerged, bowed of back and red of face, but feeling the glow of satisfaction that always accompanies the doing of a good and humanitarian deed.

According to Mr. McGowan, and at the specific request of Mr. Mullen, wire netting is to be placed over the drain opening in the Mill Pond. In the "Babe's" book, it is quite possible to overdo a good thing!

FORTNIGHTLY NOTES

Place of Meetings

Members of the club will be glad to hear that the regular meetings are to be held in the parish hall of the Unitarian Church next season, as they have been this year. Everyone has enjoyed these pleasant and comfortable quarters, and the wish to continue there is unanimous.

Press Committee Outing

On Friday, May 16, the members of the Press and Radio Committee attended the WEEI broadcast entitled "Breakfast in the Surrey Room." Mrs. James Riley, a new member of the committee this year, was one of the contestants on the program, and although she isn't quite sure how far west it is to Ohio, she did remember that the Mississipp' is a river and not an ocean, and under pressure she admitted that "Jim" is not a surname. Anyhow she won the prize, and everybody was proud of her. We hope the whole Fortnightly was listening.

After the broadcast, the group proceeded to Rockport, where a delicious lucheon was enjoyed at "Driftwood Farm." A business meeting was inserted at this point, as painlessly as possible; then with next year's work all planned and arranged, the committee proceeded to have a thoroughly good time exploring Bearskin Neck, driving around Rockport, and finally coming home by way of the North Shore with its beautiful scenery.

JOHN J. LYNCH

John J. Lynch of 167 Salem street, Medford, a former resident of Winchester, died Saturday, May 17, at his home following several months illness.

Mr. Lynch was born 82 years ago in Bangor, Me. As a young man he lived for a time in Winchester, leaving town to go to North Hampton, N. H., where for many years he operated a farm. He had been living recently in Medford.

He is survived by his wife, Julia (Flaherty) Lynch; by a sister and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held from the Lane Funeral Home Tuesday morning with high mass of requiem celebrated at the Immaculate Conception Church. Interment was in Calvary Cemetery.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department had three calls Saturday, two for brush fires and the other for an automobile afire on Palmer street near the tennis courts. The machine was owned by Ralph Lyons of 14 Stanley avenue, Medford. One of the brush fires was off Blind Bridge street and ignited some old lumber at the Blanchard yard. The other was off Hutchinson road near the Country Club farmhouse.

Sunday morning there was a chimney fire at the home of Mr. Ralph Sawyer, 19 Everett avenue.

SIMONDS AND SON SHARE SNIPE SPOTLIGHT

Don and Stretch Simonds completely dominated the opening of the Winchester Snipe Fleet racing season by bagging a brace of victories the past week-end. Papa started the sweep by winning the Saturday matinee event.

Ten boats started in a brisk breeze, and for two laps it was anyone's race. First, John Powers took Jones' "Loimar" into the lead and held it for more than a lap. John misjudged on the second beat and his brother Tom, sailing "Sullivan's Hawkeye III" and Don Simonds in "Sinbad" overhauled him. Tom gained a formidable lead over Don going into the final leg, but foxy Don pulled one of his patented split-tack maneuvers, caught Tom completely off guard, and bagged the race for "Sinbad." Tom saved second place and John Powers brought "Loimar" in third.

Sunday morning in the rain, Stretch Simonds (who must be the bad weather skipper) almost duplicated his dad's feat. Once again, John Powers jockeyed "Loimar" into the lead and once again he lost it, with Bob Swanson, Ted Burleigh and Stretch Simonds each taking over at some stage of the contest. Entering the final leg "Sinbad" had only a slight lead over "Swanee", "Teebees", "Hardtack II," and "Foray," but he suddenly turned on the pressure and finished a full two minutes ahead of Bob Swanson's "Swanee" which was being hard pressed by Ted Burleigh's "Teebees".

Club Chatter

More than 100 club members and guests thoroughly enjoyed last Friday's Chowder party. Never had a tastier chowder been concocted. This tasty dish followed by apple pie a la mode made a feast fit for a king. Following the feast, a good old community sing was held and although it may have lacked something in quality, it was terrific in volume. Sid Burr did his usual masterful job on the piano.

Don Simonds talked about the coming SCIRA Nationals to be held at Marblehead with Winchester the host club, and Commodore Swanson initiated a drive to get money and prizes for this important event. Following the speeches movies were shown.

Ed Kent announces the opening of the dining room, Sunday, May 18. A real southern fried chicken is on the menu—reservations will be accepted until 5 p. m. Saturday.

MURPHY IN EPIC WIN

Winchester's Charlie Murphy struck out 20 batters and pitched Amherst to a 1-0 victory over rival Williams at Amherst Tuesday, the game going 14 long innings before Rosendale singled in Mackeon with the winning run.

Murphy, son of Dr. and Mrs. E. Russell Murphy, allowed nine hits over the 14 frames. A left-hander, he did no pitching in high school, playing first base on the Winchester team. He must have been air tight in the clutch vs Williams for he walked eight, which with nine hits put 17 men on in the 14 innings of the game. His brother, Dick, plays the outfield for Tufts.

WINCHESTER PLACED AT BELMONT

Winchester High's mile relay team placed second in the Class B division of this event at the State relay meet held last Saturday afternoon at Belmont.

Don Berridge, Pete Sorokin, Dave Sargent and Ben Coe, in that order, ran for Winchester, finishing behind Belmont, the winer's time being 3m. 44s. The locals' also had a team in the Shuffle relay open to all classes, but finished outside the money.

Belmont swept the Class B competition with 20 points, winning all four events. Winchester finished fourth behind Dedham and Fitchburg.

Rindge Tech and Boston English tied for top honors in Class A and Concord, paced by Val Muscato, led the teams in Class C. Only Belmont however, coached by Mel Wenner, formerly of Winchester, outclassed its field by sweeping every event.

WINCHESTER P. O. 4 WOBURN P. O. 0

The Winchester Post Office defeated Woburn in the final bowling match of the season at the Townanda Alleys in Woburn to the tune of 4-0. This match is the last of the "get acquainted" series which were organized this year so that when the bowling season starts next year, most of the teams will have at least nodding acquaintance.

The first string ended with Woburn finding itself behind by five pins, although Cogan of Woburn bowled 120. Startling and all that this was to the Woburn P. O., it was worse still when the second string found Woburn trailing by 19 more pins. Then Winchester, to add insult to injury, instead of falling down in the last string, continued its upward climb and bowled 517 while the best the Woburn P. O. could do was 483. So all in all, it was a bad day for Brother Kelley. It must be admitted that Manager Kelley was not there to give his boys the usual pep talk.

Babe Tofuri of Winchetser took the wind out of Woburn's sails when in the second string, although being low man at the time, he got two strikes and a spare which gave him the total of 29 for one box. Nelson of Winchester took top honors when he finished with 133 for the third string. Nelson had a three string total of 388.

Bill Cogan was Woburn's man of the hour bowling a three string total of 326. The summary: Winchester 4, Woburn 0.

Both Woburn and Winchester are members of the newly formed Suburban P. O. Bowling League. The other members are the post offices of Arlington, Malden, West Somerville, Winter Hill, Belmont and Harvard Square, Cambridge. George Raftery of West Somerville is secretary of the league and John P. Davey of Winchester is treasurer.

WAKEFIELD HIGH 10; WINCHESTER HIGH 2

Winchester High dropped further into the Middlesex League ruck last Friday afternoon when lowly Wakefield walloped the locals 10-2 on Leonard Field.

Winchester didn't play badly afield, making only one error but the locals couldn't hit a lick while Wakefield combed Scottie Doub for 10 safeties which made more runs than they should because of bases on balls. The summary:

FATHER'S DAY AT COUNTRY CLUB

Father-Son Tourney Limited to Local Entries

Father's Day, June 15, looms as a red letter occasion at the Winchester Country Club with another of the popular strictly local Fathers and Sons golf tournaments scheduled for that weekend.

Last year witnessed the first of these popular all-Winchester tournaments, not to be confused with the big open Father-Son event played at Winchester now for many years, and the response was so enthusiastic that the event was a natural for regular scheduling.

Fathers play with sons, grandsons, stepsons, adopted sons or sons-in-law, the only restriction being that one or the other of the team shall be a member of the Winchester Country Club.

Competition is divided into two classes, A, with a maximum handicap of 24; and B for sons under 12 years, with graduated handicaps up to 42. Prizes will be awarded for net scores only in both classes, with the team in either class having the lowest net score being considered the tournament winner.

In addition to the Father-Son tournament, to be contested Saturday, June 14, and Sunday, June 15, there is to be a putting contest for sons only in class B, 18 holes, low net, with handicaps up to seven strokes according to ages.

Suitable prizes will be awarded, and following the various tournaments there will be a social hour with refreshments, during which the prizes will be presented and the crucial shots of the week-end replayed vocally.

Dr. Robert B. Blackler and R. MacMinn are on the committee in charge of this year's tournament. Dave and "Tyke" Wilcox were last year's winners, the tournment being played in the early fall.

WINCHESTER HIGH TEAM MEETS WOBURN ON "CAMPUS QUIZ"

When Verne Williams, professor of propositions and prizes, opens the "Campus Quiz" classroom on Saturday, May 24, he will preside at the Winchester High School Auditorium from 10.30 to 11 a. m. on WNAC, when a team from Winchester High matches wits with a team from Woburn High School, their keen rival over the years.

Arrangements for the broadcast at Winchester are being made by Edward Shaw, who is in charge of the Radio Workshop at the high school.

If Winchester beats Woburn in the various categories of spelling, geography, history and related fields, the high school will receive a Wurlitzer juke box with a complete supply of hit parade records. The losing team gets a new Philco 1201 radio-phonograph combination from the Van Brode Milling Company. The top-scoring student receives a complete set of the Book of Knowledge, while the other students get individual prizes.

All Winchester High students and faculty are cordially invited to attend this broadcast on Saturday, to cheer their team on to victory

WINCHESTER BOYS IN STADIUM GAMES

Two Winchester boys, Bob Phippen and Ted Withington, were among the participants in the Nonagonal, or Ivy League, track championships at the Harvard Stadium last Saturday afternoon.

Phippen, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Phippen of M. V. Parkway, ran the half-mile for Dartmouth and though failing to place in a 1m. 54s. event, made a good showing. Withington, son of Mrs. Margaret Adriance Withington, also of the Parkway, anchored the Harvard quarter mile relay team and ran a very steady race to land the "Johnnies" in 4th place.

READING 8; WINCHESTER 7

Winchester lost to Reading, 8-7, Tuesday afternoon in the Middlesex League series at Reading.

The locals led 7-5 in the last of the 9th, Eldredge, who had retired Reading in order in the 8th, walked Kroeck for a starter. Butler skied to Olivier, but White hit to right to send Kroeck to third. Eisenhauer fanned, but Castine walked to fill the sacks.

With the count two and two, Gillies singled to center, scoring Kroeck and White to tie up the game, Castine going around to third. Anticipating a throw home Donaghey had thrown aside his mask, but the ball was thrown in to Olivier at second.

Without calling "time out" Donaghey went to get his mask and as he did so Castine stole home with the winning run. The summary:

TENNIS INTERSCHOLASTICS HERE

The 20th annual interscholastic invitation tennis tournament will be played in Winchester Saturday, May 24. The Massachusetts High School Principals' Association is sponsoring the tournament for the first time this year, lending the event the prestige and financial support of this group.

The best high school players in the state are among the 58 boys who will compete in the tournament, representing Belmont, Boston Latin, Roxbury Memorial, Boston Technical, Hingham, Quincy, Waltham, Newton, Brookline, Watertown, Winchester and Brighton.

Laurence Harrison of Brookline is seeded No. 1 with Winchester's Sheldon Caldwell, 2; Robert Rich of Newton, 3; and Richard Hills of Winchester, 4. Charles Watson and Eben Caldwell of Winchester are among those getting honorable mention in the seedings.

Matches will be played at Palmer street, Ginn Field and the Country Club. Men who are willing to act as umpires should call Ken Hills, Win. 1083-R. Twenty-four attractive high school girls will act as meet hostesses.

Due to the great interest shown in the spring concert to be presented by the pupils at Miss Wright's private school of West Medford, it will be held in the Chevalier Auditorium, instead of the Hobbs Junior High School Auditorium on May 25.

HOME ECONOMICS SHOULD BE AN EDUCATIONAL IMPERATIVE

In keeping with the philosophy of education which prescribes common experiences for all who are educated privately or at public expense, one of the educational "musts" would seem to be that all girls should have one or more courses in Home Economics during their secondary school days. Home Economics, Household Arts, or the new term Home Arts has a place with the Industrial Arts and the Fine Arts in the education of every girl student, regardless of her social, economic, or intellectual status.

Every girl is a member of a home, probably is a future home maker, and since happy homes are fundamental to the American way of life, Home Arts should be an educational imperative for Winchester pupils. It is well to say should be instead of is, because present facilities for the Junior and Senior High Schools consist of one cooking room and one sewing room, located in the Junior High School building, with one and one-third teachers. Two-thirds of one teacher's time is of necessity used to manage the cafeteria for the two schools. Therefore, the only Home Economics which is or can be taught with such limited conditions is in the Junior High School: one year of clothing to the seventh grade girls, one year of foods to the eighth grade girls, and one class only in Home Making in the eighth grade. In the Senior High School, the work is limited to one small group of Freshmen girls in foods, and a similarly small group of Sophomore girls in clothing.

Every girls is a member of a family unit, a part of a home; furthermore, she looks forward to having a home of her own some day. Courses in Home Arts will help her to prepare herself. In addition, there are personal benefits to be obtained and last, but by no means least, is the preparation for a possible career in one of the many fields in Home Economics.

Opportunities for careers in home economics are many. Food-manufacturers employ trained personnel, not only in the processing of their foods, but in the demonstration and sales departments. Public utilities and home equipment organizations offer employment for specially trained people who can demonstrate their equipment. Newspapers and radio offer other types of employment for writers and speakers who are trained in the home arts. Hospitals, schools and colleges, and various other public and private institutions insist upon trained dietitians on their staffs. Besides all of these, there are countless opportunities in small private enterprise—all available for the school and college trained home arts specialists.

It is well to examine Home Arts courses to discover what they can offer the student as direct personal benefits. The younger students are usually more interested in this phase of the subject. The courses in clothing and related fields will develop useful skills, and will provide knowledge of textiles and an appreciation of line and color, especially helpful in teaching the student how to select becoming clothes for herself. With acquisition of skills will come an appreciation of the factors involved in a well-made garment, so that the student will be able more intelligently to buy her own clothes. A further unit in personal grooming will point to the importance of being well groomed, an item fully as important as wearing becoming clothes.

In the food courses and related subjects a girl, in addition to acquiring skills, will gain a knowledge of nutrition, an unmistakable aid to good health, and will learn how to buy food and how to plan attractive and economical meals. She will develop her executive ability in the preparation of these meals, and she will usually take a more active interest in food preparation and entertaining in the home.

As the student matures, she will be more interested in those courses which will prepare her for managing a home of her own later. Therefore, in the senior year the girls should have a chance to take a Home Management course which would include units on household equipment, home furnishings and decorations, money management, consumer information, child care, the art of entertaining, their subdivisions, and allied units.

Home Economics is socially necessary. The courses are designed for the needs of every girl in the Winchester secondary schools. Is there a teen age girl in Winchester who does not and will not have imperative need for fundamental training in the Home Arts?

VETERANS, THINK AGAIN! WHY MISS THE CHANCE FOR GOVERNMENT INSURANCE!

Some veterans cannot get commercial insurance.

Before August first, 1947 Government insurance can be reinstated without a medical examination. The veteran must merely state that his health is as good as when his policy lapsed.

To reinstate any unconverted insurance two monthly premiums only must be paid—no matter how long the policy has lapsed.

The premium for reinstated policy is based on the age at which the original policy was taken out.

The amount reinstated may vary from $1,000 to $10,000.

The beneficiary may be practically any one the veteran chooses, and the death benefit may be paid in a lump sum or in monthly installments.

For further information consult Red Cross Home Service, Winchester Town Hall, Monday, Tuesday, or Thursday mornings, from 10 to 12; or by special appointment, or go to the Insurance Branch of the Veterans Administration, 55 Tremont street, Boston.

CHARLES—LYBECK

White spring flowers and cybotium ferns decorated Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church on Saturday evening, May 17, for the marriage of Miss Dorothy Markham Lybeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferdinand Lybeck of Everell road, to Clinton Prescott Charles, son of Mrs. Bessie Ann Charles of Collins street, Newburyport. Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the church, officiated at the candlelight ceremony, which took place at 8 o'clock and was followed by a reception in the parish house.

Miss Lybeck was given in marriage by her father, and had her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Godfrey Van Auken, Jr., of West Medford, for her honor attendant. Another sister, Mrs. Albert Armus Kajander of Medford, was one of the two bridesmaids, the other being Mrs. Erland Stanley Wentzell of Springfield.

The bride wore a gown of ivory silk satin having a court train. Her long veil of Madeira rosepoint lace was caught to a headdress of the same rosepoint and she carried a bouquet of stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

The honor attendant wore a period gown, with paniers, of pink lightning faille and carried a sunburst bouquet of delphinium, Virginia and pelegnium carnations. The bridesmaids wore identical gowns like that of the honor attendant and carried the same flowers.

Rowland Currier, Jr., of Mattapan was best man for Mr. Charles, and the usher corps comprised Robert P. Trask, Jr., of Lexington, A. Walter Hanf of Belmont, Walter T. Morse of Salisbury and Charles H. Hall of Newburyport.

Following a New Hampshire honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Charles will make their home in Lynnfield Center.

The bride attended Stoneleigh College and is a graduate of the Chamberlain School. Mr. Charles, a graduate of Burdett College, served in the Army for four years, being overseas 27 months with the 45th Infantry Division.

PUPILS IN PIANO RECITAL

The pupils of Mrs. Lillian Alexander played a program of descriptive music at her home on Fletcher street on Saturday.

The program of 30 numbers was varied, including duets, trios and selections from the following composers: Bach, Beethoven, Liszt, Brahms, Handel, Chopin, Grieg and many others.

MORNING MUSICALE

At Mrs. Reginald Bradlee's home on May 15 the Music Committee of the Fortnightly entertained a pleased audience with a delightful morning musicale. The program consisted of choral music by the Fortnightly Singers and featured Mrs. Helen C. Bedford, noted harpist who generously gave two groups of interesting varied selections.

Bouree by Bach was a perfect choice for the opening number. The 17th century French folk tune, which followed, with its sensitively lovely air irresistably transported one to the age of troubadours. Bouit and Spring Song by Zebel revealed a Russian composer gifted to the point of genius in his writing for the harp.

Mrs. Bedford began her second group with a Sonantina by Naderman, a study for harp, technically as well as musically enjoyable. It was followed by the pleasing Prelude to Lucia by Donigetti and In a Garden, delicate sentiment and romance, by Smith. The group ended with another thrillingly beautiful composition by Zabel entitled the Fountain and as an encore Mrs. Bedford pleased with the quaint Grandmother's Music Box.

The Fortnightly Singers in all their selections showed sensitive response to the inspiring leadership of their director, Mary Ranton Witham. Their singing reveals the happiness which work with her has been, and also the sure confidence gained from the perfect support of their gifted accompanist, Lucy Wilcox Cushman who so effectively unfolds the varying qualities of the selections.

The program of song consisted for the most part of brief numbers, each a gem in itself, many of them suggesting springtime. The Butterfly which opened the first group is an airy bit of modern choral writing by Jenkins. In contrast, the Lullaby, arranged by Koshelz from an Ukranian folk melody has a drowsy undertone of harmonized humming high above which the sweet soprano of Sophia Gardner sang the quaint words about kittens and ducks as to a little child. Three Norwegian songs followed—Kjerulf's Afar on the Wood as arranged by Mrs. Witham was especially pleasing with its delightful melody and accompaniment.

Calling the Cows, arranged by Wendt from a Norwegian folk melody was perhaps the most unusual of the compositions and was given by the group with exceptional delicacy. Again Sophia Gardner's voice was high above soft murmurings of the other voices as in the appealing melody she bade the cows, "Come home! Come home!" In sombre contrast the warm deep contralto of Olive Bird sang the solo opening of In Thoughts I Go My Way which, in exquisitely constructed harmony develops from dispair to a firm faith in the goodness of God.

This was followed by "Listen to the Lambs" the spiritual by Dett, in which the group follows Mrs. Witham's interpretive directing with thrilling effectiveness enhanced by Suzanne Burr's lovely clear solo voice. Now Sleeps the Crimson Petal a tender love song is beautiful choral writing by Quilter. A Celtic Lullaby by Roberton is perhaps unmatched in gentle loveliness. A Brahms duet, The Vain Suit with its captivating melody and gay rhythm was delightfully sung by Martha Schnedl and Sophia Gardner. Have You Seen But the White Lily Grow arranged by Davis from a melody from the time of James I has a rare and distinctive beauty well displayed by Mrs. Witham and her singers.

The closing numbers "Prayer from Hansel and Gretel" by Humperdinck and Where'er You Walk by Handel, were given with the added richness of the harp and the lovely quality of the blended tones of voices, piano and harp will be a long-remembered joy to all who heard it.

The occasion was altogether happy, in Mrs. Bradlee's spacious home, with bright spring weather, a social prelude of coffee, with flower decked table by Mrs. Fitts and arrangements of flowering sprays in the hall and music room by Mrs. Mitchell.

Mrs. Marshall Symmes, president of Fortnightly and Mrs. Paul Chapman, incoming chairman of music, poured Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. M. Emma Billings and Mrs. Alice S. Jenkins, chairman of the Social Committee assisted by Mrs. Evelyn Strong, Mrs. Jennie M. Knight, Mrs. Adele Emery and Mrs. Ada Hill were in charge of tickets. Mrs. Caroline Fitts was the able chairman of the morning.

SMITH COLLEGE CLUB PLANT SALE

The Smith College Club plant sale held last Saturday, May 17, was very successful. A lovely luncheon was served in the homes of Mrs. Henry K. Spencer, Mrs. Clarence P. Whorf, Mrs. William L. Davis and Mrs. Harold V. Fornsworth, all in Central green.

Guests enjoyed walking through their beautiful gardens and purchasing many beautiful flowers and plants on display there.

COLONIAL FAIR ORGANIZED

On Wednesday, May 21, a meeting was held at the home of Mrs. P. Stewart Newton to organize the Colonial Fair which will be held at the Epiphany Parish House, Friday, November 7. Mrs. Paul Rocray, chairman of the Fair, presided, and Mrs. Newton, her co-chairman, cheered the group with coffee and cakes.

As the meeting progressed, it became clear that a very attractive Early American atmosphere will prevail over the familiar bazaar scene and new ideas promise to put in an appearance, ideas which must of a necessity be kept a secret until time for the fair is at hand.

Besides Mrs. Newton and Mrs. Rocray, those attending the meeting and providing the plans were Mrs. Robert Thomason, Mrs. Gerald Hills, Mrs. E. Philips Walker, Mrs. Ronald Wyman, Mrs. John Page, Mrs. F. W. Aseltine, Mrs. Ray Mauger, Mrs. Donald Lovis, Mrs. Paul Lamarche, Mrs. Prescott Taylor, Mrs. William Everett, Mrs. Harvard Mann, Mrs. Clifford Williams, Mrs. Frank Booth, Mrs. David Edgar.

WINCHESTER SCHOOL COMMITTEE NOTES

Helen Carroll New Physical Education Instructor

At their regular meeting at the Administration Biulding on Monday evening of this week, the Winchester School Committee elected the following teachers for the next school year:

To be Art Consultant on a part-time basis, Mrs. Mildred Landis; to be teacher of grade one, Miss Thelma Wade; to be director of Physical Education for girls at the High School, Miss Helen Jay Carroll.

It was decided that the school authorities would meet with Town Engineer Parker Holbrook to discuss plans for having Manchester Field in condition for the fall sports program.

The Superintendent submitted the splendid records of nine Winchester boys who are enrolled in the vocational schools of Medford and Somerville. They were considered very creditable.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED TO MEND CLOTHES FOR HOSPITALIZED VETERANS

The money you contribute to the Red Cross is not used to buy help but to buy supplies. It is only one half the contribution expected from every service-minded citizen. The other contribution which the Red Cross needs even more than your money is your willingness to serve actively.

Right now, there are 2,000 veterans at a nearby hospital who are almost entirely dependent on Red Cross volunteers for mending their clothes. The Winchester Chapter has been asked to send helpers on Monday to make surgical dressings and on Friday to do mending. Transportation is furnished from the Town Hall at 9.30 on Monday and Friday mornings. During the winter, Winchester sent a respectable number of volunteers on each of these days, but lately the workers have petered down to one or two; yet, the amount of work is increasing.

It has always been a simple matter for Winchester to meet its fund quota, but on the more important half of the contribution, Winchester is far from the top of the list. Let's try to redeem ourselves. It's not too late. Sign up now by calling Mrs. George Dutting, Win. 2191.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

The Brownie-Cub Pet Show, held last Saturday at Ginn Field, was enjoyed not only by the participants but by many onlookers. We were unbelieveably fortunate in having chosen one of the extremely few days this Spring when such an exhibition would be pleasant, and the children were entertained not only by exchanging views on each other's pets but also by pony rides, with ice cream to end the afternoon.

Miss Leontine Pote, retiring president of the Winchester Chapter of the Massachusetts S. P. C. A., judged the entries and gave many helpful suggestions as to their care. Prize winners were, divided by classes, Ronnie and Ronald Russo, whose Collie was shown by Donald MacKeeley; Leora Peckham for her Scottie, Jim Cusack for his Doberman. Susan Clark's Collie-Huskie won a prize, as did Betty Cummings' Smooth Fox Terrier, Virginia d'Elseaux' English Setter, Terel Newell's "Just Dog," Ann Peter's Red Doberman, Sally Aitken's Irish Setter, Richard Bowe's "Skippy" and Mary Ann Morgan's "Sooner." Cats receiving awards were Margaret Thompson's "Susie Q," Susan Pond's "Bootsie," Dorothy Duckworth's "Nosy," a tiny kitten who was shown in a basket about eight times its size, and Kathryn Besie's "Grey Baby." Connie Gowdy's two fantail goldfish received a prize, as did Betsy Lamb's fish, one gold and one silver. Jean Rundlett received a prize for her turtle and Lydia Wyman for her chameleon.

Twenty-five towns of this region were invited to send delegates, two representatives from each town, for a Senior Planning Board conference held at Camp Joy on Sunday. There was a cook-out at which several original games were enjoyed and, for the serious side of the outing, plans for next year were discussed and officers elected. Two Winchester girls were honored, Carolyn Zinn who was chosen co-president for next year and Betty Fitzgerald who was elected secretary. Mrs. Allan Farquhar is Council Advisor for Winchester.

The Camp Licensing Course wound up with a flourish with an "overnight" at the Girl Scout Camp in Reading last Monday night. The women completing the course and now qualified to take groups of girls on outings under the strict Girl Scout regulations include Mrs. Gerald Curtis, Mrs. Boyd Dunbar, Mrs. B. Robert Finn, Mrs. Waldon B. Hersey and Mrs. Robert Loftfield.

On Wednesday a delegation of Scout leaders and Council members from Winchester attending the State annual meeting at Cedar Hill, heard, among many interesting reports, Mrs. Waldon Hersey's account of the activities of the Winchester Storrow Troop, the only one in the country to have embarked on such an ambitious program of putting the "outing back in Scouting."

Notice to All Would-Be Day Campers: Day camp for Brownie, Intermediate and Senior Scouts this year is to be from June 24th through July 17th. For the first time in several years swimming will be one of the many attractions. Get your application at the Girl Scout office now.

Troop 3 Notes

Last Wednesday Troop 3 had their meeting on the tennis courts. Mrs. Lou Barr Boutwell and Mrs. Frannie Keyes Yeager were in charge. We all had lots of fun and learned a lot.

After tennis we went to the Episcopal Church with our leader to talk over plans for the outdoor cook-out, May 8. A cup of hot cocoa tasted good to all of us for it was a cold day.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB WINS NEW ENGLAND FEDERATION CONTEST

A capacity crowd of 2200 people plus 321 members of the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs seated on the stage, blistered their hands in enthusiastic ovation last Saturday night in Yale University's Woolsey Hall as President Leo Twombly of the Mystic Glee Club stood to accept the tribute when it was announced that his club had won not only first place in its class, but first place over other clubs in general excellence.

The grand concert was held in the evening with the Metropolitan Opera bass, Alexander Kipnis as guest soloist, and the 72 piece New Haven Symphony Orchestra, accompanying the huge Federation chorus was the thrilling climax to a day full of activity and glorious singing. Hugo Kortschak conducted the chorus and orchestra, in the 19th annual concert of this fine group of civic New England Glee Clubs. The New Haven Telephone Male Choir was a gracious host club, opening all their wonderful facilities to the guest clubs, making the day an unforgettable success. The great Woolsey Hall organ added grandeur to the evening in supplementing the orchestra.

Of especial interest is the astounding performance of the Mystic Glee Club, which literally sang the other clubs off their feet in the afternoon contest, held in the Center Church parish house on Temple street before three judges and a handful of guests along with the other clubs. This was the Mystic Glee Club's first experience in this sort of competition and they did the finest singing of their brief eight year career. Each club sang two a cappella numbers and were judged on tone, pitch, diction, interpretation and ensemble. The judges were Clarence A. Grimes, former Hamden High School director of music, Luther Noss, Yale University organist and associate professor at Yale School of Music; and Hugh L. Smith, assistant professor of History of Music at Yale Music School. These men were seated behind screens and had no way of knowing which club was performing, as each club was given a number and called to the stage as the numbers were drawn from a hat. There were two groups judged. Group one composed of smaller units in which our club took part, and group two, of larger units such as the splendid Wollaston Glee Club, the Amphion Club of Melrose and the Andover Male Choir. The fine New Haven Telephone Male Choir took second place to the Mystic Glee Club in group one, with Wollaston winning the competition in group two and Amphion of Melrose in second place.

The Winchester club took the Grand Exceellence award based on its top score of 273½ out of a possible 300 points. Other clubs competing for the class scrolls and general excellence scroll were the Plymouth Men's Glee Club, the Men's singing Club of Beverly. Seven clubs competed and eight sang, as the Highland Glee Club of Newton did not enter the competition because of their conductor's illness. Members of many other New England Glee Clubs took part in the evening concert but did not bring large enough groups to participate in the concert.

It was obviously a popular choice that the Winchester club received the awards, as enthusiastic congratulations were literally showered on the members when Dr. Harold L. Margeson, president of the Federation, stepped to the microphone of the Woolsey Hall stage and announced the winner. The two selections which the Mystic Glee Club sang in the competition were Yale's Bartholomew arrangement of the spiritual "De Animals" and Harvey Davies' lovely "I See Your Face." The quality of the group was never better, and their pitch and diction were excellent; a credit to conductor William Cruger.

After spending the night at the Hotel Taft in New Haven, the group of 28 singers, returned home on Sunday after a victory breakfast in the main dining room at 10 a. m. Every man enjoyed himself to the utmost and will long remember the fine hospitality of the New Haven Telephone Male Choir and the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs.

It is certain that the Mystic Valley area and the Sponsoring Members of the Mystic Glee Club in particular are truly thrilled with the honor that has come to these men in their first competition and second year in the New England Federation. Try-outs for new members will be held next fall, and it is hoped by the club that many new men will join, in maintaining the high standards that have now been set and bringing more and more music to our Mystic Valley community.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

"School Daze," a one-act comedy recently presented by the Winchester High School Dramatics Society, was easily the best performance of that group during the current season. The cast of "School Daze" consisted of some of the most experienced actors and actresses and was directed by Miss Marion Bailey. Based on a thoroughly probable school boy and girl situation and timed for the day before the annual prom, this play was highly successful. The cast included Dorothy Clarke, Rosanne Borden, Susan Neiley, Jack Grimes, Henry Fry, and James Hennessey. Robert Singer's announcement was also a feature.

Something new in competition was undertaken by the Math Club sponsored by Mr. Arthur E. Butters when they sent a team to represent the club in a math contest held at Newton High School. After a social hour the teams representing Brookline, Newton, Rindge Tech, Woburn, Belmont, Lexington, Melrose, and Winchester High Schools competed in an elimination contest. Winchester was represented by Melissa Meigs, Charles Enright, Peter Sorokin, and Edward Moore.

Problems submitted by the advisers were given to the students in groups of three problems. Five minutes was allowed for each group. For an hour and a half, the elimination continued, the last five competitors being Charles Enright, Peter Sorokin, two from Newton and one from Brookline. Although Winchester failed to win top honors, Mr. Butters was high in praise of his team and pointed out the superior quality of the competition, particularly in the last rounds.

A reminder of the fact that graduation is near is the next warning notice for the first rehearsals for the march to begin next Monday.

Graduation will be at the High School Auditorium on the evening of Monday, June 9. Preceding graduation exercises will be the final senior assembly on Friday, June 6, and Class Night at 6:30 on Saturday, June 7.

Tickets for graduation will be distributed soon.

YOUNG ADULT FELLOWSHIP TO SEE KODOCHROME SLIDES OF FLORIDA

The Young Adult Fellowship of the Crawford Memorial Methodist Church will meet on Sunday evening at 8 p. m. in the home of Miss Bertha Hitchcock, 121 Church street. The group will enjoy a period of community singing.

Miss Hitchcock will take the group on a camera tour of Florida through the medium of beautifully colored kodochrome slides. Fellowship and refreshments will be enjoyed by all following the program. Those Young Adults in our community who are not affiliated with any church are welcome to join the Fellowship.

HOBBY CENTER TO CLOSE SEASON WITH TWO PARTIES

The Winchester Hobby Center, Inc. will finish a highly successful first season in its new home at 12 Bacon street with two parties, a children's and parents' open house on Saturday, May 31, and a bridge party for adult Hobby Center members and friends on June 2.

Highlights of the children's party will be a doll contest for girls and a boat, train and airplane contest for boys. Ribbons will be awarded to winners of the various classes. Parents of the children who have been "pink" and "blue" members at the Hobby Center are cordially invited to attend the open house.

Adult Hobby Center members are planning a gala evening of bridge and other card games for June 2. Approximately 90 couples are expected to attend the party. Table prizes of delicate rose-trimmed ash trays have been fashioned by Mrs. Adin B. Bailey's ceramics class members, and individual finger-painted tallies are being made by members of the evening finger-painting class. Mrs. Georges L. House is in charge of decorations.

SOFT BALL LEAGUE FORMED

At the organization meeting of the Town Soft Ball League, held Tuesday evening at the Legion House eight teams entered for the competition which commences June 2nd.

The league is to play three rounds of 21 games each, totaling 84 games plus playoffs. Games will be played on Ginn and the West Side Field, two games each night on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, with Fridays reserved for postponed games.

The final organization meeting will be held next Tuesday evening at the Legion House at 8 o'clock to submit rosters and decide upon umpires.

Teams entered include Sons of Italy, Christopher Columbus Club, Knights of Columbus, Sachems, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Red Shirts, Barracudas and the Lobengier All Stars. Edward A. Bartlett, playground supervisor, is directing the league.

An excellent demonstration of the musical talent and enthusiasm of the members of the George Washington School band was given under the direction of Mr. Fred Felmet at the annual meeting of the Washington Mothers' Association on Tuesday afternoon, May 20, at the school.

The president of the association, Mrs. Edward Simpson, opened the meeting with an expression of gratitude and appreciation to the retiring members of the board and to Miss Leonor Rich, principal of the school, for her ready help and cooperation thoughout the year. She introduced Mrs. George Cary, Girl Scout Commissioner, who made a plea for additional mothers to become interested in scouting as troop leaders or in some other capacity. She spoke of the need for women to assist at the summer Scout Day Camp, for which a training course will be given starting next Tuesday, May 27, at 9:30 a. m. at the Girl Scout headquarters.

May 19, 1922

The furor created last week over the announcement that our School Committee had planned for the removal of the High School principal and several high and grade school teachers is still under discussion. Following the meeting of a week ago of interested citizens at the Town Hall, petitions were circulated about town calling upon the School Committee for a hearing in the matter, and some four or five hundred names are said to have been secured.

The Winchester Laundry Orchestra played at the Sailors' Mission, Boston, Tuesday night, giving a very enjoyable concert.

Miss Isabel Beggs is a member of the "Push Committee" of Smith College for this year. This committee serves as a general utility committee during commencement and lead the alumnae procession on Ivy Day. Only girls who are representatives of their class and show executive ability are accorded this honor.

Mr. Richard D. Lawler, Tufts '23, has been elected leader of the Tufts Glee Club for the coming year.

Messrs. Allan Wilde and Loring P. Gleason will leave tomorrow for a week's fishing at Warren, N. H.

Lord Leverhulme, the active head of Lever Brothers, Ltd., accompanied by A. G. Hart one of the directors of the parent company, and F. A. Countway, president of the American Company, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dreier, 1 Curtis circle, Sunday.

Miss Ruth Elder, Vassar '20, will play the part of the Pied Piper in the "Pied Piper Revels" to be given at Wellesley Hills tomorrow on the estate of Mrs. W. E. Stanwood.

Mr. John Park returned this week from a two months' trip to England and the Continent.

Assistant assessors this spring counted not only men, women, horses, cows, dogs, many new hens, and the big Fitzgerald front lawn sheep, but also boys and girls (no extra money to him nor from them, bless 'em). There are in town about thirty-eight hundred persons under twenty years of age—half of these are in the triangle north of the Centre, within a quarter mile of the steam R. R. lines. Last years' book showed about 6900 names of people over 20 years of age; thus it seems 11,000 will be reached this year or next.

Mrs. Hunter Robb and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Edwin Ginn, left New York on the Olimpic early this week for a trip to Europe.

Daily Philosophy

When a man states that his word is as good as his bond, it doesn't necessarily imply that his bond is any good.

If ignorance is as they say, bliss, then this world ought to be a fairly happy one.

Many a woman who has a plain face presides over a most happy home.

Some fellows keep so busy looking for the horseshoe of luck that they never catch up with the horse.

May 21, 1897

Wedgemere station was only the forerunner of a Wedgemere avenue to replace Church street. Let us be thankful that the whole senseless scheme promises to be nipped in the bud, and that there is a memory and a romance attached to old things, and that they are not to depart with the incoming of the new woman.

The Selectmen have purchased a handsome new flag, 36 x 26, for the flagstaff on the Common.

Material for the Arlington and Winchester electric railroad has commenced to arrive.

A numerously signed petition has been sent into Mr. Sanborn of the Boston and Maine, asking that the station name of Mystic be restored.

A Y. M. C. A. is a good thing in any town, even in Winchester Push it along for the sake of the boys.

The No. Woburn cars have been curbed to eight miles an hour in Woburn, Winchester and Medford, and all are happy except the hurrying passengers.

Mr. Alonzo Bacon, an old Winchester boy, who has been absent in California for 20 years, is here on a visit to his father, Mr. John Bacon. He finds the Winchester of today is not the Winchester of his boyhood days.

The Calumet Quartet composed of W. H. W. Bicknell, 1st tenor; Freeland Hovey, 2nd tenor; N. H. Seelye, baritone, and C. B. Sullivan, bass, will render several selections at the bicycle service at the Church of the Epiphany next Sunday morning.

The attractions of the Fells brings many handsome turnouts to our town.

Excursion on the electric cars are now in order. The country never looked more beautiful.

The Mystic Valley Parkway will be completed before the end of the summer.

Mr. C. E. Ordway of Yale College took third place in the one-half mile run Saturday, at the Harvard-Yale games.

It is now thought that the Winchester National Bank will open for business June 1. The task of erecting and placing the large steel vault in position has been a heavy one, and required much time, but this has now been accomplished and is being incased in white tile. The vault is of the latest and most improved make, is burglar proof and fire proof; and the steel is 16 inches in thickness. It rests on top of a foundation of solid masonry, the top and bottom being covered with railroad iron laid in cement. As an extra precaution, inside of the vault is a steel safe, burglar proof, with time lock, and altogether the means taken to guard the funds are first class in every particular, —as good as Boston banks.

Candidates for the postmastership are expectantly waiting for announcement of the date of caucus, which they hope is not a great way off.

The beaches have again been placed on the mall on Common street. Let's hope a good use will be made of them by the occupants.

TOOL OWNERS AGAINST CLOSED SHOP

"Anti-thrift, reactionary pressure groups are now centering upon the U. S. Senate to prevent abolition of the closed shop in the new Federal labor law," Allen W. Clematis street. He was born in Rucker, founder and president of Tool Owners Union, Lexington, today told the Boston Kiwanis Club at its regular weekly luncheon at the Hotel Touraine "Unless the closed shop is outlawed, the half million young Americans coming annually from our schools and colleges can be denied their Constitutional right to choose their own employment; they can be compelled to pay against their will for exercising their American right to work."

"Tool Owners Union advocates instead, full and free bargaining with every individual having the right at all times to say whether he will bargain individually, or whether he will bargain collectively as a member of a union. But the right of choice is one that belongs to every American and it is strictly up to the U. S. Senate to pass a Labor Law that will guarantee that right to veterans and our oncoming millions of young people," said Mr. Rucker. "Without that right for young people, the American labor movement can never hope to attract into its ranks the youth of America, upon whom depends the future strength of the trades-union movement."

"It is," he continued, "the duty of every father and mother to insist to their U. S. Senators upon freedom of choice for their children to select their occupations. It is the duty of every citizen further to realize that the closed shop is an ideal means whereby Communist-dominated labor unions can force shutdowns in key American industries. In a world situation fraught with peril to this nation, that danger must be removed. Tool Owners Union has pointed the way to remove it, by advocating the following: first, elimination of the closed shop monopoly over jobs, so that no man's employment security is at the mercy of any power than can coerce him. Second, referendum control by secret ballot of all strike action, so that no strike can be called until (a) after breakdown of collective bargaining, instead of before, as now, and (b) then only upon the vote of a majority of all workers in each plant or mine. In that way the American worker can himself choose when to exercise his right to strike, and his equally important right not to strike. It is significant that the House of Representatives passed a bill including all T. O. U. recommendations by a vote of 308 to 107."

The speaker pointed out that in the next four years more than two million new jobs must be provided for veterans and high-school and college graduates, each new job calling for the investment of an average of $6000 of somebody's savings. "Restoration of the incentive to 'Today's Forgotten Man' to put his savings into productive enterprise and tools is the only way whereby self-sustaining jobs can be created in the future. New England, a great tool-making center, depends heavily for its prosperity and employment upon the investment of savings in new tools. Assured industrial peace and incentive to expand the tools of production are today the great needs of the nation."

ARBOR DAY EXERCISES AT WASHINGTON SCHOOL MAY 15

The annual Arbor Day exercises were held at the George Washington School May 15. Miss Reynolds fourth grade presented to the boys and girls and guests a very entertaining and appropriate program, which was as follows:

America—sung by all
Significance of Arbor Day — Charles Urmson and Anthony Mucero
Liberty Tree—David Dayton, Bradford Shaw, Michele Cantella, Robert Deroo
Hiawatha's Canoe — Constance Gowdy
Clarinet Solo—Patty Newhall
Poem, The Tree—Ann Peter

At the close of the program the boys and girls and guests were invited to go outside where six ivy plants were to be planted as a gift to the school by the Washington Mothers' Association.

Mrs. Edward R. Simpson, president, presented the ivy which was most graciously accepted by Gloria Mucero of the sixth grade. She then gave the spade, which has had great significance at the Arbor Day exercises in years past, to Peter Perkins of the fifth grade. He accepted its care for the coming year.

The singing of the combined fifth grades under the direction of Miss Phyllis Roberts and Miss Ann Stathos closed a very impressive Arbor Day program.

WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL CONCERT

The annual Winchester High School Concert was given last week Thursday evening in the assembly hall by the school's band and orchestra, vocal and instrumental soloists, combined chorus and the girls' and boys' glee clubs.

A large audience thoroughly enjoyed the concert and surely there was much in the musical efforts of the boys and girls to please a gathering, for the most part composed of parents and friends of the young musicians.

First of all the youngsters' musical deportment was good. They followed their leaders well, were quite responsive and showed a commendable grasp of such musical necessities as pitch, rhythm and phrasing. Not that they approached perfection in these details, but they did show sound coaching and the ability to carry out their directors' demands. You can ask little more of beginners who are not prodigies and the Winchester singers and instrumentalists looked like a thoroughly normal group of youngsters who were enjoying good music of their own making.

Your reviewer was especially impressed with the improvement in the playing of the band and the playing of the orchestra. Director Fred Felmet has done a great job with both groups and the best possible guarantee for their future is that he is far from satisfied with either. It was good to note that no one was keeping time with his foot in the orchestra and that only one or two were tramping out the tempo in the band. That is one indication of a well-drilled instrumental group.

The orchestra, for all its lack of strings, sounded well and did some good things, playing music by Gluck, Tschaikowsky and Brahms so it was pleasing to listen to. The band, with more volume and verve, showed nice restraint in the Schumann chorale and was enthusiastically applauded after its playing of the novelty numbers, London Suite by Vail and "Old MacDonald Had a Farm". Special mention should also be made of the band's playing of "The Star Spangled Banner," which the young bandsmen played seated because of lack of standing room on the high school stage.

Mr. Felmet conducted easily, yet very effectively, giving his young instrumentalists a good beat and plently of assistance in entrances and releases. His choice of tempi was also good and his spoken introductions to the various numbers helpful and pleasing to the audience.

The performance of the chorus and glee clubs under Mrs. Katherine Brown was all the more impressive because of the short time Mrs. Brown had to work with them. The chorus' singing of "Toyland" was pleasing and the girls scored with their rendition of "Carmelita." The small group of boys did rather well with the spiritual, "Roll Chariot," the incidental solo being pleasingly sung by Eben Caldwell.

Soloists for the evening were Katherine Parker, 'cellist, accompanied by Ruth Morse; Fred Walsh, trombone, accompanied by Joanna Johnston; Franklyn Pynn, baritone, accompanied by Barbara Elliott; Cecilia Snyder, soprano, accompanied by Barbara Elliott; Joseph Giacalone, sousaphone, accompanied by Madeline Sullivan; Carol Hadley, trumpet, accompanied by Madeline Sullivan; Barbara Elliott, piano; and Koren Kollegian, piano. The playing of the two pianists was perhaps outstanding, Miss Elliott playing "Pathetique" by Beethoven, and Mr. Kollegian the "Second Hungarian Rhapsody" by Liszt. The latter's performance of Liszt's difficult score was very praiseworthy.

Woburn High edged Winchester High last Saturday by a score of 86 to 85 points on WNAC's "Campus Quiz" from 10:30 to 11 a. m. to win the Winchester juke-box from Van Brode Milling Company for their school.

Verne Williams, quizmaster, conducted the students through a maze of questions dealing with spelling, word definitions, geography, grammar, give language, Roman numeral, math, and U. S. presidents.

The winning Woburnites also received the following prizes for themselves: Irand Davis of 8 Norton street won a hand-tooled wallet and a beautiful silver bracelet for his girl from Ralph Massa, Inc., Everett; while Judith Bemis, of 291 Montvale avenue and Lorraine Whittemore of 1 Holden place, received a beautiful sized to-height dress from Murray White Company a pair of Sportsters hand-sewn moccasins from A. Although Winchester High lost to Woburn, the school received a new 1201 Philco radio-phonograph and the team was awarded individual prizes. Blair Currie, of 2 Park avenue, received the 20 volumes of the Famous Book of Knowledge for being the top-scoring student, while Edward Moore and Klaus Hahn, each got a sport shirt from Chief's Clothing Store, Winchester, and a record album from the Medford Music Centre. WITHINGTON WON HARVARD LETTER

Tim Withington, son of Mrs. Margaret Adriance Withington of Mystic Valley Parkway, won his varsity "H" this year as a member of the Harvard track team. He missed the coveted insignia last year as a junior when a pulled muscle kept him out of the Yale meet.

This year Tim was shifted from the sprints to a race he ran with great success in schoolboy at Exeter. The 5ft7 Coach Mikkola believes his natural leg better adapt for the longer than the shorter race. He won the half against Yale and ran a nice quarter as anchor man for Harvard in the mile relay at the Nonagonal games. This week he competes for Harvard at the IC4A4A games in Philadelphia.

Another Winchester boy, Wm Blanchard Arvidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace B. Lord of Excell road, has been running the mile and two-mile for Harvard this year.

ADOPTS FRENCH GIRL

Mrs. William G. Morse of 1 Cottage avenue has "adopted" Simone Jeannot, 12 year old French girl in France, through the Foster Parents' Plan for War Children, joining several in Winchester who have already adopted children in war-torn Europe.

The plan is now operating 56 children's projects in Holland, France, Belgium, Italy, Malta, England and Czecho-Slovakia, care for children of 11 nationalities.

Youngest of five children, Simone had to remain in Paris during the occupation, her older sisters being forced to work for the Germans at the various camps. However, Simone was protected by their father being permitted to work as a moving picture operator, though at pitifully inadequate wages.

Under the Foster Parents' Plan, Simone is being fed nourishing food and the "adoption" by Mrs. Morse has been wonderful for her morale. A quiet little girl with dark hair, big blue eyes and a sweet smile, she hopes some day to be a dress maker.

WINCHESTER STATE TENNIS WINNER

Watsons Win Over Rich of Newton Deciding Factor

[illegible] Watson over Newton's Bob Rich in the final round of the State Interscholastic Tennis Tournament at Palmer street Tuesday afternoon, Avenger's son the individual and team championships to Winchester.

Watson won in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2, literally pat-balling Rich to death.

The local boy struck to a carefully mapped-out plan of campaign and proved awkward to Rich's Newton opponent, returning his opponent's strokes [illegible] over [illegible] Rich [illegible].

Watson made few errors and averaged to keep the ball in play and effect strong advantage in the back court thus holding well in hand. Once Rich got into the forecourt he had the advantage scoring with smashes on placements that the clever-moving Watson could not do anything about.

The Newton boy, however, lacked Watson's consistency and seemed upset over the latter's soft-spoken and continual returns of his hardest-hit balls. Several severe double-faults didn't help the Newton boy any, but generally speaking Watson was just too steady for him, and the Winchester captain deserves a lot of credit for his consistency and ability to stick to the game he and his coach believed best adapted to beating Rich.

Watson played under the handicap of a pulled leg muscle, sustained in a fall during Monday's semi-final matches. He took the court with his leg strapped by Trainer Lon Goddu, who worked on the bad muscle for some time Monday night.

Charlie proved the big man of the tournament, most of which was played Saturday on the Palmer street, Gun Field and Country Club courts. His quarter final win over top-seeded Lanzy Barrett of Brookline in straight sets, 6-4, 6-4, was a big upset as was the defeat of second-seeded Shelton Caldwell of Winchester by unseeded George White of Quincy in the other quarter final match.

Caldwell forced White to go to 7-5 before yielding, 7-5, 6-3, but White's serves and ground-strokes and Swanson in the opening rounds, this off-setting the fact that the locals had two men in the semi-finals while Newton had but one. Each team had three in the quarters, Winchester having Watson, Dick Hill, and Caldwell while Newton had Dudley, Parker and Rich.

In the semi-finals Watson beat team-mate Hills, seeded number 1, 7-5, 1-6, 6-1, while Rich was taking White, 6-1, 6-3.

Watson put out team-mate Swanson in the third round and Parker of Newton defeated Eben Caldwell in the same round. Both were three sets matches, Caldwell taking the second set from Parker at love.

Winchester's win of the team title is its third in three years, the locals having won last year from Newton and the year before tied with Brookline and Boston Latin. This year's team scores were Winchester 17, Newton 16, Brookline 10, Watertown 2, Roxbury Memorial 1, Hingham 1, Belmont 1.

TROOP 2, B. S. A.

On Tuesday, May 20, at 7:30 p. m. Troop 2 met Troop 7 in a rally at the Church of the Epiphany.

The program commenced with the Pledge of Allegiance and the Scout Oath under the capable direction of Mr. "Reggie" Bewes, Scoutmaster of Troop 2.

Mr. "Staff" Rogers, Scoutmaster of Troop 1, was the official judge of this rally.

The official score was as follows:

	Troop 7	Troop 2
1 Knots	20	20
2 Compass	20	20
3 First Aid	20	20
4 Morse Code	20	20
5 Fires and stoves	20	20
6 Relays	20	20
7 Wig-Wag	20	20
	140	140

The end of the tally was marked by the good sportsmanship of both troops by two good cheers.

At the request of Mr John Casler, Scoutmaster of Troop 7, plans are in the making for another match between the same two troops in the near future.

LIGHTNING STRUCK WINCHESTER HOMES

Fire Department Busy During Electrical Storm

[illegible] Winchester during last Saturday afternoon's thunder storm. The first came during the storm's height when a high wind and heavy rain accompanied the storm, bringing down a number of large and small trees about town.

The second strike was at 4:40 during the storm was caused when lightning struck a chimney at the home of Mr. Kenneth Cullen at 21 Stevens street. The lightning struck the garage and did relatively little damage. Box 62 was sounded for the fire.

The electrical installation caused the storm may have caused the short circuiting in the alarm system at the apartments of Mr. Richard B. Dunn, 12 Rangeley road, apartment 1, Central Box 242 called in response to the alarm at 4:44 but found no damage except [illegible] the refrigerator.

[illegible] caused by a short [illegible] wiring which caused a slight [illegible] of the apartment. Box [illegible] was sounded for a bad fire at the home of Mr. Clarence H. Stone, 58 Brooklawn avenue. Lightning struck the top of the house, causing flames to leap high in the air and attracting a large crowd to watch the firemen fight the fire.

The men had a stiff three hour fight with the flames which did extensive damage to the roof and attic of the house.

Sunday morning the Fire Department was called to the home of the Misses Sands, 8 Park avenue, where trouble developed with an electric refrigerator.

Mrs. William McLaughlin of Everett, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a dress of turquoise silk jersey with sleeves of matching lace, and a small turquoise cap. Her flowers were pale pink carnations and snapdragons.

The bride-maids, wearing dresses and caps like those of the honor attendant and carrying yellow carnations with snapdragons, were Miss Lillian Boyd of Arlington and Miss Elaine N. Schofield of Centerville.

Charles Brown of Wallingford, Conn., was best man for his brother, and the ushers were William McLaughlin of Everett and Fred A. Schofield of Centerville.

Archbishop Cushing spoke to the children earnestly, yet informally, his remarks being the more impressive because they were so easily understood by his young audience.

STREET FAIR SCENE

WOBURN GIRL WINS EN KA CAR

Mrs. Richter Gets Goat

As always the biggest news of the En Ka Street Fair came at the time of the drawing of the prizes, 11:30 on Saturday night, May 24. Reps. Bertucelli of Belmont Motors, planted on stand the two chance horses. It came to pass that Mrs. Louise Richter, 4 Mrs. Louise Kerrigan Way, Court, Woburn, Mrs. Katherine Mrs. Kerrigan was the lucky [illegible] prize and Mr. [illegible] Richter, Mrs. [illegible] Richter, road to telegraph [illegible] for that the Fairgrounds [illegible] were out of order. Way street due to the [illegible] would disrupted the Fair. [illegible] minutes earlier. Hoover [illegible] Woburn police were asked to carry the good news in a police cruising car, and it was then discovered why [illegible] was such a disinterested way [illegible] and not attended the drawing. She was in bed fast asleep as most two year old girls are at that time. Miss Louise the nine year old daughter of Mr. Clarence Kerrigan, who was worked for Mr. Charles Symmes of Winchester for the past 25 years. He has always taken some of Mrs. Symmes chance, tools to sell, and this year sold four books. One of those books held the lucky ticket, number 8898 and [illegible] were to his daughter.

But the drawing of the chances was only the climax to a great day. En Ka member woke to find it was "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" and the Fair grounds were crowded early by the thousands who look forward each year to Winchester's unique Street Fair.

Months of planning by the General Committee achieved a smooth running Fair with order underlying the seeming pandemonium. Mrs. Clarke Staples, the 1947 chairman, had been ably assisted by Mrs. Thomas Register Jr., in charge of Promotion; Mrs. Vincent P. Clarke, Secretary; Mr. Varghan Hatmon, Treasurer; Mrs. Lucy Bugbee, President of En Ka; Mrs. Forrest L. Putnam, Chances, and Mrs. Samuel D. Cole, whose advance publicity had done so much to bring out the crowd thronging the Town Hall grounds.

Working closely with the General Committee were their co-chairmen Mrs. Theodore E. Chilcott on Properties, Mrs. Robert W. MacArthur and Mrs. Alvin M. Litchfield on Chances, Mrs. Philip Bartlett in charge of "Going on Publicity and Mrs. Franklin J. Lane who each year's work behind the scenes as Assistant Treasurer and Cashier. Mrs. George A. Mackenzie signed the clever signs, representing the tunes after which each booth was named.

TUFTS SUMMER THEATRE

Winchester Director and Actor in Group

The announcement of the opening of Tufts College Summer Theatre on July 1 next means vastly more than the establishment of another way to [illegible] on the Straw Hat Circuit close at hand for one the fine foyers of Winchester and surrounding communities.

The difference between the Tufts Summer School plan is as striking the keynote of experiment [illegible] a presentation of five strong plays, carrying out only the [illegible] of play, but also in the [illegible] of [illegible] from [illegible] to [illegible] acting as a step [illegible] predicting a [illegible] to staging as a [illegible] [illegible] surrounding [illegible] a natural [illegible] at Tufts will [illegible] more [illegible].

Twenty-five advanced students of acting from Tufts and other colleges and universities will form the cast. Directors will be Dr. Maurice Babb, head of the Department of Drama and Speech, and Mr. Alan H. Woodruff of 8 Sheffield road, Winchester.

Winchester on dentally, will be represented in the acting company by Boardman Gibbons, familiar to local folk by its appearances with the Parsons Players Boardman, whose first name [illegible] at Tufts was interrupted by the [illegible], returned to college from the Army Engineers last February, and distinguished himself in the role of Creon, tyrant king of Thebes, in a recent production of Antigone. Unlike most summer theatre centers, the Tufts Summer Theatre will not require technical production work of students in the courses, nor will a nucleus group of professional actors be hired. Student actors will receive full time college credit.

Enrollment in the Summer Theatre is open to drama majors, both undergraduates and graduates, and to teachers and directors of school and community plays. Application may be made through the secretary of the Tufts Summer Theatre, Tufts College Summer School, Medford, 55, Mass.

LEAGUE HIGHLIGHTS

The Winchester League of Women Voters has conducted eight general meetings this year, five study group sessions, an evening orientation group for new members, a joint gathering with the Mothers Association and a candidates meeting. Though not unappreciative of the grave issues on our National program, the Winchester League has of necessity turned to the more immediate problems of local interest.

From the first, an opening pre-election meeting at the home of Mrs. Reginald Bradlee to the last, the program meeting at Mrs. Henry Dellicker's, the attendance has been steady and gratifying.

The October 4 Evening Project, engineered by the finance committee under Mrs. Rodney Long was well attended and successful financially.

A joint meeting with the Fortnightly on Nov. 18 was ably managed by the International Relations Committee Mrs. Richard Wyman, chairman, aided by the President, Mrs. William Spaulding, the League's contribution—the morning session at the Public Library. The speaker, Mr. Leonard Cronkite talked on "Can We Have One World?" At the noon luncheon in the Unitarian Parish House, Mrs. Wyman introduced Mrs. Bruno Rossi, who related some Italian incidents of the war. The afternoon was under the auspices of the Fortnightly Club.

The following meetings were on local aspects of the League's activities:

December 5. Mrs. Guy Livingstone, chairman of Education presented Mr. Nixon of the Mass. Teachers Federation. His subject was the position of the Federation on the question of equal pay for men and women. Mr. Garvey of the local school board and Mr. Norris, superintendent of schools, spoke on the aspects of the equal pay question.

January 9. Mrs. Mortimer Downey, chairman of social welfare introduced Mr. Paul E. Millea, who spoke enthusiastically on the Longmeadow program of recreation.

February 13. Mrs. Houle, economic welfare chairman brought to the League, Mr. Waldo Bond, who handled the rather dry but burning question of Taxation in Winchester both thoughtfully and entertainingly.

March 7. The legislative meeting conducted by Mrs. Malcolm Nichols, was this year a very successful luncheon held in the Epiphany parish hall. The speakers were Mr. Harrison Chadwick and Mr. Ernest Mitchell. Eighty seven members were present. This meeting, due to the concerted efforts of the kitchen and, even netted a $2.87 gain to the treasury.

April 22. The general meeting was in the hands of the Program chairman, Mrs. Rowland Patrick. During the session, which lasted from 10:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. with a short recess for lunch, the League's programs, local, state and national, were ably presented by League members.

Among activities of the League may be mentioned the making of 1000 fliers to Winchester voters on "Jury Service for Women and the Old Age Assistance referenda".

In two study sessions at the public library, Jan. 16, and Jan. 23, Mrs. Houle and members of her committee presented an analysis of local tax structure, preparatory to Mr. Bond's talk on Taxation.

Two education study groups were engineered by Mrs. Guy Livingstone and her committee one during February, was on the question of equal pay for men and women in the teaching field. May 1, Mr. Harrison Chadwick spoke ably and convincingly on state aid to education.

The annual candidate's meeting was held at the High School Auditorium. Mr. William Cusack presided and an audience of 200 people heard "9" of the candidates for office speak.

At the joint meeting with the Mothers' Association Mrs. Philip Woodward represented the League in the Round Table Discussion "What shall be the building program for Winchester Schools?"

The orientation meeting for new members under the leadership of the membership chairman, Mrs. Bernard Swiedler, held during December, at the home of Mrs. Wilbert Underwood gave good returns in interest and enthusiasm.

It will be recalled that Mrs. Philip Woodward was acting president during the summer and the early fall of 1947.

This concludes a brief review of a busy year. As an organization we can feel proud of the high quality of the material presented at the meetings and of the enthusiastic devotion of individual members of the League to any task assigned, whether it be in the kitchen, in office or first as citizen and voter.

"HOME" GETS MONEY FROM COMMUNITY FUND

The Home for Aged People in Winchester, member agency of the Winchester Community Chest, has been granted $1,370 by the Greater Boston Community Fund to meet essential repairs deferred during the war.

This allocation is an emergency measure, Arthur G. Rotch, chairman of the Central Budget Committee, announced, in addition to the Home's monthly allotment from last fall's campaign for 1947 needs of Red Feather services.

It was foreseen, he said, that after a period of shortages, priorities and emphasis on wartime needs, many of the Fund services would need extensive work done on buildings and equipment. Accordingly, a small amount was set aside in each campaign. At the end of the last drive, with materials and labor becoming available, requests from Red Feather services for non-recurring maintenance items totalled more than $700,000. With the Fund falling short of its goal, the commmittee was able to appropriate only $200,000 for this purpose to 96 of the services.

The allocation to the Home meets in full their request for $1,370 for needed repairs.

MISS LEONGO SHOWERED

Miss Regina Luongo, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Emedio Luongo of Fitzgerald avenue, was recently given three showers in honor of her approaching marriage. She is to marry Alexander Karnella of Chelsea in June.

Classmates of Miss Luongo at Lowell Teachers' College gave one of the three showers at the home of Mrs. Martin Burns in Stoneham, the affair being double pleasant as a reunion.

Another shower was given by teachers of the Gleason and Brooks Schools in Medford where Miss Luongo has been teaching for several years. This party was held at the summer home of Miss Frances Harrington in Hull.

The third shower was held in Winchester at the home of Mrs. Sam Bonasera on Fitzgerald avenue and was largely attended. Miss Luongo was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts at each of the showers, as well as the best wishes of all her friends for many years of wedded happiness. She will make her married home in Winchester.

The State Department of Public Utilities will hold a public hearing at Gardner Auditorium in State House Thursday, June 5, at 10:30, on the petition of the Boston & Maine and the New York Central Railroad Company, lessee of the Boston & Albany Railroad, for permission to increase all forms of commutation tickets 20 percent, with a minimum rate of 15 cents a ride on 12 and 16 ride commutation tickets.

WINCHESTER GARDEN CLUB

Mrs. Frank W. Jones and Mrs. Roger C. Hadley were hostesses for the Winchester Garden Club, Thursday, May 22 at the Towne Lyne House. Red tulips graced the long table and potted pink begonias, with silvered coverings and gay pink bows, rested on the mantel.—English ivy in graceful lines at each end of the mantel contributed to the friendly and hospitable atmosphere of the room.

The president, Mrs. Norman M. Mitchell presided, she mentioned the "passing on" of Mrs. John Oviatt DeWolf, a life member of the club, "Anna DeWolf, greatly loved, who has gone to a greater life beyond."

The poem read by the president has a spiritual significance:

"Dear Lord, if there be those who
 flaunt
Thy Laws who seeking bring Uncertain heart. Oh, give them,
 Lord
A garden in the Spring!
Let them be witnesses dear Lord,
To every living thing
One cannot be a skeptic with
A garden in the Spring."

President, Mrs. Norman M. Mitchell

Vice Pres., Mrs. Samuel B. Kirkwood

Rec. Sec., Mrs. Robert Whitten

Cor. Sec., Mrs. John B. Willis

Treas., Mrs. Harold M. Twombley

The program chairman, Mrs. Donald G. Crowell, directed a Question Period which proved to be an informative finale to a very happy annual meeting day of the club.

RUNAWAYS PICKED UP

Shortly before 6:30 Saturday evening Officer Clarence Dunhury of the Police Department picked up two girls whom he discovered seated on the bank of the Mill Pond near the Winchester Laundry building.

At Headquarters they gave their names and addresses in Readville. They were 13 years old, and had been reported on the teletype as runaways.

The Readville Police were notified and relatives of one of the girls came for her about noon on Saturday. The other was charged as a "stubborn" child, and on complaint of her mother was taken by Officer Edward Bowler to the Rutland Corner House on Shawmut avenue in Boston, where she was put in charge of the matron. Both girls claimed they had been walking around Winchester all night.

MRS. NOREEN M. ALLEN

Mrs. Noreen M. Allen, widow of Fred M. Allen, retired superintendent of maintenance for the Metropolitan District Commission and former resident of Winchester, died Sunday, May 25, at the Maplewood Hospital in Malden after a month's illness. She had been living at Oak Bluffs, where Mr. Allen died April 26.

Mrs. Allen was the daughter of William, and Mary (Kay) Mollins. She was born Feb. 1, 1878, in Moncton, N. B., coming to the United States as a young woman. She and Mr. Allen were married in Salem and lived in West Medford before coming to Winchester. They resided at 252 Highland avenue from 1927 to 1935, returning then to West Medford before moving permanently to Oak Bluffs.

While in Medford Mrs. Allen was active in Purity Rebekah Lodge, of which she was past noble grand. She was also active in the Rebekahs at Oak Bluffs.

Surviving are two sons, Walter and Lester Allen, both of Medford and a daughter, Mrs. F. L. Courtney of Salem.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Whitney Funeral Home in Melrose with Rev. Lemuel Lord, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Melrose, officiating. Interment was in Wyoming Cemetery, Melrose.

CORRECTION

The new fire box which has been installed opposite 27 Ledyard road was incorrectly reported in last week's Star as 262, which is an old box. The new box is 263, and another new one, Box 48, was installed this week at the corner of Sylvester avenue and Canal street.

OUTDOOR MEMORIAL SERVICE

Winchester held its first outdoor Memorial Service Sunday afternoon at Leonard Field, replacing the former service held each year in one of the local churches on the Sunday before Memorial Day.

The outdoor service was impressive, but poorly attended, especially insofar as the public was concerned. Officers and members, both of Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, and Aberjona Post, 3917, Veterans of Foreign Wars, attended and participated in the service, but there were few civilians at the field.

The services took place at an improvised platform, covered with bunting, on which the colors of the Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars were massed. Walter J. Burns, commander-elect of the Legion, and chairman of the Memorial Day Committee, presided and introduced Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the Unitarian Church, who is State Legion chaplain and chaplain of Winchester Post, A. L., and Rev. Edmund C. Sliney, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church, who is a member of Woburn Post, 101, A. L., and a retired regular Army chaplain with 27 years service.

Father Sliney made the invocation and in a brief address outlined some of the principals fought for by men and women of all wars who have given their lives for their country.

Mr. Chapman read an excerpt from a sermon preached by the Rt. Rev. Ashton Oldham of the Episcopal Church at the National Cathedral in Washington, outlining the ways in which he believed America should be first.

Mr. Chapman offered prayer for the departed citizens of Winchester who died in all wars from the Civil War through World War II, asking all present to stand in silent reverence in their honor.

Following the period of silence Domenic Rotondi, trumpeter, sounded "Taps", with those in uniform stiffly at salute. Mr. Chapman made the benediction.

WEST SECOND IN STATE MEET

John West was the only Winchester entrant to place in the State Track Meet at Newton last Saturday afternoon, finishing second in the Class B shotput with a heave of 45 ft. 8½ in.

This is short of John's best putting and a disappointment to those who thought the big boy would cop the "B" title. Last year in the N. E. meet at Brookline he got the ball out 46 ft. 8¼ in. with little time to warm up and he had one heave well over 47 ft. on which he barely fouled. Gilbert Borjeson of Worcester North won the "B" shot last Saturday with a distance of 46 ft. 9¾ in.

Bill Whittemore was in the shot with John last Saturday, and he has done better this spring than he did at Newton, well enough to have landed in the money. His best at Newton, however, was short of the mares, though he was well ahead of many of the competitors.

Besides West and Whittemore, Coach Burns Winslow entered Jack Grimes and Dave Sargent in the half-mile, Ben Coe and Peter Sorokin, in the quarter; Harry Easton in the hurdles, Roger Creedman and Pete Dillingham in the sprints, and Dillingham in the broad jump. He also entered an 880 yard relay team of Dillingham, Whittemore, Sorokin and Coe, they finishing well in the ruck in their heat behind Winthrop and Worcester North.

Of the local entrants Coe looked good finishing second in his heat in the quarter behind Port of Malden Catholic who did 54.4s. Ben, who beat out Fowle of Woburn, was caught in 55s by Lou Goddu in the stands, which must be about his best effort, even allowing for inaccuracy in the timing, due to distance from the finish line.

Pete Sorokin also got a place in his heat of the quarter, finishing fourth in a heat won by Coughlin of Walpole in 54s.

Captain Grimes, despite a game effort for a big boy, was shut out in his heat of the half. Sargent, however finished second to Lebherz of Worcester South in his heat, the time being 2m. 7.8s. Sargent was right up there, being caught by Goddu in 2m. 8s. The big boy looked very good, showing nice form and a great stride. Had he waited until his senior year before going out for track, He would have been hard to beat with more work and racing experience. He really impressed.

For a boy who has had almost no chance to practice hurdling this spring Harry Easton did well, placing second in a 14.8s hurdles heat won by Dionisio, semi-finalist from South Boston. Rog Creedman finished second in his heat of the hundred, won by Bolton of Waltham, in record holder, in 10.3s. Dillingham didn't have a good day, and Don Berardge, Winchester's best in the 220, was out with a pulled muscle. Ted Covert wasn't able to compete in the half, either, being in bed with a heavy cold.

WAKEFIELD HIGH 9; WINCHESTER HIGH 2

Winchester High slipped further into the Middlesex League cellar Monday afternoon as it lost a 9-2 decision to Wakefield High at Wakefield. Moore, Wakefield hurler, held the locals to three hits while the winners were combining Flynn and Irwin for 10. The summary:

Wakefield High

Winchester High

Miss Charlotte Foley of 26 Mt. Pleasant street, was graduated from the Nursery Training School of Boston at exercises at 11 o'clock Thursday, May 29, at the Algonquin Club, Boston.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT

On Monday night, May 26, the tournament committee of the Winchester Tennis Association met at the home of the chairman, Ken Hills, to examine the list of entrants and make the draw for the tournaments which will begin this Friday afternoon, Memorial Day, at 1:30 p. m. THE SECRETARY, EGOSH!

Mr. Teele will never believe it, but the fact remains that the lowly Secretary, the mimic of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association for years and years, rose from the doldrums of mediocrity last weekend to emerge from the regular matches of the organization with championship honors. It is unfortunate the dogcatty champions of the Boston Paper Trade and perennial champion of the Palmer Beach boys wasn't on hand to witness the Secretary's good fortune. He has so often tried, and so hard, to carry the Secretary to victory that it would have done his heart good to see his final triumph.

Mr. Teele was not the only regular to default last week-end. Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner, the Dix Street Magnate, was also AWOL, being last heard of heading for the wilds of Hancock, N. H. On the credit side of the ledger was the season's first appearance of Robert H. M. S. Rodney Walsh, big as life and twice as natural and the former champions of Palmer street champions, Stanley "Willoughby" Mobbs, in Winchester on Sabbatical from his present home in San Francisco, "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stow and Champion of all Xanadu-ses and Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham rounded out the pitching quintum.

Matching resulted in the Secretary and Mr. Mobbs squaring away against Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Walsh. Absence from the courts had dimmed temporarily the Walsh eye for the stake and Mr. McLaughlin got little help from him in combatting the Mobbs ringers which were dropping on the stake in old time form.

Two straight was the count, after which "Willoughby" and the Secretary took on the famous "Lake Street Lancers", winning in odd games. This in itself should indicate the quality of the Mobbs form, for to win from McLaughlin and Pridham at all is hot stuff and to take them while paired with the Secretary, of all people, is little short of epochal. How Mr. Teele would have enjoyed it.

Continuing play, Mr. Mobbs and the Secretary were split, "Willoughby" and "Rodney" going against the Secretary and Mr. Pridham. The latter's "skyscraper" was on the beam and good enough to carry the Secretary to victory again.

The final match of the day saw Mr. McLaughlin and Mr. Walsh essaying "The Finger" and the Scribe, and though Mr. McLaughlin let his put out his pin and take off his eyeglasses for clearer vision, the ends were stacked against him and he lost again, in odd games, closer than a hot breath on your neck, all of them.

Always ready for Secretary service items. There is after all no good in overplaying a good hand to forcing your luck. A bit stazed at his good fortune, his one wish was that Teele could have been there first to have seen!

Serving the Community For 66 Years

Many years ago, back in the early twenties, we spent a week-end in Orleans on the Cape visiting with Gus Higgins and his sister at Tonset. We thoroughly enjoyed a variety of Cape Cod dishes and delectable food, but the dish which made the big hit was clam pie. Made like our well known chicken pie it was served with excellent clam gravy and crisp, flaky crust. A dish truly to be remembered, and as we were told found in few places outside Orleans. Since that time we have never again encountered clam pie until last Monday night when the family enjoyed a hot, delicious, freshly made clam pie in our own home. This pie came from and was made according to a Wellfleet recipe. Four of us ate the whole of it at one sitting and wished some of our neighbors could have enjoyed some of it with us. Of course it was a gift. Just as dinner was started our old friend George M. Bryne of Copley street, who has on previous occasions given us many Cape Cod dainties, called and reported that he was on his way with something good to eat. He brought us the pie fresh from the oven and it made a perfect evening. George Bryne has spent a large part of his 76 years in Wellfleet. He loves the Cape and its living and wants his friends to enjoy some of the good things it produces. We extend our thanks to him. Our second clam pie was just as delicious as the first. If they ever have a clam pie contest between Orleans and Wellfleet we want to be present - along with George Bryne.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

What Winchester Hospital Has Meant to the Ralph Bonnell Family

It took a lot of serious thought to convince me that I ought to head up the organization for completing the Winchester Hospital Building Fund. My own business takes most of the 24 hours, and you all know that my golf game claims a lot of time, too. But when I was asked to take this chairmanship, I spent several days thinking about it, and getting underneath the surface of things at the Hospital with the help of Tucker Yye.

After the first few hours of this study and questioning on my part, I began to see the Hospital in an entirely new light. I had been taking the Hospital for granted, using its facilities freely since our moving to Winchester in 1929, but I had never stopped to think seriously about what it had meant to me and the rest of the family, and what it would mean to live in this town without the Hospital. I still have lots to learn, but I know the Hospital better each day, and I began to have an answer to the basic question: "What is Winchester Hospital doing to make life safer and happier for the average family of the town?" My answer is naturally given in terms of what it has done and is doing for my own family.

There is nothing very unusual about the hospital history of the Ralph Bonnell family, and you can take it as the story of many a John Q. Citizen, his parents, his wife and children. This is the way our story goes. My mother and father have had several brief stays in the Hospital, and their health has been made more secure by the care they have received there. Our six children have all been born in Winchester Hospital, and three of them have had their tonsils and adenoids removed in the Hospital. When Ralph, Junior, was 6 years old, his interest in a house being built near us led to a bad tumble and a broken left forearm. At the age of 10 he duplicated the adventure in another house under construction on our property and broke his right upper arm. Both fractures were set in the Winchester Hospital and recovered in record time.

Then, last year, we had a major anxiety when Shirley developed an acute appendicitis while at Manomet on the Cape, and was rushed to the Winchester Hospital in an ambulance, in a critical condition. We had several hours of worry before the operation was safely over, and we were assured Shirley would have a normal convalescence. It was fine to have her so near to Fells road during the nine days before she was allowed to come home.

The final chapter to date in our hospital history is almost comic. I was at the Hospital one day in April, learning from actual observation the facts about the ever-crowded condition of the rooms. I was appalled by the burden these conditions put upon doctors, nurses and assistants, and asked Mr. Yye what would be done with emergencies resulting from some sudden community catastrophe. Mr. Yye showed me the accident room, metabolism room, and other bits of space where beds could be placed in case of sudden need. I left the Hospital and drove the three minutes to my home. As I entered the grounds at 10 Fells road, my 6 year old son dashed up to me, his eyes wide with excitement: "Oh, daddy, the painter has just fallen off the roof, and they've taken him to Winchester Hospital." Fortunately, there was no serious injury, and the painter was at work again the next day, but the accident gave us the final proof of the convenience and protection given us by our local hospital.

Ralph H. Bonnell,
Chairman
Winchester Hospital Building Fund

"YOUR PAINTING CONTRACTOR IS A CRAFTSMAN"

Many people think of painting as a thing anyone can do—and almost everyone has tried. Real painting is an important art, a business of high skill learned only after years of apprenticeship and practice. The reliable painting and decorating contractor makes painting his life work; he knows the fundamentals of his profession, keeps abreast of modern methods and new materials; he builds up his painted surfaces with the same integrity which has built for him his professional reputation. He values his satisfied customers. He stresses service and responsibility. He is proud to represent an industry which not only protects, but beautifies. Reliable painting contractors are very important.

25 YEARS AGO

The clambakers at Orient Heights over last week-end started off in a big way, after a final gamble last Friday night, horse forth in full sound on Saturday night at the big mass meeting in the Town Hall, when a citizen's committee of seven members was elected to investigate the matter and take any steps it deemed best to petition Principal Edward E. Thompson as master of High School.

Miss Dorothy Wellington of Highland avenue had charge of the arrangements and coaching of the dancers in "Miss Jordan Marsh," the musical fantasy given by members of that store at the Boston Opera House last night.

The water department has purchased a new horse which will be used to relieve the old one at present in use. The large territory to be covered requires the two horses.

Mrs. M. P. Stevens of 8 Glengarry entertained at luncheon today in honor of her guest, Miss Elizabeth P. Hall of Montclair, N. J.

Work was completed this week of setting out 25,000 small pines around the Winchester reservoirs. This completes the tree planting at the reservoirs some 90,000 young pines, spruce and hemlocks being set out. The trees are all healthy and thriving, and will in time add greatly to the watershed.

Messrs. George F., Ralph and Walter Purrington and Jack Sanborn returned Monday from a fishing trip at Fryburg, Me. Cold windy weather kept the catch down and but few fish were secured.

A very successful tennis tournament has just been completed by the boys of the High School. The fact that 30 boys participated is a good illustration of how popular this game is. The preliminary games were contested on various courts, and the finals were played last Monday at the Sherman court with Stephen Thompson overcoming Thomas Jansen in three sets, 6-2, 7-5, 6-4.

LEXINGTON BLANKED WINCHESTER

Locals Held to Single Hit by Parker

A single by the veteran Eddie Hicks in the very first inning robbed Lexington's "Ace" Parker of a no-hit game as the Minutemen blanked Winchester, 6-0, in the Middlesex League series last Friday afternoon on Leonard Field.

Hicks, playing left field in place of Sammy Bellino, who was not in school last Friday, came to bat after Hunkey Hoan had fanned, but died stealing. Jimmy Olivier fanned for the third out.

The locals had three on with two out in the second, two walks and an error filling the bases, but McElhinney fanned for the final out, and thereafter Parker had the locals tied up.

McElhinney didn't do too badly, giving up only six hits and walking five. His support wasn't too hot, however, the local boys kicking in with nine errors that didn't do Lexington any harm. The summary:

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

Francis Cushman Wilson, Lawyer
Born: June 8, 1876 at Winchester

Francis Cushman Wilson is one of New Mexico's most distinguished citizens. The son of John Thomas and Pleasantine (Cushman) Wilson, he was a student at Harvard from 1893 to 1898, and also studied law at Columbian (now George Washington) Law School, Washington, D. C., receiving the degree of LL.B., in 1903.

Mr. Wilson commenced his career in 1903 as an attorney in Washington, D. C. In 1907, he transferred his activities to New Mexico, where he has since been practicing law and has become a leader of the bar and an influential factor in the affairs of that state.

He was a member of the New Mexico State Tax Commission from 1917 to 1918, Interstate River Commissioner for New Mexico from 1927 to 1931, and has served as a member of the Committee on Conservation and Administration of Public Domain since 1930. He is a member of the American Bar Association, and, because of his achievements, was elected president of the New Mexico State Bar Association in 1913. He is also a frequent contributor of legal articles to law journals, particularly on problems of public domain and interstate compacts.

Mr. Wilson enlisted in the Massachusetts Heavy Artillery during the Spanish American War, and is a past Department Commander of the New Mexico Division, United Spanish War Veterans. He is also a past State President of the New York Society of Mayflower Descendants.

Mr. Wilson was married to Charlotte Lansing Parker in 1902, and is the father of two children. He retired from the active practice of his profession in 1942, and makes his home in Santa Fe, New Mexico.

A Day For Remembrance

Memorial Day reminds us of the debt we owe to all those who have given their lives to their country. They will live always in our memory. Let us revive our faith in the beliefs for which they died, and renew our effort in the cause of national unity and world peace.

Much interest and excitement centered on a goat, tethered in front of the de luxe trailers which housed the Fortune Tellers. The trailers were loaned by Mr. Baumgardner from Woburn, and were delightfully furnished with Mexican furniture. The goat ate the grass around the stake and paid little attention to the curious crowd. Investigation proved that the goat was a present to En Ka and that chances were being sold to choose the winner. Many children begged their parents to take chances, but the lucky winner turned out to be Mrs. Thomas Righter, Jr., who received the news with delight mingled with consternation. Rumor has it that she immediately called her neighbors and asked them to house their dogs for the night, concluding the Walton's Great Dane; since the Righter's home is unfortunately without a goat shed or a barn to house livestock, and it was decided that the goat would have to be put to work immediately on the Righter's front lawn.

Another En Ka member who proved lucky at the chances was Mrs. Fred Oliver of the Tea Committee, who bought a chance on the permanent wave at Fred's Beauty Shop, sold by the Tea Committee, and won.

The Garden Booth on the island again provided a busy spot for the Fair, and was popular too with the children who fed the ducks swimming around the island. Here too, were chances on two gift bonds at Filene's for $20 each. The winners were Mrs. T. A. Goodale, Jr., of Glen road and Mrs. B. H. Metcalf of Main street.

Little girls were attracted to the delightful Doll House outside the Attic. Lucky winner was K. Dearmond of Woburn. Lucky also were the many buyers of antiques, other people's White Elephants and many just plain useful articles which were sold at low prices by Mrs. Wallace Miller and her capable committee. Almost every home in Winchester had been raided to fill their booth, entitled "Among My Souvenirs."

The Gift Booth managed by Mrs. Franklin A. Flanders and Mrs. Chandler W. Symmes was called "Tie Me To Your Apron Strings" but many more articles than aprons were on sale there. Hand painted trays and hand knitted sweaters went quickly and it proved as always one of the most popular booths for buyers. A hand knit sweater was won by Robert Hutchins of Stowell road.

As always, too, the lines for the Ferris Wheel and the Merry-Go-Round started from the time they opened in the morning and except for a brief interruption when the storm broke about 8:15 that evening continued until closing. As the evening came on the crowds centered on the Midway and wheels were spun and baseballs thrown continuously.

The storm proved a boon to the Dance Committee for the crowd flocked inside to the Town Hall and started dancing as soon as Ken Reeves' orchestra appeared. The balconies were crowded and so was the standing room around the floor. An innovation this year was a ticket that allowed a couple to dance all evening and also to have a chance on $10 worth of records. Don Miller of Winchester won the records and was applauded by the crowd of high school youngsters who danced vigorously all through the evening.

Food was served all day in the little Town Hall and crowds enjoyed both lunch and the Baked Bean and Ham Dinner. Mrs. D. Fowriey-Tilson with her co-chairmen Mrs. Charles W. Lovejoy and Mr. E. Ober Pride were on deck the whole day and evening and received wholehearted praise from all who tasted their wares. Equally busy was the Hot Dog booth run by Mrs. Allan P. Lindblad and Mrs. Edwin W. Zimmerman and the Tonics sold by Mrs. James F. Dowell, Jr., and her committee.

Mrs. Dunbar Shanklin who was in charge of the Midway must have had some bad moments when the storm broke, but the crowd poured out the minute the rain let up. Mrs. Leslie A. Tucker and Mrs. Maxwell McCreery must have been glad of the letup at the Pop Corn booth, where business had been more than brisk.

At the end of the evening, exhausted workers limped off, sighing with weariness and yet happy at having been a part of a great community enterprise. Without these workers there could be no Street Fair, and without the generosity of Winchester much of the good work of En Ka in Winchester would have to be abandoned. There were many willing hands that helped the Fair beyond those who are listed on the committees. A full list is impossible since many were anonymous, but the thanks of a community go to all.

WYMAN SCHOOL MOTHERS' ASSOCIATION

At the annual meeting on May 22 the Wyman School Mothers' Association brought to a close its 24th year.

Before the meeting, from 1:30 to 2, dessert was served in the kindergarten room by Mrs. Ralph Swan and a committee which has ably assisted her throughout the year. The members of this committee have been Mrs. Joseph Dorsett, Mrs. Ralph Dittmars, Mrs. Kimball Archibald, Mrs. Arne Gudheim, Mrs. William Connell, Mrs. Charles Vanner, Mrs. Milton Handford, Mrs. Thomas Hoare, and Mrs. Charles Jellison.

At 2 o'clock Mrs. Arthur Hertig, president of the Association, called the meeting to order and there followed a short business meeting during which the secretary's and treasurer's reports were read, as was those on the fashion show and room mothers' activities.

Mrs. George Carey then spoke briefly on the Girl Scouts' need for leaders and people to help at their day camp which will be open Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week throughout the summer, beginning on the 24th of June. As no particular talent is needed, it is hoped that many mothers will volunteer to help in the important work of the Girl Scouts.

The following slate of officers for the coming year was presented by the Nominating Committee and unanimously approved:

Executive Board

Pres., Mrs. Frank d'Eleaux
Vice-Pres., Mrs. Philip Wadsworth
Treas., Mrs. Robert H. Smith
Rec. Sec., Mrs. Ronald Wyman
Cor. Sec., Mrs. William T. Cornell

Committee Chairmen

Extra Curricular Activities: Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth
Luncheons: Mrs. Gilbert Hood
Membership: Mrs. Cole D. Neff
Room Mothers: Mrs. Franklin McDermott
Social: Mrs. Leslie J. Scott
Ways and Means: Mrs. Everett F. Stone
Nominating: Mrs. James E. Dwinell

Members at Large: Mrs. Thomas Downes, Mrs. Walcott Thompson, Mrs. Charles A. Whitney.

The Nominating Committee for 1947-48 will be Mrs. Richard Clark, Mrs. Nelson Joyner, Mrs. Richard L. Emerson, and Mrs. Ellsworth Nichols.

This year's Nominating Committee was composed of Mrs. John Gibbons, Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. Waldo B. Hersey, and Mrs. Alan Ketchledt, with Mrs. Hazen Xver as chairman.

The concluding event on the afternoon's program was a concert given by the school band under the direction of Mr. Fidnet, who is to be congratulated upon the notable progress made by these girls and boys during the past year.

THE WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

An especially interesting meeting of the Winchester Home and Garden Club was held on May 21 at the charming home of Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, 12 Oxford street. Attractive flower arrangements brought in by club members were placed about the various rooms, giving a pleasing effect.

An unusually large gathering of members and friends were present to listen to the delightful program of "Poetry and Music", presented by Mrs. Robert Whitten and Miss Alice Main.

At the close of the meeting a delicious tea was served with Mrs. J. Stewart Chaffe, chairman.

MYSTIC GLEE CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Concluding the most successful year in the history of the Mystic Glee Club, 40 cheering members of the club watched Leo Twombly hand over the gavel to its newly elected president, Benjamin T. Marshall, Jr., at their annual meeting held on Thursday evening, May 22. Officers duly elected for the ensuing year were as follows:

President, Benjamin T. Marshall, Jr.

Vice Pres., Roland H. Parker
Rec. Sec., Howard C. Eteson
Cor. Sec., Robert W. Armstrong
Treasurer, Austin E. Nanry

Tokens of appreciation for services excellently rendered were presented to William Cruger, conductor of the club, and to Mary Louise Wood, its accompanist, as the last official act of the outgoing president. Their reappointment for the coming year was unquestionably the highlight of the evening's activities.

President Leo Twombly expressed his personal gratitude to all the outgoing officers and committee chairmen who had so unstintingly supported him throughout the entire year. In summing up the accomplishments of the year credit was given to the excellent job done by W. Noel Middleton and his committee in the behalf of the 300 sponsoring members. The Music Committee under the chairmanship of Robert W. Carlson were praised for their unusually fine selections of music for both of the season's major concerts. The Ways and Means Committee under the guidance of Roland H. Parker were applauded for their efforts in establishing the club's by-laws and for staging two of the finest concerts ever to be given by the club in the High School Auditorium. Other chairmen to receive due recognition for their splendid contributions to the promotion of the Glee Club's activities were Dr. Churchill Hindes of the Voice Committee, Carroll B. Knowlton as the head of the Finance Committee, Edmund H. Povey as Librarian and William H. Whorf for Publicity.

Not to be outdone by the fine work of the other committee chairmen was the report given by Ben Marshall, chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the club's participation in the contest sponsored by the New England Federation of Men's Glee Clubs at New Haven, Conn., on May 17. His summation of the high honors received by the Mystic Glee Club were enjoyed by all those who found it possible to make the trip, and likewise enthusiastically received by those glee club members whose business interests did not permit actual participation.

On completion of the business meeting, the evening's festivities were placed in the charge of Lindsay H. Caldwell, the club's capable Entertainment Committee chairman. The renditions by many quartets, all too numerous to mention, interspersed by musical treats from Thomas Worthen, Aram Mouradian and William Cruger were only equaled by the dialogues from the club's humorist, Harry O'Brien. The fellowship which prevailed the entire evening was a flowering tribute to those founders of the club, among whom were Carl Wood, Daniel Barnard, Frank Barnes and Edmund Merriam, who were able to vision the need for a singing organization such as the Mystic Glee Club in our community.

PUPPET SHOW TO BE GIVEN BY STORROW TROOP 1

On Tuesday, June 3 at 3:45 p. m. at the Baptist Church the girls of the Storrow Troop 1 will present their puppet show "Columbine's Birthday" for the first time to the general public. This fanciful comedy, the scenery and puppets made by the girls themselves, was produced with lofty hopes to earn enough money by its performances to help toward the expenses of their next year's proposed troop ski trips.

The girls do a splendid job of puppet manipulation, carrying the audience along the swiftly moving current of action, leaving it sorry for the confused apothecary and his "veree" special cordial for Columbine, sorry for the poor old woman who lost her pet pig "Primrose" with the lavender ribbon, in love with sweet Columbine and gentle Pierrot, mad at the conniving Polichinelle, disgusted with the dumb gendarme, grateful to the devil and highly amused with the saucy parrot and comical pig.

Mothers and fathers and older brothers and sisters will enjoy this little play as much as the children who are particularly fascinated with the action such as talking through upstairs windows and going in and out of houses through doors that open and shut.

The cast of characters is as follows:

Apothecary	Alice Hodge
Pierrot	Ann Fasquin
Old Woman	Betty Ann Parker
Polichinelle	Norma Nier
Cassandra	Mildred Tran
Columbine [illegible]	Marion Parker
Gendarme	Barbara Macaulay
Devil	Pat McDermott
Parrot	Shirley Hamilton
Pig	Doreen Stowe
[illegible]	Ruth Hahn
Primrose	Jean Bodman
Stage Crew: Martha Beck, Ann Ordway, Virginia Ballard

CAMP FELLSLAND STARTING ITS 23RD SEASON

Camp Fellsland, the Boy Scout camp located at Amesbury, for all local Scouts will open its 23rd season on Sunday, July 16, and close on Sunday, Aug. 17. The season is already pretty well booked, although applications for camp were only issued a very short time ago. The camp is open only to registered Scouts within the Council area, which includes Burlington, Medford, Stoneham, Winchester and Woburn. The headquarters for this area is at the Scout Office on South Border road, Winchester.

The Council Camp Committee is composed of the following Winchester men: Stafford Rogers, Win. 0145-W, Edwin C. Whittemore, Chairman, Win. 0741, Robinson S. Whitten, Win. 0657.

Many parents of Scouts wanting information about the camp can get in touch with any of the above men or call the Scout office at Win. 2030 directly. Boys can sign up for a one week or up to six weeks period, providing the room has not already been taken by earlier applicants.

WINCHESTER PARTICIPATES IN FLOWER MISSION

Next Tuesday, June 3, the first collection of flowers will be sent to Boston to cheer up the aged, the shut-ins and the patients in hospital wards. In spite of rains and a slow spring we know the bouquets will be donated.

Please pick your flowers Monday night or early Tuesday morning, wrap them in newspapers and bring them to the Winchester railroad station before the 9 o'clock train. There the volunteer committee from the Methodist Church will pack them in hampers and the Boston & Maine will transport and deliver them gratis. A telephone call to Mrs. Henry Roebrts, Win. 2176-M or Mrs. Alonzo Nicholas, Win. 1421 will be all that is necessary if you wish your donation picked up.

So let's start the season off well and enthusiastically and remember to share your flowers each Tuesday June through September except on the holiday, June 17.

TO GRADUATE FROM MT. HOLYOKE

Two Winchester girls are among the 250 candidates for the B. A. degree at Mt. Holyoke College's 110th commencement on June 10. The students are Miss Janet A. Johnson, daughter of Mrs. Philip H. Johnson of 8 Glengarry, and Miss Priscilla Pratt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester A. Pratt of 7 Everett avenue.

Miss Johnson, a major in economics and sociology, has done independent work in that field for a degree with honors. She received an alumnae club scholarship when she entered the college and won the Winchester Club scholarship last September.

Miss Pratt has done her intensive study in the field of chemistry. She took part in the skating events held at the college, and participated in the community chest drive. Both girls are graduates of Winchester High School.

ESSAY CONTEST WINNER

Miss Joan Robinson, daughter of Comdr. and Mrs. E. R. Robinson of Stetson Hall, has been announced as first prize winner of the recent essay contest sponsored by the Colonial Dames.

Miss Robinson took "Patriotism" as the subject for her essay. She is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1946, and a freshman at the University of New Hampshire. Her recent prize is the second she has won this year in essay competition.

Stopping his car and putting it into reverse, he backed just fast enough to let the runaway hit his bumper, and then braked to a stop. It was not reported who owned the loose car, but it was locked and its brakes were not on. Before leaving it, Mr. Dotten pushed it back to what was presumed to be its original position. MOVING OF MANCHESTER FIELD BOULDER SUGGESTED

During a meeting of school authorities and the town engineer in connection with the construction of the new Manchester Field, to be used as an athletic field by high school and junior high school pupils, the suggestion was made by High School Principal Wade L. Grindle that the memorial boulder which marked the old field be moved from its present location opposite the post office across the river and placed by the main entrance gate to the new field.

This boulder bearing a bronze tablet, suitably inscribed, was erected some years ago as a memorial to the late Forrest C. Manchester, who played a leading part in the campaign which cleared up the old tanneries and railroad yard, replacing them with the park and athletic field named in his honor.

The boulder when erected was at the entrance to the old field. Now with the reconstruction of the field and the moving of the river it is not located on Manchester Field proper, but across the river from it. Many will agree with Mr. Grindle that the memorial would be better placed at the main entrance to the new athletic field.

In the event the boulder is moved to such a position it would be possible to utilize the space it now occupies as a parking space, there being a great demand for more parking space near the station and shopping area. Another suggestion that seems to have some support is the permanent surfacing of the area between the Ginn Field drive and the railroad property for parking use.

MEMORIAL DAY OBSERVED

Many in Parades to Cemeteries

High School Band in Line

Cool clear weather aided the marchers last Friday as Winchester turned out to honor its service dead of all wars buried in local cemeteries.

Veteran' organizations had their own pre-Memorial Day activities, like the Legion banquet and the Memorial service held out-of-doors at Leonard Field. Uniformed veterans also spoke at the public and parochial schools of the town on the significance of Memorial Day. Graves of servicemen in Winchester and nearby cemeteries were decorated in advance of the ceremonies on Friday.

Following the recent precedent the town's program took place during the morning. The parade to Calvary formed in front of the School Administration Building at 9 o'clock, proceeding along Washington street and stopping for brief exercises at the Leonard Field boulder, commemorating the sacrifice of Augustus M. Leonard, who lost his life in World War I.

In Calvary the usual service was held at the War Memorial, prayer being offered by Rev. Fr. Thomas F. Sennott of St. Mary's Church, who also spoke briefly upon the sacrifice of those who gave their lives for their country.

Echo taps were blown after his address and three volleys fired by the Veterans of Foreign Wars firing squad, commanded by Michael Sturace. Returning to the town hall brief exercises were held in front of the World War II honor roll, both it and the World War I roll being decorated with wreaths.

The parade to Wildwood formed at 11 o'clock and followed the usual route, stopping at the corner of Mayfield and the Parkway to decorate the World War I Memorial Statue on the high school lot with wreaths from both the Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Commander Edward Woodbury of Winchester Post, A. L., and Commander John Horr of Aberdeen Post, V. F. W., with their adjutants placed the wreaths at the base of the statue, after which the military came stiffly to attention while echo taps were blown.

Proceeding through the center and along Church street to Wildwood and Willow street, entering Wildwood to the mournful strains of a dirge, played by D'Avino's Band. The long line of marchers wound slowly through the cemetery gates and up the hills to the Soldiers' Monument where the formal exercises were held.

Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was the speaker in Wildwood and also made the invocation there. Echo taps were blown and three volleys were fired by the firing squad.

WORK STARTED AT MANCHESTER

Town Engineer Parker Holbrook started work on the reconstruction of Manchester Field Wednesday of this week for the first time since the preliminary work was done last fall before the construction of the new stretch of parkway by the M. D. C.

A bull-dozer was put to work digging a ditch to connect a surface drain near the Unitarian Church with the main drainage system, the Parkway job having left this drain without an outlet.

Yesterday the steam-roller commenced to dig up the old parkway, preparatory to regrading. The school authorities want the good sod on old Manchester Field taken up and placed on the football area used last fall, but there seems some question as to whether sufficient funds are in the budget to include this work. According to the Town Engineer changes of plans for the field will make some figuring necessary to construct the new field as the school authorities now want it.

The Cemetery Department is doing a lot of grading which improves the appearance of the outlying parts of the cemetery. Two hundred and fifty new single lots will soon be available.

The Board of Health is soon to change from the present dump in the rear of Boggs & Cobb to the new dump near the old Puffer factory and is going to grade the shores of the old dump on the Aberjona River as recommended by the State Department of Health. This will be a great improvement on the looks of the shores of the river. All Public Works Departments are cooperating with each other and much progress is being made toward making Winchester the best town to live in in the state. The new Public Works Council is working well.

BLASI—FILLIPONE

The marriage of Miss Grace Muriel Fillipone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Fillipone of Irving street, to Thomas Francis Blasi, son of Mrs. Elvira Blasi of Roxbury, took place on Sunday afternoon, June 1, at St. Mary's Church with the pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, officiating. Altar decorations for the 2 o'clock ceremony were white snapdragons, lilies and white stock, and the pews at the front of the church were marked with white satin ribbon, ferns and white carnations.

Miss Mary A. Callahan, church organist, played the bridal music and Arnold Callahan, lyric tenor, sang "Mother At Thy Feet Is Kneeling", and the "Ave Maria" by Gounod.

Miss Fillipone was given in marriage by her brother, Giddeo Fillipone of Winchester. She wore a gown of starched white chiffon having a sweetheart neckline and a cathedral-length train. The bodice and sleeves of the gown were embroidered with velvet chenile and tiny pearl beads, and she wore a fingertip-length veil of tulle, caught with orange blossoms to a matching tulle tiara. Her flowers were stephanotis and white orchids arranged in a cascade bouquet.

Mrs. Ann Cucuruillo of Winchester was her sister's matron of honor and only attendant. She wore a light aqua dress having a faille bodice with a sweetheart neckline and a tulle skirt with a bustle. Her tricorn-shaped headpiece was of rose orchid tulle trimmed with variegated pansies and she carried an old fashioned bouquet of spring flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Blasi motored through the Berkshire Mountains to Canada on their wedding journey. Upon their return they will make their home in Roxbury.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1942. During the war she served as a physiotherapist in the USNR (W) Hospital Corps, being stationed in New York. She studied at both the USNTS in the Bronx, N. Y. and at Great Lakes.

Mr. Blasi served for five years in the Army Air Forces, seeing active service in the European Theatre. He is at present associated as clerk-counselor with the Department of Veterans' Services in the City of Boston.

BRENNAN—MANZIE

Vases of white snapdragons decorated the altar of St. Mary's Church Sunday afternoon, June 1, for the marriage of Miss Marjorie Elizabeth Manzie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Manzie of Bridge street, to Daniel Aloysius Brennan, son of Mr. Daniel Brennan of Church street, Newton. Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, pastor of St. Mary's, officiated at the 1 o'clock ceremony, for which the bridal music was played by the church organist, Miss Mary A. Callahan. Arnold Callahan, lyric tenor, sang "Just For Today" and "Mother At Thy Feet Is Kneeling". Rev. Fr. John P. Kelley of Boston was seated in the sanctuary during the service.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Manzie was attended by her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Jan Rogers of Winchester. Charles Brennan of Wakefield was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Leonard Cotton of Boston and Francis R. Manzie of Winchester, brother of the bride.

The bride wore a gown of white marquisette having long full sleeves with bands of Hamburg lace at the neckline, sleeves and waist, and a hoop-skirt extending into a train. Her long veil of French illusion was held in place with a coronet of marquisette flowers with pearl centers and her bouquet was of white bride's roses centered with an orchid.

Miss Rogers wore a dress styled similarly to the bride's, fashioned of aqua marquisette with fagoting at the neckline and wrists. Her headdress was a halo of aqua flowers worn with a short veil and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents which was decorated with white garden flowers and strings of Japanese lanterns about the grounds. The parents of the bride and the bridegroom's father assisted in receiving.

Following a wedding journey to Virginia Beach Mr. and Mrs. Brennan will live at 10 Bridge street in Winchester where they will be at home after July 1.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1939. Mr. Brennan, a graduate of Charlestown High School, is associated with the Colonial Beacon Oil Company in Boston.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS

By Lt. Col. John McCrae

In Flanders Fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly,
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders Fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders Fields.

EMANCIPATED FROM MISAPPREHENSION

In the secret places of ambition
Seek the inclination behind resolution
And the hidden motive behind endeavor,
For in the sanctuary of the heart
Is fruitage of man's faith in God.

DR. WILLIAM H. SANDERS

Veteran Missionary Uncle of Mrs. Allen

Dr. William H. Sanders, veteran missionary of the American Board of Foreign Missions who died May 30 in Wilmington, Del., at the age of 91, was the uncle of Mrs. James S. Allen of 333 Highland avenue.

Born in Tellipalli, Ceylon, of missionary parents, Dr. Sanders was a graduate of Williams College. He commenced work in West Central Africa in 1880 and was for 50 years a Congregational missionary, doing much translation work, not only of hymns but of the Bible in Umbundu for the Ovimbundu Christians of Angola, Portuguese West Africa. Among the hymns he translated was "The Lord Is My Shepherd" which was one of several recorded in Umbundu by the Erskine-American Church choir in Montreal, Canada, June 2, as a tribute to Dr. Sanders. The recordings will be played on portable phonographs carried by missionaries in Africa.

Dr. Sanders retired in 1931. Besides his niece in Winchester, he leaves a wife and two sons.

SHARE YOUR FLOWERS

Last Tuesday marked the beginning of Winchester's participation in the Flower Mission and many remembered to share their flower wealth this time with their less fortunate neighbors in Boston. Mrs. Henry Roberts and Mrs. Alonzo Nicholas from the Methodist Church were enthusiastic chairmen for their committee. Two hampers were filled with beautiful iris, pansies, sprays of flowering bushes, English daisies, lilacs and many others.

Cummings the Florist helped by giving a huge bouquet of snapdragons and Miss Hattie Snow was so generous, donating several welcome bouquets.

Tuesday, the 10th of June is the next date to remember. Just wrap your flowers in damp newspaper and deliver them to the Winchester Station in time for the 9 o'clock train. A telephone call to Mrs. Harris G. LeRoy will help if you cannot deliver the flowers yourself. Mrs. LeRoy and Miss Eva Sherman make up the committee from the Methodist Church for next week. There will be no distribution of flowers on the holiday June 17.

ST. MARY'S BRIDGE AND WHIST

St. Mary's Holy Name Society and Sodality are jointly sponsoring a bridge and whist to be held on the evening of Wednesday, June 11, at 8 o'clock in Lyceum Hall. A fine table radio, the gift of Mr. John Volpe, is only one of the many unusually fine prizes available and delicious home-made refreshments will be served.

Advance ticket sales indicate a capacity gathering and those who have not procured their pasteboards would do well to get them at once. All returns should be in the committee's hands by Sunday, June 8.

RESIDENTS INVITED TO VIEW FLOWERS

Winchester residents and their friends are invited to view the beautiful rhododendrons and the Ghent azalea at Arborledge, the home of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Wills, 238 Highland avenue, this week. These flowers are now at their height. During the past week some of the azalias were photographed by the Mass. Horticultural Society. One in particular, Mrs. H. den Ovden, imported years ago from Holland is now eight feet tall and is a mass of beautiful glowing red and orange flowers.

BURLEIGH STOPS SINBADITIS

Just when it looked as though Sinbaditis was about to turn from a plague to a full scale epidemic, "Doc" Ted Burleigh, Jr., came up with the correct prescription to cure the malady. Last Sunday morning, after Sinbad had run its consecutive win streak to six, thanks to outstanding sailing by both Papa and Stretch Simonds, Ted, who had pressed Papa on the holiday, simply went out and sailed Sinbad into the ground.

Ted took Tee Bees to the front with a brilliant start and was never headed. Lest you think it was easy from there on, let me hasten to add, that the skipper who crossed all the finish line considered themselves lucky. The wind was terrific (ask Mr. Diener who capsized in the harbor and Daw Blamire whose mast broke like a match stick) but Burleigh just boiled along with Sinbad in his wake. Stretch Simonds sailed a slick race and was always within striking distance of Ted, but Ted was not to be denied. He sailed a perfect race from start to finish and so, once again, Sinbaditis has been banished from the fleet.

On Saturday, John Powers had a perfect opportunity to beat Sinbad but lost his lead in the final leg and had to be content with the place position. Stretch Simonds sailed sensationally. He started last with almost every boat in the race a good hundred yards ahead, but rather than say uncle, he put on the pressure and sailed through the entire fleet—a fine example of his courage and ability.

As previously stated, Don Simonds, Sr., got plenty of scares from Ted Burleigh in the holiday race, but had the stuff to bring Sinbad in first.

Bean Supper, Saturday, June 14

A good old fashioned Saturday night supper—New England's favorite beans and franks and all the fixin's, will co-feature the next social at the club. Weather permitting, the feast will be held on the lawn and then following the feed, Lew Sargeant, one of New England's foremost radio personalities, will take over. Lew has few peers as an entertainer and has a hatful of surprises ready for the party.

In addition to being a news analyst, comedian and pianist, Lew is constantly on the lookout for new radio talent and plans to give a few tryouts at the party. Who knows, maybe someone at the club is destined for future radio greatness. Why not come to the party and see if you can't "mike" good. Make your reservations with Steward Kent at once—remember there's a ceiling on the number of people allowed in the hall. Ed Kent faithfully promises that the roast beef scheduled for last Sunday's dinner at the club, will positively make its appearance this week.

TO GRADUATE FROM SMITH

Among the 450 candidates for the degrees of Bachelor of Arts at the 69th commencement, which will be held at Smith College on June 16, are Miss Barbara Bugbee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bugbee of 7 Dartmouth street; Miss Ellen Jackson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Jackson of 212 Main street; Miss Alice S. Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Parker of 7 Ledgewood road; Miss Dorothea Richardson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harris S. Richardson of 15 Mt. Pleasant street; and Miss Joyce Pitman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest L. Pitman of 36 Mt. Pleasant street.

Prepared for college at the Winchester High School and Dana Hall, Miss Bugbee majored in English at Smith College. During the war she was a house representative for the Student Committee for Defense and Reconstruction which sponsored the campus war program. At the same time she was a collector for the college Service Fund, which is raised annually by the students and donated to student relief both at home and abroad. Later she was a member of the committee which produced the traditional ice show, Sophomore carnival. She is a member of the Student Government Association and the Athletic Association.

Entering Smith from the Winchester High School, Miss Jackson chose Spanish as her major. She was one of 17 juniors who availed themselves of the opportunity to spend last year in study in Mexico as a substitute for the former junior year in Spain. She maintained an academic record of high order, particularly during the latter part of her course, for she was on the Dean's list. A parallel interest lay in art in which she demonstrated her ability practically for she was a member of the Studio Club, a departmental organization. Outside her studies she played soccer and lacrosse with her class teams, was a collector for the Service Fund and served on a committee for her class's production of the Sophomore carnival.

Another student to do preparatory work at the Winchester High School was Miss Parker. Choosing music as her major she conducted her studies with distinction for she was on the Dean's list for three years. Outside the classroom she pursued this interest in many extra-curricular activities. A member of Clef Club, the departmental organization for music students, for three years, she was its president this year. At the final college assembly, Miss Parker received the Emogene Mahony Memorial prize of $35 for proficiency in organ. She was a member of her class choir for three years. Glee Club for the past two years and this year's president of the Octavians for three years, an octet from the Glee Club who sing both popular and serious music, and became its music chairman this year, and of the Smith College orchestra for three years. For her work in music she was elected to membership in Alpha Phi Kappa Psi, an honorary society of the arts, and was its representative to Arts Guild council. A member of the student Activities Board, she was also treasurer in her house last year and acted as its president for several months until the regularly elected president returned late last fall from study abroad.

The Winchester High School and the Brimmer-May School of Boston prepared Miss Richardson for college. Choosing education as the field of her major she hopes to teach elementary school after graduation. Most of her time outside her studies was devoted to the business board of SCAN, the Smith College student newspaper, and she served as class representative in her college house.

BOY SCOUTS

Tomorrow, June 7, will find many of Winchester's Cub and Boy Scouts at Recreation Field in Stoneham to demonstrate the many opportunities that Scouting offers to the lads by way of outdoor activities and the lure of the woods.

There on the field they will combine with upwards of 1000 boys in the 15th Annual Scout-o-rama to publicly demonstrate their accomplishments in one of the finest outdoor shows ever to be staged locally.

Beginning at 2:30 p. m. with a Grand March around the field with music by the Scout Band of Winchester, the lads, ranging in age from 9 to 19, will perform for three hours.

There will be contests in bugling, fire by friction, fire by flint and steel, tugs-of-war, knot-tying, Semaphore and Morse Code signalling, string-burning, etc. There will be demonstrations of First Aid, Sea Scouting, Explorer Scouting, camping, and hiking. There will be competitions and races for young Cubs.

One of the highlights will be the ceremony by the Order of the Arrow, an honorary camping society. Mr. Raymond Willis of Medford was the founder of the local chapter. The King Phillip Lodge of this order, which is the chapter of the Boston Council, will put on this demonstration in conjunction with Fellsland's Chapter, the Missituk Lodge. Together they will perform their beautiful Indian ceremony in native Indian costume and paint.

Another highlight of the afternoon will be the Cub Circus. This circus will be featured by Pack 7 of Winchester. Here you will see clowns, "animals" and other performers in a rendition of a three ring circus with circus band and all the trimmings.

There will be 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place awards for all competitive events, and awards for all demonstrations.

There will be food centers at the field where the public can purchase sandwiches and hot dogs, ice cream, candy and tonic.

Along the edges of the field will be booths to display scout handicraft and camping scenes.

At the conclusion of the afternoon program there will be an interval of one hour, after which the scene will shift to the auditorium of the Town Hall in Stoneham Square. At the Town Hall will be a program of movies from 6:30 to 7:45, after which an evening program will get under way and continue until 9 p. m.

The evening program will consist of presentation of awards for afternoon competitions, skits by various units of the council, a Minstrel Show by Pack 8 of Stoneham, and the presentation of Eagle awards.

Your support next Saturday (tomorrow) will be greatly appreciated.

Come on, everybody — mothers, dads, friends of Scouting—to the Scout-o-rama in Stoneham and see your local boys in action.

YOUTH CHORAL CONCERT

One of the most delightful concerts that Winchester has been favored with for some time was that presented at the First Baptist Church on Tuesday evening, June 2, by the Youth Choir of the church, directed by Mr. Paul R. Knowles. The varied selections, so well rendered, demonstrated the thorough training of this new youth organization.

Included in the program were groups of solos by Mr. Knowles, tenor, and Adriana Knowles, mezzo-soprano. These were particularly well received, both from the enjoyment provided and from their skillful interpretations by the soloists. Mr. Clifford P. MacDonald at the piano and Mr. Donald Leslie Marshall at the organ accompanied the singers, and furnished a number of piano-organ duets.

Following are the selections presented in the program:

On, World — O'Hara-Bratton
Youth Choir — Marilyn Ward, soloist
A May Morning — Denza
Through the Fields in Summer — Stewart
Sing a Song of Sixpence — Malotte
Paul Knowles
Rhapsody — Demarest
Meditation on Bach's First Prelude — Gounod
Mr MacDonald, piano, Mr Marshall, organ
Mon coeur s'ouvre a ta voix — Saint-Saens
Habanera — Bizet
Adriana Knowles

The Youth Choir
Lord Handel — arr. by Scott
Witness — arr. by Hall Johnson
When I Have Sung My Songs — Charles
Paul Knowles

The Cry of Rachel — Salter

HEADS DALTON HIGH SCHOOL

Gordon Smith Former Winchester Teacher-Coach

S. Gordon Smith, former Winchester High School teacher-coach, recently a headmaster-principal in Raymond, N. H., has been unanimously elected from a field of 25 candidates to the high school principalship of Dalton, wealthy Pittsfield suburb, according to a recent announcement in the Pittsfield Eagle. In his new position Mr. Smith will supervise 15 teachers, will have a full-time secretary, and will have no teaching or coaching duties.

Before going to Raymond, N. H., 2 years ago as headmaster-principal of a 12-grade building of 320 pupils, Mr. Smith had served as a teacher-coach at the Tilton School, Tilton, N. H., the Tilton-Northfield High School, Whitman High School and Winchester High School. In two of his four years at Winchester he served as assistant principal of the high school and was coach of track.

Mr. Smith is a graduate of Classical High School in Springfield, received his bachelor's degree at Wesleyan University in 1933, and was awarded his Master of Education degree from Boston University in 1943.

Before entering the field of education in 1937, Mr. Smith served as head bookkeeper of the Springfield Gas Light Company, and later was connected with the agency department of the Monarch Life Insurance Company in its Springfield home office.

During the past 10 years Mr. Smith has taught social studies and mathematics, and has coached varsity basketball, baseball, track, cross country and tennis teams.

In announcing the appointment, the superintendent of schools in Dalton, Mr. Hill, said that "Mr. Smith's varied experience will admirably fit him for the principalship of the 260-pupil high school."

Mrs. Smith is a graduate of the music course of Beaver College in Philadelphia and during the past year has served as music supervisor in the Raymond Consolidated school. The Smiths have occupied a unique position in Raymond, Mrs. Smith serving as Methodist organist while Mr. Smith was the Congregational organist. The Smiths have two children, Sandra, 8 and Bruce 4.

Mr. Smith is the son of Principal Stanley O. Smith of the High School of Commerce in Springfield, and now father and son will form an unusual combination in Massachusetts principalships.

The new principal will officially start his new duties on September 3. He replaces Charles L. Bowlby, who transferred to the Dalton principalship from a similar post in Henniker, N. H., two years ago.

M. S. P. C. A.

The Winchester Auxiliary, M. S. P. C. A., held a board meeting Wednesday morning at the home of the president, Mrs. George E. Connor, 403 Main street. The board voted to send a contribution toward the fund for providing work horses in Boston with water during the summer, and there was discussion on the proposed memorial for the late president and founder of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Richard Taylor. The memorial will be given to the Auxiliary by Mr. Taylor.

Plans were made for the coming year, and for the Fair to be held in October, with Mrs. Morris K. Hand, chairman. The first meeting will be held in November, third Thursday, and will be a "home talent" day.

After the business meeting, coffee was served, with Mrs. Hollis Nickerson pouring, assisted by Miss Gladys Foltz, both directors.

GOD'S KINDLY MAN

(For The Winchester Star)

How blessed the thought of a kindly man.
Who loved and lived his noble life
Till death's summons shortened his span

WHISKEY MISSING

The new owner of the old Cox estate on High street extension, Mr. Fred Schiffmaker, informed the Police Saturday afternoon that sometime between Friday and Saturday the house had been entered and some whiskey taken.

Sgt. Thomas F. Cassidy went to investigate and found that some one had entered the house, either by unlocking a door or by finding it open, and had taken a bottle of Canadian Club whiskey, two bottles of soda water and two glasses from the dwelling.

Sgt. Cassidy found the bottles of soda water and the glasses in a brook near the spring to the west of the house. The Canadian Club, was not, however, in the brook, nor was it recovered. Apparently the thieves decided to take it straight.

Mr. and Mrs. Alexander S. MacDonald and Mrs. Andrew T. Hannewell are at Rockport for the summer months.

JOHN PATTERSON

WINS GOVERNOR DUMMER AWARD

John J. Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emery J. E. Patterson of 44 Cabot street, was one of those awarded special prizes at the 184th annual commencement exercises of Governor Dummer Academy at South Byfield last Saturday. Patterson, Winchester High School graduate and former basketball and baseball player here was one of two Winchester boys receiving diplomas from the academy.

The other was J. Bradford Harlow, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Harlow of Cabot street. Harlow was a letter winner in football and also played hockey and lacrosse. He was also a member of the glee club. Patterson was manager of varsity football and a letter player in both basketball and baseball. He also was a member of the glee club.

Other Winchester boys returning home from Governor Dummer Academy for the summer are: Charles P. Benson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip E. Benson, 13 Winthrop street who played junior varsity football and league baseball; Frederick R. Edington, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart S. Edington, 15 Pine street who won his letter in junior varsity football and played hockey and lacrosse; Marshall W. Jones, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Walker Jones, 27 Ridgefield road who played pony football, league baseball and was a member of the ski squad; and Frank P. White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Erskine N. White, 9 Rangely road, who won his letter in junior varsity football, played hockey, was on the track squad, in the glee club and on the Christmas dinner committee.

WINCHESTER TRACK TEAM BEAT CONCORD

Winchester High School's track team won its third duel meet in a row Wednesday evening, beating Concord High in a twilight meet at Concord, 47-30.

The meet was held in the evening to permit the Concord fans to see their National schoolboy indoor champion, Valentine Muscato, in action. Muscato didn't run his usual distance, the quarter, favoring a bad leg, but he won the 220 by three yards from Winchester's Don Berridge in 23.5s. and copped the half by ten yards in the slow time of 2m. 16.2s.

"Muscie" would have had to done a lot better than that had Dave Sargent run the half, but Dave ran the mile at Concord, placing second in a 5m. 3.5s. race.

Berridge, handicapped by a pulled muscle, won the 100 in 10.8s and Ben Coe took firsts for Winchester in both the quarter (56.7s.) and the high jump, (5ft. 5in.). Winchester swept the shot, with big John West, back from West Point where he watched his brother Bill graduate, getting the ball out 45ft. 3in. for first and Bill Whittemore breaking 41ft. for second. "Nanjo" (Leggins) Nichols was third. "Pete" Sorokin took a pair of seconds.

Winchester final first came in the relay when Pete Dillingham, Rog Creelman, Whittemore and Coe, showed their heels to Concord in 1m. 42.3s.

Following is the summary:

100 yard dash 1. Berridge (W); 2. Sottile (C); 3. Dillingham (W) 10.8s
440 yard run 1. Coe (W); 2. Sorokin (W); 3. Wheeler (C). 56.7s
Mile run 1. Adams (C); 2. Sargent (W); 3. Finan (C) 5m 3.5s

CAMPING TRIP INTERRUPTED

Shortly after 8:30 on Memorial Day morning Police Headquarters was notified that several boys had chosen a place on private property at Lakeview terrace to stage a cook-out. Officer William Cassidy, the departments' juvenile trouble-shooter, was sent to investigate.

He found two 13 and two 14 year old Somerville boys at breakfast. They told the Policeman they had left their homes at 5 o'clock that morning and had come to Mystic Lake fishing. They had built a lean-to near the iron bridge over the river on the Parkway.

Officer Cassidy gave the boys some good advice about staging camping trips and fish-fries on private property, escorting them out of the neighborhood while doing so.

"BATTLE OF THE SKIES"

"A Battle of the Skies", super fireworks display, will feature the four-day annual observance of St. Anthony's Feast by St. Anthony's Church of North Woburn June 11 through June 14.

An open-air bazaar will be held at the North Woburn playgrounds adjacent to the church property continuing through the four days of the celebration and closing with the award of a Ford deluxe car on June 14. Two mammoth fireworks displays will take place on the nights of June 13 and 14.

Archbishop Richard J. Cushing will celebrate solemn high mass at St. Anthony's Church on the Feast Day of St. Anthony of Padua, June 13, at 9 o'clock.

William Cusack, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Cusack of 2 Lakeview road, was awarded the first prize, during the 51st Commencement exercises of the Choate School, Wallingford, Conn., on Saturday, for the greatest improvement in rowing on the Bishops Crew. Cusack is a member of the sixth form at Choate.

WINCHESTER LEGION BEAT MEDFORD

Winchester Post beat Medford 4-1 Monday evening in the opening game of the local American Legion league baseball series at Loring avenue playground. The game was a pitching duel between big Sam Tompkins of Winchester and Edgerly of Medford with the former, the tighter in the pinches. The game was well played by both teams. The summary:

SEELYE GOLD STAR GOLF WINNER

Winchester Country Club's oldest active golfer, 82-year-old Nelson Seelye, won the gold star class competition for golfers 80 years or older, in Tuesday's rain on the opening day of the annual New England Seniors Golf championship at Woodland.

Mr. Seelye and Judge George B. Sears of Salem, also 82, battled it out for gold star honors with the Winchester entrant edging the jurist, 47 to 48 for nine holes. His card was 47-25 and Judge Sears', 18-30.

Incidentally Mr. Seelye's gross was lower than any carded among the Class AA golfers, mere kids of from 75 to 79 years.

WEEK-END FIRES

The Fire Department answered three alarms Saturday, two during the forenoon for defective oil burners at the homes of Mr. Morris L. Snyder on Hillcrest Parkway and Mr. Arthur S. Griffin on Euclid avenue. In the afternoon there was a grass fire on the Parkway below Sandy Beach.

Sunday afternoon Box 7 came in at 1:57 p. m. for burning leaves and rubbish in the old canal bed at the rear of Fletcher street. Burning soot in a chimney called the department to the home of Mr. Walter E. Felton at 14 Wildwood street the same afternoon.

SOFTBALL

The Town Softball League opened its 1947 season this week with two games on Monday evening and two on Wednesday evening. Tuesday's games were rained out and will be played Friday evening. The scores:

Monday, June 2— Sachems 14, Red Shirts 2; Sons of Italy 11, Christopher Columbus 4.

Wednesday, June 4—Sachems 10, Christopher Columbus 3; Sons of Italy 25, Red Shirts 7.

The Sons of Italy and the Sachems look like the class of the league with the other six teams evenly matched and fighting for the remaining two play-off positions. The Sons of Italy feature a veteran outfit with a lot of power at the plate. The Sachems present the fastest pitcher in the league in Andre Redding and an air-tight defense. The attendance has been excellent in the games played to date and with the advent of warmer weather it undoubtedly will increase. The League promises to be a great success, offering excellent entertainment to many spectators and recreation to over 100 participants.

The schedule for next week:

June
9 Red Shirts vs Lobingiers (Ginn)
K. of C. vs Sachems (West Side)
10 Columbus Club vs VFW (Ginn)
SOI vs Barracudas (West Side)
11 Sachems vs Lobingiers (Ginn)
K. of C. vs Red Shirts (West Side)
12 Barracudas vs Columbus Club (Ginn)

Serving the Community For 66 Years

When driving from Arlington last Monday afternoon we overtook a bright yellow "school bus". Wondering as to its purpose and origin, we dutifully stopped when it discharged passengers at Morningside and followed it as far as the Winchester Boat Club. During the trip the bus proceeded amid a shower of torn paper and larger sheets thrown from the windows in the path of every approaching car. At the Boat Club we passed the bus, receiving a storm of torn paper through our open windows as we crept by. The bus was labeled Belmont Hill School. Perhaps it might be well for the safety of motorists and for the cleanliness of the road if the Belmont Hill School secured the services of a police officer to accompany this bus on its future trips.

Last Saturday afternoon Chief William H. Rogers closed his desk at Headquarters for the last time and retired to private life after 35 years service to the Town of Winchester as a member of its Police Department. Patrolman Cassidy drove the Chief to his home on Grayson road just as he often had before, and except for the thoughts of the two men as they took their final ride together as police officers the trip was probably much the same as its predecessors. At Headquarters before the Chief's departure there was no formal leave-taking, no demonstration of any kind, and except for an informal dinner given him last week by the Board of Selectmen there was no public recognition of Chief Rogers long and faithful service to the community. Perhaps the Chief liked it better that way. With him, police work was its own reward. For 35 years it had been his hobby, vocation and avocation. He needed no party nor after-dinner speeches to remind him of his ... police officer or to make ... any better of the service rendered. Chief Rogers ... spared himself. He always ... that he gave his best to the service. He was human. He made mistakes. He didn't always please every one. He didn't want to. Some times he didn't please anyone, and that didn't bother him either, if he believed he was right. His worst enemy would have to admit, if he were honest, that Chief Rogers was a courageous policeman and a hard and faithful worker. That is enough to win him the thanks of the community he served for so many years. The Star hopes his well-earned vacation will be a pleasant one.

SCARSDALE CRITICAL OF PROGRESSIVE EDUCATION

Editor of the Star:

The Scarsdale report seems to me to be so pertinent to Winchester's problems that I am sending it to you in the hope that the Star may be able to print it, or a part of it, as summarized in the New York Times. As you see, they are concerned about fundamentals—people, and what they do; not about flashy buildings.

Yours sincerely,
Joshua Whatmough
17 Central street

The "Times" summary follows:

Ending a two-year survey of the costly public school system here, (Scarsdale, N. Y.) a committee of residents listed May 21 a series of recommendations designed to raise the scholastic achievements of pupils closer to basic aptitudes.

The thirty eight-page report was drafted by the education and school budget committee of the Town Club, an organization of 900 men who represent a cross-section of the community and participate in public affairs somewhat like members of the old New England town meetings.

Shortcomings Listed

After citing achievements of the Scarsdale schools, the committee listed the shortcomings, declaring that pupils were found especially to be deficient in spelling.

"In view of the fact," the report continued, "that our Scarsdale children average higher in intelligence and scholastic aptitude than public school pupils on the whole and that they are similar to pupils in independent schools, we are most hopeful that the high achievement records of our pupils in the subject of arithmetic will be equaled in all of the other subjects, and particularly in reading, English, literature and geography."

William H. Conant, New York business consultant and chairman of the committee, said tonight that the report was a plea for return to traditional education in fundamental subjects.

"In the Scarsdale elementary schools we have had too much progressive education," he declared. "We have found there is no easy shortcut to knowledge. Our pupils have been high in arithmetic only because progressive education could find no way to fiddle with the multiplication table."

Mr. Conant said tests showed the Scarsdale children had an I. Q. rating of 118, compared with 105 in the state and 100 in the nation. Yet, he said, they often emerged from school "totally nude" of knowledge of geography and deficient in reading and spelling.

The report held that teachers were devoting too much time to extracurricular activities of the pupils and not enough to basic courses of study.

Explaining that it did not object to the use by teachers of a distinctive vocabulary embracing such terms as group, level, norm, minimal, humanities, frustration "and even social studies," the committee asked, however, that pupils be addressed in simple and current English.

"We urge," the committee said, "that the term social studies be dropped completely from teacher intercourse with pupils and parents and from reports.

Geography Study Urged

"We recommend the teaching of geography as a distinct course of study in the elementary schools, with emphasis on map or space geography as distinguished from economic geography.

"We recommend the teaching of a continuity of undiluted history. By undiluted we mean what a most eminent educator expressed thus: 'More teaching from history and less from contemporary scenes.'

"We recommend that our school authorities give thought to the suject of comprehensive tests in history and geography in addition to the metropolitan achievement tests."

Teachers' salaries last year were found to have averaged $3,700, with the average for the coming year at $4,450, or up 59 per cent since 1930. This placed the salaries in the top bracket among comparable Westchester County communities.

The committee, comprising 12 business and professional men, had this to say of its right to comment:

"We accept no inferior status for parents in counseling with school authorities on the education of our children. Back in the days of scattered settlements and of parents themselves without schooling, an imported trained teacher was logically rated on a level above the community and his or her dictates on book learning were not questioned. But as communities and generations advanced in average education they attained a parity with teachers, especially in what is required from schools to fit children for life's work outside the cloistered world of education."

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

The Story of Robert Burnham

Last Friday's Winchester Hospital column in the Star gave me an idea. It seemed to me that there must be several other families in Winchester who would be led to do what Ralph Bonnell has done, which is to put on record his appreciation of the service of the Hospital. During the winter my son, Robert, had an experience which is, fortunately, rather out of the ordinary and should be told as a tribute not only to the Hospital but to other facilities which make Winchester an unusual community. In Robert's case the facilities included the prompt and intelligent friendliness of neighbors and friends and also the protection offered us by a very fine and well-equipped police department.

On Dec. 31 about 11:30 Robert was badly injured as the result of a collision with a milk truck while coasting on Wildwood street extension in front of the Herrick residence. The driver of the truck went to Mrs. Herrick and asked her to call a doctor, but she wisely did not spend priceless moments in trying to find a doctor at that busy time in the morning, and, instead, reported the accident to the police. Precious time was saved by use of the police radio which sent the nearest cruising car to the scene of the accident. The officer saw at a glance that an ambulance was needed and summoned it by the two-way car radio.

Meanwhile Mrs. Herrick snatched the blankets from a bed and wrapped Robert in them where he lay, and put him into the position which her First Aid training told her was the best. The ambulance took Robert directly to the Hospital, where doctors and nurses gave first aid immediately and wheeled him into the accident room.

A younger friend of Robert's had raced to my door and told me of the accident and the summoning of the police. I could not reach my husband, and one of the most thoughtful acts of the police was to station Officer Cassidy at our home without any request from me to await Mr. Burnham's return and to tell him what had happened.

Of the treatment given to Robert at the Hospital I can speak only in non-professional terms of what I observed and was told later. No minutes were lost in the immediate treatment; plasma, stimulant, oxygen and warmth, and the beginning of necessary laboratory tests. It was two hours before he was moved to a room on the third floor. Blood transfusions, of which there were several, were begun at 7:30, and by late evening it was evident that an operation must be performed immediately. The left kidney was found ruptured, and its tissue, completely detached by the force of the injury, was removed. Because of the critical condition, resulting from the severe internal injury, the time of the operation was cut to the minimum—about a quarter of the period which would ordinarily be given to the removal of a kidney. Blood transfusions continued throughout the operation. I was told that the surgical skill used in the operation was brilliant.

There is nothing too enthusiastic I can say about the kindness and thoughtfulness shown to us all at the Hospital during those first difficult hours. Mr. Vye put all the human facilities of the Hospital at our disposal, Mrs. Grimes in the office did many thoughtful errands by telephone, and Miss Rogers stood by throughout the afternoon and evening, with her own hands serving innumerable cups of coffee to Mr. Burnham and me and the many friends who, in response to our plea for blood donors, were on hand to share our vigil. The laboratory technician and at least one of the nurses gave up New Year's Eve parties to stay on duty. We were never for a moment uncertain that everything possible was being done. We shall always remember it as a thrilling demonstration of many people and many skills coming to the rescue of a critically injured boy. If one had failed it might have cost him his life.

Robert was in the Hospital until Jan. 24, and for the first few days he was a very sick boy. The doctors and nurses were tireless in their attention, and we continued to be reassured by what the Hospital and staff did for him. He is now well again and rapidly regaining strength.

REPRESENTATIVE ROGERS ASKS FOR MORE SUGAR

Congressman Edith Nourse Rogers has been making a drive for several days on the floor of the House to get the Department of Agriculture to issue coupons to housewives for additional sugar for preserving and canning. She will continue the fight.

In this connection she made public the following letter:

Congress of the United States
House of Representatives
Washington, D. C.
June 3, 1947

Honorable Clinton P. Anderson,
Secretary of Agriculture,
Washington, D. C.

My Dear Mr. Secretary:

I am writing to you again asking that you make additional sugar available to persons, families, and industrial users in the United States. From daily reports throughout the world enormous supplies of sugar are available, warehouses are full and overflowing, sugar is piling up on the docks, and transportation will soon be unable to handle the tremendous supply. Unless action is taken immediately by your department to permit the use of some of this sugar by releasing the rigid restrictions for the purchase of it, we soon will hear of destruction of the sugar similar to the recent destruction of tons of food potatoes because of foolish bungling.

The press in sensible logical editorials, housewives in long angry protesting letters daily ask why sugar is not available for preserving their surplus food in the homes and the factories as was always their custom before these restrictive regulations. Your department should immediately make additional sugar available for canning and preserving in order to save the tons and tons of food now available and becoming available in increasing amounts each day. To permit the waste of this crop of sugar with the hordes of starving peoples throughout the world is criminal. Unless action is taken immediately by your department to grant additional sugar for canning and preserving surplus foods, I shall ask the Congress to take the necessary action.

Very sincerely yours,
(Signed) Edith Nourse Rogers
(Mrs. John Jacob Rogers)

"NATE" GOT AROUND

Tax Collector Nathaniel M. Nichols is back at his desk after a nine day motor trip through the south with his brother, Melville T. Nichols of Medford and the latter's son and daughter.

The trip included the "Skyline Trail" through Virginia and the "Blue Ridge Boulevard" through North Carolina, with glimpses of Tennessee and Georgia. The party had a day in Washington and visited Mt. Vernon, Monticello, Natural Bridge and the Endless Caverns, among other places of interest. At one point on the Blue Ridge Boulevard they drove over Fordney Ridge, 6,352 feet above sea level and they also visited the highest incorporated town in Eastern America, going through a cave and under a waterfall to get to it.

The total mileage covered on the trip was 2,352 in nine days. "Nate" was a bit apologetic over that, and wanted it understood that they spent a whole day out of the time in Washington and another day or two elsewhere on the trip. Then, too, "Nate" did none of the driving! Anytime you hold him down to a mere 2300 miles in nine days we want to know about it, for that my friends, will be the day!

CONTRIBUTIONS TO AFGHAN PROJECT GROWING IN WINCHESTER

A fine response has been made in Winchester to the appeal for afghans for European relief, first made here in February. The work is under the direction of Miss Cassie Sands, at whose Parker & Lane address downtown either squares or finished afghans may be left.

Many Winchester women are taking up their knitting needles, especially now that other activities are letting up.

Miss Mary Gillespie of Mystic avenue has completed two knitted afghans by herself and is working on a third. Miss Lillian Twiss of the Parkway has crocheted a lovely afghan. Mrs Ethel Butterworth and Mrs. Pauline Leavitt have each knit squares for complete afghans. Other Winchester women who have contributed to this great project by knitting squares or sewing together afghans are Miss Abbie Curry, Mrs. Fred N. Kerr, Mrs. Minnie C. Fletcher, Miss Emma Irving, Miss Minnie Joy, Miss Edith Wilson, Mrs. Carrie Cutter, Miss Carolyn Billings, Mrs. Carrie E. Snow, Mrs. Elizabeth Edgar, Miss Priscilla Ward.

BOYS' STATE

Sponsored By Post No. 97, American Legion

Each American Legion Post is entitled to sponsor a boy for the Boys' State at Amherst. This year Winchester Post No. 97 selected Edward Moore as its top candidate with first and second alternates Martin Flaherty and Roger Swanson respectively.

The event at Amherst is a yearly affair and lasts for a period of nine days from June 22 to July 1. During this time each candidate has an opportunity to participate and study the machinery of government. Elections are held so that a boy from a city district may gain experience in the city form of government while the boy from the town participates in that particular form of government. Prominent speakers are secured for the period and a fair amount of entertainment is provided in addition. It is a wonderful opportunity for a boy to develop qualities of character and leadership and to get ideas about our government which he can bring back to the school system.

Certain rigid requirements must be met before a boy can become a candidate for Boys' State. First he must be a member of the junior class in high school and must rank in the upper third in scholarship. Then he must have outstanding qualities of leadership and character. A committee from the local post made the final selection from a preliminary list submitted to the special Boys' State Committee. This preliminary list was obtained with the assistance of the high school faculty. All of the expenses of the candidate, from the time he leaves Winchester until he returns from Amherst, are assumed by the American Legion.

DISABLED VETERANS GIVEN BEACH OUTING

On June 4, members of the Winchester Red Cross Chapter under the leadership of Mrs. Edward M. Feeley sponsored a large beach outing for 100 disabled veterans and 25 hospital workers from the Bedford Veterans Hospital. Thirty-two cars, accompanied by a State Police escort, were used to transport the party to Nahant where a catered turkey dinner was served in the pavilion. During the afternoon, many of the patients went swimming while others played softball on the beach.

Special thanks go to the Winchesterites who loaned their cars or served as drivers. Among them were:

Mrs. J. Edward Dwyer
Mrs. Harry Goodwin

Mrs. W. Allan W[illegible]

MOBBS COVERED TWO

Stanley "Willoughby" Mobbs, back in town on Sabbatical leave from San Francisco, was in good form last week-end at the regular matches of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association, twice during the course of the session covering double ringers, both thrown by Herbert "Garrulous" Gardner, the Dix Street Magnate. Mr. Gardner, while applauding the Mobbs pitching wasn't too frightfully pleased over losing his double-headers, especially the second time, and when you recall that "Wild Willie" McLaughlin had duplicated the Mobbs feat earlier in the season you can hardly blame him, when you get right down to it. Losing double-headers four times in a season as young as the current one is a bit above the eight in the Gardner book, at least.

An indication of the Mobbs form last week-end may be obtained from the fact that he was able to win six of 13 games from Roland "Thin Finger" Pridham and Mr. Gardner while paired with the Secretary. Mr. Teele would tell you that you gotta be good to do that!

EDETT'S LEAVES WINCHESTER

After eight years we are compelled to give up our store in Winchester, as we could not renew our lease.

Everything in the store must be sold before July 1 at a sacrifice price.

We have marked down all our merchandise way below cost and there are really good buys for the thrifty women, as they know we have always carried the best and the finest that money can buy.

In our Brookline store we are expanding, as we have taken double the space we have at present and during the month of July we will be remodelling to make it the show place of Brookline.

We hope to have our opening by Aug. 11 when the new fall styles will be shown.

Our Winchester customers are cordially invited to continue their patronage with us, as they have done in the past.

Reading Room, 5 Winchester terrace (off Thompson street). Open daily except Sunday and holidays from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m.

"God the Only Cause and Creator" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, June 8.

Golden Text: "Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear." (Hebrews 11:3)

Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"O come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the Lord our maker. For he is our God; and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand." (Psalms 95: 6, 7.) Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Man is the expression of God's being. ... The relations of God and man, divine Principle and idea, are indestructible in Science; and Science knows no lapse from nor return to harmony, but holds the divine order or spiritual law, in which God and all that He creates are perfect and eternal, to have remained unchanged in its eternal history." (p. 470.)

The list of candidates for bachelor's degrees at Bates College includes Elbert R. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Smith, 319 Highland avenue. Smith, who will receive the bachelor of arts degree in English, completed his degree requirements in February. While at Bates he was active in the Robinson Players, advanced Dramatics organization, and played many major roles in the college productions. He was associate editor of the "Garnet", student literary magazine, and was a member of Spofford Club, organization for students interested in creative writing. MEMORIAL DAY

As the parade returned to the center the line of march was reviewed by the Board of Selectmen from a decorated platform in front of the town hall. Breaking ranks, the marchers proceeded to the Legion House on Vine street and the headquarters of the VFW in Watefield Hall where refreshments were served.

This year's line of march was one of the longest yet held, and with the exception of D'Avino's Band, was composed entirely of local participants.

It included the Police motorcycle-rider and escort, colors of both the Legion and VFW, with their guards; Legion and Veterans' detachments, Sea Scouts, Wing and Mariner Scouts, Boy and Girl Scouts and Cub Packs, as well as the High School Band. Disabled veterans and the Red Cross beach-wagon. Quite a number turned out to witness the parade at vantage points along the route and the attendance at both services in the cemeteries was good for a holiday starting a long week-end.

Parade Notes

From the standpoint of the marchers the day was ideal, cool enough for real comfort, with plenty of sunshine.

Everyone remarked on the fine showing of the High School Band under Director Fred Felmet. The youngsters, with their red coats and white trousers added a note of needed color to the line of march and both their marching and music were good. Charlie Enright was the drum-major, as he has been since the inception of the band.

Commander Woodbury of the Legion and Commander Horn of the VFW marched together with their adjutants, respectively Wallace Blanchard and Joseph Duran, the latter being known as "quartermaster" in "Vets" parlance.

As usual George Donaghey and big Neil McCarthy were the Legion color-bearers with the Horn twins, Richard and Robert, as guards. The twins were in Navy uniform, Donaghey and McCarthy in regulation Legion outfits.

The VFW colors were carried to Calvary by Franklin Stevenson and Clement Landry, with Domenic Molea and Norman Doucette as guards. On the march to Wildwood, Molea and Doucette carried the flags and the guards were Larry Penta and William DeMinco. This last was an all-Marine group and looked well, though there was nothing wrong with the first group either.

Commander-elect Walter Burns, a D. S. C. winner in World War II, led the Legion detachment. The World War I boys made a good showing in their blue and gold uniforms. Many of the new Legionnaires marched with the Navy and Army detachments under the VFW banners.

The Navy detachment was led by two CPO's, Homer Davidson and Thomas Marcario, Adjutant "Mex" Kelley of Aberjona Post, led the military detachment in official VFW uniform. "Mex" served in the Merchant Marine during World War II. "Mike" Saraco led the Firing Squad, the members of which wore white helmets, leggings and cartridge belts.

A veteran of both World Wars, Set. Charles J. Harrold led the Police escort, which this year was limited to former service men in the force. Behind him in both parades were Officers Archie O'Connell, Clarence Dunbury, of World War I, and Officers Robert and John Elliott, James Noonan, Winthrop Palmer, John Reardon and Thomas Hannon of World War II. The Policemen all wore Legion caps with their Police uniforms. Officer William Haggerty, a veteran of World War II rode the motorcycle, in regulation Police uniform.

Making their usual good showing in both parades were the Sea Scouts of Ship Tarquin under Skipper Lou Goddu. The boys were in white and showed their meticulous training by their knowledge of Naval "etiquette." Bob Roth carried the Sea Scout Colors and the guards were Ken Dickson and Ed McGrath. When Skipper Lou barks "hep" the boys "hep" and how!

The new Wing Scouts, the girl scout aviation outfit, looked well in their dark green uniforms. There was also a detachment of Mariner scouts in line, wearing blue uniforms. The Girl Scouts generally looked well and had a goodly number in line. There also seemed to be a large number of Boy Scouts out.

Troop 7, Girl Scouts, marched to both Calvary and Wildwood Cemeteries, and there were some other individual Scouts who also went along. The girls have all wanted to march in both parades but their leaders have frowned upon the practice.

Capt. Richard M. Rush, USN, retired, marched with the Girl Scouts to Calvary, and was in the Legion detachment going to Wildwood. Comdr. Harry Benson was another in the Legion group sporting "scrambled egg."

Girl Scout leaders in line were Mrs. Waldon B. Hersey, Mrs. Evans McKay, Mrs. Alfred G. Nelson and Mrs. Boyd Dunbar, Mrs. Dunbar leading the Wing Scouts, Boy Scout Leaders included Fred Parks, district commissioner; Stafford Rogers, Troop 1; Dr. Chester Wolfe, Troop 6; and Pack Leaders Seymour Bingham, 7; William Davis, 6; William Sipp, 3; and John Willis, 2.

That big dog you noticed with one of the Cub Packs was "Wolf", a war dog who served with the Marine Intelligence Corps. His master, Teddie Elliott marched with him and had to hold him when the volleys were fired at Wildwood. "Wolf" is quite a dog and once when his young master left his bike at the Mystic School, guarded it all night until the arrival of the janitor in the morning. It was quite safe, too!

Didn't Bob Jackson loom up in that Naval detachment though. Quite a lot of man is the old "Choo Choo Express" of Bill West's unbeaten, untied high school football team.

"Nanjo" Nichols, who played a lot of tackle on the right side of the high school line these past two years, gave himself just enough time to get to the town hall in time for the Calvary parade and then found he had forgotten his leggins. There is no marching without gaiters in Lou Goddu's book so big "Nanjo" had to make a flying trip home for the leggards. His skipper's "benediction" sped him on his way, but rapidly!

HOBBY CENTER CLOSES WITH PARTY

Games, refreshments and prizes made a big morning on Saturday, May 31, for the 40 children who attended the closing of the Hobby Center. In addition to the games, a doll contest for girls and a planes and boats contest for boys provided a colorful feature. First prize ribbons were awarded to Judy Dellicker, Cynthia Dunn, Janice Hashey and Betsy Scanlon for their dolls and to John Trump for his boat and Bobby Edgar for his airplane. Miss Dorothy S. Gove and Mr. Charles Enright were judges.

Games were conducted by Mrs. Van Babcock and Mrs. W. Henry Fulton. Prizes were awarded to Nelson Joyner for the memory contest, Sheila McGowan and Robert Lindsey for the potato race, David Lindsey for the whistling contest, and Leeta Berman for pinning the tail on the donkey.

Refreshments of ice cream and cookies were served by Mrs. Wallis Moulding, Mrs. Sears Walker and Mrs. Frederick B. Withington.

June 2, 1922

No new developments have appeared in the school situation. The citizens committee elected to work in behalf of Principal Edward E. Thompson of the High School and to secure his reinstatement, is holding meetings and collecting data in preparation for its anticipated hearing before the School Committee. The School Committee is reported as preparing its side of the case with care, it being stated that this committee has no animosity or personal feeling in the matter and has no desire to enter into any phase of the situation other than that taken from a purely educational stand point.

Miss Elizabeth and Miss Alice Kimball were blue ribbon winners at the Chestnut Hill horse show Tuesday. Mrs. Kimball's horses, Jane Ford and Willow Shoals, took four blues.

Mr. Whitfield L. Tuck, who wrote to Premier Lloyd George in April, has received an autograph of the statesman, together with a verbatim report of first plenary session of the conference at Geneva.

Miss Frances Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin E. Barnes, 2 Fenwick road, was a recent graduate from Northfield Seminary, East Northfield.

The newly finished church edifice of the New Hope Baptist Society on Cross street was fittingly dedicated on Wednesday evening, a large gathering witnessing the exercises. There were present delegates and visitors from many churches and although the new church seats over 200, it was not possible to accommodate all who desired to attend.

Winchester Country Club players who are taking part in the spring tournament of the Springfield Golf Club include R. M. Smith, H. C. Buckminster, A. M. Bond and H. T. Bond.

Ex-Governor Samuel W. McCall and Mrs. McCall returned Saturday on the S. S. Berengeria from a three months trip to Europe. Mr. McCall, who is proposed by the New York Times as a desirable candidate to oppose Senator Lodge, declined to comment upon the political aspects or to commit himself in any way in the situation.

Daily Philosophy

I am no weather prophet, but it does look like this summer would be even dryer than last summer.

The reason men seldom get more than they expect is because they expect more than they are entitled to.

When I was a boy I used to think that the greatest life in the world would be to go around the country driving well. I still think so.

When all is said and done it is generally too late to say it or do it.

50 YEARS AGO

June 4, 1897

The new National Bank opened its doors for business Tuesday, June 1st, and the results of the day were much beyond the most sanguine expectations of the organizers. Many ladies were included among the depositors, and a number of others called to make inquiries in relation to opening accounts. Nearly all of the business men of the town, dropped in during banking hours for the purpose of depositing money, while many Boston business men showed their good will toward the new institution by doing likewise. As the bank is assuredly a benefit to the town, it is hoped many others of this better class will give similar encouragement, and thereby make the bank one of the strongest to be formed in the suburbs of Boston.

Capt. W. A. Snow had for passengers on the European steamer Canada last Saturday, Mrs. John M. Corse and Master Murray Corse.

Winchester Knights of Columbus is rapidly growing in membership, and although one of the youngest societies in town, it is among the strongest. Last week four candidates were given the second degree, and during the evening there was a very pleasant and agreeable entertainment consisting of recitations by G. K. Dennis F. Sheehan of Medford and Maurice Fitzgerald, songs by D. G. K. Robert Sheridin.

Mr. A. C. Bell, the genial tax collector, has been rusticating for a few days in Nashua, N. H., his old home.

The Assessors have completed their house-to-house work and are now busily engaged in tabulating the results.

Mr. J. W. Guernsey is erecting a large house on Eaton street of three suites.

Lebanon street has been rebuilt and its gutters paved. The town will be asked to accept it.

Now that a location has been granted to the Arlington and Winchester electric railroad, no obstacles should be interposed to delay the work of laying the tracks.

Mr. Edwin B. Holt is studying at Frieberg, Germany. His mother is with him and they are expected to arrive home sometime in August.

Mr. Edward B. Robinson is home from the Yale Divinity School for the vacation. He was recently awarded one of the Fogg prizes of $25 each for excellence in the regular work of the term, besides in examinations in Hebrew, New Testament Greek and Homiletics.

Mr. Lewis R. Brine stands 13, and Mr. Frank C. Wilson 72, in the list of Harvard's strong men this year.

Dr. Charles F. McCarthy's St. Bernard dog was struck by a train and killed Wednesday.

Mt. Vernon street is an example of what shade trees will do toward beautifying a street.

The first of June is said to be the proper time to don summer clothing. The unreliability of this assertion was made manifest Tuesday when an overcoat was necessary to keep warm. New England climate consists of many surprises, charming and otherwise.

EXHIBITION OF HANDIWORK

There will be an exhibition of the handiwork of the Lincoln School Special Class on Thursday, June 12, from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m.

Parents and others interested in seeing what the pupils of this class have done this year are cordially invited.

BUSINESS, PROFESSIONAL WOMEN HELD BOARD MEETING

Last Wednesday evening, Miss Emily Greene, newly elected chairman of the Business and Professional Women's Group, First Congregational Church, was hostess to the members of her 1947-48 board at her home, 329 Highland avenue. Miss Greene presided, with Mrs. Maude Dover, secretary, and reports from the new treasurer, Mrs. Margaret Withington.

Plans for the programs were announced for the coming year by Mrs. Mary Snell, chairman, Miss Gertrude Davis, Mrs. Ruth Hilton, co-chairmen. The year's activities will open with a supper on Sept. 17, followed by evenings of entertainment on the first Wednesday of the month. All women who are in business or the professions, or who have been in business, are invited to attend these meetings in the ladies' parlor of the Parish House, Dix street.

Miss Alfreda Kearney and Miss Cassie Sands, chairmen of the Work Committee for the church fair on Nov. 18 announced that their plans were well underway for a candy table. Their committee will meet this Friday evening.

Other board members present included Mrs. F. Milne Blanchard, Mrs. Maude Wolloff, nominating; Miss Helen Niedringhaus, hospitality; Miss Margaret Hodgson, membership; Mrs. George E. Connor, publicity. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

THE WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

The annual luncheon and meeting of the Winchester Home and Garden Club, will be held at the home of Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood, 7 Swan road on June 11 at 1 p. m. There will be a Flower Show for two classes of exhibitors. 1. For experienced flower arrangers, 2. For novices. Anyone who wishes to exhibit phone Mrs. Norman Mitchell, Win. 0670-W and have arrangements in place by 10:30 a. m. Wednesday, June 11, ready for the judging.

This will be the last meeting of the club for the season and as the luncheon is always a gala affair, members and guests are asked to phone early for reservations. Call Mrs. Frank Robinson, Win. 1487-W Mrs. Willard Hudson, Win. 0669 or Miss Anne Fox, Win. 1894-W.

ADULT EDUCATION COURSES

For those of you who will be near by during June and July, the Cambridge Center for Adult Education, 42 Brattle street, will offer a very interesting and diverse program of summer courses. This is an eight week term, beginning th week of June 10, and will have more outdoor courses than at other times, to take advantage of summer warmth and natural settings, as well as daylight savings time. Some of the outdoor courses are Outdoor New England, Old Boston, Tennis, Riding, and Geology. There will be many other equally absorbing courses in various fields and Winchester residents will again be well represented, as they were in the spring term, with over 18 Winchester residents taking courses. For full information call Kirkland 0314, or write for a booklet.

WINCHESTER GIRL SCOUTS

Plans for the Winchester Girl Scout Day Camp, to be held at Camp Joy from June 24 through July 17, have been announced by Mrs. Cole D. Neff, chairman of the camp committee. For the first time in many years swimming classes are to be held, in conjunction with the Red Cross, a special crafts instructor is to teach handicrafts to each group separately for an hour every day, and an equal amount of time is to be devoted to nature study.

Soft ball and volley ball will be added to the sports, each unit will have one cook-out a week, and all intermediate scouts are to have one overnight at the cabin during the summer.

In addition to Brownie, Intermediate and Senior or Pioneer Scouts, there will be this year a new "Nursery Unit", in which Mrs. Carl E. Morse and Joan McKinley will care for the young children of the leaders of other units.

Mrs. Charles H. Wilson, with the assistance of Carolyn Zinn, will lead the new Brownie unit, while Mrs. Clarence Roberts and Mrs. Roderick Thompson, with Betsy Chipman's help, will be in charge of the older Brownies.

The first Intermediate unit will be led by Mrs. Charles Godsell and Mrs. Robert Finn, and the second by Mrs. George Pabst and Mrs. Henry Bainbridge.

The Pioneers, who will work some of the time with the younger girls as part of their program, are to be superintended by Mrs. Francis Parsons, aided by Dottie Clarke, and will have an all-day bicycle trip each week, visiting other nearby Girl Scout Day Camps, and one overnight.

This training will concentrate on preparing them for the high spot of the summer, a hosteling bicycling trip through New Hampshire and Vermont from July 21 to 29.

Do not feel, however, that everything has been so carefully scheduled that there is no place for additional help. Volunteers will still be enthusiastically welcomed, and if there are younger children in the family, Mrs. Morse's Nursery Unit will see that they, as well as their mothers, have a healthy, happy, outdoor time.

As registration closes next Thursday, June 12, we advise all interested in attending Camp to procure their applications immediately from the Girl Scout Office.

Any questions, or offers of assistance, may be referred to Mrs. Barbara Metcalf, camp director, her assistant and chairman of the camp committee, Mrs. Cole D. Neff, or other members of the committee, namely, Mrs. Davenport Davis, Mrs. Francis Parsons, Mrs. Donald W. True, Mrs. George Halm, or Mrs. Hollis Dyer.

A picturesque candlelight service at Camp Joy marked the graduation of the eighth grade Scouts, Troop 10, with representatives from the present senior troops on hand to welcome them into their new estates, eight to the new Storrow troop, No. 2, six to the Mariners, and four to the Wing Scouts.

Curved bars, the highest honor in intermediate scouting, indicating that the girl has not only become a First Class Scout by completing all the necessary badges to qualify her for graduation into Senior Scouting, but has, in addition, earned four extra badges in one field, were given by Mrs. George Cary, Winchester Girl Scout Commissioner, to the following: Dorothy Brandt, Shirley Cary, Francoline Cullen, Virginia Dyer, Phoebe Greenwood, Elaine Hersey, Judith Lamprey, Phyllis O'Neil, Mary Rice, June Ryan and Marjorie Zinn. The other girls included in the graduation were Gertrude Barry, Betty Anne DeCourcy, Carol Edgar, Jean Farquhar, Kathleen Finn, Marcia Flaherty and Louise Kugler.

PONTIAC AND CADILLAC SERVICE HERE

For the first time since the War Winchester had a real auto display this week when the Moody Motor Sales, Inc., had a showing of new Pontiacs at its show rooms on North Main street in the former Ungerman Motors building. Several models were displayed.

This firm will feature Pontiac and Cadillac cars and has a complete service department capable of making all repairs along with body and paint work. This is welcome news to Winchester Pontiac and Cadillac owners.

Call at 632 Main street or tel. Win. 0741 or 0048.

MRS. HARLOW CO-CHAIRMAN

The name of Mrs. Richard Harlow of Yale street, co-chairman of the midway at the En Ka Street Fair, was inadvertently omitted from the report of the Street Fair published in last week's Star. The omission is doubly regrettable because of the important contribution Mrs. Harlow made to the success of the Fair.

OUR DEMOCRACY ——by Mat

AT THE QUILTING PARTY...

QUILTS WERE MADE YEARS AGO THAT ARE STILL PRIZED POSSESSIONS IN MANY AMERICAN HOMES... EACH WOMAN CONTRIBUTING HER SHARE OF SILK AND CALICO PIECES, ALL WORKING TOGETHER IN FRIENDLY COOPERATION, THEY MADE IN A SHORT TIME A NEEDED QUILT THAT WOULD HAVE TAKEN ONE WOMAN MANY TEDIOUS DAYS OF WORK.

FROM THE EARLIEST DAYS OF OUR DEMOCRACY, LIFE HAS BEEN MADE EASIER, HAPPIER FOR THE INDIVIDUAL THROUGH COOPERATIVE EFFORTS... ONE OF THE GREATEST OF THESE TODAY IS LIFE INSURANCE —A PLAN THROUGH WHICH THE INDIVIDUAL, BY POOLING HIS FUNDS AND SHARING THE RISKS WITH A GREAT GROUP OF PEOPLE, IS ABLE TO ENJOY FAMILY SECURITY AND PROTECTION HE COULD NEVER PROVIDE ALONE.

LONG-CONTESTED TRIESTE "FREE TERRITORY" UNDER UNITED NATIONS

Completion of the Italian peace treaty, which sets up the Free Territory of Trieste under the United Nations, turns over a new page in the story of a port which has seen its fortunes rise and wane through more than 2,000 years.

Overlooking the broad gulf that cuts into the Istrian Peninsula at the head of Adriatic Sea, the Trieste site was settled in pre- Roman times, notes the National Geographic Society. It was a Roman colony, and a vassal of Venice. But it was not until the 19th century, after 500 years of Hapsburg rule, that the port reached peak development.

As the "Golden Gate" of the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy, Trieste was a focal point of the long-standing rivalry between Italy and Austria. When Italy won the port in peace settlements of World War I, the old rivalry passed to the newly-assembled state of Yugoslavia, which had replaced Austria-Hungary along the Adriatic.

Often Changed Hands

World War II brought Nazi occupation to Trieste, and considerable damage through German destruction and Allied bombing. Near the end of the war, Yugoslav forces briefly took over the city, succeeded in turn by the Allied military government.

The new Free Territory—an elbow-shaped strip of land around the Gulf of Trieste—amounts to about 300 square miles. Besides the big port, it contains a number of fishing villages, resorts, and small ports, such as Duino and Cittanova, at the northern and southern borders, respectively.

The Trieste Territory is the most densely-settled section of the Istrian Peninsula. Its estimated population is 330,000. The Italians are especially numerous in Trieste and the larger towns of the southern part. The Slavic element has a tendency to gather in the rural areas.

Trieste's growth into an important world port was first delayed, then rushed, by basic geographic conditions. Beyond its scenic frame of hills, high mountain ranges bar the way to central Europe. For centuries, lack of good overland communications held the Adriatic seaport to relatively local status.

There are, however, several accessible passes through the mountains, leading to the rich and fertile Danube basin. With the rise of rail communications, and the completion in 1869 of the Suez Canal, Trieste became a vital link in a Mediterranean short cut to inland Europe.

The Austrians spent vast sums in difficult railroad construction across the mountains and in establishment of extensive harbor improvements. The first railway joined Trieste with Vienna in 1857. Other lines followed.

By 1913, just before World War I, the port's shipping tonnage was more than 60 times greater than it had been a century before. Trieste had become Austria's chief southern outlet, as nearby Fiume, on a smaller scale, was used as a Hungarian gateway.

The transfer from Austria to Italy cut Trieste off from its former hinterland, and placed it in direct competition with other Italian ports. For a time, traffic declined sharply. It was beginning to improve, through trade negotiations with central European nations, when further curtailment resulted from Nazi absorption of Austria and dismemberment of Czechoslovakia.

The war not only brought destruction within the city itself, but the loss of more than 90 per cent of its merchant and passenger ships. Extensive repair and construction works are now under way.

Talk by Mrs. Conlon, introduced by Maureen Haggerty

The program was concluded by the entire audience singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Miss Mary Cullen announced the program. Daniel McLaughlin played the piano for the children to march in and leave the assembly hall. Stanley Mullen played for the community singing and Margaret McHugh greeted the guests. Thomas McDonough acted as stage manager.

The assembly hall was most attractively decorated by flowers and flags. Many thanks to Mr. Henry Drown, the custodian, who arranged the floral display.

AUSTRALIA — SYDNEY

The good will squadron which the Navy proposes to send to Sydney, Australia's largest port, will find plenty of room to anchor in the tremendous, irregular harbor, says the National Geographic Society.

Reaching 13 miles inland, the harbor's indentations form a scenic shore line 188 miles long. A dozen oak leaves would not create so unsymmetrical a pattern.

"I have had the satisfaction of finding the finest harbor in the world," wrote Capt. Arthur Phillip, R. N., of its discovery in 1788.

Villages quickly developed along inlets beyond the port's mile-wide entrance between high sandstone promontories. They become towns and cities, merging like London into the present metropolis. More than a million and a quarter people now spread over 120,000 acres.

Sydney has some Venetian aspects. Homes with red-tiled roofs spill over hillsides down to the water's edge. Instead of gondolas, a great fleet of ferry boats serves the far-flung, waterside community. By 1932 forty million fares were being collected by cross-harbor ferries alone. Then the Harbor Bridge was built, looping 400 feet above the water at its highest point.

Never was a harbor more mingled in the life of a city. Residents are amphibious, beach-bronzed. Two beaches recorded a joint annual total of 18 million bathers. Youngsters paddle in tiny boats of discarded corrugated roofing. On holidays hundreds of canoes are afloat. White sails of 300 pleasure craft may fleck the island-studded harbor at one time.

The sailboats are dwarfed by the great ocean liners regularly making the port. They renew the wake of the early wool clipper ships. Pastoral products long dominated exports—meat, tallow, hides, sheepskins and wool. Sydney's Royal Exchange now is the largest wool selling center in the world. More than a million bales are auctioned annually.

The violin has been called the king of instruments. The description is an apt one, for the violin has a tone that cannot be surpassed by any other instrument. Every human emotion can be expressed through it by a well trained violinist.

Most symphony orchestras have from 16 to 20 first violins and about the same number of second violins.

Membership in the Winchester High School Orchestra is open to all students who have learned to play well by the time they reach high school age. In each of Winchester's grade schools there is a violin class which offers the opportunity to learn to play to all children above the second grade. The Junior High School has an orchestra which plays less difficult music than that attempted at the high school.

NEW TAX RATE $32.80

Chairman John F. Cassidy of the Board of Assessors announced yesterday that Winchester's Tax Rate for the current year will be $32.80, an increase of $2.80 over last year.

It was expected that the rate would be higher, but increased valuations with the return of unbooked for tax money from the State enabled the Assessors to hold the increase to $2.80.

The Assessors computed the rate from appropriations totalling $4,3883,883.10, which takes no account of transfers.

Total valuation this year is $35,077,200., an increase over last year of $1,534,100. Real Estate amount to $32,937,325., an increase of $1,118,725., and personal property to $2,739,875., an increase of $165,375.

Last year's tax rate of $30.00 even was an increase of $3.60 over the 1945 rate. The Finance Committee estimated a $5 increase for this year.

THOMAS PATRICK McGOWAN

Park Superintendent Died Tuesday

Thomas Patrick McGowan, 67, of Cabal street, superintendent of the Park Department, died suddenly Tuesday afternoon at home. He was in Winchester Hospital of an apparent heart attack. He entered the hospital with a heart condition on Monday and was at once placed in an oxygen tent. His condition then apparently improved somewhat and he was able to sit up in bed and talk to friends. Shortly before his death, however, he suddenly suffered a relapse.

Mr. McGowan was born in Winchester, the son of Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] McGowan. He was graduated from Winchester High School, and was for several years an electrical and industrial equipment salesman, covering New England territory for the Automatic Equipment Company of Boston.

In the days of the WPA he served as clerk for Winchester projects, entering the employ of the Park Department as superintendent 15 years ago, following the death of the then incumbent, Aaron Johnson.

Mr. McGowan gave unstintingly of his time and effort to the duties of his position, working often outside his regular hours, especially in the interest of the playgrounds and beaches. He was generally well liked and was held in high esteem by the heads of municipal department. Those charged with administering the town's recreational program had especial reason to be grateful for his friendly and enthusiastic cooperation. He was a familiar figure at all high school and town athletic contests and never failed to help to lend any assistance possible.

He was a member of the Holy Name Society of the Immaculate Conception Parish.

On June 25, 1927, Mr. McGowan married Katherine Regan of Arlington, who survives, with seven daughters, Helen, Rosemary, Sheila, Emily, Brenda and Patricia McGowan and two sons, Thomas P. McGowan, Jr., and Paul M. Gowan, all of Winchester. Funeral arrangements are in charge of Undertaker J. O'Doherty, also of Winchester.

The funeral was held Friday morning from the late residence with solemn requiem high mass at the Immaculate Conception Church. Flags on the Common and town buildings were displayed at half staff in his honor. Interment was in Mt. Pleasant Cemetery, Arlington.

FISHERMEN'S SERMON SUNDAY

First Congregational Church

Dr. Howard J. Chidley, who has recently returned from a fishing trip to Maine, will preach Sunday on "The Wisdom of the Wilderness."

In this sermon Dr. Chidley will tell of his fishing experiences, not only in this country but abroad, and the habits of wild animals which he has observed in the wilderness areas where he has fished.

Dr. Chidley's fishermen's sermons over the past 25 years have always been an event, and have drawn large congregations.

The public is invited.

ROTARY NOTES

Winchester Rotary Club held its regular meeting yesterday noon in Masonic Hall. A good attendance was on hand for this meeting with many visiting Rotarians and guests present.

Ralph Bonnell, chairman for the Winchester Hospital Building Fund, which has proposed a new wing for the hospital, was the guest speaker. He spoke of the urgent need for a new wing and urged total support for this worthy cause. After his talk there was no doubt as to just how important a part the hospital plays in each of our lives, and all were asked to support accordingly.

Erskine Kelley, Walter Roberts and Alfred Elliott were welcomed into the club as new members by Forbes Norris.

Plans were completed for the club to attend a night baseball game in the near future. Bill Brennan is in charge of the details and a very pleasant evening is in store for all those attending.

It was announced that at the next meeting Mr. Coe, assistant to the Middlesex County Sheriff, would be guest speaker. All members are urged to be present for this meeting. Try to make this meeting 100 per cent.

DR. PADELFORD HONORED BY DENISON UNIVERSITY

Dr. Norman J. Padelford of Ravenscroft road was honored by his alma mater, Denison University, Granville, Ohio, when he was awarded the honorary doctor of laws degree at the 118th annual commencement there Monday morning. He was graduated from Denison in 1925.

A native of Haverhill, he took both master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees at Harvard University. After serving as teaching assistant there for three years while he was doing graduate study, he was on the faculty of Colgate University for seven years. From 1943-46 he was professor and head of the department of government there. The next eight years he spent at Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy. Since 1945 he has been professor of international relations at Mass. Institute of Technology. Until last year he was consultant at the Department of State for four years.

At present Dr. Padelford is a member of the board of editors of the quarterly journal, International Organization. He was a member of the U. S. delegation at the Dumbarton Oaks conference and executive officer on the commission on judicial organization at the San Francisco United Nations conference.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Richardson of Berkeley, Calif., and Mrs. Ruth Richardson Thompson of Olean, New York, have been the guests the past week of their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Fred V. Archer, 3 Bacon street.

It is the first time in 40 years that the two Richardson sisters and their brother have all been together. Mr. Richardson came East to attend the 45th reunion of the Harvard Class of 1902.

In observance of the occasion Mr. and Mrs. Archer entertained Sunday evening at an informal tea at their home.

The house was attractively decorated with bouquets of iris. A mound of pink and white garden flowers centered the table where Mrs. Arthur Hughes, a niece of Mrs. Archer's poured.

Assisting the hostess were her two daughters, Mrs. William McClintock of Winchester, and Mrs. Fred V. Archer, Jr., of Reading.

FIGUCIA—PENTA

White carnations and snapdragons decorated the altar of St Mary's Church on Sunday afternoon, June 8, for the marriage of Miss Camille Ann Penta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Penta of 356 Washington street, to Joseph Charles Figucia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Figucia of 33 Conn street, Woburn. The pastor, Rev. Fr. John P. O'Riordan, officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony and the bridal music was played by Mrs. Raymond Sullivan, organist. Soloist was Mrs. Lawrence J. Penta of Malden, soprano, and cousin of the bride, who sang the "Ave Maria" by Gounod.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Penta had her sister, Miss Petrina Penta, for her honor attendant. Miss Margaret Penta and Miss Florence Penta, also sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids.

The bride wore a gown of white marquisette and imported lace, having a high neckline, embroidered with seed pearls and a court train. Her long veil was caught to a headdress of matching lace and seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis with a pure white orchid.

The two bridesmaids wore aqua marquisette dresses with matching flower headdresses and carried cascade bouquets of yellow roses and snapdragons.

Samuel Figucia of Woburn was best man for his brother, John Figucia and Angelo Figucia, both of Woburn and also brothers of the bridegroom, ushered, with Michael W. Penta of Winchester, brother of the bride, and Joseph Ruma of Somerville.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Hotel Commander in Cambridge.

Upon their return from a wedding journey to New York and Washington, D. C., Mr. and Mrs. Figucia will make their home in Winchester at 43 Chester street. The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School and Mr. Figucia, of Woburn High School.

WINCHESTER REPUBLICAN CLUB BOARD MEETING HELD

The first meeting of the new board of the Republican Club was held at the president's home, Mrs. William C. Cusack, the morning of June 4. After coffee, which was poured by Mrs. Dunbar L. Shanklin, recording secretary, the new business of planning for the '47 to '48 season was taken up.

McGUERTY—MILNE

At the Immaculate Conception Church on Sunday afternoon, June 8, Miss Pauline Frances Milne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Milne of Pickering street, became the bride of Bernard Francis McGuerty, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard F. McGuerty of Valley road, Woburn. Rev. Fr. Charles J. Foley of Our Lady of Presentation Church in Brighton, former curate at the Immaculate Conception Church, performed the ceremony at 4:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Mac McGann, organist, played the bridal music, and the soloist was Miss Dorothy Hickey, who sang several selections during the seating of the guests and the "Ave Maria" after the ceremony.

Miss Milne was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of traditional white slipper satin, fashioned with a fitted bodice having a sheer yoke edged with Alencon lace and a soft flounce at the shoulder giving an off-the-shoulder effect. The full skirt extended to form a court train and over it fell a long tulle veil held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. Her flowers were gardenias and stephanotis arranged in a cascade bouquet.

Miss Jeanne E. Peel of Winchester, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Lois McKenzie of Medford and Miss Ruth Peel of Winchester, also cousins of the bride, were junior bridesmaids.

The honor maid wore a petal pink dress of starched marquisette, styled with a sweetheart neckline, shirred bodice and a full skirt draped at the back. Her wide brimmed horsehair hat was petal pink trimmed with bridal blue and she carried a cascade bouquet of blue sweet peas and pink carnations.

The junior bridesmaids were gowned alike in bridal blue dresses styled like that of the honor maid. They wore wide brimmed horsehair hats of bridal blue trimmed with petal pink and carried cascade bouquets of pink carnations and blue sweet peas.

Charles R. Doherty of Woburn was Mr. McGuerty's best man, and a brother of the bridegroom, Albert McGuerty of Woburn, usherred with John Dunphe of Medford, cousin of the bride.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Woburn Country Club, the parents of the bride and bridegroom assisting in receiving. Mrs. Milne, mother of the bride, wore a robbin's-egg-blue silk gown with black accessories and a corsage of sweetheart roses. Mrs. McGuerty, the bridegroom's mother, wore powder blue silk with blue accessories and a corsage of talisman roses.

Mr. McGuerty and his bride went to Canada on their wedding journey, the bride's traveling costume being a tan gabardine suit with accessories of green and white and a gardenia corsage. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. McGuerty will make their home at 30 Pickering street in Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of Winchester High School, class of 1943, and is a secretary in the office of the Superintendent of Schools in this town. Mr. McGuerty is a graduate of Woburn High School, class of 1939, and attended Wentworth Institute. He is employed at the Stoneham Press and is a World War II veteran with three years' service in the U. S. Navy.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents with the Rev. Simeon E. Cozard, rector of All Souls Church, Lowell, officiating.

Mr. Wenigmann gave his daughter in marriage. Miss Joan E. Dursthoff of Chelmsford Center was maid of honor and Mr. Richard S. Leghorn of Rochester, N. Y., was his brother's best man. Ushers were Messrs. C. Mitchell Wenigmann, brother of the bride, and J. Addison Garner of Winchester.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Johnson of Kenwin road are spending the week end at their summer home in Ipswich.

MULLEN—McLAUGHLIN

There is Winchester interest in the marriage which took place at the Annunciation Church in Danvers on Saturday morning, June 7, when Miss Joanne Ellis McLaughlin, daughter of Assistant Postmaster and Mrs. Philip V. McLaughlin of Hobart street, Danvers, became the bride of Thomas Charles Mullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Mullen of Foxcroft road. White rhododendrons and baskets of white spirea with a background of palms made an attractive setting for the ceremony which took place at 11 o'clock and was followed by a nuptial mass, at which the Rev. Paul Donahue was celebrant. Musical selections included Lambilott's "Ave Maria" sung by James Cashman and David Creedon, "Panis Angelicus," sung by Maria Kelley; "All Joy Be Thine," sung by Mr. Cashman, and "Ah! Whence to me the Bliss," sung by Mr. Creedon.

Miss McLaughlin was given in marriage by her father and had for her honor maid her sister, Miss Jeanne E. McLaughlin of Danvers. Miss Mary Mullen of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom, was honorary maid-of-honor, and Miss Susan E. Creedon of Danvers, small cousin of the bride, was flower girl. Six cousins of the bride were bridesmaids and junior bridesmaids, the bridesmaids being Miss Mary Creedon, Miss Margaret Creedon, Miss Barbara Creedon, all of Danvers, and Miss Doris Cheverie of Beverly. Junior bridesmaids were Miss Denise and Miss Patty Creedon, both of Danvers.

The bride wore a dress of ivory faille, having a tucked bodice with a tulip neckline, a double peplum and a skirt extending into a long train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was edged with lace and caught to a halo headpiece of pleated illusion, held in place with an ivory satin band caught with lilies of the valley. Instead of the conventional bouquet, Miss McLaughlin carried an ivory missal with white carnations and a shower of valley lilies.

The honor attendants and bridesmaids wore identical dresses of white dotted Swiss with ruffled off-the-shoulder necklines, puff sleeves and full skirts adorned with fuchsia velvet ribbon. All wore white garden hats of horsehair with fuchsia velvet ribbons and carried garlands of cedar, laurel and fern with fuchsia and white carnations.

The frocks of the junior bridesmaids and flower-girl were fashioned like those of the other bridal attendants. Their headdresses were ruffled dotted Swiss caps tied with fuchsia velvet ribbons and the junior bridesmaids carried colonial bouquets of fuchsia and white carnations with babies' breath. The flower-girl carried a white basket of fuchsia and white carnations and rose petals.

William G. Mullen, Jr., of Winchester was his brother's best man, and another brother, Robert Mullen of Winchester, headed the ushers corps, comprising Neal McLaughlin of Danvers, brother of the bride; two cousins of the bride, Charles H. Creedon and Peter Peterson, both of Danvers; and Robert Butters of Wilmington.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the garden at the home of the bride's parents, the mother of the bride assisting in receiving with the parents of the bridegroom. The bride's mother was gowned in rose crepe and wore a Navy straw hat with Navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a fuchsia hat and accessories with her gown of aqua crepe.

Mr. Mullen and his bride are motoring through the White Mountains and Canada on their wedding journey. Upon their return they will make their home in Winchester.

The bride graduated from Holten High School in Danvers in 1943 and from the Salem Hospital School of Nursing in 1946. Mr. Mullen attended Winchester High School and St. John's Preparatory School in Danvers. He is now studying at the Vesper George School of Art.

"LAW OF RIFLE" RULES TRIBES ON INDIA'S NORTH-WEST FRONTIER

In the North-West Frontier Province of India, where British officials have been disciplining rebellious tribesmen, planes soar above camels plodding along ancient roads. The contrast is typical of many contradictory sights in this mountainous buffer land between southeast Afghanistan and India's northern plains.

The Province is divided into two sections as distinct as those separated by an international boundary line, says the National Geographic Society. On one hand are the "settled districts," an integral part of British India where the King's law prevails. On the other is "tribal territory," living uneasily under the white flag of truce.

Safety Zones Follow Road

In tribal territory, British control extends only along the narrow streamers of the King's highways. Beyond lies "no-man's land" in which tribal council and rifle are law. There, in wild and forbidding hills pierced by passes over which came the old conquerors of India, live a people known commonly as Pathans.

Most of the Pathan tribes, related to their Afghan cousins across the border, are Moslems. Their baggy trousers, loose tunics, and long oiled hair showing beneath the turban present a colorful but sloppy appearance that belies their fighting character.

By accepted practice, the outlaw tribesman parks his rifle at the entrance to a settled area. In tribal territory the outsider carries his life in his hands. Snipers' bullets rattling against the walls of a British scout post are called "court fees," in casual British humor. They are the hillman's way of gaining attention for his grievances.

Primitive Rifle Factory

Tribesmen even make their own rifles in a primitive factory, permitted because of the inferior quality of the product and the fact that a stolen rifle may be worth more than a life.

Pacifying rebellious tribes in this outpost of Empire immortalized by Kipling has taken heavy toll of British blood and money.

During World War II, the Afghan frontier was protected from possible Axis invasion by new air fields and defense stations, by tank traps and cross fire emplacements set along famed Khyber Pass and other "sword cuts" through the mountains.

GEORGE WENDALL GORDON

George Wendall Gordon of 37 Sheridan circle, veteran employee of Richardson's Market, died Saturday, June 7, at Bartlett Manor, a convalescent home in Malden. He had been in poor health since last October when he sustained a broken hip in a fall at the market. He was first taken to the Winchester Hospital and later underwent treatment at both the Choate Hospital in Woburn and the Massachusetts General Hospital. He had been at Bartlett Manor for a month preceding his death.

Mr. Gordon was the son of Robert S., and Ida E. (Jameson) Gordon. He was born in Jonesport, Me., April 8, 1878, coming to Woburn 50 years ago and living in that city until he took up residence in Winchester 25 years ago.

Mr. Gordon was for more than 35 years an employee of Richardson's Market, being well and favorably known to patrons and to his fellow business men about the center, to whom he was familiarly known as "G. G." He was a member of the Baptist Church of Lowell and a former member of Mt. Horeb Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of Woburn.

Mr. Gordon leaves a daughter, Mrs. Harold W. Wade of West Medford; a son, Chester W. Gordon of Woburn; two sisters, Mrs. Catherine Wright of Los Angeles, Cal., and Mrs. Sylvia Johnson of Cleveland, Ohio; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Arthur P. Graham Funeral Home in Woburn with the Rev. Carlton Helgerson of the Free Evangelical Church of Woburn officiating. A delegation from Richardson's Market attended, and the market was closed during the afternoon of the services. Interment was in Edson Cemetery, Lowell.

ALBERT M. LITTLE

Albert M. Little of 11 Scott street, Woburn, a native of Winchester and well known market gardener in this district for 40 years, died suddenly Saturday, June 7, in Wells, Me., at the home of his nephew, William S. Little. He had a heart attack while driving to Wells to visit his nephew and died shortly after reaching his home.

Mr. Little was the son of Thomas, and Mary A. (McInnis) Little. He was born on the old Little farm on Cambridge street, the homestead being located at the corner of what is now Wildwood street extension.

As a young man, Mr. Little went to Woburn where he lived for more than 40 years, being associated with his brothers, Arthur P., of Woburn, J. William, of Melrose, and Robert H Little of Bedford in the Little Farms. He was a past exalted ruler of Woburn Lodge of Elks, and past master of Middlesex-Essex Pomona Grange, of the Woburn Grange and Winchester Grange.

Besides his brothers, Mr. Little leaves his wife, the former Emma Walsh; and a daughter, Mrs. Alberta Hatch of Woburn. A sister, Miss Anna M. Little, formerly of Winchester and for many years associated with Randall's, died Feb. 19 of this year.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from the Little residence in Woburn. High mass of requiem was celebrated at St. Charles Church, Woburn. Interment was in Tewksbury.

CLARENCE BANCROFT

Clarence Bancroft of 6 Glen road, retired textile chemist, died Saturday morning, June 7, at the Winchester Hospital after a brief illness.

Mr. Bancroft was the son of William and Sarah J. (Stanley) Bancroft. He was born Oct. 11, 1858, in Hopedale, receiving his early education in the Hopedale schools and graduating from Milford High School. He prepared for college at Phillips Exeter Academy, graduating in 1878, and was graduated from Harvard in the class of 1882, subsequently doing graduate work in chemistry at Zurich Politechnic Institute in Switzerland.

For many years Mr. Bancroft was a textile chemist and superintendent in textile mills in Manchester, N. H., Lowell and North Adams, specializing in dye coloring. He retired 20 years ago.

Mr. Bancroft came to Winchester in the fall of 1919 from Newton Highlands. His hobby was gardening, and his flower and vegetable gardens were well known by persons living in his neighborhood. He was busy in his gardens on the Monday of the week in which he died.

Surviving are four daughters, Miss Louise and Miss Eleanor Bancroft of Winchester, Miss Ada Bancroft of Portland, Me., and Mrs. Edith B. Ireland of Orange, N. J.; a granddaughter, Miss Elizabeth Ireland and a sister, Miss Mary I. Bancroft of Boston.

Funeral services were held on Monday afternoon at the M. G. Moffett Funeral Home with the Rev. Roy M. Grindy, rector of St. Andrews in Marblehead and a long time friend of the deceased, officiating. Interment was in Pine Grove Cemetery, Milford.

BIG GAME STAMP OUT FIRES IN KRUGER NATIONAL PARK

Elephants, hippopotamuses, and rhinoceroses in Kruger National Park, the Union of South Africa's great zoological reserve visited by the British Royal family, are disclosed as the forest fire fighters of Africa's animal kingdom.

With an area of 8,100 square miles, Kruger National Park, in the eastern Transvaal, is larger than the State of Massachusetts, says the National Geographic Society. It was originally set aside in 1898 by Paul Kruger, the Boer president, and gradually increased to its present expanse.

In their wild state, the big pachyderms, seeing a camp fire or a pile of burning logs, will charge in and stamp out the fire. They are credited with saving millions of acres of African timberland down through the ages.

Rhino Shows Speed

When these three-to-eight ton "fire-trucs" get the alarm, they can hurtle along at surprising speed. Despite its eight tons, an elephant can do 25 miles an hour for a short distance; while the three-ton rhinoceros can attain the race-horse speed of 45 miles an hour.

The hippopotamus, four tons and over, is second only to the elephant in size. It has a hide almost two inches thick, which alone may weigh more than a quarter of a ton. It can walk for miles on the bottom of a stream, closing ears and nostrils, coming up for air every six or seven minutes. By feeding on plants growing in river beds, it keeps the channels clear.

The elephant is Africa's highway engineer, with a knack for avoiding gradients. Many African roads, and even some railways, follow its age-old tracks for distances. It provided native tribesmen many passes through the jungle.

Animals Ignore Autos

The park now has about 1,200 miles of roadway, with available rest camps, each composed of many native huts in replica. One of the camps accommodates 600 guests; another, 800. Gasoline is available, all travel being by automobile.

For the safety of tourists, motoring is permitted only by day, with a ten mile an hour speed limit to prevent possible collision wth an elephant or other animal in the roadway, just around the bend. Accustomed to automobiles, the animals pay no attention to them. They recognize no potential prey in an object emitting gasoline odors.

K. OF C. NOTES

The softball team opened the season with a victory. Since then they have lost to the VFW and the Sachems, but Manager George Wilson says they soon will be back on the victory road.

The Major Degree was conferred on a group of candidates at Bunker Hill Council Hall last evening. This class was dedicated to the memory of Bro. John F. Halligan.

Following the usual custom, there will be only one meeting in July and one in August.

The next regular meeting will be held in the Council Hall on Monday, June 16. At that time a delegate will be elected to the State Convention, as that contest ended in a tie vote at the regular election.

TROOP 4 OUTING

On Saturday, June 7, Troop 4 enjoyed their final outing at the summer home of Mrs. Ralph W. Swan in Marblehead.

Upon arrival at Goodwin's landing the Scouts, with flags unfurled and band playing marched in formation to an adjoining recreation field. Here the girls took their positions about a flag bedecked horseshoe and were addressed by Mrs. Howard W. Cole, clerk, of the State Board of Scouts. Mrs. Cole gave a most inspiring talk citing her experiences with a deaf and mute troop in Beverly. The girls were urged to seriously live up to the full meaning of the law. "A Girl Scout is kind to all, and a sister to every other Girl Scout." The troop was then individually presented to Mrs. Cole by the troop leaders and awarded the second class badge.

Then followed soft ball, swimming, and many other games, not forgetting plenty of hot dogs, hamburgs and cold drinks.

We are most grateful to the Red Cross, Mrs. Paul Eberle, Mrs. Harry Damon and Mr. Herbert Wadsworth for furnishing transportation which made our trip possible.

PRE-SEIRA DANCE AT CLUB FRIDAY, JUNE 27

The "Merry Mater of the Mystic" is in for a very merry evening indeed when, two weeks hence, the Winchester Snipe Fleet sponsors a dance for all club members and their guests. Here's a golden opportunity for one and all to "meet the fleet" and actually see them dressed up. Dress is informal but dungarees and shabby shorts, etc. are definitely banned.

A slick aggregation of musicians has been booked to supply the music both sweet and hot and dandy door prizes will be awarded the lucky ticket holders. There'll be dancing from 8 to 12 or maybe later and all for only $1.50 per couple (one male and one female, that is). Better pick up your tickets right away—fire regulations limit the capacity of the hall.

Club Chatter

Don Simonds, Sr., skippered Sinbad to its sixth win in seven starts. Once again Ted Burleigh provided the chief opposition. John Powers preserved third for Jones' Loimar . . . The Junior's were rained out as was the regular Sunday morning race . . . In one of our many mental fogs we stated that Bruce "Smith" placed second in the Junior Race. This should have been Bruce MacIntyre. We should have known he couldn't be a Smith he isn't old enough to have [illegible] raise a beard . . . Don't forget the bean supper and radio show at the club Saturday night.

CHAMP AGAIN!

At the annual outing of the Boston Paper Trade at the Charles River Country Club on Monday, Royal P. Teele of Wedgemere avenue won the horseshoes championship and some very handsome tall sterling salt and pepper shakers as a prize.

For Royal the win was a happy one, he having been time out of mind champion of the Boston Paper Trade until two years ago, when the combination of an off day and a strong opponent brought about his downfall. Last year worry over the Wells River situation and the opening of his newest antiques emporium on the Cape prevented a successful comeback, but as he left the courts with his head bowed in defeat, Royal promised himself that come hell or high water he would win this year. He was as good as his promise on Monday.

What made the victory doubly sweet was the fact that he ran into a pretty fair country pitcher early in the tournament, a State of Maine man with a good eye for the stake who was dropping them on with monotonous regularity before the matches commenced.

In the second round this contender put out the defending champion, who took Mr. Teele's measure a year ago, so when Royal got by him in the third round his stock boomed perceptibly. He was given an outside chance to recover his crown after wading through the qualifying rounds, and when he won his semi-final match a lot of wise ones in the gallery made no bones about liking the Teele chances.

Time proved them right. Royal had his shoe working, and wonder of wonders, it was going straight, so that he picked up an occasional single point when he didn't land on there.

Only a few razzberries from the die-hard malcontents tainted the hearty huzzahs that greeted Mr. Teele's return to the regal purple after victory in the final.

So far as Royal was concerned even the razzberries were sweet music to him, for now he could mingle freely with his fellow members of the Palmer Beach Horseshoe Association and need give no thought to apologia for his failure to maintain championship stature in the Boston Paper Trade. That "ex-champ" business has rankled in the Teele buzzum these many months now, and neither "Wild Willie" McLaughlin, the Pride of Stow and Champion of all Nabnasset, nor Arthur E. Butters, sometimes called the State of Maine Champ, permitted the wound to heal.

With his championship regained, Mr. Teele is now in a position to confound his hecklers, and he was looking for Butters and McLaughlin when he left the Star Office Tuesday after giving us a glimpse of the first prize silverware.

TENNIS BUMPERS

In preparation for what looks like a banner year for Winchester tennis, the tournament committee of the Winchester Tennis Association has been devoting its energies to the rating of known local players who play regularly on the town courts and who are also members of the association (one smoleon per year). As of 4 a. m. Saturday, June 7, the Men's Singles Bumper List under the careful and expert aegis of its keeper, Whit Gray, stands as follows in expert sequence: Jimmy Coon, Art Hills, Hall Gamage, Ed Williams, Bud Nutter, Jim Riley, Bill McGatagle, Whit Gray, Deb Bellows, Connie Rosander, Forbes Norris, Ken Hills, Wallace Blanchard, Charlie Watson, Dick Hills, Sheldon Caldwell, Eben Caldwell, Ken Sheldon, Doc Blanchard, Connie S. Rosander, Ken Lamprey, Ray Terhune, Ted Atkinson, Sr., Harry Bean, Bob Sackett, Les Leathers, Warren Branch, Bernie Eckberg, Doc Foldes, Dave Brinkman, Stan Seaver, Lloyd Flint, Frank Flanders, Ben Marshall, Bob Small, Dave Small, Bill Spaulding, A. G. Smith, Vic Wolff, Al Banning, Brad Hersey, Cam Ross, and Dana Sawyer.

There is nothing haphazad about progress up this long list of experts; the contests are governed by elaborate rules and regulations which are the result of generations of town play as well as bitter-sweet experience. As of the above-mentioned hour, day, and year these rules and regulations stand, perhaps even like those of the Medes, as follows:

1. The challenger must furnish good balls.
2. Any one of the first ten on the list may challenge either of the two above himself. Any one below the first ten may challenge any of the three above himself.
3. The one challenged must play the match within the next three days, weather permitting, unless he has already issued a challenge to someone else, in which case he cannot be challenged until his previously made challenge match has been played.
4. A challenge match shall be two out of three sets and the rules of the Lawn Tennis Association shall apply.
5. All disputes shall be settled by the manager of the bumper lists. The manager's decision may be appealed to the tournament committee by stating your case in detail in writing to the chairman of the tournament committee within five days after the decision of the manager has been given.
6. No one shall change the bumper list except the manager of the list or a member of the tournament committee.

BELMONT WON MIDDLESEX MEET

Winchester Second—West Shotput Winner

Belmont's well balanced track team scored 56½ points to win the annual Middlesex Interscholastic track meet at Belmont last Saturday, Winchester scoring 21½ for second place. Melrose was third with 12 and Concord fourth with 9. Lexington, usually a factor in these meets, entered no team and there were no other entries.

Concord's Valentine Muscato, National schoolboy indoor 600 yard champ, running with a leg tightly bandaged, broke the Middlesex record for the quarter with a nice 52.3s effort. Winchester's captain-elect, Ben Coe, ran his best race of the year, being caught by Coach Burns Winslow in 54.9s, some 12 to 15 yards behind Muscato in second place. Coe stumbled going around the last turn, which didn't help him any, but he still had enough to edge MacDonald of Belmont in a close finish.

The day was very cold and a strong wind bothered the runners, which makes the 2m, 4s, turned in by Ken Charles of Melrose in the half a praiseworthy performance. The Melrose redhead won all the way, but Powell of Belmont gave him a run for it and finished not too far back.

Dave Sargent of Winchester finished fourth in the half, just failing to catch Flewelling of Belmont. Dave was boxed at the start and jostled about, having to run away wide to get around the ruck of the race. Once by the laggards he lay back a bit too long before starting his sprint. He had a lot more left than Flewelling at the finish and might have beaten him with better luck.

Big John West gave Winchester its only first, taking the shot with a so-so heave of 44 ft. 9¾ in. Teammate Bill Whittemore left-handed the ball out better than 42 ft. for second place.

Pete Dillingham and Roger Creelman each finished second in their heats of the 100, won respectively by West and Wynott of Belmont, Lennie Myers chasing in Creelman for third.

West and Whynatt ran 1-2 in the final in 10.3s, but Dillingham was a good third and Creelman, fourth.

Don Berridge finished second behind the favored Bailey of Belmont in his heat of the 220, won in 23.8. Charlie Williams fought hard all the way and picked up third in his heat, won by Caskie of Belmont in 24.3.

Bailey, who won the "B" 220 at the State meet, won in the final in 24.1s, but he had to push himself to beat Berridge, who was handicapped by a pulled muscle and just didn't have it in the last 50.

The locals were [illegible] out in both the broad jump and the mile, the local jumpers all fouling [illegible] of their three trials at a takeoff that wasn't too hot. In the mile Winchester had Rocray, [illegible] and Riga, a freshman. Nugent of Belmont won in 4m. 49.5s, too fast for the local youngsters.

Coe was Winchester's only double winner, tieing for third in the high jump, won by Hurley of Belmont at 5ft. 7in. Coe did 5ft. 5in. for third place and also ran the third leg on the Winchester relay team which finished third. The local relayers dropped far behind over the first two legs, so that some good running by Coe and Berridge was in a cause already lost.

Whip Saltmarsh ran the 220 for Winchester, Pete Sorokin, the quarter, and Capt. Jack Grimes and Tom McGowan, the half. Dillingham, Myers and Harry Easton were the local broad-jumpers, Easton's 18ft. 5in., being ½in. out of the money Harry had one jump better than 19 feet on which he barely fouled. Barrett and Reed were in the high jump for Winchester but went out at the early heights.

The sumary:

100 yard dash, 1st heat 1. West (B); 2. Dillingham (W); 3. Grammas (M) 10.5s. 2d heat 1. Wynott (B); 2. Creelman (W); 3. Myers (W) 10.4s. Final 1. West (B); 2. Wynott (B); 3 Dillingham (W); 4. Creelman (W) 10.3s.

NOONAN SIXTH GRADE CHAMPS

Lincoln Fifth Grade Titlists in Playoffs

The Noonan School sixth grade baseball team, coached by "Ted" Bartlett, won its playoff game from the Lincoln School sixth graders coached by "Ray" Hayward 12-6 for the season's championship last Saturday morning before a big crowd on Ginn Field.

The Lincolns went through the season undefeated beating the Noonans in the regularly scheduled game between the two schools for the Noonans only loss. The two top teams met in the playoff, and the result very probably would have been much closer had the Lincolns not lost Moncaster, their regular catcher, with a broken finger just before the game.

The Noonans played good ball and deserved their win, but the loss of his regular receiver undoubtedly handicapped West, Lincoln hurler, who was not as effective as regularly through the season. The seven errors made behind West didn't help any either. McDonough, winning Noonan pitcher, got good support from his mates.

Coach Hayward won revenge of a sort in the fifth grade playoff which was won by his Lincoln School team from Coach Bartlett's Noonans, 15-12, with "Moosie" Bellino outpitching McDonough and Connors. The Lincolns really teed off on the Noonan hurlers, combing them for 19 hits including a triple by Bellino and doubles by Gangi and Mantini. Gangi and Queen were the big stickers of both games, getting four out of five times at bat. "Moose" Bellino's triple was the longest hit in either game. The summary:

EN KA ANNUAL MEETING

Mrs. Alvin Litchfield of Niles lane opened her home and spacious gardens last Tuesday for the annul meeting of the En Ka Society. Members brought box lunches and were served a delicious dessert and coffee by Mrs. Chandler Symmes and her committee.

Mrs. Percy Bugbee, president, presided at the meeting, which included the regular and annual reports of the various officers and committee heads. Mrs. Franklin Lane announced that the What Not Shop would be open each Thursday throughout the summer, and many members volunteered to serve.

SOCIAL SERVICE GUILD

The Social Service Guild of the First Congregational Church wishes to thank each and everyone who worked so hard during the past year on the various activities of the Guild.

The 1947-48 season will see the continuation of all projects plus the publication of a cook book which Mrs. Howard Bartlett and her committee are assembling for the church fair.

Boxes will be sent each month to care for the two war orphans the church has adopted. The clothing which is collected and mended by members of the Guild will be sent in these boxes and some will be taken to the United Church World Service Canteen in Boston. A-group of ladies will continue to go in to this Center each week to cut, mend, sort and pack clothes for world distribution.

Red Cross sewing for the Winchester Chapter will also be done by members of the Guild who meet each week at the church.

During the spring and summer months the Flower Mission has its busiest season. Flowers are collected and sent from the Winchester Station to the shut-ins, the bed-ridden and the charitable organizations in Boston.

The Social Service Guild hopes that all who are interested in the above activities will be able to give once again their very able and appreciated assistance throughout the coming year.

The second week of play in the Town Softball League was characterized by improved play on the part of the teams and increased attendance. The teams have passed the formative or try-out stage, have their personnel more firmly established, are rounding into better condition, and are playing faster, more interesting ball as a result. In the ten games played during the past week, two were decided by one run and three were won by a two-run margin.

The Sons of Italy and the Sachems still rate as the best teams in the league. The Sons of Italy continued to show tremendous power at the plate as they drubbed the Barracudas 22 to 2 and while the Sachems easily defeated the K. of C., they were given a bad scare when they nosed out the Tub Thumpers 9 to 7 and were forced to call on Andre Redding to rescue Hall Gamage in the last two innings.

The important game of the week is scheduled for Monday evening at the West Side Field when the Sons of Italy and the Sachems clash in the first of their three games. The largest crowd of the early season will be on hand to see the clash between these two leaders and a great pitching duel is in prospect between Andre Redding and "Rugged" Muraco. Following are the week's results:

What are the world's ten largest islands? How large are they, and to what sovereignties do they belong?

Excepting the continents—which in order of size, are Eurasia, Africa, North America, South America, Antarctica, and Australia—the world's land is comparatively scarce, notes the National Geographic Society. The continents cover a little more than one-fourth of the earth's surface. The myriad islands cover less than one-fiftieth. The globe's surface is 71 per cent ocean, 29 per cent land.

All the islands in the world there are 7,083 in the Philippines group alone) have less area than the United States plus Alaska. They total not a great deal more land than Australia, smallest of the continents, or Canada, or Brazil.

Two Are Seats of Empire

The ten largest islands and their areas in square miles are: 1, Greenland, 2, 827,300; New Guinea, 316,861; 3, Borneo, 290,012; 4, Madagascar, 228,642; 5, Baffin, 197,754; 6, Sumatra, 167,620; 7, Honshu, 89,009; 8, Great Britain, 84,186; 9, Victoria, 80,340; 10, Ellsmere, 77,392.

These ten alone cover two-thirds of the world's islanded area, but only one-eightieth of the total surface of the globe. They add up to about as much land surface as the 27 states of the Union west of the Ohio-Mississippi River system.

Most important of the ten are Great Britain and Honshu, renowned seats of empire. Although separated by the vast double continent of Eurasia, they are the only two wholly within the North Temperate Zone, where man thrives best. Each, thickly populated, is about the size of Minnesota. Great Britain holds London and the rest of England Scotland and Wales. Honshu, main island of Japan's five, holds Tokyo and Osaka.

Three of the ten—Borneo, New Guinea, and Sumatra—are steaming equatorial islands of the East Indian archipelago, lying north and northwest of Australia between the Pacific and Indian Oceans. The region is important for rubber, petroleum, tin and spices. Sumatra, a Netherlands possession, compares in size with California. Borneo and New Guinea, shared between the empires of Netherlands and Great Britain, are each larger than Texas.

Three Are Part of Canada

Greenland, largest of the ten, lies in chilly Arctic waters northeast of the United States and Canada. Three times as big as Texas, it is Denmark's only colony. Almost entirely covered with thick ice, Greenland counts only a few thousand people, virtually all Eskimo natives in small villages along its west coast.

Grouped together west of Greenland around the region of the North Magnetic Pole are three other islands of the world's ten largest. They are Baffin, Victoria, and Ellesmere, all Canadian, all frigid, drab, and barren except for limited tundra and plains areas that support caribou and muskox. Victoria and Ellesmere are Nebraska-size. Baffin would cover three-fourths of Texas.

Madagascar is the only island of the ten that reaches as far south as the South Temperate Zone. Nearly as large as Texas, it lies in the Indian Ocean near Africa's southeast coast. It is a tropical museum of strange plants and animals. Madagascar has been a French colony for 50 years.

TWOMBLY—BAILEY

In an attractive setting of white stock and carnations, at the Unitarian Church on Saturday afternoon, June 7, Miss Patricia Louise Bailey of Groton, Conn., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Bailey, was married to Gray Moulton Twombly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold M. Twombly of Lawson road. The Rev. Paul Harmon Chapman, minister of the church, officiated at the 4 o'clock ceremony.

Miss Bailey was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Jere R. Daniell. She wore a white organdy gown with a small train and an heirloom veil of old lace. Her flowers were white lilacs and lilies of the valley.

Miss Carol Hazeltine of Norwich, Conn., was her cousin's maid of honor and only attendant. She wore a white organdy dress with a blue sash and carried yellow Marguerites with blue delphinium.

Phillip N. Twombly of Winchester was best man for his brother, and Robert C. Twombly and Everett M. Twombly, both of Winchester and also brothers of the bridegroom, ushered, with John I. Green of Rockville Center, Long Island, N. Y., Frank B. Kelley of Winchester and Donald H. Bailey of Groton, Conn., brother of the bride.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents where flowering shrubs were used as decorations, combined with peonies, carnations and stock. The parents of the bridegroom and the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Daniell, assisted in receiving.

Mr. and Mrs. Twombly are spending their honeymoon on a Canadian cruise down the Saguenay River.

The bride attended Oak Grove, New London Junior College and took an engineering course at Mass. Institute of Technology. Mr. Twombly graduated from Syracuse College of Forestry June 2. He is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity and served for three years in the Marine Corps during World War II. He has recently been appointed Forestry Instructor at Paul Smith's College of Arts and Sciences, Paul Smith's, New York.

THE WORKINGMAN'S FREEDOM

Pathfinder News Magazine

The results of last Fall's elections indicated that the public is disgusted with labor union abuses and calling for corrective action. What many people may overlook is this: The election results could not have been so overwhelming without the votes of many hundreds of thousands of union workers. In other words, many union members themselves voted for legislators they believed they could depend upon to free them from conditions that had become intolerable.

It is not enough to draft legislation that will help understanding between labor and management; the worker himself has a vital stake at issue and his vote last November showed that he is anxious to be freed from the predicament into which our unwise labor laws have forced him.

The individual worker has little if any voice in the affairs of his union. If his leaders decide upon a strike, he must obey, even though he be desperately anxious to continue working and satisfied with his job and working conditions. Often he is afraid to voice opposition because of fear of physical violence. If he refuses to strike, his leaders can make it practically impossible for him ever to follow his chosen trade again.

Who will say that the worker enjoys "freedom" under conditions like these? A well known columnist recently published a letter written him by a workingman who complained bitterly about his helplessness in being ordered to quit work by the arbitrary decisions of his union leaders. He was particularly resentful over the fact that, although his employer had offered an increase of 15½ cents per hour, the strike was called and eventually settled for a raise of 18½ cents per hour. He lost five weeks of work and gained only three cents per hour. Subsequent strikes in other industries made his plant close down, so that he lost a total of 83 working days because of labor trouble, and his earnings in 1946 with the strike-won increase were $576 less than the previous year. His letter made it amply clear that he and many of his fellow workers are disgusted with their leaders' actions and are anxious for Congress to take steps to protect the worker's right to work.

The Constitution guarantees every citizen the right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness," and what liberty could be more important than the right to work? Every worker should have complete freedom to work or to strike, but under our labor union setup today he does not have either. The right to strike belongs only to the labor leaders, who can at their own whim compel thousands of their hapless, helpless subjects to stop work, regardless of their wishes. The "closed shop" gives their leaders the power to enforce unquestioning obedience.

In my opinion, the two things most responsible for the totalitarianism in labor unions that has deprived the individual worker of his freedom are the "closed shop" and the lack of secret balloting on strike proposals. The "closed shop" is monopolistic, totalitarian, completely contrary to the basic principles of democracy, for it places in the hands of a few individuals the authority to say who shall or shall not work. As to secret balloting on strike proposals, if a majority of the union membership is in favor of striking, the leaders need not fear the results of a secret vote. Balloting would be useless if it were not secret, for many workers are afraid to express publicly antagonism to their masters' decrees. Resistance to secret balloting would indicate the leaders are not certain their members are behind them but are determined to force their will anyhow.

Every union member who resents his helplessness in controlling his leaders' actions should voice his views to his Congressman.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

Increased Use of the Hospital Book Service

The book service at the Winchester Hospital, under the auspices of the Winchester Public Library, has grown greatly in the four years since it was established, and is still using improvised equipment. The book truck, which was the gift of En Ka is the only real library item, and it is a very important one. For the first five months of this year 100 more books were used than in the corresponding period last year. To fill this ever-increasing demand more books are purchased from the Hospital Book Fund. Additional books are borrowed from the Winchester Public Library for the special requests, thus filling the small book case to capacity. We are looking forward to increased book case capacity with resulting greater variety in the books available and in our ability to supply types of books asked for.

The Librarian has many requests for material on baby care but limited space and lack of funds have made it impossible to have a collection of good books on infant and child care. Up until now it has been possible to borrow such books from the main library, but the increased demand for these books from the Family Room at the Library makes it impossible to draw on that source in the future.

The greetings which the Hospital Librarian receives on her Tuesday afternoon visits are interesting and indicative. "I have been waiting for you. I have finished all the books you left last week. Do you have some more new ones?" "Isn't this wonderful; I didn't know you had this service." "I have been wishing for something to read and here you are with books." "I don't feel like reading just yet, but please bring the book truck in and tell me about the service."

Books for the nurses are an important part of this service too; not only are the nurses avid readers but they also stimulate the reading interests of the patients. It is not unusual to see two or three nurses grouped around the book truck as it passes through the corridors and to hear comments such as these: "Have you read this one? I had it a couple of weeks ago and it is very good." "Isn't this that best seller that has just been reviewed?" "Mrs. Smith down the corridor would like this book. Will you stop in with it?"

All this enthusiasm for book service at the Hospital makes us realize how much this service is appreciated by the patients and nurses. We hope to be able to use a larger and more varied collection of books in the not too distant future and to have attractive facilities for the ambulatory and wheelchair patients.

TRIBUTE TO "TOM" McGOWAN

Editor of the Star:

For almost 14 years Winchester has had the competent, untiring and splendid service of Thomas C. McGowan, its superintendent of Parks and Playgrounds.

The duties of that position require a rare combination. There are the park areas with lawns, shrubs and flowers, particularly the roses. All except the blind realize how well tended these beauty spots have been.

The grounds on which recreative games are played require an entirely different point of view if good results under the conditions are obtained. To this part of the work Tom McGowan brought sympathetic understanding and creative intelligence.

These same qualities proved of enormous value when the development of water sports was in order. Our two beaches, with sand made from the town gravel pit for the purpose, were planned and constructed by Tom McGowan to meet the exacting requirements of Amateur Athletic Union competition.

For three long summer months during many years, this devoted servant of the public gave evening hours, after his other work was done, to visiting the beaches and guiding the attendants there employed.

To him, more than to any other person, is due the eminence of Winchester in swimming. No municipality, unless equipped with an indoor pool, compares in effectiveness with what has been made available here. Small children are taught how to manage for themselves in water and older ones are inspired to strive for technical excellence.

The high skill and the willing spirit of the man have blessed the entire town and have set a standard for the region.

And now he has passed beyond the veil to join the great majority. The gratitude of thousands cherishes the memory of an outstanding benefactor, Tom McGowan.

MORE ABOUT SUGAR, REAL "SUGAR"

Editor of the Star:

Lately you published a little squib to the effect that Congressman Rogers was hard on the job trying to get more sugar for the housewife. And you published a copy of her letter to Secretary Anderson demanding that sugar controls be abolished. The item obviously originated in the Congressman's own office and in view of this week's cancellation of control it seems a little bit like trying to steal a little credit where none is due.

Nevertheless, methinks the lady was too modest for that was nothing to the real sugar she's trying to get for some of her favorites. In the above instance the citizen pays for sugar and gets it at so much a pound. In the following instance he just pays for it.

Listen to this from a news item in the Boston Herald: "Washington, (A. P.) Edith Nourse Rogers, chairman of the House Veterans Committee announced that a subcommittee soon will recommend a boost in the subsistence allowance of veterans going to school under the G. I. Bill of Rights. . . . This estimated EXTRA (capitals mine) cost is $149,000,000.00.

"Mrs. Rogers appeared before the Rules Committee in behalf of another veterans-aiding measure and asked for floor action on it. The veterans committee approved it April 9th. This bill would raise the wage allowance ceiling for some 600,000 veterans taking on the job training . . . . The bill would make the government pay up to $65.00 per month for single men and up to $90.00 for those with one or more dependents."

Now Mr. Editor take pencil and paper and check with me. Assume that all benefitting are single and get only the $65 per month extra over what their employer pays them. Multiply $65 by 12 months by 600,000 veterans and we get $468,000,000.00.

Mr. Editor that is sugar. And you and I will be expected and made to pay for it but some 600,000 other guys get that sugar.

I am sure many have written to our representative (or is she?) that we want government to cut down expenditures and we voted for her on the strength of the promise by the party under whose designation she ran that expenditures would be cut. Is this her way of keeping that promise?

Her reported action in these two instances having to do with "sugar" reminds me of another lady in high position a long time ago she said "Let them eat cake".

She lost her job and her head.

Isn't it time for us to begin to think about 1948?

FISHER SUMMER PREPARATORY SCHOOL

It is very serious for high school boys and girls to go through the summer with a sense of defeat just because they have failed in one or two school subjects. The difference between success and failure is, in the majority of cases, only a matter of mental attitude. When a student feels that he is a failure, a change of attitude is essential. This change can be secured through mastery of the subjects in which the student has failed to secure passing grades.

The Fisher Summer Preparatory School at 374 Broadway, Somerville, was organized eight years ago to help high school students to make up work in which they had failed. All high school subjects are taught. The small classes and individual attention given by the teachers help each student to progress as rapidly as he can.

Mrs. Florence A. Locke, who has been connected with the Fisher School for many years, is director of the summer school. She is at the school office each day advising parents and students about their summer courses and taking enrollments.

The summer school opens on July 7 and continues until Aug. 15.

"CHUCKER" ROCHE BACK HOME

"Chucker" Roche, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Roche of Westley street, has returned home after a stretch of Army duty in the Pacific area.

He has received his discharge and is planning to return to Harvard in the fall. This should be good news for the Crimson since "Chucker", a former Winchester High three sport star, showed a lot of promise as a football and baseball player at Cambridge before entering the service at the end of his freshman year. With superb condition and added weight he should be a strong candidate for the eleven this fall.

WINCHESTER ADVERTISING MEN ELECTED

Mr. Raymond C. Strawbridge of Myrtle terrace and Selectman Morris B. Kerr of Lewis road were elected to office in the Advertising Club of Boston at the annual meeting of the organization held Tuesday at the Hotel Statler in Boston. Mr. George C. Wiswell of Fletcher street at the same time concluded his administration as president of the club.

Mr. Strawbridge was elected president of the club. He is associated with the advertising firm of Dickey-Raymond Inc. Mr. Kerr, national advertising director of the Boston Post, was elected to the board of directors.

E. Edward O'Brien of Woburn, former resident of this town, recently observed his 58th birthday. A lot of Winchester men remember "Rouse" when he was janitor of the high school back in the days before World War I and recall his ability on the basketball court during impromptu scrimmage sessions in the high school gym. Many a cocky young schoolboy had his wings well clipped and his ego deflated by the canny "Rouse".

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer O'Leary are the parents of a daughter, born June 7 at the Winchester Hospital. Mrs. O'Leary is the former Rita Connolly of Melrose. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John S. O'Leary of Washington street.

Residents in the vicinity of Ginn Field who were awakened before 5 o'clock Tuesday morning by what at first seemed to be a riot of sorts on the playground, accompanied by raucous shrieking and the blaring of auto horns, will be relieved to learn that the rumpus was just a ball game staged by a group of high school girls and boys who still had steam to let off after a house-party following graduation. It speaks well for the patience of the neighborhood that no calls were received by the gendarmes during the game, for the noise was something on the heavy side and noise is not what one wants most in the hours before six!

"Bill" Cusack, son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Cusack of Lakeview road, arrived home Wednesday after graduating that morning from the Choate School in Wallingford, Conn. He won letters in football, hockey and crew and received the Nash Award given to the boy showing the greatest improvement in crew.

Tuesday a woman excitedly approached Officer John Hogan in the center, telling him she had left her pocket book on a Stoneham-bound bus, jumping into a patrol car, Officer Hogan overtook the bus and found the pocketbook where the woman had left it. She was overjoyed at the return of her property.

Among those graduating from Mass. School of Art on Sunday, June 9 was Janet Douh of 23 Sargent road. Commencement exercises were held at the School on Brookline avenue, Boston. Miss Douh during her four years has majored in drawing and painting.

A total of 63 dogs was immunized Wednesday afternoon by Dr. William Buckley at the dog clinic at the town hall. The next clinic will be held at the town hall June 18.

The Board of Selectmen has appointed Francis J. Murray of 23 Salem street, and Richard H. Dempsey of 907 Main street, as special police officers for summer duty.

Work preliminary to the reconstruction of Manchester Field has been continuing this week. Men also began the resodding of worn spots on last year's football grid iron with sod taken from the old Manchester Field area.

Charles W. Haggerty of Loring avenue was among the list of 150 success-ful candidates for appointment to the State Police. He should make a good looking officer as he stands above the 6 ft. mark and is well put together. He is well liked in the North End and his appointment a popular one.

The Fire Department was called at 10:43 Wednesday night by an alarm from Box 44 for a fire in a garage at 8-10 Water street, owned by Alfonso DeFilippo. The fire was believed to have started from rubbish at the rear of the garage It burned a hole through the rear wall of the building and also broke through the roof at one spot near the eaves. There were no machines in the garage.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC PLANTS STARTED IN SCENIC SCOTTISH HIGHLANDS

The Scottish Highlands are soon to pay dividends. Long the inspiration of song and romance, scenic attraction of tourists, playground of sportsmen, Highland rivers are being harnessed for hydro-electric power. Under a broad development plan involving proposed expenditures of $260,000,000, dams and power plants are being built.

The source of this power is an abundant fall of rain and snow, says the National Geographic Society. Parts of the western Highlands receive more than 80 inches of rain yearly. On higher mountains the amount is greater. Ben Nevis, 4,406 feet, highest peak in the British Isles, receives precipitation totaling about 150 inches.

No Scottish mountain is snow-capped throughout the year, but wind-blown drifts caught in valleys where little sunshine penetrates may last all summer.

The mountains lost their timber wealth long ago. Forests were destroyed because they protected wolves, boars, and outlaws. As many as 24,000 woodmen were employed at one time to clear timberland. Now five million acres of woodland are planned, without curtailment of crops.

The Highlands cover two-thirds of Scotland, northwest from a Greenock - to - Stonehaven line. Farming is so unproductive that most young Highlanders prefer to work in towns and cities. They gradually swelled the urban population to four-fifths of Scotland's five million people.

A sturdy strain of black cattle once roamed the high pastures. Then landlords found sheep grazing more profitable. Later they learned that the wealthy would pay even better for the moors for deer parks. Each change increased the migration of Highlanders cityward, or westward to the United States.

PACIFIC ISLES SOUGHT BY U. S. ARE STRATEGIC AND HISTORIC CROSSROADS

Behind the former Japanese-mandated islands of the Pacific, for which the United States is asking sole trusteeship under the United Nations, lies a many-sided story of change and war, of archeological mystery, secret fortifications, and planned economic development.

The Marianas, Marshall and Caroline groups that make up the region known as Micronesia are short on solid ground but long on ocean space, notes the National Geographic Society. Scattered over a sea area larger than continental United States, the more than 1,000 islands and islets are smaller in the aggregate than Rhode Island.

These coral and volcanic dots of the South Seas are lands of perpetual summer, where betel-chewing natives in grass skirts on mission grab like in that bed hats, and breast the surf in outrigger canoes with sails of pandanus leaves.

Jungle Covers Past

The now peaceful, palm-fringed beaches and lonely hills of Micronesia belie its long, eventful history. The jungle which is beginning to creep over the bomb scars and abandoned machinery of such battlefields as Kwajalein, Saipan, Tinian, and the Palaus, long ago closed in on the mysterious stone ruins that archeologists credit to a once-advanced civilization of a pre-historic people.

"Key to the Pacific" . . . "stationary warships" . . . "island crossroads" are descriptive phrases that hint at the strategic location of the outlying empire which American forces wrested, piece by piece, from Japan.

As a Japanese mandate, these islands had extended Nipponese power close to the shores of the Philippines, the Netherland Indies, New Guinea, and well along the approaches to Hawaii. They surrounded the American outpost of Guam, ceded by Spain in 1898 and governed by the United States until it was overwhelmed in the initial Japanese attack in the Pacific.

With the exception of Guam, Micronesia has been, within the last half century, under the successive rule of Spain, Germany, Japan, and the United States.

Japanese Population Grew

Formally annexed by Spain in the 17th century, the islands were sold to Germany in 1899, following the Spanish-American War. They were occupied by Japanese forces in 1914, and after Allied victory were mandated to Japan under the League of Nations.

"Picture wives" from Japan were trained in a bride's school to make homes for the thousands of immigrants who annually moved to the new Pacific domain. Under a five-year plan begun in 1936, new communities and towns were built, Japanese style. Increases were made in plantation output of sugar cane, tapioca, pineapple, rubber, and other tropical products.

CHEESE MARKET AT ALKMAAR

The cheese carriers of Alkmaar have donned their centuries-old costumes—another sign of post-war recovery in the Netherlands.

As a center of the Edam cheese trade, Alkmaar handled as much as 200,000 pounds at its Friday morning markets before World War II, recalls the National Geographic Society. The weekly scene has always been colorful, thanks to the faithful following of local traditions.

The costumed porters carry the cheese between ships, market, and weighhouse on two-man handbarrows slung from the shoulders by suspenders. They shuffle along with a rapid mincing step designed to prevent the cheese balls from falling off the barrows, where they form pyramids weighing up to 350 and 400 pounds.

Straw Hats Match Barrows

In summer these carriers wear white linen suits with straw hats lacquered green, blue, red, or yellow to indicate the guild divisions to which they belong. Their handbarrows are of corresponding colors.

This medieval guild has a clubroom in the old weighhouse where pewter mugs line the walls. Beer is provided without cost to the carriers, who hold a position of poor pay but much honor.

In front of the weighhouse, a pre-Reformation chapel, is a windy, cobbled square where the market is held. The cheese arrives by canal barge or is brought in by blue-frocked farmers, whose carts are covered with black leather hoods and curtains, highly varnished.

On arrival, the glossy yellow balls are tossed—often two at a time—by skillful cheese throwers, and are piled in rows. After purchase, the lots are covered with tarpaulins. Those intended for shipment abroad are usually taken to warehouses and painted a bright scarlet.

Retains Ancient Appearance

Many visitors used to time their arrival at Alkmaar with these Friday markets, but the city has other features that attract travelers. It is a characteristic Dutch town whose quaint brick buildings with their steep roofs appear much as they did centuries ago.

Two canals and many drawbridges connect narrow tree-arched streets. The old brick and grey stone church of St. Lawrence, its tower long gone, has featured Alkmaar history since the 15th century, contains the municipal museum of paintings and antiquities.

Aklmaar was never wholly dependent on tourist trade, or the cheese market. Before the war its canning and iron industries, foundries and machine shops, and shipbuilding yards could support the 30,000 population.

The city's name, which means "All Sea", dates back to times when the community was largely surrounded by a morass and lakes. The morass has since been drained. Parks have replaced the old wall and fortifications, which now afford distant views of windmills dotting the low-level country.

GRADUATION

Led by their class officers, the seniors marched to their seats to the strains of Elgar's majestic march, "Pomp and Circumstance" played by the high school orchestra, directed by Fred Felmet. Rev. Mr. Heverly made the invocation, after which Class President John West welcomed the guests to the exercises.

All four of the student addresses dealt with the United Nations, that being the theme of the graduation exercises. A graphic presentation of the United Nations set-up appeared in the printed program.

Miss Borden's subject was "The United Nations", Santo spoke upon "Control of the Atomic Bomb", Miss Reeves, on "The UNESCO", and Hicks, on "Problems of the United Nations". The essays showed careful preparation and were well presented, holding the attention of the graduates and the audience generally.

Interspersing the addresses a selected chorus, directed by Mary Ranton Witham, music director at the Unitarian Church, sang the "Prayer" from Humperdinck's opera, "Hansel and Gretel" and "Beautiful Saviour", a Silesian Folk Song. Following the addresses the school orchestra played an excerpt from "Marche Slave" by Tschaikowsky.

Mr. Schneider announced the awards of the Foundation Scholarship Committee, presenting the Comdr. Richard W. MacAdams Memorial Award, of $350, given by Winchester Post, 97, the American Legion, to Joseph Santo, Jr.; the Teachers' Club Scholarship of $250, to Joan Edith Read and Foundation Awards of $300, each to Ellen Hight, Barbara Dennison Howe and John Flynn Grimes.

Honor Awards by the Foundation for scholarship, character and citizenship were announced by Principal Grindle and went to Marjorie Mae Norris, Barbara Ann Johnson, Charles Stevens Enright and Rosanne Borden. Miss Johnson also won a special $500 scholarship presented by Smith College, Enright won one of the Navy Scholarships at Harvard and Miss Borden, the Mary D. Davis Award given by the Winchester College Club to the girl adjudged outstanding in scholarship, character and leadership.

Mr. Grindle also announced Phyllis Mary Boyle as winner of the Elizabeth L. Naven Award, going to the highest ranking graduate who previously attended the William G. Noonan School, and Miss Norris as winner of the Washington and Franklin History Medal. He also announced Cynthia Watson as winner of a $400, special award from the Smith College Club.

Miss Norris, winner of 2d prize in the State United Nations Contest, has not been absent or tardy during the four years of her high school course. She is entering Rollins College. Miss Johnson, who is going to Smith, won the D. A. R. "good citizenship" medal. Miss Borden, winner of 2d prize in the National United Nations Contest, is the highest ranking student in the class of 1947. Enright, highest ranking boy graduate, was one of 2600 chosen from among 60,000 applicants to take the Navy College officer training course. He will receive free tuition at Harvard and free books with a small amount of money yearly for four years.

Prof. Borden announced the Jere A. Downs estate awards, administered by the School Committee, as being won by Jane Sharon, Barbara Gaffney, Dean Blanchard, Jr., and Joan Standish Millett. These awards, theoretically equal, are for $300 or $400 each, the difference in amount being determined by the tuition charge of the college to be attended by the recipient.

Prof. Borden presented the diplomas to the graduates, assisted by Principal Grindle. A notable exception was when Superintendent of Schools Forbes H. Norris, came from his place in the audience to the platform to present her diploma to his daughter, Marjorie. Prof. Borden also had the pleasure of presenting her diploma to his daughter, Rosanne, both girls being outstanding members of the graduating class.

The benediction was given by Rev. Mr. Heverly.

DALLAS—RANLETT

Miss Cynthia Ranlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Ranlett of 17 Dix street, was married on Wednesday afternoon to William Dallas of Fresno, Cal., at a quiet home wedding, at which only the immediate family was present.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church. The double-ring ceremony was used, and immediately afterward the bride and groom left for Fresno, where Mr. Dallas is chief announcer for Station KARM, the Fresno affiliate of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Miss Elsie Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Murray of 9 Everett avenue, was graduated from Dana Hall School at Commencement exercises last Sunday afternoon in the Wellesley Congregational Church.

BEN R. SCHNEIDER
Chairman, Foundation Scholarship Committee

HOW SCHOLARSHIP FOUNDATION WINNERS WERE CHOSEN

The Winchester Scholarship Foundation continued the precedent started last year and again participated in the awarding of scholarships and honor certificates at the High School graduation exercises. The honor awards follow out the Foundation's fundamental objective of recognizing and stimulating high scholarship and other outstanding merit.

The committee wishes to stress that in making the scholarship awards, all honors are to be considered equal. When amounts differ as they do, the college chosen was considered and here the committee found a sharp variation in tuition fees and other expenses. This divergence was quite properly taken into account.

For scholarships, all members of the Senior Class who had grades over 80 were considered, and that group was judged, with the invaluable help of the teachers, according to the following characteristics: ability, character, citizenship, industry, leadership, maturity, personality, and scholarly achievement. Applications were received from both the students and their parents. The information contained in them, the interviews with the teachers, the teachers' ratings on characteristics, were then made the basis of judgment for making the awards.

For honor awards, only students of top ranking scholarship were judged. The next step was to carefully consider the characteristics ratings mentioned above. The combination of high rank in both scholarship and in the characteristics ratings finally determined those chosen for this coveted honor.

Mr. Ben R. Schneider, as chairman of the Scholarship Committee, awarded the scholarships at the exercises on Monday. Mr. Wade L. Grindle, in his dual capacity as a member of the committee and High School Principal, made the honor awards.

The aims and purposes of the Foundation can be best expressed by an excerpt from the remarks made by the chairman, preceding the awards. He said:

"During recent years the people of Winchester have shown a growing awareness of the importance and necessity of scholarships for the further education of outstanding members of the Senior Class. A steady growth has occurred in the amount of money raised each year, in the number of organizations participating, and in the size of the scholarships given.

"For some time it had seemed that the various groups should be co-ordinated and activities expanded so that all the people of Winchester would have an opportunity of assisting in this work.

"To this end the Winchester Scholarship Foundation was planned and organized. Its purpose is to award, or assist in the award, of scholarships, to receive and distribute funds for these purposes, and otherwise stimulate and recognize scholastic excellence or other outstanding merit.

"Before the scholarships and honor awards are made, I want to read you the names of the contributors to the Scholarship Fund. This list is truly representative of all of Winchester, and it indicates, I believe, the very general support that the organizers of the Foundation hoped to achieve."

These gifts, this year, total approximately $2660.

The presentations will be made in two groups, the scholarship awards, and the honor awards, but I wish to emphasize that in both groups the students are outstanding members of the Senior Class. In the scholarship group, the differences in tuition rates of the various colleges were taken into consideration in determining the scholarships to be awarded.

The names of the scholarship and honor award winners will be found in the account of the graduation exercises contained in this issue of the Star.

A great deal of gratitude is due to Mrs. Lyman B. Smith, Chairman of the General Committee, and to Mrs. George Chatfield, last year's Chairman of the Scholarship Committee. As a result of their great interest and untiring efforts, this Foundation is now launched on a sound and successful career.

Mrs. George Marks is Secretary of the General Committee, and Mr. Leslie Scott is Secretary-Treasurer of the Foundation. The following people are members of the Board of Trustees:

Mr. James Nowell, Chairman
Mr. Joseph Worthen
Mr. Robert Stone

The Scholarship Committee is composed of the following members:

Mr. Ben R. Schneider (two year term).
Mrs. Henry K. Spencer (three year term).
Mr. John I. Donovan (four year term)

25 YEARS AGO

June 9, 1922

The annual Winchester Horse show, held at Aigremont, the estate of Mrs. Oren C. Sanborn, on Monday, proved the most successful and brilliant event of its kind yet held here. Over 1500 people from Greater Boston attended during the day, and some of the finest horses in this section took part.

Miss Dorothy Hill of this town, a Junior at the Boston University College of Secretarial Science, will sail for China on Aug. 15, where she will start her duties as secretary to Sidney Gamble of the Princeton section of the Y. M. C. A. Miss Hill has accepted the position for three years.

Monday was one of the hottest days of the year, a high temperature and extreme humidity making the day very uncomfortable.

The police department has received four riot guns.

The scores made by the New England Seniors' Golf annual get-together this week was:

A. P. Smith	94	22	72
G. M. Brooks	90	16	74
Sidney Gleason	94	19	75
F. M. Smith	106	26	80
N. H. Seelye	101	18	83
H. S. Underwood	113	30	83

Another Winchester girl to receive a gold medal for proficiency in typing is Miss Hazel McKenzie of Thompson street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McKenzie.

Stephen W. Ryan of this town, has been elected president of the Green Key Society at Dartmouth College.

Mr. Flavel Shurtleff of this town was elected secretary and treasurer of the National City Planning Conference at the closing session of the three days meeting at Springfield Wednesday night.

The work of replacing the old Bacon street bridge is progressing rapidly. The well known Boston firm of J. R. Worcester & Co., has been selected to handle the engineering part of the structure and Mr. Ralph S. Vinal of this town, who already has many creditable examples of his work and ability about Winchester, will take care of the landscape features. In general the bridge will be built with concrete abutments and brick, and seamed face granite facing.

This week has broken several records for heat at this season of the year. Wednesday and Thursday reached a temperature seldom exceeded during a summer season. In our square the glass was over 100 during the middle of the day.

At the Andover-Exeter meet Saturday, John Watters of this town was the winner in the mile and half mile runs, representing Exeter.

Daily Philosophy

A practical joke is much like an electric coupe, it goes all right if it doesn't try to go too far.

There are a great many men who holler if their wife isn't home when he gets there to supper and directly after supper he goes out somewhere himself.

After all, times don't change much, the only difference is: Our fathers when coming home late nights pleaded Horse Colic but now its engine trouble.

50 YEARS AGO

June 11, 1897

Winchester's new National Bank continues to grow in the estimation of the inhabitants, and many persons are beginning to wonder how they got along in the past without it. Its convenience is appreciated more and more. The number of depositors is increasing daily, and the announcement that small accounts are welcomed equally with the large, has been most favorably considered by the ladies and others.

Rev. Duncan A. McPhie, formerly of this totwn, has been installed as pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian Church of Lowell.

The parkway along the shores of Mystic Lake is about completed. For all who can take the walk, the effort will be well repaid.

Mr. George S. Littlefield is serving his 19th year as member of the School Board, which speaks well both for the Judge and the town.

Work is being pushed on the Arlington and Winchester Electric Railroad. The management will do all that they agreed to, and the cars will be running on time.

It will afford a sense of relief to many persons to know that the County Commissioners have decided to extend Highland avenue. Now let the Selectmen build the old portion of that street in the manner that it should be.

The same old complaint, poor electric lights, again confronts the Board of Selectmen.

An effort is being made to have the tracks of the new electric road cross the rails of the B. & M. at right angles instead of using the present No. Woburn tracks and swinging aound in front of Sanderson's store. This is the only safe way to have cars cross the steam road.

There is talk of organizing a Woburn-Winchester Boulevard Association for the purpose of keeping alive the question of a circuit boulevard. Our citizens will be asked to join.

Superintendent Dotten of the Water Department made the necessary change in the pipe at the High Service Reservoir Tuesday, and yet all the water takers had a full supply. The water was carefully and moderately pumped into the main pipe while the change was being made. The work was cleverly done, and the anticipated shut off did not materialize as was thought.

Father Madden has shown commendable enterprise in making St. Mary's Church edifice one of the prettiest in this section. Curbing has been placed inside the walk and other improvements are being made about the grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Rice will go to California to attend the Y. P. S. C. E. Convention. On the return journey they will stop over to visit their son, Mr. Calvin Rice, who is in Montana.

The Legislature is nearly through its work, it is said. There is thankfulness even in this announcement.

The only bright feature of the present diagreeable month thus far have been the June weddings.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS JOHN WALLACE SUTER, CLERGYMAN

Born: June 18, 1890 at Winchester, Mass.

John Wallace Suter is a distinguished and nationally known clergyman and author. The early years of his life and career were spent in greater Boston, and thus many of us may remember him as the son of John Wallace and Helen (Jenkins) Suter, and as a student at Harvard College where he received the degree of A. B. in 1911. After studying for one year (1911-12) at the Union Theological Seminary, New York, N. Y., he pursued further training at the Episcopal Theological Seminary, Cambridge, Mass., where he was granted the degree of Bachelor of Divinity in 1914. Hobart College awarded him the degree of Doctor of Divinity in 1932.

Dr. Suter was made deacon of the Protestant Episcopal Church in 1914 and ordained priest in 1915. He was educational secretary of the Diocese of Massachusetts and a member of the staff of St. Paul's Cathedral, Boston, from 1920 to 1925, and served as executive secretary of the department of religious education of the National Council of Protestant Episcopal Churches from 1925 to 1933. For the next 11 years, he was rector of the Church of Epiphany, New York, and since 1944 he has been dean of the Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, Washington, D. C.

Other church activities include: custodian of the Standard Book of Common Prayer in 1942, and secretary of the Standing Liturgical Commission of the Episcopal Church since 1940.

Dr. Suter is noted for his religious writings, and some of his works are "Creative Teaching", 1924, "Open Doors in Religious Education", 1931, and "Prayers of the Spirit," 1941.

He was married to Margaret Sturgis on March 26, 1913, is the father of three children and makes his home in Washington, D. C.

S. W. AFRICA EXPORTS MILLIONS OF LAMBSKINS

In South-West Africa, which the Union of South Africa wants to annex, diamonds yielded their position as a leading export to the rapidly expanding volume of Karakul lamb pelts destined for coats in Great Britain and the United States.

Since 1920, recalls the National Geographic Society, South-West Africa has been administered by the neighboring Union of South Africa under a League of Nations mandate. It was a German colony from 1884 to 1915. Late in that period, pure-bred Karakul sheep were imported from Bukhara, now a part of the Uzbek Soviet Socialist Republic.

Stock-Raising Country

These Karakuls from the northern edge of the Iranian plateau were crossed with South-West Africa's native, clothing-wool sheep. The resulting lambs' fur was not so tightly curled and lustrous as that of the pure-bred Persian strain, but it has always been in demand, as proved by the recent phenomenal growth of the trade.

In 1926, a mere 10,000 pelts were shipped from the South-West African collection center at Windhoek. In 1936, the total reached 800,000. Despite World War II and scarcity of ships, exports increased to 2,300,000 skins in 1941 and to 2,529,000 in 1944. The size of the territory's Karakul sheep "population" is roughtly represented by doubling the pelt export figures.

One-fifth larger than Texas, South-West Africa borders the Atlantic Ocean for 1000 miles south of Angola (Portuguese West Africa). The Tropic of Capricorn cuts across its center. Sparsly settled, It counts only one African native for each of its 318,000 square miles. Large reserves of land have been set aside for Hottentots, Hereros, Damaras, and other old tribal groups.

Germans Dominate Trade

On the map, South-West Africa is shaped like a minnow net, its handle reaching 300 miles north-eastward to touch the Rhodesias. The handle is cattle country; sheep and goats graze in the cooler south. Averaging 3600 feet above sea level, the land is too arid for grain crops. Most of the rivers flow only for one month of the year, but water is readily raised from wells sunk in dry river beds.

The territory's 30,000 Europeans include nearly 10,000 Germans, who dominate its economic life. Many have made new fortunes on the growing Karakul trade. A Union of South Africa law passed in 1928 automatically naturalized virtually all South-West Germans, but the naturalization was rescinded during World War II.

Windhoek, capital and largest town, lies close to South-West Africa's center. Modern city facilities serve its 6,000 Europeans and 12,000 natives. Keetmanshoop is the southern inland center. Swakopmund and Luderitz are the chief coast settlements, serving as resorts as well as ports.

DR. BARONE AND MR. SYMMES DISTRICT NURSING SPEAKERS

Dr. William D. Barone, School Physician, and Mr. Chandler Symmes, Chairman of the Board of Health, were the key speakers last Friday, June 6, at the meeting of the Winchester District Nursing Association, held at the spacious home of Mrs. Erskine N. White, Rangely. Mrs. William A. Kugler, president of the Association, presided, with Mrs. Alfred Higgins as acting secretary. Mrs. William Spaulding, treasurer, reported.

Dr. Barone spoke of the examinations which the department offers to children entering kindergarten or first grade, and said that "already over 30 per cent of the pre-school children have been examined, with more coming in every day. This is a continuation of our plan to examine all school children —to make sure that each child is in good health, to correct any defects he may have, and to notify parents if there is any defect or problem."

He told of the audiometric tests which have been given to seventh, eighth and ninth grade pupils by Mrs. Ethel Savage, school nurse, and of the vision tests she has given to all third graders.

Dr. Barone further told of progress in the athletic category, stating that "high school pupils going out for sports will be examined now before school ends, rather than having them wait until fall."

Dr. Barone touched on the work of the school department, working with the Board of Health, in regulating the spread of communicable diseases. He also spoke of the work his department is doing on "emotional unstability" in the child, and just how this could be solved with parental cooperation.

Another vital point brought out in the question period later concerned chest x-rays, and Dr. Barone said that "all Juniors and Seniors were given chest x-rays last year if they were absent from school when previous x-rays were made, and this year I am advising all teaching personnel to have the x-rays taken. This year we gave our cafeteria personnel the opportunity to have chest x-rays taken, and a splendid percentage did so."

On the matter of "Home Nursing Courses" which the Red Cross offers to high school girls, Dr. Barone waxed most enthusiastic. "I urge more girls to become interested in this course, which I feel is one of the most important in our schools. Before, this course has been taken solely by girls who do not plan to go on to colloge; this is a mistake. All girls should take the course. Mothers should urge daughters to take it. It would be vastly easier for future mothers if they had this home nursing course!"

Calling his department's chief function "the control of communicable diseases" in the community, and offering his department's aid and cooperation to all health agencies, Mr. Symmes pointed out the progressive steps which the Winchester Board of Health has taken —the baby clinics; clinics to check on TB; dental clinics, originally for children up to the fourth grade, and this year going through the sixth grade up to the Junior High pupils.

Asked about chest x-rays, Mr. Symmes said that in the coming year the State Health Department will offer x-rays to all citizens wishing them.

As to "restaurant supervision," he stated that "we can get restaurant supervision from the State just for the asking. The State will send out men to check on those who cook and serve food in our restaurants. But there is no law in this state to demand the examination of restaurant people."

Mr. Symmes also called the Association's attention to the meeting of the Citizen's Committee in June to solve the great problem of "so many different boards of health, all with different standards in this state. It is suggested that trained health officers be employed for every 25,000 persons — and that should do much to help coordinate these Boards."

Business Session at 11 A. M.

A business session was held in the morning from 11 to 12.30, with Mrs. Kugler presiding. After the roll call, reports were read by Mrs. Higgins, and Mrs. Spaulding.

Miss Alice Peterson of the staff reported 389 visits in May, 372 to homes, 17 to the office; 290 visits to non-communicable cases; 19 visits to babies under one month; 8 to babies over 1 month; 9 nursery school visits; 5 social service. To date, 1788 visits have been made by WDNA nurses, 44 less than last year at this time.

Reports were given by Mrs. Hazen Ayer, chairman of the Educational Committee; Mrs. James Dwinell, Jr., submitted amendments to the by-laws, which were adopted unanimously; Mrs. Henry Moffette and Mrs. Higgins reported on the Tuberculosis Institute in May, which 5 Association delegates attended.

Budget Nearly $10,000

Mrs. Ben Schneider, finance chairman, reported that the budget for the coming year will total nearly $10,000. Estimated receipts total $9,974,000, with $3000 from the Community Fund.

Lunch Served

Members brought their box lunches, and were served coffee, sherbet and cakes by Mrs. James Russell and her committee.

In the afternoon, Miss Hilda Hope of the Board of Health, Mrs. Ethel Savage; Mrs. Mary Lyng, social worker, department of Public Welfare; were guests. Dr. Barone and Mr. Symmes were speakers on the afternoon program.

ANNOUNCING.... New England's biggest blessed event

NO new parents were ever prouder than are the 18,000 employees of the Boston and Maine Railroad and the Maine Central Railroad in announcing the biggest "blessed event" in New England's railroad history.

24 new "babies" — each of them an $85,000 beauty — which will provide the first new, postwar, super-deluxe coach trains in New England. 16 new coaches; 4 new coach-baggage cars and 4 new restaurant-lounge cars. It's a $2,000,000 improvement in New England's railroad service and another "first" for the B and M and the Maine Central.

Regardless of what certain widely publicized railroad critics say, we, like most other American railroads, are neither standpatters nor pessimists. We have been modernizing for years. The idea that we must improve passenger equipment is with us always. You'll remember, no doubt, it was these two Northern New England railroads which, 12 years ago, presented New England with the first streamlined train of any railroad east of the Mississippi.

Some 75,000 persons simply raved about our new "babies" last week when we had four of them on exhibition in 13 places from Boston's North Station to Bangor, Maine. And well they might, for nothing like them — or even approaching their luxury and comfort — has ever before been offered the traveling public in coach travel.

Today the first of them go into regular service on the Boston-Portland-Lewiston-Brunswick-Augusta-Waterville and Bangor run. Close behind will be the others so that soon all three of our crack through trains on the Boston-Bangor routes — the Flying Yankee, Kennebec, and Pine Tree — will have as their regular equipment these shiny, new, super-deluxe coaches.

Pictured here are but two of the many luxuries and comforts which these 3 new trains will provide for coach passengers.

Note the roominess of the glass-enclosed smoking lounge, with easy chairs, with which each coach is provided. Note the young lady arranging her hair in the roomy women's powder room, with makeup table and mirror and with a divan in the spacious compartment.

The new coaches have only 56 seats, providing more comfort and room for passengers. Each of the chairs is of the "Sleepy Hollow" type, with 9 different adjustable positions for reclining as you please. The windows are 6 feet wide. Fluorescent lighting makes it "daylight after dark" inside the new cars. Hand-baggage racks overhead and storage compartments for your other bags in each car. Porter service in the coaches, too.

But you've really got to see them to appreciate the luxury of train coach travel in the postwar manner. So plan now on all your trips to-and-from Maine this summer to ride these three crack trains with their super-deluxe coach equipment.

It's just one more reason why smart travelers always go the dependable way — by train. Comfort, and safety, and dependability, no matter what the weather.

There's just one fly in the ointment of our pride in presenting these new trains. Strikes and shortages of materials have delayed some of the equipment for the 4 restaurant-lounge cars. The manufacturers now promise them in mid-summer. Until they arrive we shall have to operate our present dining cars with the new postwar coaches.

BOY SCOUTS

CAMP FELLSLAND

The Boy Scout Camp, Camp Fellsland, sponsored by the Fellsland Council will open its regular camping season on Sunday, July 6th, with Edward W. Nelson, Scout Executive, as Camp Director and Francis X. MacFeeley, Field Executive, as Assistant Camp Director in charge of program.

Camp Fellsland is owned and operated by the Fellsland Council that covers Medford, Winchester, Stoneham, Woburn and Burlington. The camp itself is located on the Powow River on the Mass. and New Hampshire line, at Amesbury. The camp covers an area of approximately 26 acres, plus an additional camp site of 10 acres where the boys go for overnight camping. The camp will run for six weeks, and during that period regular Scouting activities will be carried out. Other features will include swimming meets, volley ball, baseball, and all the outdoor activities that make a well rounded program for active boys. It is also planned to have an overnight camping trip to the White Mountains, a fishing trip, and several trips to Salisbury Beach, where the boys may enjoy surf bathing and the amusements at the beach.

The entire camp staff of some 25 young men will converge at the Scout Office on Wednesday, June 18, to put the finishing touches on getting the camp in order. The camp enrollment is coming in very heavy and boys who plan to go to camp are advised to get their registrations in as soon as possible.

All Scouts are looking forward to using the new mess hall and recreation building that is being erected through the generous gifts from Scouts, Scouters, and friends of Fellsland Council. A dedication day service is being planned during the camping season.

Information concerning the camp can be secured by calling the Scout Office at Winchester 2[illegible]

GIRL SCOUT NOTES

Beginning next week there will be no regular office hours at the Girl Scout office up to next September 1st. This by no means indicates that the office is to be closed, but with increased activity at Camp Joy it would be well to make an appointment if you wish to be sure someone is at the office.

Next Monday, June 17, at 4:30, there is to be a cook-out at Camp Joy for members of the new Storrow troop, Troop 2. Mrs. Francis Parsosns and Mrs. Robert Edgar, who are to lead this troop, will be there to meet the girls and to discuss with them next year's plans.

The first meeting of the Winchester Girl Scout Council for 1947-48 was held at the home of Mrs. George Cary, the new commissioner, on Wednesday, June 11. Dessert and coffee were served and though reports were given and ideas discussed, the atmosphere was more social than businesslike. A completely new policy for the 7th and 8th grade troops was outlined, and it was announced that, although the organization for next year is almost completed, there are still openings for people interested in either leading or assisting.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

SPRING is on the way—and you're probably planning once again for a thorough house-cleaning. But after you've scrubbed and cleaned every nook and cranny, and every wall and floor and piece of furniture is sparkling, what next? What more can you do to bring spring into

First of all, down will come the winter drapes and curtains—and up will go light and airy bits of fluff in keeping with sunny days and balmy breezes. If you desire simplicity in your curtains, make them of cotton nets, organdy, voile, marquisette, dotted swiss or batiste. But if you desire elegance, make them of ninon, lace, fine net, chiffon, point d'esprit or embroidered organdy.

There are several ways you can decorate your floors, if you take up your rugs for the summer months. Linoleum or tile floors are practical and colorful in all rooms and you can always use scatter rugs at various points. These floorings come in such a variety of color combinations and designs that today no floor need ever be guilty of drabness. Or you can use full size fibre rugs in cool colors to replace your winter rugs.

Now for another way to take up the bright garment of spring. Slip covers are a year 'round investment because once you see how they rejuvenate old or worn furniture you'll keep them on all year. Some of the most popular materials for slip covers are chintz, corduroy, cretonne, gabardine, homespun, percale, twill and denim. It's wise to buy pre-shrunk material and then you'll have no trouble in washing or dry-cleaning your covers whenever necessary. Slip cover smartness is within the scope of every budget if you make your own—and you can do this easily if you follow directions.

If you would like to try your hand at making some, you'll be interested in the leaflet we are offering today. Once you discover how easy they are to make, you'll decide that no chair should be without one. This leaflet includes directions for slip covers for side chairs. These chairs take on an important look dressed in floor length slip covers with pleated or ruffled skirts. Simpler covers—small ones for a dining room chair back and seat—greatly improve the appearance of a room and increase the durability of your chairs. If you would like to receive this leaflet, just send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Department of this paper, asking for Leaflet No. S 13-25, SLIP COVERS FOR SIDE CHAIRS.

Mr. McGowan died suddenly June 10 at the Winchester Hospital after a brief illness with heart disease. He was born and educated in Winchester and had many friends among people in all walks of life in town.

Mr. McGowan was 51 years old and succeeded the late Aaron Johnson as superintendent of the Park Department in 1932.

He leaves his wife, the former Katherine Regan of Arlington; six daughters, Helen, Rosemary, Sheila, Emily, Brenda and Patricia McGowan; two sons, Thomas P. McGowan, Jr., and Paul McGowan; his mother, Mrs. Rose (Cullen) McGowan; and a sister, Mrs. Hugh J. O'Doherty, all of Winchester.

MRS. EDNA MAY HARTWELL

Mrs. Edna May Hartwell, widow of Leslie L. Hartwell, formerly of 37 Calumet road, died early Sunday morning, June 15, at her home, 6 Crescent road, after a long illness.

Mrs. Hartwell was the daughter of Freeman, and Drusilla (Crafton) Butler. She was born Oct. 13, 1870, at Mars Hill, Me., and spent her early life in Maine, living in St. Albans until her marriage in 1888 at the age of 18.

After her marriage she and her husband lived in Lewiston and Auburn, Me., until 1902 when they came to Lynn where Mr. Hartwell engaged in the shoe manufacturing business. Later after a residence in Revere Mr. and Mrs. Hartwell came to Winchester in 1918 and made their home on Calumet road until Mr. Hartwell's death in 1931.

After her husband's death Mrs. Hartwell moved to her Crescent road address and had since made her home there. She was a member of the First Baptist Church.

She leaves a daughter, Mrs. Henry E. Simonds of Winchester, three sons, Arthur F. Hartwell of Winchester, Benjamin F., and Leslie J. Hartwell, both of Ponce, Puerto Rico; a brother, Jean Butler of Auburn, Me., a sister, Mrs. Nathan Richards of St. Alban's, Me., and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Kelley & Hawes Chapel with Rev. Walter Lee Bailey, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

HARRISON BANKS SIMPSON

Harrison Banks Simpson of 39 Grove street, died Monday, June 16, at the Winchester Hospital after a brief illness.

Mr. Simpson was the son of William Wallace, and Alice (Brower) Simpson. He was born Oct. 14, 1905, in Brooklyn, N. Y., and was graduated from Cornell University in the class of 1931, receiving his degree in electrical engineering and being a member of the Delta Sigma Phi fraternity.

Since graduating from college he was continuously engaged in paint chemistry and production work, first with the Standard Varnish Works at Staten Island, N. Y., and then with Baer Brothers in Stamford, Conn. For the past five years he had been associated with the Boston Varnish Company, being assistant superintendent and production manager at the time of his death.

He was a former president of the New England Paint and Varnish Production Club and was a member of both its Executive and Technical Committees.

On June 29, 1940, Mr. Simpson married Dorothy Parsons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Parsons of Bruce road. They lived for a time in Stamford, Conn., and later in Cambridge, before coming to Winchester two years ago.

Mrs. Simpson survives, with a daughter, Anita Rae, aged 3 years; a son, William Bryant, aged 10 months; and a sister, Helen B. Simpson of New York City.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Ripley Memorial Chapel of the First Congregational Church with the pastor, Rev. Howard J. Chidley, officiating. Organ music was played by the church organist and choirmaster, J. Albert Wilson. Interment was in Wildwood Cemetery.

THE WINCHESTER HOME AND GARDEN CLUB

The annual luncheon and meeting of the Winchester Home and Garden Club was held at the beautiful home of Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood, 5 Swan road, on Wednesday, June 11.

A delicious luncheon was served at 10 o'clock on the terrace by Mrs. J. Stewart Chaffe and her efficient committee. It was a rare June day and a rare treat to sit in such a lovely spot, amongst green trees and flowers, and to look down below and see the blue lake with a white sail skimming the surface, like a toy boat.

After the luncheon a short business meeting was held conducted by the president, Mrs. Samuel Kirkwood. They spent many hours preparing for the arrangements, and the judging was by Mrs. Trask of Melrose. In the novice class, Mrs. Percy Bugbee won first prize for a very lovely arrangement of Iris and in the experienced class, first prize were won by Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, Mrs. Beatrice Russell, and Mrs. Willard Hudson.

Everyone agreed it had been an exceedingly pleasant afternoon, wandering about Mrs. Kirkwood's beautiful grounds and home and chattering with friends, a fitting completion to a successful year.

Later in the afternoon some of the members attended the Flower Show in Buckman Tavern, Lexington, put on by the Lexington Field and Garden Club.

In the class of exhibits contributed by neighboring Garden Clubs Mrs. Norman Mitchell won first prize for an arrangement of all white flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hevey are leaving this week for their summer home at Rye Beach, N. H.

Chairman Douglas Lawson of the Community Sailing Association, Boston's popular Charles River Basin yacht club, announces the opening of registrations for juniors 12 to 18 years of age for the summer season June 26 to Aug. 30. Registration will be taken at the boathouse on the Esplanade at the foot of Revere street.

The Sons of Italy lead the Town Softball League at the conclusion of the third week of play as a result of their hectic 5 to 4 victory over the Sachems in the feature game of the week. The poise and experience of the Sons of Italy proved a valuable asset in this game as they played steadier ball and refused to "blow up" under pressure. Andre Redding pitched good ball for the losers, allowing only six hits, but did yield six passes which, combined with six errors by his teammates, was enough to give the Sons of Italy their winning margin. The Sachems made 11 hits but were unable to bunch them sufficiently and the Sons of Italy played steady defensive ball. The game was hotly contested with every close decision the occasion for the partisan crowd to express its disapproval in no uncertain terms but all left the field feeling that they had seen one of the best softball games in Winchester in many years.

Other feature games of the past week included the victory of the Barracudas over the Christopher Columbus Club in three overtime innings and the scare given the Sons of Italy by the Tub Thumpers before they succumbed in the late innings by a 6 to 0 score. Although the Sons of Italy and the Sachems are the strongest teams in the league the other teams are steadily improving and may turn in an upset on any given evening.

RED CROSS SWIMMING

"Every bather a swimmer" is the slogan for the annual swimming classes to be held at Palmer Beach and Leonard Field Beach this summer under the auspices of Winchester Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Francis Murray, former varsity football player at Winchester High School and Northeastern University, now completing his work for a degree at Holy Cross College, is to be instructor at Palmer Beach. "Frannie" was a Winchester life guard from 1936 through 1938 and in 1940 studied under the late Captain Jack Wallace, outstanding instructor in swimming, life-saving and watermanship. He was a member of the swimming team at Northeastern and during the war served for four years in the Naval Air Corps.

Helen Jay Carroll, who needs no introduction to Winchester swimming devotees, will be the instructor at Leonard Beach. Miss Carrol, newly appointed instructor of Physical Education and Coach of Girls at Winchester High School, is one of the best all around athletes developed at Winchester in recent years. A graduate of Sargent School, she has been a member of the Women's Physical Education Department at University of Maine, and has taught and coached swimming in Winchester with great success for several years. She is herself a former Junior AAU sprint champion.

Swimming classes will start Monday, June 30, at 10 o'clock at both beaches, and registration for each group will be taken one-half hour before the class commences. It is requested that all participants be registered so as not to miss any of the actual teaching time.

The schedule of classes for both Palmer Beach and Leonard Pool follows:

Monday and Wednesday
10 to 10:30 Beginners.
10:30 to 11 Advanced Beginners.
11 to 12 Life Saving (Junior).

Tuesday and Thursday

10:30 to 11 Intermediates.
11 to 11:30 Advanced Intermediates.

To accommodate the older swimmers, evening Senior Life Saving classes will be scheduled. Those interested should register at either one of the beaches, stating their preference for time of classes.

In addition there will be special Girl Scout classes at Palmer Beach, from 9:30 to 10 Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, June 24 through July 17.

SARGEANT STARS AT CLUB PARTY

The 50 or more people who neglected to get their tickets in time and were turned away from last Saturday night's bean supper, certainly missed one of the finest evenings the "Merry Manor on the Mystic" has ever enjoyed.

Even the weather man co-operated. The feast was scheduled for outside and the clouds rolled back until the last frankfurter had been disposed of before the rains came. Then everyone scurried to the club's ballroom and the fun began.

Lew Sargeant earned his fame as a very capable news-caster, but any time he choose to turn comic, Benny, Allen, et al, had better beware. Following a community sing which once again was louder than it was lovely, and which, once again found Sid Burr doing his brilliant best at the piano, Lew took over. And for one hour and a half he kept his audience completely entertained. Whether he was telling one of his famous moron jokes, scrambling a news cast, or directing the one act radio play, there was a laugh a minute. And when he bowed out at the conclusion of his hilarious drunk act, everyone agreed he was a masterful and magnetic entertainer.

Ted Burleigh, Jr., as Mr. Tittle, and George Jones as Mr. Grubble in the one act radio play, added much to the gaiety of the occasion, and Ray Strawbridge, who read an announcer's audition script with all the aplomb of a Sargeant, can get an announcer's job any time he needs it.

Club Chatter

Here's good news for the gals. The popular Wednesday afternoon bridge parties for ladies will begin next Wednesday afternoon, June 25. Reservations should be in no later than Monday. Mrs. John Alden is in charge of the party and she and Steward Ed Kent will accept your reservations or give you more information on these get-togethers.

Fleet Facts

Six of the Fleet's top skippers went out on the Mystic to meet the challenge of Medford's top skippers and returned with a sensational victory. Sailing Snipes against Comets, they completely dominated the contest, with Stretch Simonds in Sinbad leading all 12 boats across the finish line. In fact, the first four boats to finish were Snipes and except for an infraction of the rules which caused the disqualification of the fifth Snipe to finish, the score would have been completely overwhelming . . . Stretch Simonds ran Sinbad's record of victories to eight out of nine last Sunday morning, to practically assure his participation in the SCIRA National Championship at Marblehead June 14 to 18—Rodney Long sailed his Rondic to its initial win in the Junior Snipe races—He and Dickie Simonds engaged in as close a race as we've ever witnessed. Dickie brought Sinbad in first, a scant half a length ahead of Rodney, but Dick was disqualified for a foul committed earlier in the race. Bruce MacIntyre was second and Allie Litchfield finished third . . . Don't forget the Pre-SCIRA dance at the club Friday evening, June 27—dancing from 8.30 to 12.30. Door prizes for the fellow and girl holding the lucky tickets. Free refreshments—all for only $1.50 per couple. Get your tickets at the club today.

MISS BORDEN AND HICKS WON AWARDS

Editor of the Star:

In listing the many well-deserving honors won by the Winchester High School graduation in last week's issue of the Star, you inadvertently left out one of the most coveted prizes of all, namely, "The American Legion School Award" which is presented each year by Winchester Post, No. 97, to the girl and boy graduate, who in the opinions of the faculty have achieved highest honors in leadership, companpionship, courage, service, character, honor and scholarship.

The award itself is in the form of a large medallion, beautifully embossed with an accompanying certificate and lapel button.

The winners this year were Rosanne Borden, who will continue her studies at Oberlin College and Edward Hicks who intends to enter Harvard in the fall.

Ed. Note: Our apologies to Rosanne and "Eddie" and to our friends at Winchester Post.

Plans for the program of the forthcoming year were discussed. Mrs. Harlow announced an open house and tea to be held at Welcome House on Oct. 6.

The fall meeting of the circle will take place on Friday, Oct. 17 at the home of Mrs. Charles Vanner, 10 Oxford street.

The annual winter bazaar will be held at the Copley Plaza on Dec. 2 and 3.

With these and more attractions in view a full and interesting year would seem to be the promise for the Winchester Circle.

TENNIS FINALS

This year's Spring Get-Acquainted Draw Doubles Tournament has been a huge success from every point of view. The elements proved highly reasonable, so that with plenty of good will on the part of the players the tournament progressed rapidly to its close. To the delight of all entrants, and particularly those who have been following these tournaments for years, a new crop of champions has emerged.

The old-timers were right in there providing plenty of competition right down to the very last point, but all of us like to see honors distributed, and this year's results ought to come very close to squaring the social circle by pleasing everybody. The scores, eloquent in their terseness, describe all the beauty of the contests:

Hall Gamage and Ray Terhune took the finals from Bob Drake and Ken Hills, 5-7, 6-4, 6-2. Marnee Norris and Nancy Nutter won the finals from Virginia Gaffney and Dot Hills, 1-6, 6-3, 6-1. Priscilla Vincent and Allan Wright won their semi-final match from Ann Alree and Bob Horne, 6-4, 6-4, but against Lois Ladd and Peter Clark they went down fighting hard in the finals, 7-9, 6-4, 10-8. Jim Riley and Dick defeated Wallace Blanchard and Charles in the semi-finals, 6-1, 6-4, but they were defeated by Ken Hills and Dick in the finals, 7-5, 6-1.

The crowning touch of efficiency shown by this year's committee consisted in the presentation of attractive prizes immediately upon the termination of each finals match. Future committees please take note!

WILDES WON WINCHESTER FATHER-SON TOURNEY

Ralph M., and son, Douglas R. Wilde won the Winchester Country Club's second annual restricted Father and Son Golf Tournament, concluded on Father's Day after three days of exciting competition.

This tournament should not be confused wth the big open Father and Son tournament which Winchester stages during midsummer. This is a smaller affair limited to local club members, but it is already one of the most popular events on the entire club program and this year attracted nearly twice the number of entries it had a year ago.

Forty-four teams played the regulation 18 holes this year with three juniors joining nine who played in the tournament in a putting contest for the youngsters alone. This extra feature was won by Jack Page with L. Smith as runner-up. Putting competitors had the advice and coaching of scorecard-clutching dads and also the moral support of mothers, with added support in some instances from brothers and sisters in the interested gallery.

There was also a lot of general interest in the tournament with quite a few following the teams around the course.

Tournament competition was divided into two classes, A and B. The Wildes won the top division with a card of 75-65, good enough for top net honors in both divisions, and this is strictly a net tournament.

For their over-all win they had their names engraved on the "Red Apple", which is kept permanently at the 19th hole of the club, the apple being chosen instead of the usual shield or cup with the general idea that the winning son of the tourney would be pretty sure to be the apple of his father's eye.

The Wildes took home handsome Paul Revere design siver bowls for their class A win, and the runners-up Henry E. Reeves and son-in-law, David W. Shean, Jr., won a smaller silver bowl and a silver cigarette box with the box for the fags going permanently to the site.

The Reeves-Shean team had a 79-66, which didn't give the Wildes to much leeway and kept interest at a fever pitch. In third place was the team of Elmer C., and William Zirkle whose card was 87-70. The Zirkles also got a bowl and cigarette box. Incidentally Zirkle, Sr., played with four sons and in both classes of the tournament which won him top competitive honors with something to spare.

Vincent and Peter Farnsworth won the Class A "Goats" award for the highest net with a card of 132-108. Fritz Craven and "Maury" Tompkins had confidently expected to take this prize home, but the Farnsworth form was too much even for them to cope with. The Farnsworths were presented with suitably inscribed silver medals bearing the replica of a goat.

Competition in Class B was nearly as hair-line as it was in A, John E., and 8-year-old Jack Page being only two under Elmer C., and equally 8-year-old Jack Zirkle. The Pages had a 107-78 and won a handsome gold statue of a golfer, some 15 inches high, and mounted on a pedestal. The Zirkles took home a fine suitably engraved silver cup.

Though he got nothing for it but the satisfaction, Francis E. Smith was the only member to compete with a grandson, going around with David Smith, and winning the plaudits of the gallery, if no silverware.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the tournament included Fritz Craven, Dr. Robert B. Blackler, Rex MacMinn and Maurice Tompkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Butters will open their summer home at Bayside Northport, Me., this week-end.

MRS. SADIE A. DAVIS

Mrs. Sadie A. Davis, widow of Archibald B. Davis, formerly of New Rochelle, N. Y., died Wednesday afternoon, June 18, at the Winchester Hospital. She was in Winchester to visit her daughter, Mrs. Alan Switzer of 7 Oneida road, arriving only last Friday.

Mrs. Davis was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., 62 years ago and spent most of her life in New Rochelle.

Besides Mrs. Switzer, she leaves two daughters, Mrs. Wendell W. Smith of Monroe, Mich., and Mrs. Walter A. Kinsella of Harrison, N. Y.; a sister, Miss Jane Andrew of New York City and two brothers, John and William Andrew, both of New York.

Private funeral services were held this Friday morning at the Kelley & Hawes chapel with Rev. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church, officiating. Cremation followed at Mt. Auburn Cemetery in Cambridge.

Winchester Country Club walloped Weston, 11-1, in a summer twilight golf match at Winchester Wednesday.

THEATRE TRAIN

A five minute earlier departure of the "theatre train" on week-day nights and an earlier schedule of the early morning Sunday train to Boston are the only two changes affecting Wilmington, Woburn and Winchester in the new summer timetables of the Boston & Maine which become effective next Sunday, June 20. The balance of the trains on this portion of the New Hampshire Division will continue to operate as at present, according to an announcement from C. F. Palmer, Passenger Traffic Manager.

Commencing next Sunday the second inbound train will leave Wilmington at 9.30 a. m. (DST) (8 minutes earlier than at present). Stopping at North Woburn 9.30 a. m.; Central Square 9.38; Woburn 9.41; Winchester 9.46 and West Medford 9.51 this train will arrive at North Station at 10.02 a. m. (daylight time).

The new schedule of the "theatre train", commencing next Monday night shows it will leave Wilmington 7.07 p. m. (DST) (5 minutes earlier than at present) and, stopping at North Woburn 7.13; Central Square 7.16; Woburn 7.19; Cross street 7.23; Winchester 7.27; Wedgemere 7.29; West Medford 7.33 and Medford Hillside 7.35, will arrive at North Station at 7.45 p. m.

Herbert Putnam Wilkins of Cabot street graduated Sunday with honors from Phillips Exeter Academy. He was also co-winner of the academy's Ancient History Prize.

Home-owners may recall the rest of the quotation: "for want of a nail, the shoe was lost, for want of a shoe, the horse was lost . . ."

Yes, a little neglect in taking care of home repairs now may result in far heavier costs in the future. This is the time to protect your investment by restoring and renovating your property.

O'DOHERTY—SHAW

The marriage of Miss Margaret Alice Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Shaw of Vernon street, Somerville, to Hugh Joseph O'Doherty, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. O'Doherty of Canal street, took place on Sunday afternoon, June 15, at 3 o'clock in the Immaculate Conception Church with the Rev. Fr. William J. Cooney, officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and attended by her sister, Miss Isabell M. Shaw of Somerville, as maid of honor. Mrs. Mary Mills of Boston, cousin of the bridegroom; and Miss Gertrude Haggas of Providence, R. I., were bridesmaids, and Miss Phyllis O'Doherty of Winchester, sister of the bridegroom, was junior bridesmaid.

The bride wore a gown of white marquisette and Chantilly lace having a sweetheart neckline and a long train of marquisette with lace inserts. Lace edged the puff sleeves of the gown and was also inserted at the waist line. Her flowers were white roses and stephanotis arranged in a cascade bouquet.

The honor attendant wore an aquamarine marquisette dress and carried a cascade bouquet of American Beauty roses. The bridesmaids also wore marquisette dresses of pink, and carried cascade bouquets of aqua-tinted delphinium. The junior bridesmaid wore a pink organdy frock and carried a nosegay of spring flowers.

A reception was held at Knights of Columbus Hall immediately after the ceremony and at its conclusion Mr. and Mrs. O'Doherty left on a wedding journey to New Hampshire.

The bride is a graduate of Somerville High School. Mr. O'Doherty is attending Boston College.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Thayer Richardson of Lakeview road are the parents of a daughter, Diane, born June 17 at the Winchester Hospital. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice F. Bird and Mr. and Mrs. Harris S. Richardson.

SCHMIDT—LARSON

An out-of-town wedding of interest was that of Miss Sylvia Elin Larson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Larson of Prospect street, Woburn, who became the bride of Wolfgang Robert Schmldt of Lebanon street and Leonia, N. J., son of Mrs. Lottie Schmidt, at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer in Woburn on Saturday evening, June 14. White carnations with gladiolas and babies' breath decorated the church for the 7 o'clock ceremony which was performed by the pastor, Rev. J. Herman Olsson. Mrs. Barbara Lovejoy sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because."

Miss Larson was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Barbara Larson of Woburn as maid of honor. Mrs. Doris Viena and Miss Elsa Larson, also sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids with Miss Anita Carlson, cousin of the bride and Miss Viola Anderson. Miss Louise Larson, small sister of the bride, was flower girl.

The bride wore a dress of ivory satin with a sweetheart neck line embroidered with seed pearls and a long train. Her short matching veil was arranged with a crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white orchids and roses.

The honor maid wore a pink lavender dress styled with a tight fitting bodice and very full skirt. Her headdress was a crown embroidered with gold sequins and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white baby orchids with purple gladiolas.

The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of yellow satin styled like that of the honor maid. Their crowns were of silver sequins, and they carried cascade bouquets of purple gladiolas with yellow roses and baby orchids.

The flower girl wore a white frock similar to those of the other bridal attendants. She, too, wore a crown of silver sequins and carried a basket of rose petals.

Gerlot Schmidt was best man for his brother and the usher corps comprised Robert Larson, brother of the bride; John Cornwell, Milton Hewitt and John Elshree.

A reception was held after the ceremony at Waterfield Hall which was decorated with silver and glass vases of assorted spring flowers. The parents of the bride and bridegroom's mother assisted in receiving, the bride's mother heing gowned in blue crepe and wearing a pink hat and corsage of blue flowers. Mrs. Schmidt, mother of the bridegroom, wore pink roses with her gray and white flower print and hat of white flowers.

Mr. Schmidt and his bride motored to the Cape on their wedding journey. Upon their return they will make their home in Woburn.

The bride is a graduate of Woburn High School and attended Northeastern University in Boston. Mr. Schmidt graduated from Leonia, N. J., High School and studied technical engineering in New York. He is employed as a draftsman at the General Electric Company in Lynn.

EARNS $85 ON WNAC "TELLO-TEST"

Mrs. Helen Dyson, of 18 Park avenue, earned $85 on Friday, the thirteenth, on the WNAC "Tello-Test" program, thanks to the assistance of the Winchester Library

The question which Fred Lang asked her was, "Who was the last Aztec emperor of Mexico?" and the right answer which she gave Lang was, "Montezuma II."

GIRL SCOUT TROOP 1

Troop 1 brought its first year to a triumphant close last week Tuesday, June 10. We held a cook-out at the Scout Cabin to which our parents were invited. After a most delicious supper the girls gave their puppet show inside the cabin. Mr. Hersey, Mr. Hodge and Mr. Neff were made honorary Girl Scouts in appreciation of the help they have given us. We gave gifts and thanks to Mrs. Hersey and Mrs. Bullard, our leaders, for devoting their time and efforts to us, and thanks to the Troop Commitee for the aid necessary to make our troop a success. Mrs. Neff then awarded the badges which had been earned during the year. The meeting closed with the showing of some movies which Mrs. Hersey made at Hanover.

MURPHY—MALONE

Miss Mary Elizabeth Malone, daughter of Mr. Thomas P. Malone of Sanford street, Dorchester, and the late Mrs. Malone, and Richard Murphy of Pierrepont road, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Murphy, were married Saturday morning, June 14, at St. Gregory's Church in Dorchester. Rev. E. Ambrose Gallagher, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony at 10 o'clock and was also celebrant of the nuptial mass which followed. Gladiolas in pastel shades made an attractive setting.

The bridal music was played by Mrs. William Fallon, organist, and the soloist was James Keefe.

Miss Malone was given in marriage by her father, and was attended by her sister, Mrs. John J. Cotter, Jr. of Stoughton.

The bride wore a gown of white slipper satin with a sweetheart neckline trimmed with lace and long sleeves, the skirt extending to form a train. Her veil of Bruges lace was arranged with a coronet of pearls and she carried a white prayer book covered with a white orchid and having streamers of stephanotis.

Mrs. Cotter wore a rose crepe dress with a headdress of roses and veiling. Her bouquet was of roses and delphinium.

Henry C. Murphy of Winchester was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Thomas P. Malone of Dorchester, brother of the bride; William J. Leonard, Jr., of Dorchester, cousin of the bride; Paul Riley of Wayland and Herbert E. Nelson of Winchester.

A reception was held after the ceremony at Knights of Columbus Hall in Dorchester where the wedding breakfast was served. The father of the bride and two sisters of the bridegroom, Miss Agnes Murphy of Winchester and Miss Irene E. Murphy of Yonkers, N. Y., assisted in receiving with the matron of honor.

After an automobile wedding journey through the White Mountains Mr. and Mrs. Murphy will make their home in Winchester.

The bride is a graduate of St. Gregory's Convent School in Dorchester. Mr. Murphy is a graduate of Winchester High School and of Grinnell College. A veteran of World War II, he served 2½ years in Combat Intelligence of the Army Air Forces, seeing active service in Italy. He is now associated with the Commonwealth of Massachusetts Division of Employment Security.

TRIP TO MANOMET

On Sunday, June 15, 21 members of the First Baptist Youth Fellowship left the church at 8 o'clock sharp, for Plymouth, making the trip in automobiles.

Arriving around 10, the party visited Plymouth Rock, and the cemetery at Manomet, going on from there to the summer home of Richard P. Goddard at Manomet Bluffs.

A service of worship was held on the porch, after which bathing suits were donned and the water at the beach tried out. "Cold" was the verdict, and those who didn't like it hiked on the beach until lunch time.

Dogs, coco cola and sandwiches took the edge off appetites whetted by wind and wave and after lunch some sunned themselves on the beach and others staged a lively game of baseball.

For supper there were more dogs, and coke and potato salad, and afterward everyone pitched in to clean up and leave everything tidy.

The Fellowship wishes to thank Philip Ewell for his assistance and counsel during the day and is looking forward eagerly to another trip to Manomet next year.

When going away on your vacation, do not leave your cat or other family pet behind to fend for itself. It has learned to depend on you for care and will suffer greatly if left without food, water, and shelter.

If you cannot take your animal with you, or provide for its care and comfort at a boarding kennel or with friends while you are away, the thing to do is to get in touch with the Animal Shelter, and ask them to have a new home found for your pet, or have it humanely put to sleep.

VIOLINCELLO SECTION OF THE WINCHESTER HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

The violincello ('cello for short) is a tenor member of the string family consisting of violin, viola, 'cello, and double bass. The 'cello has a singing tone and a depth which makes its tone quality blend beautifully with the more brilliant tones of the violin. Most of the better symphony orchestras use 8 to 12 'cellos. Anyone who has learned to play the violin well usually can master the 'cello in a comparatively short time because of the similarity of the instruments.

Membership in the violin classes in Winchester's grade schools is open to all students who have any talent and whose parents are willing to furnish a violin.

JULY FOURTH PLANS ANNOUNCED

John Lutes, chairman of the veterans' committee in charge of arrangements for Winchester's observance for Fourth of July, has announced that this year's program will follow those of former years. Winchester Post, A. L. and Aberjona Post, V. F. W. are collaborating in the celebration.

Commencing at 7 o'clock the town bells will be rung with the repetition at sundown.

At 11 o'clock in the forenoon there will be a Kiddie Show at the Town Hall with Punch and Judy, and a magician, especially chosen for children. Doors will open at 10:30, and after the show each youngster will be given a flag and ice cream.

At 2 o'clock there will be races and events for children at Leonard Field, and Mr. Lutes asked the Star to urge any adults willing to assist with this part of the program to report at the field. The list of events includes:

25 yard dash, girls under 9
25 yard dash, boys under 9
25 yard dash, girls 9-14
25 yard dash, boys 9-14
50 yard dash, girls under 9

Watermelon-eating contest for girls
Blueberry pie-eating contest for boys

Cash prizes of $3 for first place, $2 for second place and $1 for third place will be given the winners, and in addition to the races and events there will be a pot of beans at the field with $5 given to the one guessing nearest to the number of beans in the pot.

Besides Mr. Lutes, the veterans' committee include: Charles H. Roche, Thomas Duddy, John Horn, Ralph Scott and Robert McKee.

The Star would suggest that some provision be made to properly police the games at Leonard Field so that the competitors may have a fair chance to do themselves justice and spectators can see what is going on.

TRAGER—FARMER

At a quiet wedding at the home of her parents, Jeanne Vincent Farmer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett L. Vincent of Manchester road, was married Saturday afternoon, June 21, to Bernard Leon Trager, lieutenant, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Trager of Lancaster, Pa. Only relatives and a few intimate friends attended the ceremony which was performed at 4:30 o'clock by Dr. Howard J. Chidley, pastor of the First Congregational Church.

Miss Sally Vincent of Winchester was her sister's only attendant and Lt. Ralph W. Bird of Lakehurst, N. J., was Lt. Trager's best man.

The bride was gowned in gray crepe and wore matching accessories with a corsage of white orchids and a pastel flowered hat. Miss Vincent wore a pink faille dress with a gardenia corsage.

Lt. and Mrs. Trager flew to Bermuda for their wedding journey. Upon their return they will make their home in South Weymouth where Lt. Trager is stationed at the United States Naval Air Facility.

Mrs. Trager is a graduate of Winchester High School and during the war served in the WAVES.

DONALD BRUCE FITZSIMMONS ORDAINED

Service Held in Boyhood Church

Donald Bruce Fitzsimmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Fitzsimmons of 4 Robinson circle, was ordained to the ministry at large of the Unitarian Church Wednesday evening, June 25, at the First Church Unitarian in Belmont center, the church in which he was christened.

Officiating at the ordination service were Dr. Frederick May Eliot, president of the American Unitarian Association; Dr. Dean Huntington Fenn, head of the Unitarian Association's Department of Ministers; Chaplain Richard Hunter, USNR, of White Plains, N. Y., recently home from duty in the Pacific area; Dr. Edward Browne, minister of First Church, and Dean Roy O. Chamberlin, chaplain of Dartmouth College.

The First Church Unitarian in Belmont was the boyhood church of the newly ordained minister. He was born in Arlington but moved with his parents to Belmont as a young boy and attended the Belmont schools, making his home at 24 Leicester road.

Rev. Mr. Fitzsimmons graduated from Belmont High School in the class of 1942, and from Dartmouth College with the degree of A.B. in 1944, completing his course in two years under the accelerated program. He is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

While at Dartmouth and during his course at the Yale Divinity School, Rev. Mr. Fitzsimmons was for three years in the Naval Reserve Chaplains Training Course. He received his Bachelor of Divinity Degree from Yale on Wednesday of last week, completing seven years work in five years. At the same time he was commissioned a lieutenant (junior grade) in the Chaplain's Corps of the United States Naval Reserve.

The Fitzsimmons are newcomers to Winchester, having moved to town three weeks ago from Belmont. During their son's ordination they entertained Dr. and Mrs. Chamberlin of Dartmouth and Chaplain Hunter of the Navy.

VETERAN RED CROSS WORKERS HONORED

Three veteran Winchester Red Cross workers, Mrs. Walter Rice, Mrs. Mary Horne, and Mrs. Nathaniel Nichols are guests of Red Cross Production Chairman Mrs. George Nardin and Executive Director Mrs. George Dutting at luncheon at the Town Line House in Lynnfield today.

Mrs. Rice is 80 and Mrs. Horne and Mrs. Nichols, each 79. Today's luncheon comes near enough to the birth dates of the three to have it double as a sort of birthday party for the trio, all of whom have worked steadily and tirelessly at local Red Cross headquarters in the town hall since 1939. Handsome corsages are being presented them in honor of their interest and faithful service.

In addition to the honor guests and hostesses at the luncheon, many other local Red Cross workers are attending. Included are Mrs. Isabelle Kelley, Mrs. Stephen Burgoyne, Miss Lillian Stacy, Mrs. William Lunan, Mrs. Louise Mitchell, Mrs. Virgil Ghirardini, Miss Clara Russell, Mrs. Blanche Moody, Miss Josephine Snell and Mrs. Arthur Sawyer.

SCOTT BANKING GRADUATE

Leslie J. Scott, president of the Winchester National Bank, was one of those graduated today from the Graduate School of Banking conducted by the American Bankers Association at Rutgers University in New Brunswick, N. J.

Mr. Scott's class of 1947 is the largest in the school's history, comprising 227 bank officers from 132 cities and towns located in 34 states, District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

The Graduate School was established at Rutgers by the American Bankers Association in 1935 to provide bankers of officer rank an opportunity for advance study in the fields of banking, economics and allied subjects.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Adams Haskell of Prospect street announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Weatherston Haskell, to Mr. Arthur Adams Fowle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Adams Fowle of Woburn.

Miss Haskell is a graduate of the Katherine Gibbs School. Mr. Fowle is completing his studies at the Mass. Institute of Technology after serving three and a half years with the Army Air Forces.

VETERANS ATTENTION

During the summer months, or until further notice, the Director of Veterans' Services will be in his office at the town hall on Wednesday afternoons and Saturday mornings for consultation, beginning June 25 instead of on Tuesday and Friday afternoons, as formerly.

REV. TIMOTHY J. DONOVAN

Pastor of St. James, Haverhill, Native of Winchester

Rev. Timothy J. Donovan of 41 Lincoln street, pastor of St. James Church in Haverhill and a Roman Catholic priest for more than 30 years, died Thursday morning, June 26, at Cardinal O'Connell House of St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Brighton, following an illness of several months. He leaves a brother, Harry J. Donovan, a sister, Mrs. Gertrude M. Sullivan, and a niece, Miss Eleanor Donovan, all of Winchester.

Father Donovan was the son of Michael and Horora (McNamara) Donovan. He was born Aug. 11, 1887, in Winchester, attending the Winchester schools and graduating from Winchester High School in the class of 1906. He participated in athletics while at high school, being known as a runner and a basketball player.

Father Donovan graduated from St. Charles College, Ellicott City, Md., and studied for the priesthood at St. John's Seminary, Brighton, from which he was graduated in 1911. He was ordained April 6, 1911, at Holy Cross Cathedral in Boston by the late Cardinal O'Connell.

After an assignment as curate at St. Thomas Church, Jamaica Plain, Father Donovan enlisted in the Army during World War I, serving as a transport chaplain. Following his discharge he was assigned as assistant to St. Patrick's Church in Roxbury and later served at Our Lady of Annunciation in Danvers and at Sacred Heart Church in East Boston.

On May 14, 1936, he was made pastor of St. John's Church in North Chelmsford, from which he was transferred to the pastorate at St. James, Haverhill, in 1941.

While at St. James he improved the parish property, renovating both the basement and upper church, and building St. Mary's Convent, a fine new $150,000 building, dedicated by Archbishop Richard J. Cushing only a week ago, June 19.

Father Donovan devoted his entire life to work with young people. He organized glee clubs among his young parishioners and while at St. Patrick's in Roxbury had a summer camp for children at Scituate. He had a fine band at St. James in Haverhill and his high school football team there won the Diocesan CYO championship last fall.

ENGLAND'S BLUDGEONED MIDLANDS COMBINE FARM AND FACTORY LIFE

[illegible] English Midlands, pulling [illegible] devastating floods that followed record winter snows, are a blend of rural and factory life, [illegible] cottages with old-fashioned gardens, and smoking industrial towns whose specialty products long ago started on world markets, from India to Argentina.

In the heart of the "tight little isle," the Midlands area includes a lowland triangle marked by the freshet-swollen streams of the Thames in the south, the Severn in the west, and the Trent in the north, notes the National Geographic Society.

To the east, it merges with the [illegible] marshy fenland country, [illegible] large-scale reclamation [illegible] was accomplished during the [illegible] help [illegible] out the meager [illegible].

Holds Fox-Hunt Center

Normally the network of rivers and canals cutting across England's densely populated central regions offers valuable navigation routes and scenic background for its many villages, county boroughs and cities.

Beyond the long lines of row houses in big and little industrial centers, stretch broad grainfields, garden patches, and pastures on which sheep and cattle graze. Tree-shaded lanes and hedge-framed meadows, thatched cottages, old inns, and cathedrals are accent marks in a traditional landscape that in better times drew thousands of vacation visitors.

Melton Mobray, of Leicestershire County, long was noted as the heart of the fox-hunting country. To the north, past storied Nottingham whose modern manufacturing plants grew out of medieval lace handicrafts, lies Sherwood Forest, of Robin Hood fame.

Products are Varied

Birmingham, deep in the Midlands, follows London as England's second largest city. Known as the economic and social capital of the region, it has a population of more than a million, and a long list of manufactured articles ranging from pins and needles to railway steel, from guns and machinery to [illegible], [illegible] pans, and telescopes.

Other Midland centers stricken by nature's "blitzkrieg" are Leicester, noted for its woolens; Rugby, specialist in electrical engineering goods; Wolverhampton, with its iron works; silk-producing Derby; pottery-making Stoke-on-Trent, and Coventry, which had turned from its old ribbon specialties to modern bicycles and automobiles.

ZARA RENAMED TITOGRAD BY YUGOSLAVS

The former Italian enclave of Zara, at the head of the Adriatic's Dalmatian coast, gets a third name by the Yugoslavian decision to call it Titograd.

Once the community was known as Zadar by its Slavic residents, says the National Geographic Society. In 1920 it became a bit of Italy in the midst of newly-formed Yugoslavia. In 1946 the Allied powers returned it to Yugoslavia.

Establishment of Zara as an Italian enclave, a small area surrounded by foreign territory, came about after Gabriele D'Annunzio, Italian poet-adventurer, and his patriot force marched from Trieste to Fiume and Zara following World War I. Their coup brought recognition of the strong Italian interests of the majority of Zara's 20,000 population. Forty-two square miles of land including Zara were awarded to Italy by the Treaty of Rapallo.

Zara stands on the northwest tip of a small peninsula, with an ample but shallow harbor between the town and the mainland. It is 90 miles southeast along the Yugoslav coast from Fiume and the same distance northeast across the Adriatic from Ancona.

Once the capital of Dalmatia, Zara's commercial fame stems from its sweet maraschino liqueur. Now widely imitated, the original Marachino di Zara is distilled from the fermented juice of the small, bitter, wild marasca berries of the Dalmatian countryside. Honey provides part of the sweetness. Cherry leaves and broken kernals help to heighten the flavor.

Two small islands, Ugliano and Pasman, front the peninsula shore. Venetians who held the town alternately with Hungary through the Middle Ages built the Castle of San Michele on Ugliano isle. They strengthened Zara's defenses, digging a moat to isolate it from the mainland and blocking the harbor entrance with a great chain. Relics of Roman days attest to the settlement's antiquity.

Between World Wars, visitors enjoyed the mild climate, sheltered sand beaches, and sea bathing of Zara, the resort. The town's atmosphere was Italian, varied by gay Croatian peasant costumes—embroidered jackets, red sashes, red pillbox caps, the men in baggy knee pants, the women in brilliant, rug-like aprons.

PALEMBANG—A FLOATING CITY

Palembang, the Sumatra oil center, grew up as a "floating city," says the National Geographic Society.

The story goes back to the days when Chinese merchants pioneered in opening the East Indies to foreign commerce.

When Chinese junks first sailed 56 miles up the Moesi River to Palembang, the native sultan refused the traders permission to reside ashore. They remained on their boats, which became the community's first retail shops.

River residence caught the fancy of the natives who moved onto bamboo rafts moored to the banks. The rafts were expanded until they were large enough to bear houses containing several families. The river, which is about 1000 feet wide, could accommodate several rows of house boats on each side.

In time not only Chinese but Malays, Arabs, Hindus, and even some Europeans built floating homes in order to enjoy the refreshing river breezes. Shops still were moored between the brightly painted houses with their curved roofs.

The floating homes had the advantage of being able to ride floods safely, though occasionally they broke their moorings and drifted down stream. Ashore, many houses are built on poles as a protection against flood waters.

With the finding of oil in the vicinity, the sinking of wells, and the finding of refineries, Palembang became more European in atmosphere and appearance. It spread its sprawling prewar population of 110,000 across both sides of the river to develop Sumatra's largest city.

RALLO—LAVERTY

Miss Laverty was given in marriage by her uncle, Capt. Alexander MacLaren, and attended by her sister, Miss Nancy Laverty of this town. Francis Rallo of Winchester was his brother's best man.

The bride [illegible] a [illegible] white crepe dress with a matching [illegible] trimmed with lilies-of-the-valley, and a shoulder length [illegible]. Her bouquet was of valley lilies tied with [illegible] white streamers.

The maid of honor wore a light [illegible] dress [illegible] of [illegible] and a white flower trimmed hat. She carried an old fashioned bouquet of mixed flowers.

Out-of-town guests at the marriage included Mrs. E. Kenneth Logan, Mrs. Mabelle Buckley and Mr. Russell MacNamara, all of St. John, N. B., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Donnell and daughter, Miss Carol O'Donnell of New Rochelle, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Rallo, who are both graduates of Winchester High School, class of 1942, went to New Hampshire to [illegible] honeymoon.

ORKNEYS HAVE SUMMER DAYLIGHT SURPLUS

Like carrying the "coals to Newcastle," summer daylight-saving in the Orkney Islands proved too much for the residents, who have declined to follow the clock adjustments of the British Isles.

The reason is that deep-summer night never falls in the Orkneys, which are scattered northeast of the Scottish mainland. On the year's longest days, notes the National Geographic Society, the sun rises at 3 a. m. Setting at 9:25 p. m., it sinks so slightly below the horizon that it scarcely seems worth while.

Even at midnight, the diffused light is strong enough for picture taking, reading, or playing golf, Scotland's own game. On the other hand, winter exacts a penalty for its generosity of summer light by making winter days short and gloomy.

The Orkney isles are made up of scores of big and little fragments. Altogether they amount to less than 400 square miles. At least half the islands are uninhabited. A few serve merely to a lighthouse [illegible] sheep, or a roost for the many sea birds that have attracted naturalists.

Winds sweep across the treeless Orkneys, with their brown hills, wild moors, and wave-lashed, fjord-cut coasts. But the climate is stimulating, and colors reflected on land and sea from the wide northern sky form a delicate blend.

During World War II the pale Northern Lights of Orkney [illegible] faded out before the blazing [illegible] of the German blitz [illegible]. As a British naval base and [illegible] fuel and repair station, these islands once more, as they had a quarter of a century earlier, played an important role in the struggle for the northern seas.

It was at Scapa Flow, the broad and deep anchorage base in the southern Orkneys, that the German fleet was interned after the 1918 defeat, and later scuttled by its own crews.

Normally, the fewer than 25,000 people of the Orkneys lead a quiet, simple life. Most of them are of Norse descent, plus a Scottish mixture. But the prehistoric saga of their islands reaches back into ancient mysteries before even Viking days.

A friendly, hospitable people, the islanders are hard-working fishermen and farmers [illegible] specialists in producing high-quality livestock. Today, in spite of the northern location, their homeland is one of Scotland's most prosperous farm counties.

RECEIVED STANFORD DEGREE BY MAIL

William E. Spaulding, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Spaulding of Main street, was not present to receive his degree from the School of Social Sciences at Stanford University in Palo Alto, Cal. on June 15.

He concluded his work at Stanford last year and has since been working as a high school textbook salesman, for Harper & Brothers in New York.

Mr. Spaulding prepared for college at Kimball Union and was at Stanford when he enlisted in the infantry during the war. He was wounded during the Battle of the Bulge in the ETO and after a long period of hospitalization was discharged in September of 1945.

At that time he entered the employ of Harper & Brothers, and he was granted a leave by his publishers to return to Stanford for his degree, completing his work during the spring and summer terms last year.

GIRL SCOUT OUTING

At 2:30 on the afternoon of May 30, 13 members of Troop One assembled at the First Congregational Church preparatory to departing on a week-end camping trip at the New Boston farm of troop leader, Mrs. Hersey. Four cars, driven by Mr. Hersey, Mrs. Hersey, Mrs. Neff, and Mr. Neff, carried us to our destination.

We laid out our blanket rolls and sleeping bags in a pine grove near the farm house and then went for a swim in nearby stream. All too soon it was time for supper. Some of us walked back to camp, bringing with us a dead snake, whom we named Oscar.

We cooked kabobs, or tried to, and toasted marshmallows for supper.

After supper we sang and played games around the campfire. When it was time to retire 13 flashlights twinkled off through the grove in search of bedrolls. There was a sufficient nip in the air to hustle us into bed, but not to silence us.

At the top of the grove Norma and Anne were suspiciously quiet, breaking out occasionally with warbles, shouts, and catcalls. Mildred and Miriam, the quietest of all, sang occasionally, talked a little and laughed a great deal. The comediennes, Joan, Doreen, and Virginia, kept up a continual stream of jokes, pun tinated by shouts of "Sound-so popped a corny!" Betty Ann, Barbara, Ann, Shirley, Pat, and Alice rendered a perpetual concert of "April Showers." Despite all this, Mrs. Hersey was able to go to sleep before anybody else.

In the morning three campers woke everyone up at 5:30 when they went for a walk. Nevertheless we managed to stay abed 'til 9:00.

For breakfast we cooked French toast and bacon on our tin can stoves.

During the morning we explored the barn and made ourselves dizzy on a hand-operated merry-go-round. It was decided that we climb Crochett Mountain in the morning. We made expeditions to the spring to fill our canteens. About 1 o'clock we departed for the mountain. We drove through several pastures until we came to the beginning of the trail. The way led up a dry stream bed, and we did our share of slipping on the wet earth. We were, however, amply rewarded by the wonderful view from the summit. When we had eaten our lunch we descended to the waiting cars. On the way back to camp we stopped at Francestown to buy candy, magazines and ice cream.

When we returned some went swimming again while others remained in the vain hope of securing a sun-tan.

In the evening, those of us who are working for the Camperaft Badge led the group in charades which might have continued indefinitely had it not been for Mrs. Hersey's admonitions.

For Sunday breakfast we fried pancakes and bacon on our tin can stoves. We also consumed some potatoes left from Friday night.

About noon we piled into the cars and drove to the Gorge, a deep pool, some five miles distant. The water was very cold and there were rumors of bloodsuckers, but nevertheless everyone had a wonderful time.

When we returned we packed our clothes and blankets. For our last meal we had a delectable stew followed by a marvelous fruit cup.

A little after six we were all assembled and departed for Winchester, singing the praises of Mrs. Hersey, New Boston, and camping in general.

The girls who went on this trip were Charlotte Farquhar, Norma Neff, Barbara Macauley, Betty Ann Parker, Shirley Hamilton, Pat McDermott, Ann Ordway, Joan Bodman, Doreen Stowe, Virginia Bullard, Mildred True, Alice Hodge, Miriam Parker, and Martha Bailey, who joined us on Saturday. We were accompanied by Mr. and Mr. Hersey and their daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Neff and their daughter.

Many thanks to you for a wonderful week-end!

FLORIDA ROTARIAN ELECTED PRESIDENT OF ROTARY INTERNATIONAL

At the forty-eighth annual convention of Rotary International, delegates representing 6,200 Rotary Clubs with a membership of 302,000 business and professional executives in 76 different countries, elected S. Kendrick Guernsey of Jacksonville, Fla., as president of that world-wide service organization for 1947-48.

Mr. Guernsey is executive vice-president of the Gulf Insurance Company of Jacksonville and since 1936 he has been secretary of the National Bar and Grill Weekly Committee. For the State of Florida he is chairman of the Citizens Committee on Education, a member of the State Highway Commission, and a Director of the State Chamber of Commerce. In Jacksonville he is also a director of the Children's Home Society, the Boy Scouts and the Y.M.C.A. A Rotarian for 27 years, he is a past president of the Rotary Club of Jacksonville and he has served Rotary International as Vice president and as District Governor.

Elected to Rotary's 1947-48 Board of Directors were Tom Benson of Sussex, England; Lauro Bodra of Recife, Brazil; Daniel de Bogh of Rotterdam, The Netherlands; Gil J. Pixart of Manila, the Philippines; Charles Bordin-Gras-set of Nice, France; Aly Emine Yehia Pasha of Alexandria, Egypt; and six additional directors from the United States and Canada.

One of the largest conventions ever held anywhere at recent years, and perhaps the most international, the Rotary Convention attracted more than 15,000 Rotarians and members of their families from some 50 different countries.

Theme of the convention was "Living Together — in Friend-ship and Understanding", based on the internationality of the Rotary organization. In the formal convention addresses and in informal discussion groups, emphasis was given to the contributions which Rotarians around the world are making to advance the general program of the United Nations.

Rotary's 1948 convention will be held in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, the week of May 16.

CLAMBAKE FEATURE EVENT OF HOLIDAY WEEK-END

The highlight of the coming holiday week-end will undoubtedly be the annual Fourth of July Clambake and lobster dinner. Once again, this popular event will be held on the club grounds, rain or shine, and once again the same succulent menu will prevail. Steaming bowls of clam broth, steamed clams, a pound and a quarter lobster, pickles, chips, dessert, and punch or coffee all prepared to the king's (and queen's) taste by the club's clever chefs. After the feast, the grand drawing to determine the winner of the beautiful portable radio now on display at the club will be made. Chances on this grand prize are 25c each or 5 for a dollar and are on sale at the club.

Last July 4, half a hundred club members and guests were turned away from the clam bake because they hadn't bought tickets in advance. Tickets must be purchased before Tuesday, July 1. Better get yours today.

Incidentally, there'll be plenty of activity at the club all day long, so don't wait until the 6 o'clock starting of the clam bake to join in the fun.

Fleet Facts

Ted Barlings, Jr., continued his splendid sailing by capturing the Saturday afternoon Snipe Fleet Race with the greatest of ease. It was Ted's second win of the season. In spite of a mental lapse John Powers piloted Jones' Loimar to victory Sunday morning. At the end of the second lap John, thinking the race was over, came about and stayed in the vicinity of what he thought was the finish line. Not until four boats had passed him and continued on their merry way did John and crew George wake up to the fact the race had one lap to go. Then, in spectacular fashion they swung the Loimar back into action, overhauled the four Snipes and won going away . . Roger Swanson piloted Swanee to a slick victory in the junior race, winning handily over Bruce McIntyre. Don't forget the Pre-SCIRA dance at the club tonight—dancing from 8:30 to 12:30, door prizes and free refreshments, all for only $1.50 per couple. C'mon down.

VAUDEVILLE SHOW BY ST. MARY'S C. Y. O.

St. Mary's C. Y. O. will sponsor a vaudeville show with local talent on Wednesday evening July 2 in Lyceum Hall. Movies of the Red Sox World Series games will also be shown. The proceeds will be used to buy baseball uniforms for the boys and suits for the girls soft ball team.

PLAYGROUND NOTES

The Winchester playground program had an auspicious opening day on Monday when slightly over 200 youngsters made use of the excellent facilities provided for them by the Park Department. These high attendance figures have been well maintained all week as the youngsters found the expanded program very much to their liking and some activity on each playground that appealed to every girl and boy. Additional features will be incorporated into the program each week to further stimulate and widen the varying interests of the youngsters in attendance.

The instructors were busy at each playground organizing their teams in the various sports in preparation for the schedules which open next week. The baseball program, in particular, which gives an opportunity for three different age groups at each playground to compete on organized teams has proved very popular. Soccer and volley ball have proved to be surprisingly popular games and basketball coach Ted Bartlett eyes light up when he notes the number of boys making use of the baskets at each playground. Girls' kick ball which proved so popular in the elementary and junior high schools this past spring has been just as popular and as much in demand on the playgrounds. The croquet sets, the paddle tennis sets, and the horseshoe sets are getting their full share of attention and use.

Marjorie Mahoney is starting classes in handcraft next week at Leonard Field and many useful and ornamental projects are planned by the youngsters. Ann Costello is opening classes in drawing at Loring avenue field next week and many have already expressed a desire and interest in this field. It looks like an interesting and busy summer for the children of Winchester.

ATTENDED BASKETBALL CLINIC

Edward A. Bartlett, basketball coach at Winchester High School, attended the New England Basketball Clinic of Champions Monday, Tuedsay and Wednesday of this week at the Boston Garden. "Doggie" Julian of Holy Cross, Vadal Peterson of University of Utah and Adalph Rupp of Kentucky University, out-standing college coaches, were instructors.

"Bert" Moore, former Winchester High and Bowdoin basketball player, also attended the clinic. "Bert" is completing his course at Bowdoin this summer and has accepted a position to teach at the Berkshire School for Boys in the fall.

Miss Marjorie Smith of this town has returned home from Sargent Camp at Peterborough, N. H., and after a short stay in town will go to a Philadelphia hospital for a six weeks course.

With the exception of the games rained out on last Tuesday evening and which will be played tonight, the first round of the Town Softball League has been completed and the teams are now meeting each other for the second time. A glance at the league standing will show that the Sons of Italy, the Sachems and the Barracudas are pretty certain of obtaining a play-off position with the Christopher Columbus and the Red Shirts fighting for the fourth play-off spot.

All of the teams are rapidly improving, however, and are capable of turning in an upset on any particular evening. That happened on all three playing dates last week as the Barracudas landed all over Andre Redding and drubbed the highly-touted Sachems 7-3. The Red Shirts upset the dope the next evening by edging the Barracudas 6 to 5, featured by a fine pitching performance by Harris Richardson. Then the big upset came when the Christopher Columbus club nosed out the powerful Sons of Italy 9 to 8 in a game that was featured by a home run by Bill Fiore with two on and one that was debated until the wee small hours of the morning up Swanton street way.

Feature games next week should come on Monday evening when the Sachems tackle the Christopher Columbus Club and on Thursday when the Barracudas meet the Sons of Italy. These two games involve the four top teams in the league and could cause quite a shuffle in the league standing by the end of next week.

LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL IN NIGERIA REPRESENTS HUNDREDS OF DIALECTS

Nigeria's legislative council, established under the new constitution of the British colony and protectorate, represents possibly the most polygot people in the world. The 21 million Nigerians, living in an area on Africa's mid-Atlantic coast ten times the size of Indiana, have developed hundreds of dialects, says the National Geographic Society.

Lack of contact between tribes accounts for the diversity of tongues. There are many tribes, each with distinguishing marks scarified on the face, but Nigeria has only two main divisions. The north is Mohammedan, and the Hausa language is spoken. Christianity is gaining ground in the idol-worshiping south. The differences are more geographical than religious.

City of Mud Walls

Unlike the tropical south, reaching to within [illegible] miles of the equator, the north has a temperate climate. Cattle graze on grassy ranges between 2,000 and 4,000 feet above sea level. Peaks in the central highlands rise to almost 6,000 feet.

Kano, age-old city of beautifully decorated mud walls, is a thriving Arab mart. Long rows of mud cells, roofed without front walls, make up the market house. Some imported goods are displayed, but the products come mostly from the local farms and factories—the work of native weavers, tanners, leather workers, dyers, potters. Plantations produce cotton, sugar cane, and grain. Ivory and leopard skins come from the northeast Lake Chad region source of salt.

Kano's population of about [illegible]000 huddles inside the 11-mile-long city walls. The area, though near the edge of the Sahara, is often cooled by a dry wind.

Extensive Railway System

The southern metropolis [illegible] roofed Ibadan, has 318,000 people, largest city in equatorial Africa. Lagos, the capital and chief port, stands on an island off the southwest coast. Its 617,000 people include merchants from Syria, India, Greece, and elsewhere, in addition to British civil servants. Its natives affect queer European adaptations in their dress.

Nigeria is far from undeveloped. Cities have water and electric light. The railway system, running lines inland from Lagos and Port Harcourt (on the Niger delta), gives the country nearly 2,500 miles of transportation. Both lines extend almost to the frontier of French West Africa on the north. The Benue, Niger tributary, is navigable to small steamers a good part of the year. Nigeria has 30 airfields, over 3,000 miles of motor road, and many caravan trails.

The Winchester Park authorities are greatly concerned with the amount of broken glass strewn over the west side playground. This glass is largely from liquor bottles thrown on the playground, instead of taking them to the town dump, and broken by children there. A bottle in the childish mind exists only to be broken. Yesterday one of the Park Commissioners found two cases of empty bottles left at the west side playground, and if the youngsters had gotten these before he did, the broken glass would really have been something. Broken glass anywhere is bad, and on a playground, unthinkable. Anyone should know its implications there, and we believe no one would want to dispose of bottles badly enough to endanger the safety or possibly the life of some youngster or adult using a playground for its proper purpose. It is quite likely that those who have been dumping bottles at the west side field have done so thoughtlessly. If they consider the possibilities for injury in this practice, we believe it will be discontinued.

The Union leaders, being disgruntled over the Taft-Hartley Bill are now staging their opposition by strikes. It's a good thing that employers are not organized, or they might join them and we could have a show-down on the new type of New Deal government now in force. The Taft-Hartley Bill, pulled to pieces by the Senate, which played politics from start to finish, was never an act to allow business to proceed in accordance with the old American idea that is the pre-Roosevelt government. Now, we read, the League of Women Voters has taken up the fight and will support the Unions and "challenge" the recently enacted Bill. Well, we are glad to learn where the League of Women Voters stands; just as we were glad at last to learn where Republican Governor Bradford stands. The remaking of America goes steadily on and the New Deal philosophy is firmly in the saddle. America may be the last Democracy, but it is certainly a type of democracy this nation never knew before Roosevelt, and differs only in minor ways from the Russian, Italian and German democracy. While potatoes rot on the ground and cost more than oranges, and the Government pays the farmers to keep on raising them; when we make loans to every country that says it is anti-communist, while we persue the straight course to Communism; when it takes a $4 fine for anyone to go fishing and a further fine for every employer who fails to collect his employees taxes, it might be said that no nation on the face of the earth is being milked like America. The Republicans were elected because the Nation as a whole had had enough, but the old New Deal is still in the saddle and is getting ready to seat itself. And the great majority pours in the milk and takes it on the chin.

DOES MASSACHUSETTS NEED A SALES TAX?

In 1946 Massachusetts collected more money through its income tax than any state in the Union, excepting California, New York and Wisconsin.

It collected more money on death and gift taxes than any other state, excepting California, New York and Pennsylvania.

It collected more revenue from all sources than any other state excepting California, Illinois, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Texas.

VETERAN'S ADMINISTRATION THANKS WINCHESTER RED CROSS

The following letter to Mrs. George Dutting, executive secretary of the Winchester Red Cross Chapter is self-explanatory:

Veterans' Administration
Bedford, Mass.
June 11, 1947

Dear Mrs. Dutting:

Reviving a pre war custom, the Winchester Red Cross has been the first to resume a recreational activity which brings a great deal of pleasure to the veterans of this hospital.

On Wednesday, June 4, 1947, about 130 patients and personnel were taken by private automobiles to Nahant Beach on the Ocean.

This gala day will long live in the memory of all who participated, as there were smiling, sunny skies, and every detail well attended to, providing for the comfort and pleasure of the entire party.

The long scenic ride, the games on the Beach, the swimming, and in particular the splendid turkey dinner were features highly enjoyed by all. The patients still are voicing their pleasure and appreciation, telling their relatives and "writing home" about the wonderful outing given them by the Winchester Red Cross.

We know that you will be pleased to learn of the patients' enthusiasm and appreciation, but we also wish to express our own warmest thanks and that of the hospital staff. We know that due to your own personal interest this annual outing was revived.

May we thank, too, Mrs. Feeley and the Gray Ladies who assisted, as well as Mr. Harry Bean who so ably took charge of the traffic.

Very sincerely,
Evelyn Davis,
Recreational Director

The Lamplighter, the patients' own paper at the Bedford Hospital, had the following to say about the Winchester party:

"Wednesday, May 4, 1947 will be checked off as a red letter day in the books of some 100 patients of this hospital, mostly from Buildings 2, 8, 61 and 62, for on that day they were the guests of the Winchester Chapter of the Red Cross at one of the most enjoyable afternoon's outings in the history of the hospital at beautiful Nahant.

The cavalcade of some 35 private cars and beach wagons left the hospital grounds at 1 p. m. escorted by State Trooper William T. Knightly of the Andover Barracks and guided by Harry Bean of Winchester.

The procession of cars moved through the beautiful countryside and into the City of Lynn, where they were met by a motorcycle officer of the Lynn Police Department who piloted them across town without even stopping for a red light.

Arriving at Nahant, the party settled down to the business of having a good time, each to his own liking. Horse shoe pitching, soft-ball and other beach games were soon going in full swing. Only the bravest of the brave, however, had the courage to go in swimming for the water and that east wind was a little on the cool side. Notably among these brave few was Nancy Light, the diminutive Ed Nurse, who didn't seem to mind it in the least.

The soft ball game presented plenty of thrills, especially when Anne Waldenburg came to bat. She sure laid the wood on the ball. Paul Larson pulled the fielding gem of the day (even if it was in self defense) when he stopped a line drive that looked as though it was headed for Swampscott.

Tripping hither and yon along the beach, "Shorty" Tarkonian with his ever present camera was busy all afternoon taking shots of various groups and individuals for posterity.

About 4:15 all sport activities ceased and everybody made a bolt for the pavilion where Caterer Luther Whitman, Ind. of Lynn had a bountiful turkey dinner all in readiness for sharpened appetites with everything from fruit-cup to frozen pudding.

After all had a chance to digest their dinner, the party piled back into their cars and started the homeward trek arriving at the hospital about 7 p. m. with that satisfied feeling of a day well spent.

Accompanying the patients, were a group of some 20 personnel, including Dr. George Kaknes, Miss Evelyn Davis, Recreational Director, Frank Bernaduccı, Athletic Director, seven athletic technicians, four cadet nurses, one attendant, Miss Anne Waldenburg, Asst. Red Cross Director, and seven Gray Ladies.

Mrs. George Dutting and Mrs. Edward Feeley of the Winchester Chapter of the Red Cross were in charge of the outing and everyone present will agree that they did a wonderful job. The boys are truly grateful to them and also to the other ladies who drove their own cars and furnished the transportation.

Wm. D. Dawson"

NEWSY PARAGRAPHS

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Noonan of Sheridan circle are observing their 53rd wedding anniversary today, June 27. No celebration is possible as Mr. Noonan, retired member of the Highway Department, is still at the Winchester Hospital, where he has been confined for nine weeks with a broken hip, sustained in a fall at his home.

Officer Thomas Hannon of the Police Department discovered a break at Rice's Gasoline Station on upper Main street at 12:25 yesterday morning. Access had been gained by breaking a window in the front door and releasing the lock. No damage was done inside the station and so far as could be ascertained nothing was taken. The break is attributed to boys, two having been seen coming from the direction of the station shortly before it was discovered.

Miss Priscilla Alden Morrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore P. Messer has returned to New London, N. H., to join the New London Players for her second season. Miss Morrill acted as maid of honor at the recent Kingsbury—Littlefield wedding in Malden.

Miss Mary Em. Bodman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bodman of 18 Wedgemere avenue returned recently after completing her sophomore year at Stoneleigh School in Greenfield. At the traditional pageant held before commencement, she was one of the girls to receive the highest award that can be earned in sports, being a member of the all-star softball, soccer, hockey, tennis and varsity ski teams.

If there is any sign of race suicide in the land the staff at the Winchester Hospital hasn't noticed it. Thirty-one babies were born at the hospital during the week between Thursday, June 19 and Thursday, June 26, with 19 of them born between midnight Sunday and noon yesterday.

TEA BY OLIVE GROUP

The Olive Group of the Crawford Memorial Church gave a tea Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Richard Smith, 193 Forest street.

Mrs. Harris LeRoy and Mrs. Herert Seller poured and after the tea the grounds of the place, which is the Hadley estate, were inspected and the fine antiques in the house, admired.

There was a large attendance and a pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by everyone.

ELKS TO STAGE OUTING

Winchester Lodge of Elks will stage its first post-war outing, and its first outing in some time on Sunday, August 24, at Johnson's Grove in Burlington.

This will be strictly a stag outing and the Lodge Activities Committee which is in charge of arrangements, with Robert F. Murphy, as chairman, promises a big day. There will be all sorts of activities with steamed clams by experts featuring the menu.

TOOL OWNERS UNION RECEIVES QUICK ANSWER

As soon as Mr. William Mullins' article was published in the Boston Herald of Wednesday, June 18, in which it was stated that Governor Bradford had termed the Taft-Hartley Bill "a reactionary bill" a letter was dispatched by Winchester Local No. 4 to the Governor expressing their surprise that he had taken such a stand.

His reply, which was promptly acknowledged, follows for the benefit of those who may not have seen his contradictory statement in the Sunday papers.

"Dear Mr. Burleigh:

I think that the attached news release, which I have given to the press, today, will answer the questions raised in your letter of June 20th.

The story which appeared in the Boston Herald on Wednesday, June 18, came to me with as great a shock as I am sure it must have to you. If you read the story as carefully as I did, you found that it was built around the report of what an unnamed person said the Governor said.

I hope that you have not, yourself, been the victim of such a circumstance. I assure you that it is not a pleasant experience. It is particularly unpleasant when it results in a reaction among your good friends such as that which, quite understandably, prompted your letter to me.

The release includes a copy of a letter from me to Joseph A. Salerno, President, Massachusetts State CIO Industrial Union Council. If, after reading this letter, my position on the Taft-Hartley bill is not entirely clear to you, I wish you would write me setting forth any points on which you may wish further clarification.

I appreciate your taking the trouble to write me as you did.

Sincerely yours,
Robert F. Bradford (Signature)"

Letters of thanks have also been sent to Senators Lodge and Saltonstall for upholding this bill which has now become a law.

The Tool Owners Union has been greatly interested in this bill from its introduction, and Mr. Allen Rucker, National President, was invited to appear at the hearing to express the views of the organization. Originally scheduled for 20 minutes, there was so much interest shown in his presentation that his time was extended to two hours and 20 minutes.

Since that hearing many letters were written from all over the country by local chapters of the Tool Owners Union to their Representatives and Senators asking them to support this bill.

Realizing the amount of newspaper advertising requesting opponents of this bill to write to their Representatives and Senators, it is heartening to feel that T. O. U. members responded so well and that, in spite of the tremendous strength of the opposition, the bill has become a law.

In commenting on this whole situation, Chairman Burleigh pointed out the unscrupulous methods used by certain pressure groups to gain their ends even though it be against the public interest, and the further need of solid citizens being united so that quick and effective action can be exerted with our Senators and Representatives who need support. Even though our Representatives are known to be for a measure, if the opposition is swamping them with mail, they've got to have some visible support from the other side.

While this labor measure is temporarily out of the way, there is much more for organized citizens to do. The next is to tackle government spending and taxes and Mr. Burleigh said that is T. O. U.'s next objective. He hopes all citizens of Winchester will ... this.

ST. MARY'S C. Y. O. NEWS

St. Mary's Intermediate baseball team lost a close one on Wednesday evening, June 18 to St. Joseph's of Wakefield, 3-1. The game was featured by the pitching of Don Kenton of St. Mary's who struck out 10 men. Leo Williams made the fielding gem of the game with a one-handed grab of a hot liner labeled for a triple, possibly. Errors played havoc with St. Mary's chances of winning but as this was the first game of the season it will no doubt not discourage any of the boys. Those participating in the game were, for St. Mary's: Keith c, D. Kenton p, O'Leary, 1b, Dee 2b, Williams 3b, Patterson ss, Erhard and S. Kenton lf, D. Barry cf, Joyce and Duckworth rf.

On Thursday evening, June 19, the Junior team journeyed over to Loring avenue field to play the Immaculate Conception Juniors. When rain halted the game in the fourth the Immaculates were leading 3-1. The pitching of Roche was a feature of the short game because he had seven strikeouts for the abbreviated contest. Young Patterson who caught for St. Mary's was hurt on getting his man at the plate on an attempted scoring play and it was later learned that he had fractured a knuckle. Maggio took his place. Other players were Goodrow 1b, and Crowley; S. Kenton and Hicks 2b, Connolly and D. Barry 3b, Flaherty lf, Taylor rf and Stevenson, O'Brien ss, Young and Lynch cf.

On Sunday, June 22 the Intermediates, boys, and the girls' soft ball team journeyed by cars and truck to St. Bridget's in South Boston to play that parish's teams. Greatly outclassed at the start because of the size and experience of the South Boston team our boys gave as fine an exhibition of "never say die" as one could want to see. Trailing by 11 runs at one time our lads finished strong to whittle away the big lead and lose finally 15 to 11 thus throwing a scare into Southie. Seven runs were scored by our side in the lucky seventh when 7 runs were made possible by a triple by Roche with the sacks loaded and a homer by Don Kenton with one on. Earlier Keith had knocked a double driving in two runs. Dee started the game giving way to Kenton when errors and loose fielding got him in jams. St. Bridget's made 10 hits, the same number that St. Mary's made but their fielding was airtight. It was a real sandlot field with no grass in evidence at all and makes us wonder at the antiquated blue laws that Winchester has which makes its kids go out of our swell, well kept grounds to play ball because it is forbidden to play ball on our fields on Sundays. The boys and girls certainly got dirty.

While the boys were losing their game our girls were trimming a soft ball team that had won 19 contests and lost one last year. This was a seven inning contest and the score for the seven innings was 13 to 5. Peggy O'Leary starred for the winners and was helped no little by Marlene Miller, Judith Dee, Ann Nowell, Patsy Mawn, Gertrude Barry, Fran Capone, Fran Oliver, Leona Whorf, Gerry Ciarcia, Mary Welch, Ginger Frontillo, Lolly Gilberto and Ducky Baldacci.

The boys who played St. Bridget's as mentioned above were: Roche, lf, D. Barry, rf with Joyce and Nash assisting in later innings, H. Barry, ss, D. Kenton, 1b and p, Dee, p, 1b., B. Williams, 3b, B. Erhard and S. Kenton, 2b, Keith, c, Muncaster, cf with Duckworth assisting. Coaching on the side lines effectively were first base, B. Goodrow and third base, B. Young. Laurie Erhard and John Barry were perfect as bat boys.

LEGION PLAYS SOMERVILLE TONIGHT

Winchester will play Somerville in the Legion Senior League baseball series tonight at 6:30 at Leonard Field.

This is a postponed game, commenced Wednesday evening and called off by rain after two innings with Winchester leading 2-1.

Next Monday evening Winchester plays Newton at Leonard Field at 6:30. The local team has been playing at a fast clip and although not undefeated has still won a big majority of its games.

WINCHESTER DELEGATES ATTEND NATIONAL RED CROSS CONVENTION

Mrs. Harry C. Goodwin, Winchester's water safety director for the past 16 years, served as delegate this year to the National Red Cross Convention in Cleveland, June 9-12. Mrs. Goodwin was accompanied by Miss Mary Mackedon, Junior Red Cross advisor to the high school, and two Junior Red Cross delegates, David Coon and Sally Holmes who attended the young people's convention.

There was capacity attendance in the huge Cleveland auditorium which seats 16,000 people, reported Mrs. Goodwin. A deeply moving memorial service was held honoring all Red Cross workers who died overseas during the war. Dawn Kelley Bartlett's name was read.

Featured speakers at other meetings were Mr. Basil O'Connor, national Red Cross chairman; Gen. Carlos Romulo, hero of Bataan, and Gen. Courtney Hodges, in command at Remagen Bridge. General Romulo stressed idealistic friendship as the best means to maintain peace in the post-war world, while General Hodges urged careful preparedness.

The main point to be stressed in the 1947 national Red Cross program is expanded community service to hospitalized veterans with an aim to making the veteran feel at home in his community. One almost untapped source of establishing friendly relations is to have more men of the community take an active part in the veteran's recreation programs, playing cards, going to ball games and participating in many other types of indoor and outdoor sports.

Mrs. Goodwin was particularly impressed by the size of the greater Cleveland Red Cross plant. It occupies an entire business building of ten stories.

DOWNTOWN LISBON WEDGED BETWEEN PARALLEL HILLS

In Lisbon, where celebrations are commemorating the Portuguese reconquest of the city from the Moors 800 years ago, downtown is really "down."

From residential sections that cover parallel chains of hills to east and west, says the National Geographic Society, Lisboans descend about 200 feet into the shopping center by dizzily steep and crooked streetcar lines or by a huge outdoor elevator.

Cidade Baixa, the lower town, was originally an arm of the Tagus River. Filled in for centuries, it has become the natural focus of the modern city of a million people. Ocean liners and transocean planes unload passengers and freight along its waterfront.

"Rolling Motion Square"

Fishing boats tie up near by, and gracefully muscular women helpers throw basketfuls of fish ashore. The swift-flowing Tagus twists the wakes of ferryboats as they push across the roadstead. Twenty miles downstream lies the open Atlantic.

The Portuguese capital is distinguished by its well-proportioned squares. The Rocio, paved partially in the typical Portuguese style of snakelike patterns, is the city's core. There coffee in tiny cups is sipped interminably in cafes. Young boys shine shoes all day. Hawkers urge passersby to purchase lottery tickets.

The wavy designs in the Rocio's paving supposedly induced dizziness. English sailors on shore leave dubbed the plaza "Rolling Motion Square." Another English name clings to "Black Horse Square," on the riverfront.

UTAH APPROACHES CENTENNIAL SUMMER

"This is the place."

A shaft of granite bearing these four words rises at the mouth of Emigration Canyon in Utah's Wasatch Mountains. It marks the spot where, on July 24, 1847, Brigham Young's carriage stood when the Mormon leader, ill with fever after the 1,000-mile trek from Illinois, first gazed upon the purplish-gray waste of the Salt Lake Valley.

Irrigation waters and minerals have transformed the original scene. Centennial Americans that a year-long celebration of the state's century of progress is under way, Utah's 1947 auto license plates carry the four-word legend. So does a granite and bronze memorial to be dedicated in Salt Lake City, notes the National Geographic Society.

Irrigation Makes Desert Bloom

On the July day that Brigham Young looked out upon the chosen valley, his colleagues began the plowing that redirected mountain streams across the parched plain. There's has been called the first irrigation project of North American settlers.

They planted crops, but the crops were not enough. The news of their settlement brought 5,000 more colonists from the east by late 1848.

Gleaming to their west was the Great Salt Lake, roughly 75 miles long and 50 miles wide. It is the largest of several remnants of prehistoric Lake Bonneville, which once covered the entire Great Salt Lake Desert of western Utah.

Combining with the Wasatch range to make a beautiful setting of Salt Lake Valley, the lake has played a romantic part in the growth of the capital and neighboring centers where seven out of ten Utahans live. Comparatively small amounts of table salt and other commercial salts, however, are taken from the lake's vast store.

Irrigation waters have gradually transformed arid but fertile range areas into productive farmlands where grains, sugar beets, fruits, and truck crops flourish along with poultry, cattle, and sheep. The new farmlands, in turn, have built communities supported by grain and sugar mills, canneries, creameries, and packing plants.

Most of the farm transformation has occurred since Utah became the Union's 45th state in 1896. Even today, only one-fortieth of the state land benefits from irrigation. Such new undertakings as the Central Utah Reclamation Project, damming the Green River in the northeast corner of the state, will provide power for future industry and make farm acreage of vast additional areas of desert.

Teemed With War Industry

Minerals have transformed Utah by building its railroads, centered at Ogden, 30 miles north of Salt Lake City. They thrust Utah into front-rank industrial importance from the start of World War II.

Surface mines in Bingham Canyon, south of Salt Lake City, have yielded three million tons of copper since 1907, with gold and silver as by-products. These plus lead and zinc have come from Wasatch diggings since as early as 1870. The state is consistently among the leaders in supplying these five important metals.

World War II gave Utah a big steel mill at Geneva, on the shore of Utah Lake. Operating in peacetime, it promises to make extensive use of the state's deposits of iron ore and coal. Petroleum for Utah's second century seeps from mountains of shale in the eastern part of the state.

High among Utah's established industries is travel. Its permanence is assured by such renowned scenic marvels as Zion and Bryce Canyon national parks, Rainbow Bridge, and Natural Bridges national monuments—spanning much southern border of the state.

ALPINE CARINTHIA PROBLEM LAND WITH PLAYGROUND

picture-postcard land of magnificent Alpine scenery is at stake in the Yugoslav claims to southern Carinthia presented at the Moscow Conference of Foreign Ministers.

A 19th-century citizen of Klagenfurt, capital of the southernmost Austrian province, has been credited with the invention of the postcard, says the National Geographic Society. Few places in the world have offered more incentive in pictorial subjects.

Medieval castles rise on Carinthia's mountain crags. White sails dot blue mountain lakes. Green, wooded valleys give way to glistening glaciers, culminating in giant Gross Glockner that lifts a cloud-crowned head well over two miles above sea level.

Voted Against Slavs

Facing Italy and Yugoslavia along a 150-mile frontier, the Carinthian region became an international problem after World War I. In the reorganization of Europe, newly-formed Yugoslavia claimed Carinthia as part of the Slavic territories held by the Austro-Hungarian Empire.

The dispute was settled in favor of Austria, as the result of a plebiscite by Carinthian inhabitants nearest to the Yugoslav border. By this vote, Austria retained nearly all of the old Crownland, an area about half the size of New Jersey.

Tiny portions, less than 150 square miles each, went to Italy and Yugoslavia.

Carinthia, however, especially in its southern districts, remained a frontier area of mixed racial customs, costumes, and languages. Figures concerning the Slav proportion among its nearly half-a-million people vary greatly—from 50,000 to considerably more than 100,000.

Tourist Trade Grew

Between the two World Wars, winter and summer vacationists poured into the lake and mountain resorts. They fished, hunted, and climbed the mountains, visited hill-slinging villages at festival time, took the ski jumps and rested at medicinal spas.

In fertile valleys and lowlands, Carinthia raises grain, vegetables, and fruits. It mines iron, lead, zinc, and other raw materials that help support such manufacturing towns as Klagenfurt, with its electrical, automotive, tool, and textile industries.

During the Nazi war regime, Carinthia economy was cut to German patterns. Wheat output, for instance, was curtailed in favor of other crops considered more essential in Germany's expanding orbit. Dairy cattle were shipped away for meat.

The province's forests were depleted to supply wood pulp for industrial alcohol, plastics, fabrics, and other substitute materials demanded in Germany's synthetic-products program.

SETTING ECLIPSE

Scientific personnel of the Army Air Forces-National Geographic Society Eclipse Expedition, pitching camp on a 20-acre clear-observing the total eclipse of the sun on May 20.

After a leisurely six-day flight from Washington, D. C., the scientific has begun preparations for tists moved into comfortable quarters already prepared by the AAF and at once started to survey an adjacent five-acre area where telescopes and other instruments will be set up.

When the party arrived at Rio de Janeiro, it was met by Brig. Gen. Gordon P. Saville, commanding general of the air section of the Joint Brazilian-United States Military Commission; Col. Paul C. Schauer, AAF project officer for the expedition, and Melvin M. Payne, National Geographic Society project officer.

The 400-mile flight inland from Rio de Janeiro to Bocaiuva was made in two C-47s, which landed on an air strip especially built for the expedition near Bocaiuva. The group then was transported by jeep and truck over 11 miles of country road to the camp site, from which trees and brush had been removed.

Forty tents have been set up, most of them with concrete floors, for living and working quarters. A mess and recreation hall has been constructed of brick and tile. Water is pumped from a nearby stream and filtered and chlorinated.

WINCHESTER HOSPITAL NEWS

Winchester Hospital and En Ka

During its 45 years the W[illegible] Hospital has had the fine [illegible] help of hundreds of [illegible] and many organized groups [illegible] Each of these [illegible] gifts, but the [illegible] Ka Society, which [illegible] Winchester [illegible] the first [illegible] 1912 En Ka [illegible] [illegible] gifts [illegible] report [illegible] Year [illegible] Ka [illegible] [illegible] the present [illegible]

Because for many years Winchester has lived with En Ka celebrating the [illegible] of spring in Lily of the [illegible] announcement of [illegible] the [illegible] the [illegible] of town [illegible] the Spring Fair [illegible] Over [illegible] of the Fair [illegible] goods of the Fair [illegible] to a wide [illegible] general [illegible] social and [illegible] age [illegible] and [illegible] that the Fair [illegible] really only a means to these philanthropic ends. But it will be a surprise to most people to learn that in 1912 the original high school group was organized with a motto which expressed a desire to serve, and that its early activities were both carefully chosen and effective along these lines. The first active high school society work [illegible] record [illegible] that of En Ka from 1912 to 1924 would be difficult if not impossible, — a record showing that its members were alert to the needs of their town. The group was even then including in its program a number of the same agencies which are today in its list [illegible] cies of vital importance to Winchester.

The En Ka Sorority was disbanded in 1928, and was then reorganized in 1932 as En Ka Society with the stated purpose of aiding in welfare work in Winchester. Since reorganization its gifts to the Winchester Hospital have covered a wide range of maintenance and equipment needs. Substantial sums were spent in 1936 1937 and 1938 for new painting, redecorating and refurnishing the Nurses' Home. The personal attention given by En Ka to the completion of this work in good taste and with fine quality materials is characteristic of the way in which the Society carries through in the use of its funds. The conscientious demands upon time and effort of the En Ka membership are heavy, and are a part of the tradition of the organization.

In the Hospital itself En Ka gifts have included laboratory apparatus, incubators for the nursery, equipment for wards and private rooms, the oxygen tent, the book truck, contributions to the fund for book purchases, and, most recently, new anaesthesia apparatus. Any enumeration of individual items does scant justice to the whole story of these gifts, for En Ka has stood ready to help whenever a Hospital need was made known to them and their treasury had sufficient funds. Toward the construction of the new wing for Winchester Hospital, the Society has now voted to give the necessary $5,000 to provide one of the nursery units, and this contribution brings the En Ka total of Hospital contributions to approximately $19,000 since 1932. Interest such as this helps fundamentally in making possible the Hospital's high standard of service.

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION

Questions and Answers

Q—What income provision is attached to the pension that I will get as the widow of a soldier who died in a German prison camp?

A—As the widow of a soldier who died in line of duty, you are pensionable under the law regardless of income.

Q—I divorced my wife on grounds of desertion and would like to know if she can claim part of my pension?

A—The divorce discontinues the marital relationship and your wife could not successfully claim a portion of your pension unless she successfully contests the divorce.

Q—How much is allowed for a child whose father is taking a G. I. college course? We are divorced and he claims that he is receiving only $65 a month.

A—A veteran going to school under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (G. I. Bill), if single and without dependents, may receive an allowance of $65 monthly; if he has a dependent or dependents, he may receive $90 a month. If the child is dependent on your former husband, he would be entitled to the higher rate.

Q—How long after discharge from armed services is readjustment allowance available to a veteran?

A—Readjustment allowances are available to an eligible veteran at any time after his discharge or release until two years after the date of his discharge or release or until two years after the official termination of the war, whichever is later.

EXHIBIT AT LINCOLN SCHOOL

At the Lincoln School, the class of Miss Lillian Salice prepared material for an exhibition and sale last Thursday. Displaying the craft work made by the pupils during the year in the auditorium, they not only furnished something interesting to look at, but had made such attractive items that other pupils and parents of the Lincoln School eagerly purchased all that were for sale. One third of the proceeds of the sale become the property of the pupils.

Items on display were several rugs made on the four harness loom at the Lincoln School, an attractive hooked rug made by Terrence Keaney, children's games, a costumer, tabourets, whatnots, table cloths, woolen pocketbooks, pillows, and other handiwork by the girls.

Miss Salice expressed the pleasure of the entire class that other pupils of the Lincoln School were so much impressed by their handicraft.

BROWNING GETS PATENT

On June 10, 1947, the United States Patent Office granted patent number 2,421,771 on an "Approach Protective System" to Glenn H. Browning, Winchester, Mass.

This invention pertains to a protective system to guard against approach of persons or objects to an area to be protected, and more particularly, it deals with a system in which signal wires may be strung around a given area, and in which changes in the electrical circuit may indicate and detect the approach of persons or objects to the signal network.

Similar types of protective systems have been employed in the past, but Mr. Browning claims that his mechanism has numerous advantages of those heretofore used. Although the details of his invention are complicated and understandable only by those skilled in the theory of high frequency circuits, in general, he provides an arrangement which is hardly affected by climatic changes, such as may occur during different times of the year, or by accumulation of snow and ice, or change of ground conditions, atmospheric moisture and the like that are bound to exist in the use of this type of apparatus out of doors. His equipment may be used with or without a fence, guarding the area to be protected, and it may be placed inside or outside such fence. Also, any failure of the electrical power in his system will cause an alarm to indicate such fact to the watchman or guard on duty.

Mr. Browning also states that his invention may be set up to extend over a very considerable distance, sufficient to surround power plants, factories and other types of plants which it is desired to guard and warn of the approach of strangers.

The application for this patent was filed on July 17, 1942 and it consists of ten claims.

"DAYS OF YORE"

Clippings from the STAR Files

25 YEARS AGO

June 16, 1922

Following the extreme heat of last week the weather broke on Sunday with a series of the most violent showers since last summer. Winchester was particularly fortunate in that it escaped the full force of these tornadoes, although other places suffered severely.

Mr. Harold Buckminster of the Tedesco Club has entered the Greater Boston open tournament at the Springfield Country Club.

It was small wonder that the Fathers defeated the Vassar College seniors in their match game of baseball at Poughkeepsie, Monday. Mr. John Abbott, who in days gone by occupied a prominent position on the Dartmouth nine, held down third base for the Fathers. His daughter, Miss Winsome Abbott is a student at Vassar.

Trucks have been busy during the week dropping ties for the new electric tracks on north Main street.

About 60 members of Winchester Lodge of Elks attended the initiation initiation of Peabody Elks last Thursday night, making the trip over and back by auto.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Damon of Everett avenue, returned home this week from abroad, on the steamer Homeric. They have toured England, France and Italy.

A new drinking fountain has been installed at Manchester Field.

The high wind of Monday and Tuesday kept the telephone and electric repair gangs busy in town.

Mr. Robert S. Apsey was among the boys awarded diplomas at the Huntington School.

Archey K. Nickerson, Stephen B. Netley and Colver Payson Dyer were graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology on June 12.

50 YEARS AGO

June 18, 1897

It is a good maxim not to cross a river till you come to it. It does not seem to the careful citizen that the town has yet come to the point of appropriating a good many thousand dollars on an overhead crossing in the public square. Of course engineers are naturally eagle-eyed in looking out for the public weal in such cases, but aside from their opinion as to the best way to do the work, their opinion of the advisability of doing it is no better than any good business man's.

The work of building the road bed and laying the tracks of the Arlington and Winchester Electric road will be completed by the time agreed upon, July 1. The company has to August 1 to lay tracks to Arlington, but it is believed this will be accomplished before that date and the cars running.

George Laravee won first prize, a silver service, at the Wakefield bicycle race last Saturday afternoon.

Supt. W. F. Dotten informed us that a snow squall passed by his house at the North Reservoir last Sunday afternoon. This beats the record, yet considering the weather of the past six weeks it is not surprising.

Congressman McCall returned to Washington last Friday.

Mr. Shattuck, at one time principal of the Wadleigh School, but later a teacher in the Somerville schools, has been succeeded by Harlan P. Knight as principal of the Bell School.

The ice firm of P. J. Goodrich & Co. have generously volunteered to keep the tank connected with the fountain in front of Holbrook & Adams' store supplied with ice during the summer. Such liberality will be appreciated.

The Rangeleys defeated the Woburns at Winchester, June 12 by a score of 37 to 12. Jeeves made a phenomenal one handed catch of a fly and M. Holcombe played well at 3rd.

Pupils of the public schools are now on the tip toe of expectancy.

Mrs. Walter C. Bailey, who sings in the concert given in the Baptist Church Sunday, is one of the sweetest Gospel singers to be found in this section. Her work in this line is second to but few ministers.

Mrs. C. M. Thompson of "Craighurst" has watched with tender solicitude and interest for days a brood of golden orioles in a tree close by her house adjoining the Falls. The mother bird seemed to have chosen this spot to safeguard her young, but the crows found the location of the nest, and one morning this week to the amazement and horror of Mrs. Thompson the crows made an onslaught on the nest and carried off the young birds despite all that she could do to save them. It would surprise most people to know the great number of nests that are despoiled by that cannibal Jack Crow.

Kugler of 26 Winslow road, as members of the Prudential Committee of the American Board of Foreign Missions in Boston, are interested in the return of Board missionaries to the Marshall and Caroline, in response to a call from the people there.

VINEYARDS AND ORCHARDS REPLACE GRAIN FIELDS ON VOLCANIC SICILY

Election of a parliament in Sicily brings complete control of local affairs to the volcanic island at the toe of the Italian boot.

More than four million Sicilians work hard to extract a living from the Vermont-size triangle of land. Vineyards, lemon and orange orchards, olive and almond groves demand their close personal care, says the National Geographic Society.

Except in the lava ash of the level Catania Plain, the orchards and truck patches have largely replaced the fields that once made Sicily a great granary. Sulphur carved from the south-central hills, long a Sicilian world monopoly, now must compete with that from Texas, Louisiana, and other parts of the world.

Export Macaroni, Wine, Oil

Export income is produced almost entirely from the raw products of the soil, manufacturers being limited to such things as macaroni from the wheat, wine from the grapes, oil from the olives. Railroad mileage on Sicily is small and automobile highway mileage even less.

Largest island in the Mediterranean, Sicily almost corks the sea at its bottleneck. Messina, its northeast port, lies two miles from the Italian mainland. Marsala, its western haven, is 90 miles from Africa's Cape Bon.

Palermo, the capital and largest city, has often been captured in battle. Down the centuries, a parade of armies has taken advantage of Sicily's strategic position to make historic advances. Just as the Carthaginians, Saracens, and others used this broken land bridge to step from Africa to Europe, the Allies landed on Sicilian shores on July 10, 1943. German resistance stiffened temporarily on the Mount Etna line in the island's northeast corner.

Mount Etna Dominates Island

In this same Mount Etna corner, nature's violence relentlessly recurs. Rising from a broad base to 10,800 feet, the volcano dominates the whole Sicilian landscape. Fruit and grape growers gamble on its temper to raise their produce in the red lava soil far up its lower slopes.

Always fuming, Etna was briefly violent early in 1947. Lava flow and attendant earthquakes repeatedly have wrought destruction on Catania and neighboring towns within recorded history. An earthquake in 1908 laid Messina low in 35 seconds.

Early in the present century, three principal Sicilian exports to the United States were sulphur, wine, and Sicilians. American Gulf coast sulphur slowed down the golden bow from Sicily's Porto Empedocle. American wines have more recently reduced the market for Sicilian wine imports.

NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC FLAG FLOWN FOR SECOND TIME ON MOUNT McKINLEY

In his "Operation White Tower" to the ice-encrusted summit of Mount McKinley, Bradford Washburn, Director of Boston's New England Museum of Natural History, for the second time has planted the blue, green, and brown flag of the National Geographic Society on North America's topmost pinnacle.

The 37-year-old explorer made this announcement in a telegram to Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of the National Geographic Society. Washburn also said that his expedition, Operation "White Tower," had set up by request of Rear Admiral L. O. Colbert, director of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, the highest survey station ever established on the continent.

In the party of eight who made the difficult ascent to the 20,300-foot top of Mount McKinley, in south central Alaska, was Mrs. Barbara Washburn, the explorer's wife. She thus became the first woman to scale the ice and snow of the mountain's twin peaks.

The 1912 feat was actually a "by-product" of the work of a group of military men and scientists who were testing the serviceability of newly designed Army equipment for cold regions. While camping for three weeks on the mountain's upper slopes, they encountered night temperatures as low as 23 degrees below zero.

Washburn has climbed, flown, and skiied over extensive areas of Alaska and northwestern Canada. In 1935 the National Geographic Society sent him to the little-known Southwest Yukon to make aerial survey and charts of a region that had a blank spot on the map of North America. He discovered a range of high peaks and reported that famous Hubbard Glacier was double the known length.

Discovered Vast Ice Field

The following year Washburn took aerial photographs of Mount McKinley. In 1937 he scaled Mount Lucania, 17,150-foot peak of the Saint Elias Range in the Canadian Yukon, the highest unclimbed peak of North America. His 1938 explorations, under the joint sponsorship of the National Geographic Society and Harvard University, led to the discovery of one of the world's largest non-polar ice fields spreading for 235 miles in Alaska and the Yukon.

"Operation White Tower" includes among its scientific objectives not only surveying but measurement of cosmic rays at high land points, speed-clocking of Alaskan glaciers, and research on still and motion picture techniques in black and white and in color at extremely low temperatures, and high altitudes. An RKO Pathe cameraman on the expedition will use the experience to guide RKO in filming a motion picture, "The White Tower," in the Alps in 1948.

Needlecraft News

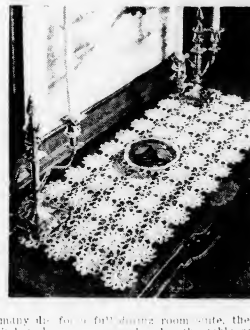
NOTHING holds more promise of fun than looking through model homes. Every room and nook and corner is so breathtakingly new and bright that you want to move in right away. Even though you're completely satisfied with your present home, you'll derive pleasure from viewing the many new dwellings that have been built to ease the housing situation. Maybe you'll even get some new ideas to make your own home a little more on the dreamy side.



After looking through many of the new homes, one feature is outstanding. The large dining room, which in the past was deemed indispensable, has faded into obscurity. Of course, some of the very large homes still include the traditional dining room—as do other homes that are built to the owner's specifications. But on the whole you'll find that other accommodations are taking its place.

Many new homes have medium size dinettes directly off the kitchen. The room is generally large enough to seat six or eight people at dinner, but it definitely will not hold a complete dining suite. In many dinettes, one entire wall is windowed, while in others two sides are glassed in according to the situation of the room. This arrangement admits abundant sunlight and creates the illusion of dining in the open.

Other homes have L shaped living rooms with small sections given over to dining accommodations. Very often the wallpaper in this section will be different from that in the rest of the room. If there isn't room for a full size table, then you can place your rectangular table with turned down leaves against the wall. A chair can be put at either side of the table and the remaining dining chairs can be placed in the living room section.

If your room allows little space for a full dining room suite, there is one piece besides the table and chairs that is very necessary. It's the buffet. You'll use it when you have an informal buffet dinner or you can use it to hold your serving dishes at a regular dinner party. If you adorn it with candlesticks then you certainly need a lacy cloth as a background for their sparkling beauty. This buffet cloth is made up of motifs measuring about 3 inches from point to point, and joined together by a lacy web. You can make this cloth in any desired length from mercerized crochet cotton. Directions for crocheting this cloth are available to you. Just send a stamped self-addressed envelope, asking for Leaflet No. 1505, FESTIVE FANCY.

EUROPEAN PUPILS LEARN ABOUT U. S.

School children in France, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, and Denmark are getting better acquainted with the United States through 100,000 National Geographic Society maps placed in their classrooms by the Junior Red Cross.

The first "thank you" received directly from pupils came from two classes in a school at Lille, France.

"The maps are very useful to us," the children wrote. "As we have American pen-friends, we are very often looking at the maps to find such or such a town or village in California or Massachusetts. We have thus the opportunity of knowing your country better."

To show their appreciation, the pupils forwarded an album filled with postcard pictures of Lille and northern France.

The Junior Red Cross purchased 60,000 of the large, ten-color maps and the National Geographic Society contributed an additional 40,000 copies as an educational service. Each map bore the inscription, "Gift of the Schools of the United States of America through the American Junior Red Cross." They were distributed with the cooperation of the ministries of education in the five countries.

Greens All Summer a Health "Must"

One Plant of New Zealand Spinach Will Fill a Bushel Basket.

Green, leaf vegetables are among the basic foods, which everyone should eat regularly to insure adequate nutrition. While men have eaten "greens" for centuries, scientific knowledge of their great food value is relatively recent, and its discovery astonished the scientists.

While those who buy their "greens" in markets must rely chiefly on spinach, which is easily grown and harvested, the home gardener will find Swiss chard, New Zealand spinach and kale to be his most reliable sources of green leaf dishes. Spinach provides a harvest only during cool weather, but chard and New Zealand spinach can be cut daily all summer long, and will constantly produce new, tender leaves for harvesting.

Chard and New Zealand spinach should both be sown as soon as the ground has been prepared. Though the New Zealand plant is tropical in origin, its huge, hard seeds germinate best in cold soil. If you wait until the ground warms up they may lie dormant for several weeks, and often refuse to sprout. Chard should not be allowed to grow leaves more than ten inches long. Only young and tender leaves should be cooked. Just a few inches of the tips of New Zealand spinach branches should be cut for the harvest.

Kale is a fall and winter plant. Sown in June, the plants set out in rows two feet apart, they will produce leaves which stand freezing, and are improved in flavor by that experience.

Garden sorrel is a hardy perennial, which will live over winter and produces greens. It does best in light shade.

The mustard family provides several varieties of greens which are much esteemed in the southern states.
